The Chronicle.

A SPEECH ON WINE.—Hon. Charles L. Woodbury was President of the Massachusetts Democratic State Convention. In his opening speech he said:

You are responsible to God for your own conduct in this world. It is on your self-government that you are to be judged, and not on anybody's else. * Can the State Temperance Alliance save you if you commit a sin against God by following their lead? ("No.") Well, if they cannot do it, then where is the divine right by which they claim to regulate your conduct in that one thing which is a matter of private judgment? * * * They cannot erase from my heart nor from your hearts the fact that the Apostle Paul told us, and tells us to-day, speaking in the same living inspiration in which he spoke 1800 years ago: "Let no man judge you in what you shall eat or what you shall drink."

Mr. W. says "you are responsible to God for your conduct in this world." True; and so are you responsible to man if you break man's laws. If you steal, men who do not steal have a right to prevent you from doing so any more; and if you make or sell intoxicating liquors, thus helping to fill our streets with rowdyism, helping largely to increase crime of all kinds, to fill workhouses and jails,—then other men, who suffer from the consequences of your traffic and are taxed for the support of paupers and criminals made by you, have a right, in self-defence, to restrain you, — some day they will have the power.

Mr. W. also asks, "Can the State Temperance Alliance save you if you commit a sin against God by following their lead?" and, if they cannot do that, where is the divine right by which they claim to regulate your conduct in a matter of private judgment? The State Temperance Alliance, not being able to save you from your sins, has therefore no right to say that rum shall not be made and sold as a beverage; but the Democratic State Convention has a right to say that it shall be so made and sold. A plain inference here is, that the Convention can save you,—or where is their divine right to claim leadership? As no proof was offered to show that the Democratic State Convention was empowered to forgive sins, I much doubt if their power in that direction is any greater than that of the Temperance Alliance.

Lastly, Mr. W. quotes St. Paul in support of open bars and unlimited beer, as follows: "Let no man judge you in what you shall eat or what you shall drink." I have read, in a chapter in which Paul condemns a system of philosophy which to a certain extent seemed to substitute asceticism and Jewish observances in place of Christ, "Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holy-day, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath." I am not a theologist; but the plain, simple meaning of the whole verse, read in connection with the rest of the chapter, is, that abstinence from or observance of any or all of these things will not save a man from his sins,—without Christ.

It would be hard to mention any possible sin or crime (except voting the Democratic ticket) but what could be supported by some isolated scrap from the Bible; but it is certainly straining texts to make St. Paul the Apostle of Free Rum on the strength of this one. Besides, Paul, though a traveller, had no acquaintance with modern intemperance. He could never have seen a man transformed into a maniac or a murderer—or both—by "Jersey lightning" or New England rum; nor a mother selling her child's bread for whiskey; nor a gang of drunken rowdies patrolling the streets, exercising the free-rum right of annoying and disturbing whole neighborhoods, terrifying women, and insulting men who dare to protest against their acts by keeping sober and decent. If he had, there would have been no doubt as to his sentiments on the subject—he was not afraid to speak.

PAKEHA.

—A small boy made application of his first instructions on the sanctity of the Sabbath by objecting to the apothecaries' shops, which he saw open on that day.—"But," he was told, "the druggists must keep open on Sundays so that the sick can get medicine." "Why, do people get sick on Sunday?" "Yes, just as on any other day." "Well, good people don't die on Sunday, do they?" "Certainly." "How can that be? Does Heaven keep open on Sunday? It is needless to say that all further grave conversation on the subject was impossible.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

READ THIS.
ASIATIC CHOLERA IN CHINA.
Almost Every Case Cured with Pain Killer.
Dear Sirs: I ought to have acknowledged long ago the box of Pain Killer you had the goodness to send us last year. Its coming was most providential. I believe hundreds of lives were saved, under God, by it. We resorted at once to the Pain Killer using as directed for Cholera. A list was kept of all to whom the Pain Killer was given, and our native assistants assured us that eight out of every ten to whom it was prescribed, recovered. It has, too, been very useful in various other diseases. It has proved an incalculable blessing to multitudes of poor people throughout all this region. Our native preachers are never willing to go out on their excursions without a supply of Pain Killer. It gives them favor in the eyes of the people, and access to families and localities by whom otherwise they would be indifferently received. Believe me, dear sirs, gratefully and faithfully yours,
J. M. JOHNSON, M. D., Missionary in China.
Dear Sirs: During a residence of some ten years as a missionary in Siam and China, I found your Pain Killer a most valuable remedy for that fearful scourge, the cholera. In administering the medicine I found it most effectual to give a teaspoonful of Pain Killer in a gill of hot water sweetened with sugar; then after about 15 minutes have to give a tablespoonful of the same mixture every half hour until relief was obtained. Apply hot applications to the extremities. Bathe the stomach with the Pain Killer clear, and rub the limbs briskly. Of those who had the cholera, and took the medicine faithfully in the way stated above, eight out of ten recovered.
Truly yours, R. TELFORD.
If attacked with diarrhœa, dysentery, or cramp colic, don't delay the use of Pain Killer.
Beware of all Imitations.
The Pain Killer is sold by all druggists.

The News.

The market for petroleum in Philadelphia is unusually active and excited.

The strike of the miners of the Delaware and Hudson Coal Company is at an end.

A. J. Ulman, a distiller, has settled a seizure case in Baltimore by paying $20,000 to the Revenue Department.

New Yorkers are making preparations for an International Fair in that city in 1870.

The rowing match between Walter Brown of Portland, Me., and Renforth, the English champion of the Thames, has been declared "off."

Attorney-General Hoar has given his opinion relative to the political affairs in Virginia. He says that the legislature must, as prerequisite, submit the constitution and their action thereon to Congress for approval. In this the test oath will not be required. If the constitution and the action of the legislature be approved, the legislature then becomes the legislature of the State of Virginia, and the provisions of the constitution fixing the qualifications of members of the legislature necessarily prevail, the requirements of the reconstruction acts being thus superseded, so far as Virginia is concerned; but before such approval by Congress, Virginia not being in all respects a State of the Union, the legislature as a provisional body cannot pass laws without its members taking the test oath. The reconstruction acts require the ratification of the 15th amendment to the Constitution of the United States before the State can be admitted to representation in Congress. There is no question but this amendment will be ratified by an overwhelming majority.

JUDICIOUS LEGISLATION.—The New Bedford Mercury, in an article upon the propriety of legislation upon intemperance, says:

Public sentiment unquestionably calls for legislation in this matter, not only in this State, but in others. There is a desire, at least, for the enactment of restrictive laws, and such laws wisely framed will not become a dead letter.

The Boston Journal copies the above, and add:—

The people are ready to-day to endorse a law which shall close all public bars, and which shall prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors to be drank on the premises, except by inn-holders, victualers, druggists and apothecaries.

If this be a fact, then the temperance fanatics have not labored in vain, tho' they have not accomplished all they hoped for:—but then if such a law were passed, wouldn't there be a rush of victualers and druggists, to sell drinks and drug their customers?

And behind these, there is a great army of sots and tipplers, of high and low degree, who are ready to fight for their jugs and bottles, and to perjure themselves rather than to lose their supplies and close the places where they resort. Their zeal is worthy of a better cause; and they are a very strong party to oppose radical reform. They are, in Boston, and in all large cities, a very large proportion of all the voters, i. e. of all the people who choose men to make the laws. This is a serious obstacle in the way any law that aims to restrict the sale of the drunkard's drink.

A "SCENE" IN THE STREETS OF LAWRENCE.—Running the gauntlet of death in any form never demanded more courage than was exhibited by the fellow whose exploit is thus narrated by the Lawrence American:—

Early Thursday morning, about mill time, a young fellow without a vestige of clothing,—not even the Georgia summer costume of a shirt collar and a pair of spurs,—was seen darting through Union, Essex, Newbury and Common streets, to the scandal and horror (of course) of all the female portion of the crowd by whom he rushed, and amid the jeers and laughter of the other sex, who had neither modesty nor the grace to sham any, the fugitive arrived at his boarding house in a very exhausted condition, having made the distance in unprecedented time. It was at first thought that he was insane, but it afterwards transpired that he fell asleep upon the lower bridge the night before, having indulged too freely in the balmy, and that when he awoke he found that some persons had stripped him and carried off every rag of his clothes, he being quite insensible. Being unable to carry sail, he had no resource but to scud under bare poles, and run for it.

HORSE.—Lady Thorne beat Mountain Boy at Prospect Park Fair Grounds, on Friday, in 2.23 1-4, 2.21, 2.21 3-4.

At Mystic Park, same day, Old Put won $500 after six heats; Jessie Wales, second; McClellan, third. Time, 2.30; 2.34 1-4; 2.30 1-2; 2.34; 2.30; 2.32 1-2.

A Mount Washington item of Sept. 2, says:—A heavy storm has prevailed on and around the mountains for the past two days, and it is still snowing hard. Considerable damage has been done to the telegraph wires, which have been broken in several places, but are now working finely, in spite of the snow and a coating of 3 or 4 inches of ice. Mercury has ranged from 28 to 31 during the storm.

There is some talk about a railroad from Union Village to Wolfboro'.

The corner stone of the Manchester City Library was laid on the 30th ult. Various documents of local interest were deposited in it.

Chickens have been selling for twenty cents each in Freedom. Summer visitors ought to grow fat with chickens at that price.

Una Boat Club of Portland got "on a bust" at Wolfeborough, on the 28th. They had to pay roundly for their jubilee, in cash as well as headaches. So says the Concord Patriot.

In Eaton, on the 18th ult., a little boy, aged about eight years, son of Mr. Abner Gibbs, ventured to sail out on a plank in Allard's millpond, pushing himself along with a pole, which at length stuck fast in the soft bottom of the pond, and in trying to pull it out, the pole suddenly gave way, and the little fellow fell backward into the water and was drowned.

The survey of the Concord & Rochester Railroad from Pittsfield to Rochester will be begun on the 6th.

Frost was seen in various localities in this county, on Wednesday morning last. At Plaistow it was visible upon the platform at the Depot.

Mr. J. P. McLane was ordained pastor of the Universalist Church in Jaffrey, Sept. 1.

Mr. John Swallow, aged 50, died in Peterboro', Sept. 28, in consequence of an injury three weeks before. He went to his stable loft to feed his horses, and making a misstep fell down across the partition between two stalls, and then to the floor: being a large, heavy man, the injury was fatal. He was a respected citizen.

On Saturday night the police arrested the inmates at the house occupied by J. K. Place, in Rochester, removing the male portion to the lock-up and fastening the females up in the house. On being arraigned, Monday morning, Place was given his choice to proceed to trial or leave town;—he preferred the latter and left, bag and baggage, for Barrington, where it is to be hoped he will become a wiser and a better man.

John Ira Folsom, of Lake village, was very severely injured at the Rankin Car Shop, Laconia, Thursday forenoon. While painting the outside of a passenger car, he fell from the staging, striking upon an upright iron rod with such force that the 5-8-inch iron nut upon the end was buried in his neck. It required considerable strength to release him from this impalement. His injuries are very severe, but he may recover.

The house of a Mr. Kenney, at Meredith Village, was entered on Monday night by some persons who gained an entrance by moving the screen from a window, and then decamped with Mr. K.'s pants, in the pocket of which was a pocketbook containing about $300.

From the Journal.

"RIVERSIDE."—The September number is received. The frontispiece, "Town and Country," is a good natured characterization of city and country children when brought face to face. Two old favorites reappear, Forte Crayon, with his picture and stories of Virginian life, and Abby Sage, with a new story from the old English poets, the sadly sweet "Patient Griselda." Other articles are very attractive. The number has a good show of illustrations, twenty-five in all, many of them being large and striking. Published by Hurd & Houghton, New York. $2 50 a year.

ADMIRAL PORTER, whilst here, personally confirmed the report which has prevailed that it was his intention to make this station first-class in every respect. He was profuse in his compliments of the work which had been turned out at this Yard, so long ago demonstrated to be indisputable excellent, and was emphatic in expressing the desire that each Department should continue in the good work.

EXTRA TRIPS.—Commodore Winslow has issued an order to have the steamer Emerald run from the Yard to Portsmouth and back, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings of each week, in future.

SCARCITY OF SEAMEN.—The supply of seamen at our several Receiving stations is not equal to the demand, and Government offers a bounty, it is stated, to able bodied men.

PERSONAL.—Hon. Jacob H. Ela visited the Yard on Tuesday to look after the interests of New Hampshire there.

RAILROAD LAW.—Chief Justice Parley, at a recent session of the S. J. SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Regular Habit of Body

Is absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Beauty of person cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the offal of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs, and one of the most common results is constipation. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, has many disagreeable concomitants, such as an unpleasant breath, a sallow skin, contaminated blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and general debility.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant, or a tonic, or an anti-bilious agent, or a mere purge, or a blood depurent, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It lends activity and vigor to the liver; and enervated stomach, relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, gently stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and chases the animal spirits. No other remedy posses such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to these characteristics that it owes the prestige it enjoys as a medicine. Experience has proved that it is a harmless as it is efficacious, and hence it is as popular with the weak as with the strong.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label, with our signature over the cork and a green strip over the cork, is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

Holloways Pills and Ointment.—Indolent sores for which the regular pharmacopoeia provides no real remedy are completely healed, in two or three weeks, by HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. Its balsamic vegetable qualities have a most wonderful effect upon the disease; it soothes and completely extirpate the virus which feeds the ulcer or sore. As a morbid condition of the whole system is invariably a concomitant of discharging ulcers, an occasional dose of Holloway's Pills may assist and expedite the cure. Sold by all Druggists.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1836 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving hundreds of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1868.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:— I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a most valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking your Pain Killer. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M.D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success in checking the epidemic. In this disease, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Shoiapore, India."

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and strengthen the system, and improve the health of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Prof. Phin, P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other conditioner for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this precious remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, as altogether the medicinal and curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

One thousand experiments

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the female sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an anti-bilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal; other among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopeia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a single pill, powder, or draught or pill.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It cleanses the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. dtf

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes healthy blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; this tonic will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much: they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they demage the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of course of accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcers, or Tetter, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, ulceration, or mortification. The whole system, lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to use Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, the physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the Seaweed Medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at the Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 25 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 88 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. G. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1y jal4

FIRE.—Shortly after 5 o'clock Saturday morning, smoke was seen issuing from the Sheafe building on Market Street, occupied by Mayor Jones as a salesroom for his Ale. The smoke was dense and filled all the apartments of the building. Unaware where the fire was the firemen poured in heavy streams of water from the loft to the cellar, raining about $3000 worth of hops in the upper loft. The fire, however, was soon discoved to be in the basement, where 200 barrels of flour, consigned by a St. Louis firm to Messrs. Pickering & Tompson, were stored. Nearly all the flour was ruined.

After the fire had been extinguished it was found that the money drawer in Mr. Jones' counting room had been stolen, but, we believe, it was empty. The indications are that some thief entered the counting room through a back window and having taken all the portable property available, went through the trap hatch to the basement and set fire among the flour barrels, one of which seemed to have been saturated with some inflammable fluid.

The total loss is about $5500. Mr. Jones' loss ($3000) is covered by insurance in the Etna and Home (N. Y.) Co's., at Mr. Sise's Agency. Ex-Gov. Goodwin's office is in the same building, but was not damaged. W. C. Newton & Co., sustained trifling damage of groceries. The loss by fire was small.

STREET SPRINKLING.—Having nearly fulfilled his contract for the season, Mr. William Plaisted will now complete his collection from subscribers; and while of course those who actually signed his paper for having the front of their premises sprinkled will be ready for him,—he trusts that others adjoining, who did not sign but have been benefitted by the sprinkling, will contribute toward paying for the same, in order that encouragement be given for proper street sprinkling next year.

☞ Manager Whitman's Comic Opera Troupe which went to Lowell from this city has dispersed. A performance there was brought to an abrupt termination, Thursday evening, by the actors refusing to play until their salaries were paid. As other creditors had attached the proceeds, the poor disciples of Thespis got nothing.

☞ Steamer Cambridge, which runs between Bangor and Boston, arrived at the Navy Yard from the latter place with about two hundred excursionists and Gilmore's Band, Saturday afternoon, stopped about two hours and then returned. They made the trip from wharf to wharf in four hours and a quarter.

☞ We do not know whom to thank for a box of the largest and finest Sweet Apples we ever saw, which we received a few days since by express, but whether they came from our old friend Mr. J. G. Tompson of South Berwick, or not, we are much obliged to somebody for the treat.

NOT BAD. — The schooner Pyrola, Moore, master, arrived here from a fishing voyage to the Grand Banks, Sept. 3d, with 1100 quintals Cod Fish, to Harding & Doane,—18 weeks out.

☞ It is reported that Capt. Alexander Murray will be ordered to the Vandalia. Also, that orders have been issued to pay the men employed at this Naval Station fortnightly.

We learn that Mrs. C. A. Barry, (formerly Mrs. Cary,) is to to give a concert at the Temple next Friday evening, Sept 10. She is a great favorite here and needs only to be announced.

THE ALARM OF FIRE about 9 o'clock Sunday forenoon, was caused by the burning of the pitch house at the Navy Yard—near the Franklin ship-house.

☞ There was a rare and beautiful display of Northern Lights on Saturday morning—morning, we mean, before four o'clock, not after breakfastime.

☞ An alarm of fire about 11 o'clock, Friday evening, was caused by the burning of a wood-box in a house on Church hill.

☞ Bessom, the backward walker, is expected to start from this city for Boston at 11 o'clock, this forenoon.

☞ See advertisement of attractive new Books, on 4th page this morning.

☞ Saturday was a summer day, opening with a brilliant aurora.

BASE BALL.—The "Fat Contributor" winds up his report of the match between the Haymakers and Red Stockings with the following observations:

As we have twice remarked before, we don't know much about base ball, but it seems to us the match could have been played differently yesterday. For instance, had Wright got in with his left duke on the third base at the time he shot his own ball into the pocket for safety, instead of swinging the ace to catch the umpire out on a fly, he would unquestionably have euchred the reporter's stand, and jumping the king row, after throwing double sixes, come into the home base under one blanket. We may be wrong, however, but we are honest in our convictions.

☞ The Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution joins the Richmond Whig, Richmond Enquirer, Savannah Republican, Memphis Avalanche and other sheets, in urging the Southern people to abandon their affiliations with the Democratic party, a party whose "name is a synonym of disaster." Are we to understand by this, that Conservative Republicans, like Andrew Johnson and Senter, are to be put forward.

☞ A Catholic clergyman in Leipsic, Rev. Mr. Faib, editor of a scientific journal called the Sirius, predicts that on the 30th of September or the 1st of October of this year, Peru and Ecuador will be overwhelmed by the most tremendous earthquake that has yet been experienced.

☞ A gold nugget, weighing 106 pounds, has been received in San Francisco from Sierra County, and its value is said to be $25,000. The vein from which it was taken is a new one, from which two men in one day recently took $52,000 worth of the precious metal.

☞ The "engagement" of Gen. Sheridan to Miss Bessie Cheever, of Boston, is announced.

PREPARE FOR AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.—The season for exhibitions of stock, farm products, implements, household and corporation manufactures is at hand, and to make them valuable and successful will require not only associated effort, but the individual exertion of all who desire to promote the future good of the State.

Now let us suggest, that wherever town fairs are held, every citizen do something by way of contribution of products to increase the aggregate amount of the exhibition. You have a good horse, a cow, a pig, or a flock of fowls. You have grown nice corn or oats, or, it may be, wheat. You have choice varieties of potatoes, mammoth pumpkins, superior squashes, or vegetables of many varieties, worth looking at. You have articles of household manufacture or preparation that you can present, and thereby gain the credit of being a skilful manager and at the same time aid your neighbor in producing similar articles. These should be shown at the local fairs, and then again presented at county exhibitions to swell the aggregate entries.

In this way, our county shows will be equal to ordinary State exhibitions, and will command the attention of the farmers and mechanics of the whole county. The result will be not only an improved exhibition, but increased means for the year to come.

Then from each of these county or local exhibitions, let articles be taken to the State Fair, and we shall have not only a show equal to the best ever held, but one surpassing all previous exhibitions. Let farmers consider the matter and make the effort for a full display of all that is excellent, novel and interesting in the line of manufactures or agriculture in the State.—Man'r Mirror.

—The President has appointed Colonel Jesse M. Boyles postmaster at Louisville, Ky., vice Dr. Speed, who has been in the office eight years. This appointment, it is stated, is in accordance with a declaration of President Grant, made some time ago, that certain persons who have held office eight years must give place to others who have suffered by the war, provided they are equally competent for the positions.

—A child has just been born in the town of Pittston, Me., which completes four generations of a family born within half a century. The mother is fifteen years of age, the grandmother twenty-eight years, and the great grandmother forty-eight years. The young mother is the daughter of her husband's sister.

—Salem has increased its valuation ten per cent in the last years.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan,

Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 537 miles of which 112 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to the Pacific Ocean. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a good gold and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $25 (gold) each half year.
" " London...$7 48, 10 "
" " Frankfort..$7 fir. 30 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Pamphlets, with maps giving full information, sent on application.

Is a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigorous strength to the constitution—a thoro'

PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,

a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.

The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet restores to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.

It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all cases of

manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.

Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of

or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.

Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.

CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, the Red Label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

NATIONAL ASYLUM FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, AUGUSTA, MAINE.

We take this method of tendering the numerous friends of the institution our sincere thanks for the many expressions of kindness shown us during the past few months. And while this is not an institution of charity, nor are its inmates in any sense beggars, yet it is very pleasing to the soldier to know that he is kindly remembered, and that the noble sacrifices he has made to save the nation's life are appreciated by a grateful people.

There are now in this Eastern Branch of the National Asylum 450 disabled volunteer soldiers, and the number is increasing constantly. Most of them are from New England and the Middle States. Our new buildings are nearly completed at a very large expense, and every possible effort is being made for the comfort and happiness of those who find a home within their walls.

A few weeks ago we commenced the work of collecting a library and fitting up a reading room for the benefit of the soldiers, and have been agreeably surprised at the readiness with which publishers and other friends of the soldier in all parts of the country have responded to our call for reading matter. One hundred and forty (140) papers and magazines are now sent regularly to our reading room, gratis. Also about 600 volumes of valuable books have been collected. But this is just a beginning. There is room on our shelves still for many more; and all those who regard it not a sacrifice but a privilege to give for the benefit of our brave boys who have shown their devotion to their country by sacrificing home and health and everything but life itself, to save her in her hour of peril,—now have an opportunity to do so. School Apparatus, maps, charts, &c; also pictures to ornament the rooms, have been sent.

The Mason & Hamlin Organ Co. have just given us one of their splendid Cabinet Organs, which the most skillful musicians regard the best manufactured in the world. We very cheerfully recommend them to all desiring such instruments, for the use of parlors, chapels, vestries or churches. All donations, for the Library or reading room may be directed to

H. F. WOOD, Chaplain.

A WISE BONDHOLDER.—Some funny facts have recently leaked out concerning Mr. Peabody's educational and charitable donations. When he builds houses for the poor in England, he pays for them in gold. The same is true of most of his princely donations in this country. The Danbury, Salem and many other gifts are as generous in their terms as they are in their amounts. But Mr. Peabody sometimes manages to read people a lecture in common honesty, wittily and wisely. Take the case of the University of Virginia, over which General Lee presides. He has given it $60,000; but how? So long ago as 1854, Mr. Peabody forwarded $108,000 of Virginia State bonds from London to his New York correspondent. They were lost on the steamship Arctic off Cape Race. Mr. Peabody memorialized the Legislature of Virginia to issue new bonds, but his request was refused in the face of perfect evidence that the bonds had been lost. What he has given to General Lee's college is nothing but a part of his old claim against the State of Virginia, which has been once repudiated. There is something splendidly sarcastic in the gift. If Virginia can be decently honest, her University has $60,000. If she refuses to pay her honorable debts, she gets nothing. There is no educational teaching which Virginia more needs than that of commercial integrity; and Mr. Peabody has chosen the very best form of administering the lesson.—Villager.

PAYING AN OLD DEBT.—Nearly forty years ago, a man, whose name we need not mention, borrowed of a man, now a stone-cutter in Manchester, the sum of twelve dollars. The parties at that time lived in the State of Maine, were both young, soon sought employment in different locations, and lost all trace of each other. The stone-cutter is a poor man, and is well known here. A year ago, in reading the list of the members of the State Legislature, he was struck by the similarity of the name of a member from a northern town to that of the young man who so long ago had become his debtor. During the session of the Legislature, our stone-cutting neighbor made a visit to Concord, and looked up the member bearing the name of his old friend, when a mutual recognition took place. After talking over the past, and reciting personal histories for the many intervening years since they parted, the debtor referred to the borrowed money, and said, although it was "paid by the statute of limitations," it was justly due. He computed the interest, and insisted that the creditor should take full pay, amounting to about forty dollars.

Our friend, the stone-cutter, says he has a stronger faith in the honesty of deacons than he has ever before entertained, and we personally know that the deacon referred to in this item is worthy of the offices which he holds, both in church and State.—Mirror.

THE HEN AND DUCK AS EGG PRODUCERS. A paper has been received by the Paris Academy of Science, from M. Comaille, on the comparative value of the hen and duck as egg producers. His observation were limited to three hens and three ducks, all fine animals, hatched at the same time in the month of February. During the following autumn the ducks laid two hundred and twenty-five eggs; they recommenced laying in February, and continued to do so until the middle of August. The hens laid no eggs during the autumn, but began in January, and left off about the middle of August. The totals of each at the end of that time were: The hens, two hundred and fifty-seven eggs; the ducks, six hundred and seventeen. M. Comaille next examined the nutritive value of each kind of egg, and found them nearly equal in that respect.

—The water of Salt Lake is so dense that a man cannot sink in it. The editor of The Corinne Reporter demonstrated this by standing upright in the water, and without the least motion could not sink to the chin. He could lie on the water, stand in it, take almost any position, and still he would float, and could not sink. It is necessary after swimming in this briny water to rinse off with fresh, for the salt of the water condenses on one's person, and leaves one, when dry, looking as if he had been powdered all over with white chalk.

—At the recent fire in the woods on Machias river, Maine, it is estimated that, in township No. 42, two million feet of timber was burned. The timber is not lost, but it will be necessary to cut it the ensuing winter.

—In reply to a paper which called Gen. Sherman "the coming man," a Georgia journal says it "hopes he is not coming that way again."

NEW BOOKS! NEW BOOKS!!

HURD & HOUGHTON, Riverside, Cambridge, publish the following:

DARLEY'S SKETCHES.

We strongly recommend our readers to procure the book. It is written with the buoyant spirit of a man who is enjoying himself thoroughly with the discrimination of one who can duly appreciate the treasures, the antiquities, or the novelties that are shown to him.—London Examiner.

SKETCHES ABROAD WITH PEN AND PENCIL. By FELIX O. C. DARLEY. With 15 full-page and 74 smaller illustrations on wood. A new edition, with three additional vignettes, and printed on toned paper. In 1 volume, 4to. Price in cloth, $3.50; cloth, gilt, $4.00; morocco, $8.00.

Mr. Darley seems at his happiest here, and his pen has pleasantly done the little his pencil could not do. Europe has been an inspiration to him. Atlantic Monthly.

H. O. HOUGHTON & Co., Riverside, Cambridge, Mass. For sale by all booksellers.

MOZART'S LETTERS. 2 volumes. $2.50.
BEETHOVEN'S LETTERS. 1 volume. $2.00.

The best exponent of music is the life of the music-writer, and these letters are the most truthful and satisfactory representations of the life of these great men. Portraits are prefixed to the volumes.

The Letters Mozart, giving us at once a view of his inner life and a glimpse at social life in Germany nearly a hundred years ago, will be doubly prized. They are nearly all written in a light gossipy style, preserving till the last the lightheartedness of a child—a common characteristic or accompaniment of genius.—Musical Pioneer.

The man and his creations are signally illustrated by the correspondence here published.—London Athenæum.

For sale by all booksellers. Sent prepaid, on receipt of price, by the publishers, HOUGHTON & Co., Riverside, Cambridge Mass.

OLD ENGLAND.—Its Scenery, Art, and People. By JAMES M. HOPPIN, Professor in Yale College. 1 volume, 16mo. Price $2.00.

Professor Hoppin has laid the American and Christian public under great obligation by his book on Old England. It is a most readable volume, and at the same time most valuable. In a style remarkable for purity and graceful flexibility he has given a vast amount of information upon the great theme of his book. He is never tedious—just touches many subjects, sketches most, but suggests more than he says, and seems imbued with the very spirit and flavor of the men and things among which he moves. The effect of the book is like the companionship of a scholarly and Christian traveler.—W. J. Budington, D. D., in New York Independent.

For sale by all booksellers. Sent post-paid, on receipt of price, by the Publishers, H. O. HOUGHTON & Co., Riverside. Cambridge, Mass.

Mr. Howell's two books, "VENETIAN LIFE" and "ITALIAN JOURNEYS," are placed by the foremost English and American reviewers in the first rank of books of travel. Each $2.00.

W know of no single word which will so fully characterize Mr. Howell's new volume about Venice as "delightful."—N.A. Review.

Every sentence of this charming book is characteristic. Is the very model of what a light book of travels ought to be.—London Contemporary Review.

For sale everywhere. Sent free, on receipt of price, by H. O. HOUGHTON & Co., Publishers, Riverside, Cambridge, Mass.

"His book preserves the flavor and zest of the old-fashioned villages and farming towns, as they were before the four-horse stage-coaches had given place to the fiery locomotives of our day, and will recall to many readers the scenes of a past generation, among which they started on the race of life."

From a long review of the New York Tribune, of the picturesque book "HOMESPUN; OR FIVE AND TWENTY YEARS AGO." By THOMAS LACKLAND. Price $1.75. For sale by all booksellers, and sent free on receipt of price, by H. O. HOUGHTON & Co., Publishers, Riverside, Cambridge, Mass.

"We know no book," says the Congregationalist, of Dr. PEABODY'S "REMINISCENCES OF EUROPEAN TRAVEL," which would be a better preparation for a trip to Europe, or which will more pleasantly recall to any one his pleasures and sent free on receipt of price, by H. O. HOUGHTON & Co., Publishers, Riverside, Cambridge, Mass.

UNDINE.

The exquisite romance of "UNDINE" was intended by its author as the embodiment of the idea of Spring. With three other tales it made a round of the Four Seasons. Hard & Houghton's edition embraces these four, under the title, "UNDINE AND OTHER TALES." Price $1.50. Sold everywhere, and sent free, on receipt of price, by H. O. AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!

THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!

BENJAMIN NORTON,

Having been appointed Selling Agent for this City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of

ever offered in this city.

It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,

Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied to the twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON, Agent for Chemical Paint Company.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILEY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made into the patentability of foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all business connected with the science of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office, than EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all two ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at VERY reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

FALL RIVER LINE

FOR New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and all principal points West, South and South-west.

VIA TAUNTON FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin, $5.00; Deck, $4.00.

Baggage checked through and transferred in New York free of charge.

New York trains leave the Old Colony and Newport Railway Depot, corner of South and Kneeland Streets, daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows: at 4.30 P. M., arriving in Newport 40 minutes in advance of the regular Steamboat Train, which leaves Boston at 5.30 P. M., connecting at Newport with the new and magnificent steamers PROVIDENCE, Capt. B. M. Simmons, and BRISTOL, Capt. Benj. Brayton. These steamers are the fastest and most reliable boats on the Sound, built expressly for speed, safety and comfort. This Line connects with all the Southern Boats and Railroad Lines from New York going West and South, and convenient to the California Steamers.

"To Shippers of Freight," this Line, with its new and extensive depot accommodations in Boston, and large pier in New York, (exclusively for the business of the Line,) is supplied with facilities for freight and passenger business which cannot be surpassed. Freight always taken at low rates, and forwarded with despatch.

New York Express Freight Train leaves Boston at 1:30 P. M.; goods arrive in New York next morning before 8 A. M. Freight leaving New York reaches Boston on the following day, at 9.45 A. M.

For tickets, berths and staterooms, apply at the Company's office at No. 3 Old State House, corner of Washington and State Streets, and at old Colony and Newport Railroad Depot, corner of South and Kneeland Streets, Boston.

☞ Sunday Night Line. ☜ Cars leave every Sunday evening, at 6.30 P. M., connecting as above.

The Office in Old State House, Boston, will be open every Sunday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock, and at the Depot from 9 to 10 A. M., and from 5 to 6:30 P. M., for sale of tickets and staterooms.

Steamers leave New York daily, (Sundays included,) from Pier 28 North River, foot of Murray Street, at 5 P. M.

The Chronicle.

For the Chronicle.

"For there was not a house where there was not one dead."

Who has not lost a friend by death?
Whom does it not on earth bereave?
Whose heart's not broken, bleeding, torn,
Whose head not bowed in deepest grief?

In every house unwelcomed death
Hath chosen loved ones as his prey;
Compelled the mourning friends to bear
Their helpless, lifeless forms away.

But are they dead? doth earth absorb
Both soul and body, there to lie
While ages, ceaseless ages roll?
The soul of man, oh, can it die?

Ah no! it lives, forever lives,
Death and the grave are triumphed o'er;
Around us and beyond they dwell,
We'll meet them on the Spirit Shore.

Death's sting, it wounds, but not destroys,
Though he is ever crying "give!"
Though nature speaks, "prepare to die,"
All Heaven proclaims "prepare to live."

Portsmouth, N. H. J. G. H.

SIN versus TAXES.—Mr. Editor:—The sketch of Stratham recently published, reminds me of an incident that occurred during the ministration of Rev. Joseph Adams, who was pastor of the only church in Stratham from 1745 to 1783. Several persons who did not fully indorse the doctrines upheld by Mr. Adams, to avoid payment of the church tax,—which it was then required by law that all should pay for the support of some church,—formed a church of their own. The prime mover in the matter was one Green, who lived on the fine farm now owned by Chas. N. Healey, and who was said to be an infidel. Their object was so palpable, that they were not exempted from payment of taxes to Mr. Adams' church.

So, to give their church stability, they had a baptising, and that, too, by immersion. During the ceremony Mr. Adams stood a silent spectator, until Green, who was the last candidate for immersion, came dripping from the water, when Mr. A. thus addressed him: "Well, friend Green, do you think you have washed away all of old Adam's sin?" Wiping the water from his dripping face, Green promptly replied; "I don't know about 'old Adam's sin,' but I think we have got well rid of old Adams' taxes!"

The burst of hearty laughter which greeted this sally, showed that the keenness of the repartee was appreciated by the bystanders, and Mr. Adams beat a hasty retreat. Tradition hath it that Mr. Green and his church paid no more taxes for the support of Mr. Adams' church. This is said to be a positive fact—"H." in Exeter News Letter.

TO CHICAGO IN THIRTY HOURS.—It is hardly soothing intelligence to the wounded and decimated travelling public that the three great lines, the Pennsylvania Central, the Erie and the N. Y. Central, in a spirit of rivalry which is too often reckless of life and limb, propose running trains through to Chicago in thirty hours including stops, as the distance by the first-named line is 899 miles by the second 980 and by the third 981 it will be seen that an average speed will have to be kept up, while the train is in motion of considerable more than thirty miles an hour. The Sun justly observes that "on the well-built roads of England with their light cars and engines such a rate is s[illegible] enough; but we tremble for the consequences when we think of our uneven tracks, sharp curves and forty-ton locomotives. It is however probable that the wear and tear of this high speed will prove so enormous as soon to force a return to the slower but safer pace heretofore followed." Greater speed can be achieved with safety, only after large expenditure of labor and money in putting the roads in perfect state of repair. Let the companies announce first that this needed work is to be prosecuted, and then the public will listen patiently to their offers to increase the rate of speed.

AN ENTERPRISING DOG.—The Peoria (Ill.) Transcript tells the following tough one about a diminutive black and tan dog:—"He was in the eager pursuit of a rat, burrowed some distance into the ground, and as he went filled up the hole with the dirt he removed. He was missed for eight days, when one day his owner heard a suppressed bark, coming seemingly from under the ground, and upon digging brought the adventurous dog to the surface. He was rather the worse for nothing to eat, but beyond that was as good as when he first disappeared."

APOTHECARIES' MISTAKES.—Fatal mistakes by apothecaries are becoming common in Boston and other large cities; so much so that there is a disposition on the part of the more careful ones to ask for a law required a special license for all who engage in the trade. It would be well to give authority only to perfectly sober men who will employ only sober clerks. We have known cases of drinking druggists and clerks, of whom it was not safe to purchase.—Manchester Mirror.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER AND LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet restores to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties, color, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the intellect, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Lang's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copyright, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, a green wrapper, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

ASSASSINATION.—Can you name a Southern soldier or officer who has been murdered in the North since the war? We defy any man to do this; and yet there are two soutern men in the North for every Northern man in the South. But if such assassinations were lightly suggested, and when committed applauded by the Northern press, and the victim malignantly misrepresented, might we not expect to harvest a crop of assassination as bloody as that of the South? Has assassination become the boast of chivalry?—Memphis Post.

INFORMATION WANTED,—as to whether the United States Navy belongs to the Line Officers thereof, or the Line Officers belong to the Navy, so long as they remain in the same? The latter is, I believe, the generally received idea among the people of the country, while the former is the prevalent opinion among the line officers in the service,—particularly in the mind of Vice Admiral D. D. Porter, acting Secretary of the Navy.

There has long been a marked jealousy, on the part of the line officers, against the recognition of the staff officers as officers and gentlemen, by Government, the former class considering themselves entitled, by virtue of having received an education at the expense of the nation, and having never toiled in the workshop or studied in the dissecting room, to a degree of honor and consideration from and a monopoly of authority over others, to which none but their own particular "class" could possibly have any claim.

When, during the late war, a departmental order was issued which gave to surgeons, engineers and paymasters assimilated rank with the line officers, much dissatisfaction was felt and expressed by the latter that their sacred order of aristocracy should be thus invaded by men whom they regarded as plebeians when compared with themselves. Said a gallant commander (a man courteous and honorable in his private dealings, but quite full of the consciousness of superiority to which it seems he was entitled by his position, —a firm believer in and worshipper of "class" distinctions, and of course a rebel sympathizer,) to a friend of mine: "I do not say that an engineer's family may not be as good as another's, or that he may not be as gentlemanly and polished as any one else; but that a man whom you meet one day on the street, black and oily from a workshop, is the next day to take his place in the service and in society as the equal of men who have been educated as officers and gentlemen, is outrageous, and will never be submitted to." Perhaps it never entered the indignant commander's mind that the black, oily mechanic of whom he thought so little, not only paid for his own education while he was in the workshop, but also helped to educate him.

As no action confirmatory of the departmental order was taken by Congress, however, it has since been quietly ignored, and the staff officers put back to their former grades. But Vice Admiral Porter, it seems, is of the opinion that the men who educate themselves are still too nearly on an equality of rank with those who are educated by the nation, and is determined to crowd them back from the borders of the charmed circle of naval aristocracy and snobbery,—for it is snobbery,—this insolent assumption of superiority on the part of the line officers,—not on the ground that they know or can learn more, or have done or can do more than the others, but simply and solely because they did not pay for their education, and the staff officers did for theirs.

I do not speak of their demanding social superiority, for every man has a right to say whom he will not have for his friend; and if the line officers wish to be very exclusive in social intercourse, why, let them; it's no one's affair but their own. But I, for one, am at a loss to see what right they have to claim a distinct and more honorable professional rank, over other men who are equally masters of their respective professions, have served as long and as faithfully and are just as indispensable as they, and are of fully equal mental qualifications with themselves. For all naval officers are not geniuses; I once met one who was blessed with about the most abundant absence of common sense of any man I ever knew.

Adm. Porter's late scheme, to put machinists in national ships to do duty as second and third engineers and live forward, at a much less salary than good mechanics command on shore, and have a regular engineer, to be responsible for bad work done by bad tools, is but another attempt to assert the aristocracy of the line by reducing the staff officer.

American institutions do not please all Americans. The doctrine of equal civil and political rights for all men is distasteful to those who consider their blood to be a little bluer than that of the common herd; and as the scheme for perpetuating two distinct classes,—one to rule and ruin, and the other to toil and be ruled,—was sent to the devil (where it came from in the first place) by the late war, all hopes of our ever having an aristocracy to look up to seem to be centred in the line officers of the navy. Fat corporations, factories, railroads and mail-steamship lines may make some men rich; but to get wealthy they must have talent for business, and must work, and work hard, too. Who could feel any reverence for such an aristocracy? What is wanted is a race of gentlemen born, to give "tone" to things generally, to speak with proper contempt of the "lower classes," and to have a monopoly of honor and honesty.

We can't have a recognized aristocracy on shore, but we can on the water. We have already aped England in the names of our war-vessels—why not go a little further, and create an order of nobility? Leave the medical profession on shore, abolish the paymasters, disrate the engineers, ennoble the line officers,—and then the latter will be what they think they have a right to be, —the only men in the U. S. Navy having either authority or honor. Admiral Porter appears determined that this result shall be reached. Whether he will succeed in his endeavors remains to be seen; at present, he appears to be omnipotent, notwithstanding the act of Congress that the Secretary of the Navy should be a civilian.

BE BEAUTIFUL. If you desire beauty you should use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It gives a soft, refined, satin-like texture to the Complexion, removes Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Tan, &c., and adds a tinge of Pearly Bloom to the plainest features. It brings the Bloom of Youth to the fading cheek and changes the rustic Country Girl into a Fashionable City Belle.

In the use of the Magnolia Balm lies the true secret of Beauty. No Lady need complain of her Complexion who will invest 75 cents in this delightful article.

Lyon's Kathairon is the best Hair Dressing in use. 1mas21

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY lies in the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm for the Complexion. Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Freckles and Tan disappear where it is applied, and a beautiful Complexion of pure, satin-like texture is obtained. The plainest features are made to glow with Healthful Bloom and Youthful Beauty.

Remember Hagan's Magnolia Balm is the thing that produces these effects, and any Lady can secure it for 75 cents at any of our stores.

To preserve and dress the Hair use Lyon's Kathairon. 1mas21

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I purchased a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine about ten years ago, and while learning to use it, without instruction, broke one needle; after that, for more than nine years, I had the machine in almost daily use, doing all my family sewing and very much for friends and others, and instructed seven persons in the use of the machine, without breaking a needle. My machine has never cost one penny for repairs. I have sewed hours with a worrisome babe in my lap, working upon fabrics of the most delicate texture, as well as upon men's and boys' clothes of the heaviest material. I have made garments for the cradle, the bridal, the hospital, and the funeral. Entering into every vicissitude of life, my machine has become as it were a part of my being.

Edward Bayer, Esq., Horton, Kings Co. N. S., writes that an astonishing cure has been effected on his daughter, by the use of "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment." The whole spine became diseased, she lost the use of her limbs, and her back was rounded up like a bow, in consequence of taking cold after having been innoculated for the kine pock. She is now well.

We pledge our reputation on the assertion that any educated physician, after a careful examination of the receipe, will say that "Parson's Purgative Pills," possess more merit than any other pill now offered for sale.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Regular Habit of Body

is absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Beauty of form cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the offal of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs, and one of its most common results is constipation. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, has many disagreeable concomitants,—such as an unpleasant breath, a sallow skin, contaminated blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and general debility.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is only of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant, or a tonic, or an anti-bilious agent, or a nervine, or a blood deparent, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It lends activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach, relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the entire system which lines it, gently stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy poses such a variety of hygienic virtues. Its to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is a harmless cure, it is efficacious, and hence it is so popular with the weaker sex as with the stronger.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in glass and engraved on the label, with our steel engraved revenue stamp over the cork, is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

Holloways Pills and Ointment.—Indolent sores for which the regular pharmacopœia provides no real remedy are completely healed, in two or three weeks, by HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. Its balsamic vegetable qualities have a most wonderful effect upon the diseased flesh and completely extirpate the virus which feeds the ulcer or sore. As a morbid condition of the blood is generally a concomitant of discharging ulcers, an occasional dose of Holloway's Pills may assist and expedite the cure. Sold by all Druggists.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.
Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 182 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Missouri River, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Shelapore, India." au20

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocuous; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they were composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years they used no other medicines for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but exhibiting all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excipient is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art; their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have proved far more efficacious than any preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Wholesale agent, John F. HENRY, No. 8 College Place, New York City.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then also digest the food and make good digestion, makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a cough spasm will throw it out, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely and the liver is not relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the add to it the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do two things; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they damage the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough nor night sweats. He knows, to remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, who has Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, cellous, tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decay. In such cases what must be done? If is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make good blood out of food. Now this only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets freely right and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 226 pounds, was warned away to a premature death, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and announced him to his friends. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yjas

BACKWARDIZING.—Bessom, the pedestrian, was the sensation of Monday. He arrived here from Boston in the first train, and in an hour afterwards started on his trip to Boston. Bessom was dressed very becomingly—wore a red skull cap, white shirt, dark blue pants, white leggings and easy shoes. His unique dress drew people to the National House, his headquarters, and several hundred persons soon collected to see him off.

Shortly after 11 o'clock he proceeded to Market Square, pointed his heels to the westward and waited for the word. At 11.07 J. Horace gave him the start. Bessom began to crawfish, and the procession moved. Policemen cleared the way for him, carriages followed in his wake and small boys acted as his body guard. Bessom paddled rapidly along up Congress Street, sheered close to the lamp post on the corner of Middle, and took the road to Boston. The road was dusty and his leggings soon showed signs of needed washing. His pace was a good one and Mr. John Kehoe, who accompanied him to Newburyport, found it no leisure work to keep up with him.

The first mile was made in the unprecedented time of fifteen minutes and a half, and the second, which is about the hardest on the route, was made in 24 minutes, the first 4 miles being made in an hour and 10 minutes. He was to stop at Hampton an hour, and was confident of reaching Newburyport, 22 miles, by 6 o'clock, P. M.

The wager, we believe, is that he will "advance backwards" from this city to Boston, 60 miles, in 5 days, $500 being risked by each party, for and against. This, at first thought, does not seem to be a difficult task, but we are inclined to think that if Bessom reached Newburyport, Monday, walking 22 miles backwards inside of 8 or 9 hours, he performed the hardest days' work he ever yet tried. He was evidently in good condition and has a muscular pair of legs but the manner of progression was unnatural.

Communication.

The Pastor of the Middle St., Church and Society, Rev. Mr. Alden, was greeted by a large congregation on Sunday, after an absence of four weeks, during which time the house has been closed. In the forenoon, a sermon from Galatians 6th, 14th — "God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ"—was preached, suggestive of the happy union of pastor and people. The minister's desk was beautifully decorated with flowers—two large bouquets being placed on the top, one at either hand, and one at the base. The choir did their best—which is always good enough, and Mrs. Leavitt presided at the Organ with more than her usual force and taste. This lady has made such rapid progress in the handling of this new instrument of late, that she will soon be superior to any and second to none in this locality.

Next Sabbath morning Mr. Alden commences the first of a series of discourses from the theme, "Foot-prints in the Holy Sand," suggested by his travels there. M.

☞ We learn that Messrs. W. H. Y. Hackett of this city and Mason of Boston, executors of the will of Mrs. Mary Cutts, on Saturday visited and examined Richards Avenue, relative to the improvements proposed to be made there by her bequest. And we understand the gentlemen concerned will confer with the City government, and that their suggestion is, to widen the Avenue near South Street, McAdamize the roadway for the length of the street, the entire width between the trees, and lay a broad concrete sidewalk on each side, with another row of trees on the outside of either walk. This will give a driveway of tolerable width, and two fine walks for promenaders. We believe it is not intended to commence on the work till another year.

☞ The Portsmouth Savings Bank, we learn is not to be removed from the building where it has been so long located; it having decided not to sell its interest there to the First National. It is to be so arranged that the two institutions will be separated, but both remain under the same roof.

☞ All the trains due in this city after 2:30 P. M., Monday, except the 5:30 train from Boston, were from 30 minutes to an hour and a half late.

PROF. GARDNER delivered his great speech on Temperance, Religion, Soap, &c., to a large audience on Market Square, Monday evening.

☞ It must be rather tough for the Portsmouth Cornet Band to issue notes on capital stolen from them. The young fellow who arranged for the out-door Concerts, it is said collected about $225 from the citizens, of which he paid the Band $85, and "appropriated" the remainder to his own use. We understand he has since left town; and he ought to have gone out with a kick from each subscriber whose contribution he stole, and the Band playing the Rogue's March behind him. We understand that one gentleman friend of the Band, when he first read our statement of their outrageous loss, forthwith carried them another $3, the amount of his original subscription which never reached them.

☞ The Epping gravel furnished the City, by the Concord Railroad, in exchange for that used by the R. R. from the plains, is too sandy to tread well, as is seen by the centre section of the recent repairs on Middle Street. It may have to be removed. That used on the other portions of this Street, is from the new bank from Mr. Elwyn's, on Lafayette Road, we believe, and appears to be of fine quality.

☞ The weather is altogether too fair for the best success of the coming Fairs. Crops and animals must suffer unless we get rain, and Oh, how the dustwill fly!

And besides the non-arrival of the rain,—now long over-due—there is a great scarcity of dew on many of the nights. This surely will never do much longer.

☞ Mr. Samuel Gray, one of our associates for four years or more, who aided materially in founding this Chronicle, and is one of the best business men we ever dealt with—has recently closed his late business connections in Pennsylvavia, and is now visiting his old home in this city.

☞ Mrs. Barry's Concert, Friday evening, will be "the thing." She was always a favorite among Portsmouth people, and we learn from those who know the other singers that it will only be necessary for them to be heard once to ensure an equally flattering popularity.

☞ It will be seen that the picturesquely located farm of Capt. Preble, at Newcastle, is advertised to be sold at Auction, Oct. 6th. The buildings are new, and a good opportunity is offered for any one who wishes to live in a beautiful, though quiet and retired situation.

☞ We learn that S. F. Engine Co. No. 2 will go to Lynn on Thursday next and Salem on Friday, and will be accompanied by the Portsmouth Cornet Band, Chief Eng'r Waterhouse and Mayor Jones.

☞ The base ball match, between the Clipper Club of Newburyport and the Granite State Club of this city, is expected to be played at the Plains, Wednesday afternoon.

☞ Col. M. F. Wentworth of Kittery raised 101 potatoes, —26 lbs.,— from one third of a pound of Early Rose Potatoes, this year.

PERSONAL.—William C. Parks, Esq., for many years Marshal of the Sandwich Islands, and formerly of this city, was in town on Monday.

☞ Admiral J. C. Butler's fourth grand excursion to Steamer Appledore to the Shoals takes place to-day. Tickets 50 cents.

☞ Haymarket Square was favored with a nice Concert by the Cornet Band, Monday evening—the tenth of the series.

☞ The fire at the Navy Yard on Sunday is supposed to have resulted from spontaneous combustion.

☞ A brilliant auroral arch illuminated the heavens from 8 to 9 o'clock, Sunday evening.

☞ Mr. Lamprey's Juvenile Dancing School commences Wednesday afternoon.

DENTAL NOTICE.

69 Congress Street, Portsmouth.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and citizens from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.

He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.

He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.

He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 30 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a specialty, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial teeth, all work done at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.

All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.

Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

BOUND TO SHINE — Richards' Castor Oil Blacking. For sale by L. LAIGHTON.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the
KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
For the sale of its
NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's Property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....$7 85. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 fir. 30 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these most secure bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

CAMPAIGNS IN WALL STREET.

No one who has visited Central Park will have failed to remark four bay horses, standing at least 17 1-2 hands high, bowling along on an easy trot and drawing after them a huge "drag." Sitting on the box holding the reins is a tall man, fashionably but somewhat negligently attired, having a slight stoop, a clear olive complexion, a tigerish moustache, and a cerulean eye. This is Leonard W. Jerome, a leader of the fashion, a prince of the turf, and a potentate in the stock market. Some men are born speculators, some achieve it, and some have speculation thrust upon them. All these conditions may be predicated of Jerome, and when he left Rochester and came into Wall street, he found his proper niche. The head to conceive, the daring to undertake, and the nerve to persist, are all his. Nor is his confidence and buoyancy under disaster less remarkable. Like all men of his class, he has been now and then temporarily prostrated by some one of those singular hurricanes in finance which come and pass suddenly as a white squall in the Southern Pacific. But no matter how swift or low the fall, he has always kept up good heart and hailed his surviving comrades with the words, "I am all right, boys; I'll be with you again in a jiffy." Under such circumstances he has always met every dollar of his obligations. Once he found himself saddled with half a million of bogus Indiana bonds. He paid up in full. Another time within the past t hirty months he found himself out of pocket on Pacific Mail one million dollars. Then the carpers and malignants of the street were crying [out—"Jeronie has found his Waterloo!" but in six months he picked up his lost million and made his adversaries pine with envy.

His operations have been for most part in dividend-paying securities, since he early learned that intrinsic value and the laws of reason will in the long run, win, while the inflated "fancies" and mere market values as surely lead to ruin. He has hunted big game in company with most of stock leaders, but between him and Daniel Drew a mortal feud long existed, in which they mutually gave and took wounds. In 185 he took a slice out of uncle Daniel on Harlem, of the size of a quarter of a million. In 1865 his opponent retaliated by scooping out of him a couple of hundred thousands on Erie. In Pacific Mail he was from 1862 to 1867 the great gun. Every one will remember the great pool in that stock which lasted five years, and which we will some time describe. During that period this stock rose from 120 to 875. It became a perfect financial graveyard for shorts and is still thickly studded with the tombstones and hic jacets of those who were once the most rollicking and plantigrade of bears.

Socially, Jerome has long been the rage. In his munificence he is princely and the magnificent racing-park which bears his name will remain as the lasting monument of a speculator who knows how to spend as well as to make money.

A most weighty maxim, verified by Wall street experience, is this: "Cut short your losses and let your profits run." This has been the making of many a speculator, and yet how few have the nerve to practice it. Pat Hearne, the late noted sporting man, was wont to operate thus. He bought 100 shares of some stock, and when it rose one per cent. he bought another 100 shares, and so on. Then, when it fell one per cent., he sold the whole. This everybody will say is sound. Young Hurlbut made $80,000 in '64 very much on this principle in Reading and lost it all by forsaking the principle. Again in 1865, he sold 100 shares of Erie on credit, being marginless. This was during the Ketchum break in August of that year. In forty-eight hours he made $12,000, but lost it again by letting his losses run. Our maxim worked well in these cases, and believe me, ye novices, if you will always "cut short your losses and let your profits run," you will avoid the quicksands, elude the traps, bid defiance to the corners of Wall street, and your bank book will always show a handsome figure in the right hand column.

The Public Board Association was formed in '62. Everything was favorable for such an organization. Uncle Sam's presses turned out greenbacks by the million, a large proportion of our mercantile population thrown out of business by the depression of 1861 and ready to embark in anything which promised the improvement of their shattered fortunes, the ebbing and flowing tide of the war itself, distorted or exaggerated by evening manipulations of the telegraph, these were mighty conditions precedent to such a movement. Accordingly men of all shades and classes flocked to the "coal hole," as the subterranean apartment in William street was called, where this Public Board first held its session. Lawyers whose tastes were speculative rather than litigious, more than one clergyman whose pastoral labors were unremunerative, broken down operators, merchants out of business, clerks out of situations, Jews "native and to the manner born," as well as the greenest and most unsophisticated parties from the rural districts, swelled the motley throng.

Most of these men had some capital, more or less—principally less. Strange stories are told of some of them. One pawned his watch, paid his hundred dollars admission dues and had fifty cents left in his pocket. This he expended in a sumptuous lunch and a gin cock-tail, on the strength of which he bought ten gold, made five hundred dollars in an hour, and closed the month with five thousand six hundred and fifty dollars profits. Another mortgaged his poultry stand in one of the markets and made, in six months, seventy-five thousand on Harlem. D—y was a young man of New England extraction. In 1863 he was a salesman in Broadway house on $800. He bought a few cases of cotton goods on credit and made $600. This sum, in May of that year, he brought to your correspondent and desired him to use it as a margin. The reply was the usual good and disinterested advice not always, however, in such cases given, viz. "keep out of the street or, if you will speculate, do it on your own hook." He took the latter alternative and joined the Public Boards. His personal appearance made him here cut a singular figure. He was tall, bulky and ungainly. His face and his voice irresistibly reminded one of a gigantic bullfrog making love to the froglets of a May evening and the way in which he bellowed out on the call set the whole room in hysterics. He soon got Harlem on the brain, made ten thousand on it in July, but next month lost the whole and a few thousand more. A week after we met him with a ticket for California in his hand. He was last heard of on the hills of Santa Barbara holding in his hand a shepherd's crook, watching his nibbling flocks and mildly calculating the amount of the next wool clip.—Com. Bulletin.

MEANNESS OF SOUL.—A correspondent of the Churchman tells of a clergyman whose salary was made up by subscription. As it did not prove sufficient to support him, his wife gave music lessons. When the salary was collected, a miser, who had subscribed $10, refused to pay over $5, because he paid the minister's wife $5 for a quarter's instruction of his daughter. Another cut down his subscription from $40 to $20 because the wife received $20 for teaching his daughter music.

—There was a curious result of a practical joke in Berrien County, Michigan the other day. A bag containing a cat and a litter of kittens was left on a gentleman's door step, and the prank was followed up a few days afterward by the deposit of another bundle in the same place. The gentlemen, believing it only to be a repetition of the joke, threw the bundle into the river without opening. His wife, however, fished it out of the stream and found the body of a child less than a day old.

—An American who has recently returned from Scotland went by steamer from Dunbarton, on the river Clyde, to Glasgow, a distance of eighteen miles, and in the ship yards in this space he counted sixty iron vessels in process of construction, nor was his count complete. This did not include vessels off the ways and in the water.

—On Wednesday night the citizens of Haverhill, Mass., listened attentively to the sweet sounds of the Chime Bells recently placed in the Tower of Trinity Church. They fully answered the expectations of the people, and are a great addition to the city.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,

Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON,

The Chronicle.

THE BYRON REVELATIONS.—A cable dispatch announces that "the solicitors of Lady Byron's family have written a communication to the London journals distinctly stating that the article of Mrs. Stowe in the Atlantic Monthly, on the reason of separation of Lord and Lady Byron, is not a complete or authentic statement, and does not involve any direct evidence." While the solicitors do not seem to deny the main fact alleged by Mrs. Stowe, they very strongly censure her for a breach of confidence in publishing such an article, and assert that its publication is inconsistent with Mrs. Stowe's own recommendations to Lady Byron and is a violation of the express terms of Lady Byron's will.

This is precisely the sort of communication that might be expected from "family solicitors." In England solicitors are the depositaries of family secrets and records to an extent utterly unknown in this country, and it is natural that these gentlemen should wish distinctly and positively to declare that they had no complicity with the revelation. The guarded terms in which they do this, however, are very different from a denial of the fact alleged. The expression, "a violation of the express terms of Lady Byron's will," seems to point strongly in the direction of a confirmation of Mrs. Stowe's narrative. At all events it will not tend to allay the excitement which has already been produced, but will create a desire for further developments.

The above, from the Boston Journal, does not look as if public opinion is going to be really unanimous in favor of the dissipated, debauched poet, whose memorial is now called up by Mrs. Stowe's Book.—John Neal, of Portland, one of the best informed men about such matters, expresses his full belief of the main statements of Mrs. S.,—and, bating some errors in minor matters, her book has gained credence during the past week. Mr. Neal it is said, has facts in his possession, to corroborate her statements. He was present at Lord Byron's funeral, and was acquainted with his friends.

RETURN TO SPECIE.—The Chicago Advance has an elaborate plan for the resumption of specie payments two years and five months hence, prepared by General Nettleton and indorsed by Jay Cooke, which has been thus summarized: It proposes to withdraw $100,000,000 of greenbacks, and give the national banks of the West, South and Pacific coast authority to issue that amount. There will then be $256,000,000 greenbacks and $400,000,000 national bank notes in circulation, which are to be kept legal tender, as now, but shall be redeemed in gold when presented, the greenbacks in New York and the bank notes each at its own bank. Meantime the Government is to hoard gold, issue compound interest notes, and, if necessary, make a small loan in Europe. After resuming specie payments to the extent indicated the Government bonds are to be exchanged for longer bond at a lower rate of interest. A "sliding scale tariff" is also to accompany these measures.

ROWLAND HILL once visited a dying lady. She was a member of the Church of England, but not free from bigotry. Among other things she said she thanked God that she had all her days been kept from the company of "those Methodists." What did Mr. Hill do? Nothing. He offered no remonstrance. She will be in heaven in half an hour, thought he, and she will find out her mistake there. Bigotry will there cease.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK Made of Cheap Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the power of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet restores to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Disease, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Courts, of the mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

The News.

Michael Smith employed in a machine shop in Buffalo struck a bombshell with a sledge hammer, when the shell exploded, killing him instantly, and mangling his body in a fearful manner.

Mr. Brooks, a revenue officer, was shot in Philadelphia, on Monday, by parties whose frauds on the government he had ferreted out. His condition is critical.

Eight hundred Cuban inurgents have surprised four hundred volunteers five miles from Puerto Principe, and repulsed them. General Puello with 400 troops marched to the assistance of the volunteers, but the insurgents refused to give battle. On the 15th of August the insurgents, several thousand strong, commanded by General Quesada, General Cespedes being present, made an attack on Las Sunas, leaving 250 killed. The garrison of Las Sunas consisted of 450 troops, of which 15 were killed and wounded. The fight lasted nine hours. The result is not stated.

The Atlantics of New York have won the first of a series of base ball matches for the championship of the United States, with the Eckfords. Score, 45 to 25.

TERRIBLE CALAMITY.— The is great excitement in consequence of the burning of a coal breaker at the Avondale mine in Plymouth, Pa. There are about 201 men and boys in the mine, and the shaft, which is their only means of escape, is choked up by forty feet of burning coal and rubbish. It is feared that the whole number have been suffocated by smoke or perished for want of air. The fire departments of Scranton, Wilkesbarre and Kingston played streams down the shaft for the purpose of quenching the fire there, so that the rubbish could be cleared out and the condition of the men ascertained. The scene at the shaft is heartrending. Miners from all parts of the country are there at work, and in fact the whole population of the town have turned out to assist. The loss by the fire will amount to about $100,000, which is partly covered by insurance. The miners only resumed work that day, after a suspension of about three months. Among the men in the mines is Mr. Hughes, superintendent.

Later information states that the shaft was cleared, and two men went down and penetrated 60 or 70 yards to the closed gangway door, which they could not force open. They found three dead mules outside the door, and sulphurous fumes were pouring out through it. No signs of life were discovered, and it is feared all are dead.

The latest dispatch say that after rubbish from the bottom of the shaft was cleared away two miners descended in a bucket and sent up word to send down a pick and shovel to clear the doors with. The bucket was brought up and two men started down with the tools. As they started the men at the bottom requested them to hurry, and on their reaching the bottom both were found dead. No hopes are entertained for the men in the shaft. There are 600 widows and orphans.

A MONSTER DOCK FOR BERMUDA.— A gigantic floating dock, which was built in England for Bermuda, was towed safely to Porto Santo, one of the Madeira Islands, on the 4th of July. One-third of the voyage had thus been accomplished with ease and no fear was entertained of a successful run to Bermuda. Some idea may be formed of the enterprise of safely conveying such a huge monster across the Atlantic by reading the following account of her dimensions: Height above the water, 63 feet, with 11 below—total, 74; breadth from side to side, 83 feet, with a thickness of 20 feet of hull on either side, making in all 123 feet across; length, 381 feet. Her lifting power is equal to 8300 tons.

☞ The New England and Maine State Fairs opened successfully in Portland on Tuesday.

☞ Philadelphia had a north-east storm on Monday.

—Delirium Tremens is generally supposed to be confined exclusively to excessive consumers of ardent spirits. Cases are not wanting, however to show that light wines and tobacco, when used immoderately will occasion the disease. In St. Louis, Michael Wigand, aged 33, died of apoplexy, after suffering from the usual symptoms of delirum tremens, and ale is supposed to have been the direct cause of his death.

—Who wouldn't live in St. Paul? Venison sells for 4 cents a pound, bear's meat ditto, peas ten cents per peck, new potatoes twenty cents per peck, and strawberries ten cents per quart.

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. Samuel Foss, who drowned himself at Manchester, leaves relatives and friends in Stratham, where his remains were buried last Sunday. He had been a respectable man;—and no conceivable motive existed for his act, which was doubtless the result of depressed spirits and temporary insanity, brought on by intemperate habits;—as the reader would readily infer from his farewell letter.

While a Frenchman named Peter Fontaine was working in a Nashua sewer, on the 3d inst., a sixty-pound stone rolled over the edge of the sewer and struck directly on the top of his head, cutting a gash clear to the bone, four and a half inches long. The man was taken up senseless, but speedily revived, and his skull, which must be of unparallelled density, was found to be unfractured.

Joseph B. Elliott of Salisbury, fell dead, on Friday evening last, in the store of C. E. Foote & Co., at the "South road," so called, in that town. Mr. Elliott was a shoemaker by trade, and an industrious citizen, aged about fifty years. His sudden death was caused by heart disease, thought to have been induced by great joy at the retur nof his children from the West, he not having seen them for several years.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

SANDOWN, Sept. 6.

The subscriptions to the stock of the Nashua & Rochester Railroad, in this town, now amount to somewhere about $14,000. The town last February voted 5 per cent. of its valuation in aid of the road,—amounting to $11,000,—making the whole sum about $25,000, which bids fair to be still further increased by additional subscriptions.

George Sanborn, our P. M., raised 47 lbs. of Early Rose potatoes from two small ones weighing about half a pound. John C. Bradley of Danville planted two pounds of the same variety last spring; a few days ago he dug what he judged to be one half the crop, and on weighing them found he had 80 lbs. Your correspondent planted two fair sized potatoes, and was lucky enough to fill a half-bushel measure with the yield. So much for Early Rose.

A new P. O. has been established at East Hampstead, and Tappan J. Carter has been appointed Postmaster. The long-wished-and-sought-for route from Plaistow to Sandown still fails of being established, but whether this is owing to the opposition of certain individuals, or to other causes, I am unable to say.

Yours, c.

PORTLAND, ME., Sept. 6.

* * * The aged Brotherhood recently formed is a most interesting society. William Willis, the eminent historian of Portland, says Portland beats any place in the world for aged people.

The aged Sisters will not form a society as their ages cannot be definitely ascertained.

The Fat Brotherhood are contemplating the formation of an association and to have an excursion. They will "weight" till after the N. E. Fair.

The Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad is begun. Laborers are at work on the first division from near Forest City Park Westbrook to Sebago Lake. All along the line the shanties of the workmen are going up. The second division—Sebago to Fryeburg—will soon be put under contract.

Deering Hall is put in prime order—thanks to the owners. Portland, although not fortunate in a new Opera House, has now a fine theatre. Some $4000 have been expended upon the hall.

Bidwell's Dramatic Company open for a brief season of four or six weeks. The corps dramatique has been revised and is spoken of in the highest terms. Dollie Bidwell, who has of late been at St. Johns, N. B., has improved greatly, and will act in several new and successful plays. Frank Roche, of Boston and other Theatres, a fine actor, is leading man, and Wilkinson, Mrs. Wilkinson, Emma Winslow, Conners, Sullivan, Dean and others are among the company. We learn from the enterprising Agent, Mr. C. E. Furbish, that the Bidwell Company will appear in Portsmouth, Nov. 8th. SANCHO.

☞ Rev. C. H. Leonard, for the last 21 years pastor of the Universalist Church in Chelsea, has resigned his pastorship, to accept the Goddard Professorship in Tufts College.

☞ Rev. Dr. Kirk of Boston, a well known Congregational Pastor, has tendered his resignation, on account of failing health.

☞ Sixty laborers on the Boston, Hartford and Erie Railroad have ceased work complaining that they have been overworked.

New Publications.

Hall's Journal of Health for September, opens with a practical article, on Forethought, with rather a comic termination.

The Monthly Journal of the American Unitarian Association, has a careful and commendatory Notice of Dr. Noyes' excellent translation of the New Testament.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS.—Up to the 1st of April, 1869, the State of Connecticut expended the sum of $261,057 for the support of the families and orphans of her soldiers who fell in the war. The number of these orphan children maintained by the State is 1994, and not one of these is in an almshouse or poorhouse. Nineteen-twentieths of them are in private families, the other twentieth being cared for in public institutions. Pennsylvania has done even better than this. Public schools have been organized for these orphans, in which more than three thousand five hundred children are now growing up for lives of usefulness. The boys divide their time between the school-room, the wood-shed and the farm; while the girls are thoroughly trained in all the mysteries of the kitchen, the laundry and the sewing machine. At the age of sixteen, the State relinquishes her guardianship over the orphans of her soldiers, but she has by that time furnished every one of them with abundant means to make his or her way in the world.

MAJ.-GEN. JOHN A. RAWLINS, Secretary of War, died of consumption, at Washington, Monday evening. He entered the Union Army in September, 1861, and immediately became associated with Gen. Grant, whose chief of staff he was until the rebellion ended. The President on learning of his dangerous illness left Saratoga for Washington to see him, but arrived an hour after Gen. Rawlins died. He sat up with the corpse of his dead friend, Monday,—evinced great [sorrow at his loss. Gen. Rawlins was 38 years of age.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BE BEAUTIFUL. If you desire beauty you should use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It gives a soft, refined, satin-like texture to the Complexion, removes Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Tan, &c., and adds a tinge of Pearly Bloom to the plainest features. It brings the Bloom of Youth to the fading cheek and changes the rustic Country Girl into a Fashionable City Belle.

In the use of the Magnolia Balm lies the true secret of Beauty. No Lady need complain of her Complexion who will invest 75 cents in this delightful article.

Lyon's Kathairon is the best Hair Dressing in use. 1meu21

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The Fever and Ague Season.

When the leaves begin to change, remittent and intermittent fevers make their appearance. From the surface of the earth, bathed nightly in heavy dews, from marches and swamps surcharged with moisture, from the dying foliage of the woods, from festering pools and sluggish streams, the sun of September evolves clouds of miasmatic vapors, poisonous to health and life. The body, deprived by the burning temperature of July and August of much of its vigor and elasticity is not in a proper condition to resist malaria; and hence the diseases that are produced by a depraved condition of the atmosphere are particularly prevalent in the Fall.

There is no reason why the health of thousands of people should be thus sacrificed. A preparatory course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is a certain protection against the epidemics and endemics which Autumn brings in its train. Let all dwellers in unhealthy localities, liable to such visitations, give heed to the warning and advice conveyed in this advertisement, and they may bid defiance to the foul exhalations which are now rising night and day, from the soil around them. No farm house in the land should be without this invaluable exhilarant and invigorant at any period of the year, but especially in the Fall. It is not safe to go forth into the chill misty atmosphere of a September morning or evening with the stomach unfortified by a tonic, and of all the tonics which medical chemistry has yet given to the world, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are a limited to be the purest, the most wholesome and most beneficial.

Let all who desire to escape the billious attacks, bowel complaints and malarious fevers, take the BITTERS at least twice a day throughout the sickly season. It is as a wholesome as it is infallible. Look to the trade-mark, "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," engraved on the label and impressed on the bottle, and their revenue stamp, covering the cork, as counterfeits and imitations abound. s6

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited troubled with pain in the side, head-ache, and a constant feeling of weariness. The immediate and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all other proceeding from billousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Of all anti-bilious medicines they are safest, surest and best. Sold by all Druggists. s6

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M. Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 121 pounds up to 182 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me in my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from 10 to 60 a day, of fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Shoshapee, India."

STILL SMELLS —the Creek cess-pool.

DROWNED.—A young son of Mr. Daniel D. Wendell fell overboard at Mr. Martin's mast yard, Tuesday afternoon, and was drowned. He was about 5 years of age.

BESSOM, the pedestrian, reached Newburyport at 7 o'clock, Monday evening, after stopping an hour at Hampton. He was less than 7 hours walking from Portsmouth to Newburyport. He started from the latter place in good spirits, Tuesday forenoon.

FAIR CONCERT.—At a special meeting, on Monday evening, the Portsmouth Philharmonic Society unanimously voted to perform the Cantata of "Esther" during Fair week. And there is no doubt but it will be a very fair Concert, and more than that.

THE BASE BALL MATCH between the Granite States of this city and Clippers of Newburyport, comes off this afternoon at the Plains. For the convenience of ladies wishing to attend, we are requested to announce that a team for their accommodation will leave Market Square for the Plains at 2.30.

"HOW TO DANCE." — Mr. Lamprey's Juvenile Dancing School commences this afternoon, at Congress Hall. The little ones are the first to test the merits of the new floor, just laid, and with the jovial teacher to aid them will enjoy themselves and learn one of the most essential of requisites—a proper knowledge of the graceful art of dancing.

THE CONCERT for Friday Evening will be a fine entertainment. Mrs. Barry, as a concert singer, is fully equal to our old favorite Mrs. Cary, which is saying a great deal; Mr. Cobb has long been well and favorably known; and the new Miss Crane has the full endorsement of Mrs. Barry herself. It is a treat to hear such a concert occasionally.

☞ Professor Gardner, the New England Soap Man, held forth to an audience of 2000 people on Monday evening, and his address is highly spoken of by our citizens generally. We have tried his soap, and in common with thousands of others, including President U. S. Grant, we say it is just the thing, and when thoroughly used compels a man to respect himself.

HALE OLD AGE.—During the past week the wife of Mr. Thomas Glazebrook, a worthy citizen at the west end, earned $9 by work on a stocking loom; a good week's work for an old lady of 74. For several weeks past, besides attending to the wants of a sick husband, Mrs. Glazebrook has worked industriously at the loom—a noble example for girls of the rising generation.

THE GATES WIDE OPEN. — The Piscataqua Fair, at Portsmouth, Sept. 21 to 23, is not confined to one County, but is open to competition for the premiums, for entries of Live Stock, or Farm or Garden products, Mechanical or Ladies, Work, or manufactures of any description, from any location whatever, Numerous premiums for Horses of all classes, also for Neat Stock — on which last, mileage will be paid on all driven more than ten miles.

A large Building on the Fair Grounds, for the Hall Show, and stables or covered Pens for choice Stock. All Trains stop near the Grounds, and the Trotting each day will close early, in season for the trains. For Premium Lists, or any information, apply to C. H. Hayes or Frank W. Miller, Portsmouth.

A DIMINUTIVE STEAM ENGINE.—Mr. W. I. Trafton, who has been so successful in building the beautiful little Steam Engine "Fairy Queen," will immediately commence upon another, which for beauty and diminutiveness he intends shall surpass anything ever got up. It will be made from a silver half-dollar, and with boiler and all complete will be placed under a glass case one inch and an eighth in height, by three-quarters of an inch in diameter. The dimensions will be as follows: diameter of cylinder, 1-16 of an inch; stroke, 5-32; diameter of wheel, 5-16; steam-pipe, 1-32 (about the size of a common knitting needle). The boiler will have two minute guages, and will hold about eight drops of water; and it is expected that four drops generated into steam will be sufficient to run it several minutes. The parts, being so small, will be obliged to be made by the aid of a powerful magnifying glass. Mr. Trafton intends that it shall be perfect in all its parts, and to have it completed and in running order some time during the coming winter. The smallest engine now on record (so says a London paper) was made at Horsforth, England, and is two inches in height, requiring six drops of water to run it. *

A NEW TEMPERANCE BUG.—Great consternation prevails throughout the wine-growing districts of France. A new disease of the grape has made its appearance in the neighborhood of Bordeaux, where is has already caused incalculable damage, and is now beginning to spread to the vineyards of Burgundy. According to a paper published on the subject by M. Planchon, this disease is cause by the ravages of a hitherto unknown insect, which he calls the Philloxera vastatrix, and which all the means usually employed in similar cases have utterly failed to extirpate.

—An anecdote is told of Frederick the Great, that just before the battle of Rosbach he said to one of his generals who was on very intimate terms with him. "If I lose the battle, I shall retire to Venice and there practice physic." "Ah," replied the general, "once a murderer, always a murderer."

—A Panama letter states that Frank Ward, a son-in-law of Wm. B. Astor, jumped overboard from the steamer Sacramento near San Jose and was drowned. The cause of the deed was mortification at not being able to pay the wine bill that he ran up on the steamer.

—A Southern paper insinuates that gentlemen who part their hair in the middle thereby imitate the wisdom of Solomon, who once proposed to settle a dispute between two woman by parting the hair in the middle.

—There is a place called Fort Yuma, in Arizona, so hot nearly all the year round that it is related of a soldier who perished that he was compelled to ask the Devil's permission to return and get his overcoat!

DENTAL NOTICE.

69 Congress Street, Portsmouth.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.
He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.
He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber sets, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.
He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 30 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a speciality, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (with his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentura,) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.
All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.
Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the
KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
For the sale of its
NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.
This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.
First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,
secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,
And in successful operation for 437 miles
west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the
GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,
extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as
A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.
The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of
Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,
and although not pledged, as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the
Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.
The Bonds have
THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,
from May 1, 1869, and will pay
SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD,
semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.
The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be
PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK
at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:
On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $33 (gold) each half year.
" London....£7 s5. 10.
" Frankfort..37 fl. 30 krtrs.,"
The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a
FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,
in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even
Better than Government Securities.
The Bonds will be sold for the present at
96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,
the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.
The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.
Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

The natural attractions of the place are very great, and the ocean and inland Views cannot be excelled. The situation, while quiet and retired, is yet easily reached by land or water, and will well repay lovers of the picturesque for a visit.

Morning Chronicle.

WILLIAM AND ELLEN CRAFTS, who were run out of Boston to Halifax by the underground railroad, to prevent their being returned to slavery under the fugitive slave law of 1850, and from thence sailed to England, where they have since resided, are expected in Boston in a few days, with their three children, and will be the guests of Mr. Lewis Hayden. It is stated that the first fugitive slave law writ issued in Boston, was for their arrest. The vigilance committee, however, of that city, proved too alert for the slave catchers, and the latter were foiled in their designs. They will see a marked change in the country on their return. They can now rest as securely under the shadow of the American Eagle, as that of the British Lion. It seems hardly possible that less than twenty years ago a husband and wife—and the wife as white as nine tenths of American ladies,—for no crime, should be compelled to flee the country in order to enjoy personal freedom, and to avoid a life of slavery. But such was the case. The terrible retribution, which has fallen upon the nation since, is fresh in the minds of all. The Crafts will find many of their old friends and rescuers "not at home" in this world, but translated, prominent among whom are Charles Hovey, Francis Jackson, Theodore Parker, and John A. Andrew, men who counselled together, day and night, to circumvent slaves catchers in the dark days which followed the compromise measures of 1850. They are all gone, but their works have followed them most gloriously, and to-day we have a free America.—Monitor.

ARCTIC EXPEDITION.—Dr. Hayes has been heard from at South Greenland. He reports having visited some wonderful old Norse ruins of a church at Krakortak, the wall of which were nearly five feet thick and not less than 800 years old. A careful plot of these ruins was made, and sketches and photographs also. The party had also spent four days sketching and photographing an immense glacier, and the enormous icebergs, five in number, which it threw off while they were near it. They had also visited the mines where an American company are busy getting out kryolite, on the south side of the deep fiord of Arsuk. A hundred miners are here at work, and get 11,000 tons of the mineral yearly. This precious mineral is said to be found only here. Dr. Hayes found about the mine specimens of silver, iron, lead, tin, copper and arsenic.

OF VACCINATION.—It perhaps does not become laymen to speak with a professional positiveness about the virtue of the virus used in vaccination, but it is a fact that the question is at present being mooted whether it is not about as safe to risk the small-pox outright as to try to protect one's self against it by the common method of vaccination. The reported testimony of an English woman in reference to her children has created a profound impression wherever read. People shrink from being inoculated with all manner of foul humors in order to escape small-pox, when it is just possible that they might without inoculation escape both. The medical men seem to be suddenly called on to make a review of their opinions on the subject of vaccination. —Boston Sunday Times.

—On the night of the 3d, Patrick Murray arrived at Portland, Me., from Halifax, in search of his wife, and found her at Bradley's Hotel. The anxious husband imprudently attempted to force open his wife's door, when Alexander Shay, clerk of the hotel, and James Murphy, proprietor, went to her assistance and threw Murray down two flights of stairs, fracturing his skull. He died on the following morning, and his assailants have been arrested.

—A young man named Heinrich Henning, an employee in the pork-packing establishment of D. Milliman & Sons, New York, received such injuries at the hands of one of his employers, on the 3d inst., that he will probably die. He was too slick to work as fast as young Milliman wished, whereupon that individual beat and kicked him, causing an internal rupture. Henning's deposition has been taken, and Milliman is locked up.

REMEMBER ME.—Jerrold and a company of literary friends were out in the country. In the course of their walk they stopped to notice the gambols of an ass's foal. A very sentimental poet present vowed that he should like to send the little thing as a present to his mother. "Do," Jerrold replied, "and tie a piece of paper round its neck bearing the motto: 'When this you see, remember me.'"

—Sir Henry Holland, the distinguished English physician, arrived in New York on the 3d inst., accompanied by his son, a clergyman. They are the guests of Thurlow Weed. Immediately on his arrival, a cable telegram afflicted them with the intelligence that a son of Rev. Mr. H., nine years of age, was accidently drowned the day after he left Southampton.

—Mr. Adams Abbott, of Troy, Vt., owns a monstrosity in the shape of a natural four-in-hand team of kittens. It consists of four live pussies, two black and two white, all perfectly formed and all jointed together. Three are headed one way, while the other unfortunate will have to walk like a crab at least three-fourths of the time.

—The woman's Bureau people have made a dead set on the editors of papers who are opponents of female suffrage. The first move in their tactics is to invite the refractory editor to dine, and then talk him within an inch of his life. Horace Greeley was thus entertained yesterday.—N. Y. Telegram.

HOW TO REMOVE INK SPOTS.—By the way, now that every woman does so much writing, it is certainly very much worth while to know how to take ink spots out of colored clothing. The writer "on a summer's day," when it seemed as it one had enough to do to support life without extra trouble in the torrid heat, once upset a bottle of ink into her lap, over a linen dress, stripped with brown and white, and trimmed with many rows of brown braid. Aghast, the first thought was that the dress was ruined; the second was to dip the skirt at once into warm water, rinsing out part of the ink, but what was left made a sad sight—hand-breaths of doleful thunder-dark color, over the light summer dress. Quick, it was again plunged into a hot solution of oxalic acid—hot, that it might take effect sooner. Care was taken to dip only the spots in the liquid (there are some people so stupid, they will need to be told this), and in a minute they faded, of course, taking the color of the stripes with them. The linen was rinsed in warm water again, and wet with a dilution of ammonia, which changed the skirt to its original color, and the dress was as good as ever. Henceforth I keep high and sublime courage over all mishaps, sure that acid and ammonia and care will make all right again. The process must be gone through as quickly as possible, when once begun, but it will cancel old ink stains on wool, cotton or linen.—"Shirley Dare," in the Chicago Republican.

ABSENCE OF MIND.—Stories of absences of mind are innumerable and universally humorous. The best is that fathered, of course, on all sorts of well known characters—of the man who, though dining out at a stranger's table, got up after dinner and apologized to the company for the meanness of the fare, and the detestable cooking.

—A Connecticut railroad conductor waited with his train for a man to swim across the Naugatuck river the other day, the bridge having been swept away by a flood. He runs an accommodation train, evidently.

—"A prudent man," says a witty Frenchman, "is like a pin. His head prevents him from going too far."

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

CATAWBA, PORT, GRAPE and P. J. Sherry.

The above Wines are made by Mr. Speer, whose reputation as a wine grower stands pre-eminent. They are well established, and long known by the Medical Profession as the most reliable and valuable wines to be had.

Every family at this season should use

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,

celebrated in Spain and Portugal for its beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals and by the first families in Europe and America.

Excellent for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm, improving the appetite and benefitting the ladies and children.

AS A DIURETIC

it imparts a healthy action to the Kidneys, and is highly grateful, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic affections. Also, is pure juice of the Oporto Grape, recommended by Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to California or Imported Wines.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE

SPEER'S STANDARD WINE BITTERS

The Best and Most Reliable Tonic and Bitters in the market, which is always the CHEAPEST.

☞ None genuine unless the signature of "ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.," is over the cork of each bottle.

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!

THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!

BENJAMIN NORTON,

Having been appointed Selling Agent for this City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of

ever offered in this city.

It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,

Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in mixing any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Orange Co., N. Y. BENJ. NORTON, Agent for Chemical Paint Company.

Also for sale, at the same place, the Best Quality of

MEATS AND GROCERIES!

AS LOW AS CAN BE BOUGHT IN THE CITY.

FALL RIVER LINE

FOR New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, and all principal points West, South and South-west, VIA TAUNTON FALL RIVER AND NEWPORT.

Cabin, $5.00; Deck, $4.00.

Baggage checked through and transferred in New York free of charge.

New York trains leave the Old Colony and Newport Railway Depot, corner of South and Kneeland Streets, daily, (Sundays excepted,) as follows: at 4.30 P. M., arriving in Newport 40 minutes in advance of the regular Steamboat Train, which leaves Boston at 5.30 P. M., connecting at Newport with the new and elegant steamers PROVIDENCE, Capt. B. M. Simmons, and BRISTOL, Capt. Benj. Brayton. These steamers are the fastest and most reliable boats on the Sound, built expressly for speed, safety and comfort. This Line connects with all the Southern Boats and Railroad Lines from New York going West and South, and conveniently, to the California Steamers.

☞ "To Shippers of Freight," this Line, with its new and extensive depot accommodations in Boston, and large pier in New York, (exclusively for the business of the Line,) is supplied with facilities for freight and passenger business which cannot be surpassed. Freight always taken at low rates, and forwarded with despatch.

New York Express Freight Train leaves Boston at 1.30 P. M.; goods arrive in New York next morning about 6 A. M. Freight leaving New York reaches Boston on the following day, at 9.45 A. M.

For tickets, berths and staterooms, apply at the Company's office at No. 3 Old State House, corner of Washington and State Streets, and at old Colony and Newport Railroad Depots, corner of South and Kneeland Streets, Boston.

☞ Sunday Night Line. Cars leave every Sunday evening, at 6.30 P. M., connecting as above.

The Office, 3 Old State House, Boston, will be open every Sunday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock, and at the Depot from 9 to 10 A. M., and from 5 to 6.30 P. M., for sale of tickets and staterooms.

Steamers leave New York daily, (Sundays included,) from Pier 28 North River, foot of Murray Street, at 5 P. M.

The Chronicle.

A MARRIAGE COMPLIMENT.—When Professor Aytoun was making proposals for marriage to his first wife—a daughter of the celebrated Professor Wilson—the lady reminded him that it would be necessary to ask the approval of her sire.

"Certainly," said Aytoun; "but as I am a little diffident in speaking to him on this subject, you must just go and tell him my proposals yourself."

The lady proceeded to the library, and taking her father affectionately by the hands, mentioned that Professor Aytoun had asked her to become his wife. She added; Shall I accept his offer, papa? He says he is to diffident to name the subject to you himself." "Then," said old Christopher, "I had better write my reply and pin it on your back."

He did so, and the lady returned to the drawing-room. The anxious suitor read the answer to his message, which was in these words, "With the author's compliments."

THE BYRON SCANDAL.—The Boston Journal of September 6th contains a review of Mrs. Stowe's article on Lord Byron, four columns and a half in length. It discredits Mrs. Stowe's narrative, and is supposed to be written by Gen. Butler. Mr. Howitt and Mr. Aytoun are out with letters in the London papers on the same subject, taking the common view of it.

—"Father," asked a little three-year old the other day, at dinner, of his papa, "what is it that makes the lightning?" "You can't understand it now," was the answer; "I'll tell you when you get a little older," and the father went to his avocation. In the evening he returned, and the young hopeful, climbing upon his knee, said to him, "Papa, I know now what makes the lightning. It is God scratching matches against the sky!"

—A Sunday School teacher was giving a lesson on Ruth. She wauted to bring out the kindness of Boaz in commanding the readers to drop larger handfuls of wheat. "Now, childen," she said, "Boaz did another very nice thing for Ruth; can you tell me what it was?" "Married her," said one of the boys.

—The San Francisco Bulletin congratulates the people of California upon the increased immigration to the Pacific Coast and the investments made by Eastern capitalists in land in that State. The predicted result of the Pacific Railroad, it says, are being realized as fast as could reasonably be expected.

—A minister who was a member of the last Ohio Legislature, and who wishes to go again, receives the following notice from a local paper: "Politically, he is dead to all eternity. Clever man, though, and neighborly; but as a politician, he scatters awfully. He's too wide at the muzzle."

— Among the old laws and regulations which formerly existed in Massachusetts, was a by-law in the town of Scituate that one must not smoke a pipe during Divine service, but might be permitted to delay going to church if he had a chance to shoot an Indian.

—Ex-king Francis has sold his claim to his lost Kingdom of Naples to the Italian government for a valuable consideration. This beats Old Nick himself, for he only proposed to give away the kingdoms which did not belong to him.

—A St. Louis dog, confined in a whiskey store-room, gnawed the faucet of a cask and let twenty-five gallons run to waste. The saloon keeper brought a suit against the owner of the dog and recovered one hundred dollars damages.

—"You have not one drop of the great Napoleon's blood in your veins," said testy old Jerome one day in a pet to his nephew the Emperor. "Well," replied Louis Napoleon, "at all events, I have his whole family on my shoulders."

—The Catholics of Cincinnati acting with the approbation and advice of the Rev. Edward Purcell, have made overtures to the board of Education for consolidation of the Catholic and public schools in Cincinnati.

—The Vicksburg Republican states that there were but three Republican newspapers issued in Mississippi one year since, whereas there are now sixteen, and several more will soon be started.

—Death, in almost any form, can be faced; but knowing, as many to]us do, what is human life, who of us could, if foreseeing the whole routine of his life, face the hour of birth?

—A young man sent some money to a New York firm to get something good "for those contemplating matrimony." He received several bottles of soothing syrup.

—A crazy Indianian evinces his insanity by buying coffins for all his friends, and sending them on with his compliments.

☞—A man has died of the glanders in Washington. He must have been a little hoarse.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been remarkably powerful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medicine, preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet restores to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 9, 1869.

The News.

Senator Wm. Pitt Fessenden of Maine died at his residence in Portland, at 5 o'clock, Wednesday morning. He was 68 years of age.

Entrance was made into the Avondale, Pa., coal mines, on Wednesday, and all the miners, 202 in number, were found dead.

Gen. Sherman is Secretary of War ad interim.

Wilmington, Del., re-elected a republican Mayor on Tuesday.

A DEMOCRATIC PATRIOT.—A coppery exchange states that Hon. Asa Packer, who is now the candidate of the democratic party in Pennsylvania, for Governor, did something towards raising soldiers on one occasion, as follows:

On Sunday, June 28, 1863, while the battle of Gettysburg was going on, a meeting was held at Mauch Chunk, in which urgent appeals were made for men to go to the aid of our soldiers, and Mr. Packer, who never made speeches, rose and said:—"Every man now in the employ of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, who will volunteer for his country in this her hour of pressing need, shall receive his regular monthly pay and retain his situation until his return, as if he were present and working each day." Over an hundred men volunteered at once, and in a few hours were equipped and speeding over the Lehigh Valley Railroad to the scene of war.

The paper then adds:—

This kind of action in a democrat, is proof of disloyalty, to radical minds.

The latter quotation is simply and solely a lie, willful and deliberate, but too stupid to deceive any one but the dolts who swallow any thing in their only paper. It is not proof of disloyalty, to any mind:—nor is it, when examined, very strong proof of loyalty, or of any thing.

The State was invaded; the rebels and copperheads of the South having compelled Geo. B. McClellan to change his base, had rushed into Pennsylvania, and the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and all other property there, was in danger of being pillaged or destroyed by the invaders. Mr. Packer, an owner in the Road, and an officer thereof, made the above fair offer to recruits,—which was all very well, but by no means extraordinary, either in liberality, self-denial, or patriotism.

If he had no stronger point than this, he would be a very weak democratic candidate; but he has one, much stronger, viz., that he is a rich man, and will be likely to use his money freely to get elected. In this, he is formidable; in the other item, he is of no account.

☞ Vermont Election, on Tuesday, was, as usual, republican; and a little more so than usual.—The returns of 33 towns give Washburne, republican, for Governor, 6691 votes, and Henton, democrat, 2162.—Gen. Washburne and the republican State ticket elected by from 19,000 to 20,000 majority. The State Senate is unanimously republican. We have returns of 46 republicans and 4 democrats elected to the House.

MURDER BY A WHISKEY RING.—In Philadelphia on Tuesday, a number of men charged with complicity in the attempted assassination of revenue officer Brooks were brought before the mayor, where testimony was taken to the following effect:—

John Stockton, a liquor dealer, was heard three weeks ago to say he knew when and where Brooks would be shot.

Thomas Aiken, directly after the shooting, left his revolvers directed to Stockton in the store near by Keenan's where Brooks was shot. He was heard to say he was glad Brooks had been shot.

Robert Hamilton, a notoriously bad character, was partially identified as the man who drove the assassins away in a cab, and positively identified as having been in the vicinity with a cab shortly before the shooting. It was also proven that he had shaved off his beard.

Keenan, the proprietor of the store where Brooks was shot, was held on the affidavit of Brooks himself.

THE KNIGHTS OF ST. CRISPIN.—A new organization has recently arisen in the country which is exciting considerable attention, and becoming a power in the land. It is the order of the Knights of St. Crispin. In this State, several lodges have been formed, at Dover, Great Falls, Rochester, Milton, Farmington, Strafford, Northwood, Barnsted, New Durham, Wolfeboro' Alton, and possibly in other places in the State. These are to hold a mass picnic on the 17th, at Alton Bay. Four bands will be present, and the meeting will be addressed by prominent speakers from abroad. Delegations will be present from Massachusetts.—Mirror

—A recent interview with the venerable Jesse Grant is as valuable as most interviews and more explicit. Speaking of Judge Dent, "He don't amount to much," said Mr. Grant; "he wants to be something, and can't; he never did have much sense, and he never will."

EXERCISE IN THE OPEN AIR,—not sitting in a chair under a tree, smoking, but good active motion that will make the muscles exert themselves and the lungs work at high pressure, and make the epidermis a strainer,—will do more to keep persons of sedentary and confined occupations in good health than even the great Dr. Buchu's Magic Pain-oil-parilla, though swallowed by the gallon, together with his pills and ointment.

All physicians advocate exercise, but they differ as to the best method of taking it; some recommend horseback riding; some, fast walking; some, sawing wood; some one thing and some another; and a late writer advises us that a sure method of getting sleepy when wakeful may be found in racing up and down stairs a few times just before going to bed. [I'd like to see him try that plan at our house, where the man who occupies the room at the head of the stairs keeps his door open all the time, is easily awakened, and gets mad as a hornet when his slumber is disturbed,—I find considerable exercise in dodging his boot-jack when I get home late and am not successful in creeping noiselessly up stairs.—And what a pretty sight it would be to see a few hundred lodgers going throughtheir vesper training after this fashion, at a first-class hotel.] But I know of an exercise worth more than all these prescriptions put together,—digging a well. Let any lawyer, clergyman or editor who feels wearied with mental exertion, find out some man who wants a well dug, and dig it for him; and by the time he finishes he will agree with me that there is no exercise can compare with it,—even base ball is inferior, though that is one of the best imitations of hard work that men do from a mistaken idea that they are playing, that I have ever seen.

Digging a well is exercise—good exercise; I've tried it, and I know. First I marked out the size of the hole-I was going to make; then I commenced to dig. It was quite nice for a while, but after I got down about six feet I detected a tendency in the sand and gravel to return again after being thrown out, and a great facility for catching it, in the open collar of my shirt. Lucky for Newton that he discovered gravitation—if he hadn't, I should have found it out while digging that hole. My reputation as a wise digger of wells has been established by my success with this one; for instead of locating it in sand only, as some would have done, I founded it on a rock,—found a big rock that covered the bottom all over when I got down twelve feet. No water has got in yet, but I expect plenty after the next heavy rain.

I made a number of discoveries while taking my exercise. I found that after getting down ten feet,—when a flour barrel bowls along the ground and comes down in the hole end on, the effect would be injurious were it not for the counteracting effect of the excitement occasioned by its descent. I also noticed that every passer-by is forced to go and have a look at the exercisee in the hole, and that each one kicks a stone down on top of him, on turning to leave. I have got a correct tally of the number of visitors I had, in the number of bumps on the top of my head. There are eleven of them, representing ten persons, one more vigorous than the rest having kicked down two at a time. The sand has not all got out of my hair yet, and my landlady informed me at the dinner table yesterday, that if I must wear my boots to bed, she would regard it as a personal favor if I would keep them off the pillow. The insinuation conveyed in this request is not only derogatory to my character as a Son of Temperance, but is wholly undeserved.

The principal advantage gained by taking exercise in this way is, that instead of having to take a little every day, a man of energy can lay in a stock in eight hours sufficient to last him a long while,—I do not think I shall need any more for about two years.

As it is the fashion now-a-days to honor well-known men by giving their names to marked natural features and great artificial works, I have named my handiwork Cistern de Peabody, in honor of the great philanthropist But I do not intend to stop here; I mean to open a correspondence with the White Mountain landlord who lately altered the name of Mount Pleasant to Mount Peabody, and if he consents I will re-name the Atlantic Ocean, and call it Peabody Pond. PAKEHA.

A JUDGE FOUND DEAD.—On the 20th of August the remains of an unknown person were found near Elliott city, Maryland. The body has been recognized by General E. M. Gregory of Philadelphia and Benjamin F. Haddock of Chicago as the body of Hon. E. R. Olcott, judge of the Hustings Court, Richmond, Va. He was appointed judge by General Canby last spring, and went from Boston to Richmond, accepted office, and held court. Some time since he went to White Sulphur Springs for his health and from there left for Chicago to visit his wife. Not arriving in Chicago, his friends became alarmed and instituted immediate search for him. The last known of him was at Baltimore in a deranged state of mind, and in this he wandered here and died. His remains will be removed to Hanover, New Hampshire by his friends. Richmond papers say that no one in that city was aware that the unfortunate gentleman was even missing, and the people there are astonished at the announcement.

Mrs. Polly Breed, the oldest person in Antrim, died on the 3d inst. She was born in July 1771, and was therefore in her ninety-ninth year. Her native state was Massachusetts: but her parents removed to Stoddard, when she was quite young. After her marriage she lived for a time in Nelson, and then removed to Antrim, where she has resided more than sixty-one years. Her husband, who has been dead more than twenty years, was a soldier in the Revolutionary war; and hence she has been in receipt of a pension. She had been for many years a member of the Congregational Church.

A LITTLE DIFFICULTY.—The captain of the schooner Sarah E. Jones, which arrived at Newburyport on Saturday and was ready to discharge, on Monday morning, ascertained to his suprise that no one could be found to receive the coal. It seems that the coal was purchased some months since and should have been delivered at that time; and as prices had advanced some two or three dollars per ton since the contract was made, the parties to whom it is consigned refused to take it unless a compromise is effected on their terms.

—"Won't that boa constrictor bite me?" said a little urchin to a showman. "Oh! no, boy, he never bites, he swallers his wittles whole!"

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BE BEAUTIFUL. If you desire beauty you should use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It gives a soft, refined, satin-like texture to the Complexion, removes Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Tan, &c., and adds a tinge of Pearly Bloom to the plainest features. It brings the Bloom of Youth to the fading cheek and changes the rustic Country Girl into a Fashionable City Belle.

In the use of the Magnolia Balm lies the true secret of Beauty. No Lady need complain of her Complexion who will invest 75 cents in this delightful article.

Lyon's Kathairon is the best Hair Dressing in use. 1man21

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY lies in the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm for the Complexion. Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Freckles and Tan disappear when this is used, and a beautiful Complexion of pure, satin-like texture is obtained. The plainest features are made to glow with Healthful Bloom and Youthful Beauty.

Remember Hagan's Magnolia Balm is the thing that produces these effects, and any Lady can secure it for 75 cents at any of our stores.

To preserve and dress the Hair use Lyon's Kathairon. 1ms21

FACTS FOR THE LADIES. — I purchased a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine about ten years ago, and while learning to use it, unfortunately, broke one needle; after that, for more than nine years, I had the machine in almost daily use, doing all my family sewing and very much for friends and others, and instructed seven persons in the use of the machine, without breaking a needle. My machine has never cost one penny for repairs. I have sewed hours with a worrisome babe in my lap, working upon fabrics of the most delicate texture, as well as upon men's and boys' clothes of the heaviest material. I have made garments for the cradle, the bridal, the hospital, and the funeral. Entering into every vicissitude of life, my machine has become as it were a part of my being.

Mexico, N. Y. MRS. M. L. PECK.

Edward Bayer, Esq., Horton, Kings Co. N. S., writes that an astonishing cure has been effected on his daughter, by the use of "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment." The whole spine became diseased, she lost the use of her limbs, and her back was rounded up like a bow, in consequence of taking cold after having been innoculated for the kine pock. She is now well.

We pledge our reputation on the assertion that any educated physician, after a careful examination of the recipe, will say that "Parson's Purgative Pills," possess more merit than any other pill now offered for sale.

The Fever and Ague Season.

When the leaves begin to change, remittent and intermittent fevers make their appearance. From the surface of the earth, bathed nightly in heavy dews, from marches and swamps surcharged with moisture, from the dying foliage of the woods, from festering pools and stagnant streams, the month of September evolves clouds of miasmatic vapor perilous to health and life. The body, deprived by the burning temperature of July and August of much of its vigor and elasticity is not in a proper plight to resist malaria; and hence all diseases that are produced by a depraved condition of the atmosphere are particularly prevalent in the Fall.

There is no reason why the health of thousands of people should be thus sacrificed. A preparatory course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is a certain protection against the epidemics and endemics which Autumn brings in its train. Let all dwellers in unhealthy localities liable to such visitations, give heed to the warning and advice conveyed in this advertisement, and they may bid defiance to the foul exhalations which are now rising night and day, from the soil around them. No farm house in the land should be without this invaluable exhilarant and invigorant at any period of the year, but especially in the Fall. It is not safe to go forth into the chill misty atmosphere of a September morning or evening with the stomach unfortified by tonic, and of all the tonics which medical chemistry has yet given to the world, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are a limited to be the purest, the most wholesome and most beneficial.

Let all who desire to escape the billious attacks, bowel complaints and malarious fevers, take the BITTERS at least twice a day throughout the present season. It is as a wholesome as it is infallible. Look to the trade-mark, "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," engraved on the label and embossed on the bottle, and their revenue stamp, covering the cork, as counterfeits and imitations abound. s8

TO OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocent; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Phila., N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has ever since used them in horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to referyou to him. Over 1,000 other references can be seen at the Depot.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal among the Indians in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease."

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Shoiapore, India." au20

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to be thrown off from these delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—

Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. 4t25

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited, troubled with pain in the side, head-ache, and a constant feeling of weariness. The immediate and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all others proceeding from biliousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Of all anti-bilious medicines they are safest, surest and best. THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge,

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous and portious of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative elements has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infallibly more effective than any of the nauseous and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoeia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my early fly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes natural, the blood digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and is well.—This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter and breaks up the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the best of all bitters, which when preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into healthy blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they use medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive power, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, nightsweats or fever, but he goes to move the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, and the question is, how can they be cured? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 226 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1ya4

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made into American and foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching patents. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

Having been in business with the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

A GOOD MOVE. — The School Committee, at their session, Tuesday evening, voted to discontinue the Grammar School at the Franklin School House, Christian Shore, and transfer the scholars to the Grammar Schools on School and Hanover Streets. Complaint has been general against the basement of the Franklin School House, where the Primary School is kept. The Intermediate School will now be transferred to the room occupied heretofore by the Grammar School and the Primary School will be transferred to the Intermediate room.

THE POPULAR CONCERT, to-morrow evening, will be in fact, as well as name, popular. Mrs. Barry will sing some of her best selections of English and Scotch songs; Mrs. Crane, who is a charming artiste, will favor the audiance with some pleasing ballads; Mr. Prescott's fine tenor voice will be heard in solo and chorus; and Mr. Cobb will excite the risibles of his auditors by his slightly humorous renderings. The programme, which we shall publish, to-morrow, contains just the selections that suit the masses, while the Concert will be first class in every respect. The price of tickets is reduced to 35, 50 and 60 cents, and reserved seats may be had at Preston's and Thacher's.

THE BEST THING OUT, Wednesday, was a drenching south-east rain, which refreshed man and beast, laid the dust, watered the growing crops and rejoiced almost everybody. It came down, towards twilight, as if it were in earnest about it and there was to be no let-up, this time.. The wind blew furiously and nearly all the awnings in town came to grief. Among others we noticed those of Messrs. Peirce, Preston, Batchelder, Trafton and Thacher, on Congress Street, "fluttering in the breeze." After such a calm it was time for such a storm. We condole with the managers of the Fair at Portland and the visitors to that pleasant city because the farmers' gain, is their loss, and we sympathize with parties bent on out door pleasure—but rejoice with those that do rejoice over the blessing so long withheld.

"FOUL." — The Granite State Base Ball Club of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, are of the opinion that the Clipper Base Ball Club of Newburyport, Massachusetts, are a set of impious "frauds." The Clippers challenged the Granites to play a friendly game, and named August 28th as the day. Then they failed to appear, and named the 8th day of September as the convenient time for them. According to almanacs in this locality, Wednesday was the 8th, and the Granite States prepared for their expected visitors. The day came, the trains came, but no Clippers,—neither any communication from them apologising for their ungentlemanly conduct. The Granite State nine are of course in a very amiable state of mind, and the ladies and gentlemen who went to the Plains to see a game would be pleased to speak a piece expressive of their affection and respect for the Clipper Base Ball Club.

☞ The Fall Term of the schools has commenced, and the seraphs are thus described as seen in Providence by the Journal's reporter, while gazing out of a fifth-story window and wishing he was—one of 'em. "Pretty, fresh creatures, bright as the scarlet maple leaves, mellow as the ripening peaches, gay as the brilliant autumnal flowers; little girls with short dresses, and hats covered with miniature flower gardens; older girls, radiant in flowing ribbons and floating tresses; and still older girls, more dignified and stately, entering upon their last school year."

We venture to say that Providence girls are no more bright, mellow and gay than Portsmouth girls; that they don't wear shorter dresses nor more flower gardens than Portsmouth girls; and that flowing ribbons and floating tresses on dignified and stately old girls just entering upon their last school year, are no more plentiful in Providence than in Portsmouth. And furthermore, that Portsmouth can boast of as many pretty girls and horrid boys, as any city of its size in Rhode Island, Delaware or Alaska.

THE NEXT SENSATION. — Our wide awake sporting reporter has ascertained that the next feat to be performed, hereabouts, will be an unusual one. Brown (John) is to descend into the reservoir on Market Square next week at 2 o'clock. The marines at the Navy Yard are to be appointed a special committee "to see that justice is done the government," and will satisfy themselves by causing the reservoir to be hermetically sealed, with Brown on the inside, and in four days he is to appear, after an underground passage, at the Revere House, Boston. Any person detecting any of the committee during the time isleep, will be entitled to half the stakes and the reservoir cover.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

Nathaniel Dearborn, a citizen of Deerfield, died at his residence in that town last week, of the age of almost 95 years. He had a family of eleven children. His grandchildren number forty-seven; his great grandchildren forty-five, and he had one great-great-grandchild.

John C. Pillsbury, of Concord, has been appointed Deputy Warden of the State Prison, in place of Augustus W. Bean, resigned.

Rev. Daniel Fitz, D. D., senior pastor of the South Church in Ipswich, Mass., died on the 2d inst., in the 75th year of his age and the 44th year of his pastorate. Dr. Fitz was a native of Sandown, this State, and afterwards lived in Derry, whither his parents removed in his infancy. He graduated at Dartmouth College, in 1818, and at the Andover Theological Seminary.

In Concord, while Mrs. Jeremiah Shehan and her two children were riding on the movable back seat of a wagon, the seat tipped back and they were all thrown out. The children were not much hurt, but their mother was injured so severely that her recovery is very doubtful.

John Coffin, of Chichester, seized by the tail a black snake which had taken refuge under a rock. Coffin held on at one end and the snake at the other, and the result was the snake parted—not with Coffin, but with his life—breaking open in the middle. The two pieces when put together measured six feet in length.

A woman at Laconia, who has lived there for eighty-seven years, had her first sail upon the Lake last week.

A sad affair occurred at Walpole, Saturday. Mrs. John Sparhawk, seventy years old, was sitting in a room with some other women and her grandson, a boy of 11 years, when the report of a pistol was suddenly heard and she fell dead upon the floor with a ball in her brain. Although the report was distinctly heard by several persons, and the smoke was seen, no one was able to tell where the ball came from, or who fired it, but on Monday the boy confessed that he did the deed. He had had a quarrel with his grandmother, and says he shot her to get her out of the way.

—The democrats of Ohio withheld General Rosecran's letter for several days after it was received, and they must have had much hesitation in deciding whether to keep it back permanently, or to publish it, would do them the least injury.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.

He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.

He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.

He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 20 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a speciality, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentures) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.

All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment to be considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.

Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

BOY WANTED at ROWELL & HUTCHINSON'S Jewelry Store, Market Square.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan, Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....27 s6. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 flr. 30 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

A DOG FIGHT.

Four-and-thirty years ago, Bob Ainslie and I were coming up Infirmary street from the Edinburgh High School, our heads together, and our arms intertwisted, as only lovers and boys know how, or why.

When we got to the top of the street, and turned north, we espied a crowd at the Tron Church. "A dog-fight!" shouted Bob, and was off; and so was I, both of us all but praying that it might not be over before we got up! And is not this boy-nature? and human nature too? and don't we all wish a house on fire not to be out before we see it? Dogs like fighting; old Isaac says they "delight" in it, and for the best of all reasons; and boys are not cruel because they like to see the fight. They see three of the great cardinal virtues of dog or man—courage, endurance, and skill—in intense action. This is very different from a love of making dogs fight, and enjoying, and aggravating, and making gain by their pluck. A boy—be he ever so fond himself of fighting, if he be a good boy, hates and despises all this, but he would have run off with Bob and me fast enough: it is a natural, and not a wicked interest, that all boys and men have in witnessing intense energy in action.

Does any curious and finely-ignorant woman wish to know how Bob's eye at a glance announced a dog fight to his brain? He did not, he could not see the dogs fighting; it was a flash of an inference, a rapid induction. The crowd round a couple of dogs fighting, is a crowd masculine mainly, with an occasional active, compassionate woman, fluttering wildly round the outside, and using her tongue and hands freely upon the men, as so many "brutes:" it is a crowd annular, compact, and mobile; a crowd centripetal, having its eyes and its head all bent downwards and inwards, to one common focus.

Well, Bob and I are up, and find it is not over: a small thoroughbred, white bull-terrier, is busy throttling a large shepherd's dog, unaccustomed to war, but not to be trifled with. They are hard at it; the scientific little fellow doing his work in great style, his pastoral enemy fighting wildly, but with the sharpest of teeth and a great courage. Science and breeding, however, soon had their own; the Game Chicken, as the premature Bob called him, working his way up, took his final grip of poor Yarrow's throat,—and he lay gasping and done for. His master, a brown, handsome, big young shepherd from Tweedsmuir, would have liked to knock down any man, would "drink up Esil, or eat a crocodile," for that part, if he had a chance: it was no use kicking the little dog; that would only make him hold the closer. Many were the means shouted out in mouthfuls, of the best possible ways of ending it. "Water!" but there was none near, and many cried for it who might have got it from the well at Blackfriars Wynd. "Bite the tail!" and a large, vague, benevolent, middle-aged man, more desirous than wise, with some struggle got the bushy end of Yarrow's tail into his ample mouth, and bit it with all his might. This was more than enough for the much-enduring, much-suspiring shepherd, who, with a gleam of joy over his broad visage, delivered a terrific racer upon our large, vague, benevolent, middle-aged friend, who went down like a shot.

Still the Chicken holds; death not far off. "Snuff! a pinch of snuff!" observed a calm, highly dressed young buck, with an eye-glass in his eye. "Snuff, indeed!" growled the angry crowd, affronted and glaring. "Snuff! a pinch of snuff!" again observed the buck but with more urgency; whereupon were produced several open boxes, and from a mull which may have been at Culloden, he took a pinch, knelt down, and presented it to the nose of the Chicken. The laws of physiology and of snuff take their course; the Chicken sneezes, the Yarrow is free!

The young pastoral giant stalks off with Yarrow in his arms,—comforting him.

But the Bull Terrier's blood is up, and his soul unsatisfied; he grips the first dog he meets, and discovering she is not a dog, in Homeric phrase, he makes a brief sort of amende, and is off. The boys, with Bob and me at their head, are after him: down Niddry street he goes, bent on mischief; up the Cowgate like an arrow—Bob and I, and our small man panting behind.

There, under the single arch of the South Bridge, is a huge mastiff, sauntering down the middle of the causeway, as if with his hands in his pockets: he is old, gray, brindled, as big as a little Highland bull, and has the Shakespearian dewlaps shaking as he goes.

The Chicken makes strait at him, and fastens on his throat. To our astonishment, the great creature does nothing but stand still, hold himself up, and roar—yes roar; a long, serious, remonstrative roar. How is this? Bob and I are up to them. He is muzzled! The bailies had proclaimed a general muzzling, and his master, studying strength and economy mainly, had encompassed his huge jaws in a home-made apparatus, constructed out of the leather of some ancient breechin. His mouth was open as far as it could; his lips curled up in rage—a sort of terrible grin; his teeth gleaming, ready, from out the darkness; the strap across the mouth as tense as a bowstring; his whole frame stiff with indignation and surprise; his roar asking us all around, "Did you ever see the like of this?" He looked a statue of anger and astonishment, done in Aberdeen granite.

We soon had a crowd: the Chicken held on. "A knife!" cried Bob; and a cobbler gave him his knife; you know the kind of knife, worn away obliquely to a point, and always keen. I put its edge to the tense leather; it ran before it; and then!—one sudden jerk of that enormous head, a sort of dirty mist about his mouth, no noise,—and the bright and fierce little fellow is dropped, limp and dead. A solem pause: this was more than any of us had bargained for. I turned the little fellow over, and saw he was quite dead; the mastiff had taken him by the small of the back like a rat, and broken it.

He looked down at his victim appeased, ashamed and amazed; snuffed him all over, stared at him, and taking a sudden thought, turned round and trotted off. Bob took the dead dog up, and said, "John, we'll bury him after tea." "Yes," said I, and was off after the mastiff. He made up the Cowgate at a rapid swing; he had forgotten some engagement. He turned up the Candlemaker Row, and stopped at the Harrow Inn.

There was a carrier's cart ready to start, and a keen, thin, impatient black-a-vised little man, his hand at his gray horse's head, looking about angerly for something. "Rab, ye thief!" said he, aiming a kick at my great friend, who drew cringing up, and avoiding the heavy shoe with more agility than dignity, and watching his master's eye, slunk dismayed under the cart,—his ears down, and as much as he had of tail down also.

What a man this must be—thought I—to whom my tremendous hero turns tail! The carrier saw the muzzle hanging, cut and useless, from his neck, and I always thought, and still think, Homer, or King David, or Sir Walter alone were worthy to rehearse. The severe little man was mitigated, and condescened to say, "Rab, my man, puir Rabble,"—whereupon the stump of a tail rose up, the ears were cocked, the eyes filled, and were comforted; the two friends were reconciled. "Hupp!" and a stroke of the whip were given to Jess; and off went the three.

Bob and I buried the Game Chicken that night (we had not much of a tea) in the back-green of his house in Melville street, No. 17, with considerable gravity and silence; and being at the time in the Iliad, and, like all boys, Trojans, we called him Hector, of course.—Dr. John Brown.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

CATAWBA PORT, GRAPE and P. J. Sherry.

The above Wines are made by Mr. Speer, whose reputation as a wine grower stands pre-eminent. They are well established, and long known by the Medical Profession as the most reliable and valuable wines to be had.

Every family at this season should use

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,

celebrated in Spain and Portugal for its beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals and by the first families in Europe and America.

Excellent for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm, improving the appetite and benefitting the ladies and children.

AS A DIURETIC

it imparts a healthy action to the Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic affections.

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE

is pure juice of the Oporto Grape, recommended by Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to California or Imported Wines.

SPEER'S STANDARD WINE BITTERS

The Best and Most Reliable Tonic and Bitters in the market, which is always the

CHEAPEST.

☞ None genuine unless the signature o "ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.," is over the cork of each bottle.

For sale by Druggists and Town Agents, who also sell Speer's Standard Wine Bitters.

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!

THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!

BENJAMIN NORTON,

Having been appointed Selling Agent for this City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of

THE BEST PAINT!

ever offered in this city.

It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,

Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON, Agent for Chemical Paint Company.

Also for sale, at the same place, the Best Quality of

MEATS AND GROCERIES!

AS LOW AS CAN BE BOUGHT IN THE CITY.

BEAUTIFUL RAIN!

BY STEPHEN MASSETT.

Oh, the rain, the beautiful rain,
Falling alike on hill, dale and plain;
Over the turnip-tops, 'taters and leeks,
Over the butchers' carts, all full of meats—
Pouring, whirling, rushing along,
Beautiful rain! coming down so strong,
Rubbing the paint off a lady's cheek,
Making her give an inward shriek—
Beautiful rain from the heavens above—
Come out of it quick, or you'll catch cold, my love!

Oh, the rain, the beautiful rain!
Dashing against the window-pane,
Coming down in its drenching fun;
It soaks the pedestrains every one,
Wheezing, sneezing, coughing by—
It moistens the nose and bungs up the eye,
And even the ducks, with a quack and a bound,
Dash into the puddles from the dusty ground;
The people are rushing to catch the train,
To get out of the damp of "beautiful rain."

How the wild crowd goes swearing along,
Because they left their umbrellas at home.
How the gay "Grecian Bender" like meteors flash by,
Drenched to the skin; but between you and I,
They ain't sluging, nor swinging, but dragging their trains
Over dirty pavement soaked with the rain—
Rain so pure when it falls from the sky
Right into big water butts, by and by;
And the youngsters are whacked for getting wet feet,
Or playing with boats in the horrible street.

Once I went out in the rain, and I fell—
Fell like the rain-drops—into a well;
Fell to be cramped into the stomach, my feet;
Fell several feet, till I felt dead beat—
Bleeding, swimming, heaving a sigh,
(Only I couldn't be heard, by the by).
I'd have given my head for a morsel of bread,
For I feared my friends thought me "very dead."
Messrs. Myers & Co. I thought of in vain,
For a water-proof overcoat to keep out the rain,

Once I went to a Fair—in the beautiful rain,
And made love to a girl in a shady lane,
And I kissed her—I did—and her name was "Grace,"
And for it I got a slap in the face.
Father, mother, sisters, all
Said I deserved it as much as my fall!
And I felt like some wretch that goes shivering by,
Or a very small sweep in a chimney high,
For, of all that was on or about me 'twas plain,
There was nothing that had not been soaked by the rain!

It is not at all strange that this beautiful rain
Should fall on several sinners, both handsome and plain,
It is not at all strange, when the night comes again,
If it should rain quite as hard on my desperate brain,
Panting, ringing wet, drying alone.
Quite too wet for prayer. Two weeks for my moan,
That can't be heard in the splash of the crazy town;
Gone mad in its joy at the rain coming down;
While I lie in a night-gown made of muslin d'laine, Cozily tucked up in bed—out of the "beautiful rain!"

AT PLYMOUTH, Eng., there is, or was, a small green opposite the Government House, over which no one was permitted to pass. Not a creature was allowed to approach save the general's cow; and the sentries had particular orders to turn away any one who ventured to cross the forbidden turf. One day old lady D——, having called at the general's, in order to make a short cut bent her steps across the lawn, when she was arrested by the sentry calling out and desiring her to return and go the other road. She remonstrated; the man said he could not disobey his orders, which were to prevent any one crossing that piece of ground. "But," said Lady ——, with a stately air, "do you know who I am?" "I don't know who you be, ma'am," replied the immovable sentry, "but I know who you b'aint—you b'aint the general's cow."

—A barrister noted for his absence of mind was once witnessing the representation of Macbeth, and on the witch's replying to the Thane's inquiry, that they were "doing a deed without a name." Catching the sound of the words, he started up, exclaiming, to the astonishment of the audience. "A deed without a name! Why, it's not worth sixpence."

WINE A MOCKER.—The son-in-law of Mr. William B. Astor who is reported to have thrown himself overboard off San Jose, and been drowned, because he was short of funds to meet his wine bill on the steamer, ufrnishes another illustration of of the mortification to which wine subjects its votaries. They may think they have got the upper hand of it, but it will at some time bite like a serpent and sting like an adder. Rothschild once found himself short, on alighting in the streets of Paris from his cab, and protested to cabby his impecunious condition. Cabby, however was too sharp to be taken in after that fashion, and actually held the old gentleman fast until the police appeared in his support. But we never heard that Rothschild went and jumped into the Seine on account of mortification because of being out of money.—Sunday Times.

—We cannot remember a night so dark as to have hindered the approach of coming day, nor a storm so furious or dreadful as to prevent the return of the warm sunshine and cloudless sky.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a form of Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the great BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES of THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof." Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet restores to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," none of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for

NOW OPEN, DAY AND EVENING.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 10, 1869.

N. E. FAIR.—The rain of Tuesday night greatly interfered with the Fair at Portland. The show of stock is grand, and worth going a great distance to see. On Tuesday, the receipts were $3500, but the showers in the afternoon hurt the track, which is of clay and very heavy and sticky.

On Tuesday, the horses for the double team race for $300 were called, and of the three teams entered, Hall's India Rubber Ben and mate of Boston, and Jacobs' Lonesome Reuben and mate of Saco, were the only ones to appear. The Rubber team won in 2:50, 2:51, 2:46.

For the stallion race for $600, only two came to the scratch,—the old Drew horse Gen. McClellan, and a Knox horse called Gilbreth's Knox—who knocked old Mac as high as ever Gen. Grant did the illustrious General of Spades. To be sure, the old stallion was not in good trim—but neither was his great namesake ever liable to be found in fighting condition. Both no doubt were unfortunate, and so excusable—but not the stock to bet high on or hope much from. Knox took first money in 2:37 1-2, 2:40, 2:37, Mac getting first heat in 2:42.

The famous stallions Draco Prince, old Gen. Knox himself, and two Hambletonian colts 2 and 3 years old, were on the grounds. One of the latter, a splendid bay, name Charles Backman, almost the image of the old horse (father of Dexter and grandfather of Goldsmith Maid,) sold for $5000, whenceight months old but take them all in all; we don't know of any horses superior to the Fearnaught stock,—and in Bill Brown's Fearnaught Prince of Strathham, and John B. Clarke's Lee Rodgers of Manchester, New Hampshire has two stock horses to be proud of. They should both have been at this Fair.

And by the way, Fearnaught Jr. of Boston, in the race for 4 year old colts, at Providence, on this same day, won the stakes in two heats of 2:43 3-4, 2:43, Highland Ash taking first heat in 2:40 3-4. Blood will tell, and while the power to trot is a great requisite in a stallion, the power to transmit that quality to his stock, is far greater. The Fearnaughts have amply proved they have it.

Wednesday we made a visit to Portland and the Fair,—going down in a train of 18 cars, more than full of visitors. And although our stay was short, yet by the especial courtesy and attention of Br. Geo. H. Knowlton of the Press, and a friend of his, Mr. A. O. Clark, we were enabled to do the Fair very satisfactorily. On account of the wretchedly heavy state of the track, the trotting for the day was postponed, but a $50 purse for 3 minute horses was put up, which with five entries made some fun.

When the water began to run from the clouds, Wednesday evening, the crowds began to run from the fields; and the beds being all full in Portland, and people fearing a long rain and the death of the Fair,—crowded the long trains home again. We came with them, and after tumbling over fallen branches stript from trees, and prostrate fences, we finally reached home with no bones broken and the hair not blown from our head.

Among the prominent visitors at the Park were Sir John Young, Governor General of Canada, and wife and suite, Mr. H. J. Murray, the British Consul at Portland, Mayor Putnam and Hon. John B. Brown of Portland, and so many Ladies that the Judges stand, on which chairs were provided for them, was completely filled. We also noticed Ex-Gov. Smyth, Dr. Geo. B. Loring, Gen. Natt Head, Hon. Moses Humphrey, and other officers of the N. E. Agr. Society; Mayor Jones of this city, Col. S. H. Dumas, Col. M. F. Wentworth, and hosts of others known and unknown to us and to fame. The Fair as an exhibition we regard a success: and it will be precuniarily, if the storm will allow it. We have spoken only of the Field show—the display in the great Tent and the City Hall, of tools, machinery, fruit, flowers, fine arts, &c. were also extensive and very fine. F.

The Allentown, (Penn.) Iron Works, were burnt on Tuesday. Loss, $500,000. One thousand men thrown out of employ.

—Rev. Dr. Kirk, of Boston, will probably have a colleague to help him, at the Mount Vernon St. Orthodox Church.

—The New York Atlas thinks Harriet Beecher's Toe is a whole foot in this time.

—Louis Napolean's health is doubtful and precarious.

MRS. BARRY'S CONCERT.—This concert, which promises to be exceedingly popular, will take place to night, and cannot fail to be one of the best entertainments ever given in this city. We give below a good portion of the programme.

QUARTETTE—Good old days of yore."
How my heart is burning,
And my very soul is yearning,
As my thoughts go backward turning
To the good old days of yore,
When my father and my mother,
And each sister dear and brother,
Sang and chatted with each other,
Round that good old cottage door.

SONG—"Daybreak".....Mrs. Barry.
A wind came up out of the sea,
And said, "O mists, make room for me."

BALLAD.....Mr. Prescott.

BACAROLLE.—"Farewell Waltz"...Miss Crane.
Come, the bark is moving,
Come, the breeze is blowing,

BALLAD—"Let me fold thee close, mavourneen,"
Mr. Cobb.
Angels keep your vigils o'er her,
Kindly guard her footsteps now.

SONG—"The Lover's Call".....Mrs. Barry.
The lark is singing far on high,
The dancing brooks are bounding by.

HUMOROUS SONG.....Mr. Cobb.

QUARTETTE—"Voice from the Lake."
When mine eyes are dimmed with weeping,
Hope within my soul I hear
Thoughts of thee, sweet recollection,
Floating o'er me like a prayer.

PATRIOTIC SONG—"Sword of Bunker Hill."
Mr. Prescott.
And while the glorious battle raged,
It lightened Freedom's will,
For, lo!, the God of Freedom blessed
The sword of Bunker Hill."

DUETT—'Friendship'. Miss Crane & Mrs. Barry.

SCOTCH BALLAD—"My heart is sair.' Mrs Barry
I wad do—what wad I not?
For the sake of—somebody.

HUMOROUS SONG—"Almost Married."
Mr. Cobb.
(Spoken.) "I'm a miserable man. What I've been through with no tongue can describe! I'm a bachelor, and probable I ever remain one. I never attempted to marry but once, and that was a short time ago in the city of Boston. I don't mind telling you about it."

BALLAD—"Charlie is my darling". Miss Crane.

TRIO—"Give me a cup."
Mrs. Barry, Mr. Prescott and Mr. Cobb.

Communication.

It is a rare occasion when each refined taste can be gratified with a musical entertainment.

It is generally the fortune of concert-goers to be regaled with high art, so exquisitely high, that but a few can appreciate or enjoy it; or by the other extreme as presented by the "Minstrels."

It is an indisputable fact that no class of music will so pleasantly or so thoroughly stir the popular heart as the legitimate "Ballad."

Divested of all useless garniture, it appeals to one's feeling from its charming simplicity, in strains mournful, patriotic, or; sentimental.

Such a programme is furnished us in the entertainment above mentioned.

To mention Mrs. Barry is only to add praise already freely bestowed on Boston's sweetest and most skillful vocalist, and such praise will be superfluous here.

Mrs. Barry brings with her a pupil, Miss. Anna F. Crane—who does ample justice to her instruction. Miss Crane is engaged at King's Chapel. She possesses a clear, ringing Soprano—of rare sympathy and facile expression—a gem for the Concert-Room.

Mr. Prescott is also from King's Chapel; his fine tenor and finished rendering well attest the judgement of Mrs. Barry in the selection of her support.

I believe Mr. Cobb has never appeared in this city. Of him it is said, he keeps his coat constantly buttoned to restrain the fun within. This evening, he unbuttons it.

Altogether a more talented, versatile troupe has not been heard in Portsmouth, and rarely has been presented a more popular programme. Give them a full house. A.

Communication.

OUR SCHOOLS.—Messrs. Editors:—In your issue of the 9th inst., you are pleased to notice the discontinuation of one of our oldest Grammar Schools as "a good move". If no other means could have been devised to have taken the Primary School from the cellar of the Franklin School House, perhaps the move might have been called a good one; but to accomplish what might and ought to have been done years since, if the proper authority had been so disposed,—the Teacher of the Grammar School, who has given perfect satisfaction for the term of years he has been employed, must be turned out of doors, and his pupils distributed among the other Schools in the city, wherever one or two can be "tucked" in, until all are disposed of. Could the patrons of the Primary School have been consulted, I think they would have been willing to have employed private tuition for their children until they were qualified to enter the Intermediate, rather than dispense with the Grammar School, and by that course the city would have saved the expense of the Primary School; but as the thing has been done, will the Committee attend to the distribution of our scholars at their earliest convenience.

P. S. Since writing the above, I have earned that of a Committee of eighteen, only ten were present, and the matter was carried by a vote of five for to one against the change. Could the subject have been deferred, as some members of the committee desired, until a full meeting of the Board, I have no doubt our Grammar School would have remained as of old.

CHRISTIAN SHORE.

New Hampshire Items.

Rev. Robert Tash, a colored minister in the F. W. Baptist Church, is now at the age of 77 years a pauper, supported by his native town, Exeter.—Rev. Francis E. Abbott, who caused a division in the Unitarian society at Dover, has ceased to call himself a "christian" minister. He has lately been invited to the First Independent Society of Toledo, Ohio.

About noon on Wednesday, Sept. 1st, Mrs. Elbridge Potter of Brownfield, Me., was thrown from a carriage near Tamworth Iron Works and instantly killed. She had been visiting at Center Sandwich, where she had children residing, and was returning home, accompanied by a little granddaughter, the horse was frightend and run about half a mile; then making a short turn, throwing the wagon over, and throwing Mrs. P. upon a pile of stones; but the little girl was thrown on the grass and escaped without injury. Mrs. P.'s skull was fractured. She did not move after she struck.

There were 770 three cent stamps cancelled at the post office in North Conway for one Monday morning's mail in August.

Mr. T. Van Wyck of New York, one of the visitors at North Conway, has caught so far this season, 3,282 trout, and thinks that, during three seasons he has been there, the whole number he has caught would amount to about 12,000. The summer visitors are leaving quite fast.

The fall term of the Supreme Judicial Court commenced in Nashua on Tuesday, Judge Doe presiding. There are in jail about 25 criminals, whose cases will be presented to the grand jury.

Judge Doe has abandoned the unnecessary custom of having the Sheriff attend him with a big cane between the court room and his lodgings.

A Congregational Council was held, and Messrs. F. G. Clark and Henry Marden were ordained at Francestown, on Thursday last; Rev. Dr. Wallace of Manchester, preaching the Sermon, and Rev. D. C. Frink, of New Boston, giving the Right Hand of Fellowship. Mr. Clark goes to Manchester as City Missionary, and Mr. Marden as a missionary to Turkey.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BE BEAUTIFUL. If you desire beauty you should use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It gives a soft, refined, satin-like texture to the Complexion, removes Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Tan, &c., and adds a tinge of Pearly Bloom to the plainest features. It brings the bloom of Youth to the fading cheek and changes the rustic Country Girl into a Fashionable City Belle.

In the use of the Magnolia Balm lies the true secret of Beauty. No Lady need complain of her Complexion who will invest 75 cents in this delightful article.

Lyon's Kathairon is the best Hair Dressing in use. 1msu21

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will be possessed, the pale cheek damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY lies in the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm for the Complexion. Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Freckles and Tan disappear where it is applied, and a beautiful Complexion of pure, satin-like texture is obtained. The plainest features are made to glow with Healthful Bloom and Youthful Beauty.

Remember Hagan's Magnolia Balm is the thing that produces these effects, and any Lady can secure it for 75 cents at any of our stores.

To preserve and dress the Hair use Lyon's Kathairon. 1msu21

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—I purchased a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machine about ten years ago, and while learning to use it, without instruction, broke one needle; after that, for more than nine years, I had the machine in almost daily use, doing all my family sewing and very much for friends and others, and instructed seven persons in the use of the machine, without breaking a needle. My machine has never cost one penny for repairs. I have sewed hours with a worrisome babe in my lap, working upon fabrics of the most delicate texture, as well as upon men's and boys' clothes of the heaviest material. I have made garments for the cradle, the bridal, the hospital, and the funeral. Entering into every vicissitude of life, my machine has become as it were a part of my being.

Mexico, N. Y. MRS. M. L. PECK.

Edward Bayer, Esq., Horton, Kings Co. N. S. writes that an astonishing cure has been effected on his daughter, by the use of "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment." The whole spine became diseased, she lost the use of her limbs, and her back was rounded up like a bow, in consequence of taking cold after having been inoculated for the kine pock. She is now well.

We pledge our reputation on the assertion that any educated physician, after a careful examination of the receipe, will say that "Parson's Purgative Pills," possess more merit than any other pill now offered for sale.

The Fever and Ague Season.

When the leaves begin to change, remittent and intermittent fevers make their appearance. From the surface of the earth, bathed nightly in heavy dews, from marches and swamps surcharged with moisture, from the dying foliage of the woods, from festering pools and sluggish streams, the sun of September evolves clouds of miasmatic vapor perilous to health and life. The body, depurived by the burning temperature of July and August of much of its vigor and elasticity is not in a proper plight to resist malaria; and hence all diseases that are produced by a depraved and impure atmosphere are particularly prevalent in the Fall.

There is no reason why the health of thousands of people should be thus sacrificed. A preparatory course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is a certain protection against the epidemics and endemics which Autumn brings in its train. Let all dwellers in unhealthy localities, liable to such visitations, give heed to the warning and advice conveyed in this advertisement, and they may bid defiance to the malevolent influence which are now rising night and day, from the soil around them. No farm house in the land should be without this invaluable exhilarant and preventive at any period of the year, but especially in the Fall. It is not safe to go forth into the chill misty atmosphere of a September morning or evening with the stomach unfortified by a tonic, and of all the tonics which medical chemistry has yet given to the world, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are admitted to be the purest, the most wholesome and most beneficial.

Let all who desire to escape the billious attacks, bowel complaints and malarious fevers, take the BITTERS at least twice a day throughout the present season. It is as a wholesome as it is infallible. Look to the trade-mark, "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," engraved on the label and embossed on the bottle, and their revenue stamp, covering the cork, as counterfeits and imitations abound. s8

TO OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocuous; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Atlantic Race Course, Gresham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. Over 1,000 other references can be seen at the Depot.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:—* * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Medicine House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to be loosened without giving those dreadful paroxysms (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. 6m29

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been labouring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than were made by the inventor of this popular remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by pleasant art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

One thousand experiments

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and gentle aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or drench or pill.

Wholesale agent, John F. HENRY, No. 8 College Place, New York City.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been tried without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salubrious.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,

Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well.—This now is the only way to cure Consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will loosen it, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relaxe the ducts of the gall bladder, make starter freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

The complaint is one of the most prominent causes of Consumption.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, neutralizes the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they irritate the lungs with the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. These are the cure, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Sore Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs are diseased, and many think that Bronchitis, Coughs, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient will begin to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets healthy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparations with the same remarkable success.

Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Doctor SCHENCK, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond St., New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover Street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen.—Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. G. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover Street, Boston, Wholesale agents. For sale by all druggists. d1yja4

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States and Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and a very reasonable bill charged. JOHN TAGHART."

Boston, Jan. 1, 1869.—1 yr.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE TERRIFIC GALE of Wednesday was the most severe storm which has visited this city for many years. The wind prostrated Indian corn and other plants, levelling old fences, breaking off innumerable limbs of trees, beating off much fruit, and destroying whole trees by breaking down or uprooting them. There was scarcely a street in the city that was not encumbered with the debris from trees and movable articles. Among others a very large apple tree in the yard of Mrs. Washington Williams, on Middle Street, was uprooted. Islington Street from Pearl to Cabot was lined with large limbs torn from the trees which make that thorough fare so shady. A very large limb was blown from a tree on the premises owned by Mr. B. F. Webster, corner of Court and Middle Streets, and another was torn from the tree at the corner of Pearl Street in front of the residence of John Knowlton, Esq. This limb luckily fell northerly, just cleared the house, and resting on the fence, forming a bridge over the sidewalk.

The fruit trees suffered severely. Two hundred barrels of apples were shaken from the trees at the farm of Charles Hayes, Esq, and this seems to be a specimen of what old Boreas did elsewhere. Trees were stripped of their foliage completely, and some young trees at the south-end had their tops twisted off.

At Kittery Point, four schooners went ashore; one lost her whole stern, and the others were much damaged. Many trees were severely pounded, and some destroyed.

☞ The Storm at the Shoals was very severe,—a Gosport resident of 57 years, Mr. William Robinson, says the most violent, hurricane-like, he ever knew. A new fish-house in course of erection by Mr. R., was blown flat, even while he was trying to prop it up; and an old building belonging to Mr. Brainard was tumbled down.

The schooner Ellen & Mary, Capt. Josiah Randall, was blown off her moorings, and striking on Hog Island Head, went to pieces on the rocks,—a total loss, with mackerel seine and all her contents. The crew, four in number, saved themselves in boats.

Mr. C. B. Brooks in attempting to remove one of Mr. L. B. Caswell's small boats from Sandy Cove around the Point to a place of safety — was blown off, and supposed by all to be lost, but by great exertion, he made out to keep his frail craft right side up, although she was almost swamped and filled three times, and finally landed safe at Cape Neddick in York Harbor, twelve or fourteen miles; and returned home per the stage and steamboat on Thursday, astonishing his friends by reporting his own arrival and clearance. It would seem he was not born to be drowned.

☞ A pickpocket who had probably been "working" at the New England Fair, was detected at North Berwick by Jefferson C. Rowe, connected with the P. S. &P. R. R., in the act of picking a gentleman's pocket, Mr. R. grabbed and held him until he arrived at Portsmouth, when he turned him over to Detective Kent and City Marsha Johnson. He had upon his person $195, most of which was done up in small parcels and apparently taken from separate wallets.

He refuses to give his residence and is anxious to compromise. On his arm in India ink is H. Sanks. He had a woman with him on the train; he has confederates and they are known. He is supposed to be from New Bedford.

☞ The tornado of Wednesday evening, is said by the old folks to be the most severe since 1815—when forests were felled by the acre by the wind, houses unroofed, &c. Then, as now, the wind was from the southeast, and the city of Providence suffered the most severely of any place.

☞ Arrangements for the coming Piscataqua Fair are progressing well. Dr. John W. Parsons is to be Chief Marshal, Mr. Joseph R. Holmes of this city Superintendent on the Grounds. Exhibitors both at home and abroad, should remember that premiums are open to competition from all sections. It is hoped the show in the Hall will be especially fine—of fruit, flowers, Ladies' fancy work, &c. Portsmouth and vicinity cannot be beaten in the State, if all will aid who can and should. If they don't, it will not be Fair, that's all.

☞ In the Board of Aldermen Thursday evening, John Sullivan Rand was elected Constable and Police Officer, and Samuel M. Joy Supernumerary Night Watchman and Police Officer.

☞ Sale of Refuse Wood and Chips at the Navy Yard to-day, Friday. Also sale of Dwelling House by Auctioneer Wendell on Saturday.

OFF.—S. F. Engine Co. No. 1, Edward E. McIntire, foreman, went to Lynn by the 8.30 train, Thursday morning, taking the Cornet Band with them.

We received last evening too late for to-day, a most glowing account of their arrival and visit at Lynn. The Mayor, City Government, and other potentates seem to delight to do them honor; and the whole city appears placed at their disposal.

NO CREDIT HERE. — These words, plainly printed on a Card, stand in front of the bottles on an open Bar.—And they doubtless mean that every drunkard must pay for his drinks, on the spot and at the time of drinking.—They suggest, however, another meaning, of more consequence, viz, that it is NO CREDIT to any one to be tippling there.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ Work was suspended at the Navy Yard on Thursday, and minute guns were fired in memory of the Secretary of War, Gen. John A. Rawlins.

THE DESTRUCTION by the Storm of Wednesday afternoon, in Boston, was quite extensive.—The Coliseum building is a heap of old lumber, badly smashed; the big Organ and the big Drum are ruined.

A stone pinnacle fell down through the roof of the new Central Church, damage $3000.

Mr. Granville M. Clark was killed by the breaking up of a wooden sidewalk near the Coliseum.

The tin Roof of Rev. Dr. Gannett's Church, was blown off, and fell into the street.

The lofty and costly spire of the Methodist Church in Hanover Street (formerly Unitarian) was blown off, and now stands, bottom up, in the yard, leaning against the church. In its fall, it damaged a house and store.—To build this steeple was part of a folly which made a bankrupt parish:—It had better be replaced with something shorter but stronger.

Many other buildings were damaged, and several destroyed. Trees, bridges, chimneys, railroads, boats, and vessels, all suffered more or less.

The storm was violent and destructive in the vicinity.—In Somerville, the tower and roof of the Unitarian Church were blown off.

In Portland, on Wednesday night the tall wooden spire of the Catholic Cathedral, 226 feet high, fell over with a crash, across Cumberland street, and broke in the roof of a house owned by Capt. R. D. Chase. There is a brick tower, 118 feet high, and the wooden part which fell, was 108 feet in height; Great was the fall, and loud the crash. Much damage was done at the Fair Grounds.

In North Bridgewater, Mass., the tall spire of the 1st Congregational Church was racked badly; and that of the 3d Cong. Chh. was tumbled to the ground. The damage on and off the coast, must be great.

DENTAL NOTICE.

69 Congress Street, Portsmouth.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.

He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more servicable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.

He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.

He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 20 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a speciality, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentures,) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.

All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.

Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

BOY WANTED at ROWELL & HUTCHINSON'S Jewelry Store, Market Square.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY, For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT. Thirty Year Gold Loan, Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $12,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have THIRTY YEARS TO RUN, from May 1, 1869, and will pay SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....£7 8s. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 fr. 30 krtzs. "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT, in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at 96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency, the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Pamphlets, with maps giving full information, sent on application.

ROBINSON CRUSOE.—The Antiquarian Society (of Scotland) have just received a donation for the museum, of two interesting articles, which cannot fail to be attractive, especially to juvenile visitors and all who have read Defoe's world wide story of Robinson Crusoe. The relics consist of the sea chest and a carved cocoanut cup, which were the property of Alexander Selkirk, the prototype of Robinson Crusoe. These were with him in the solitary residence of Juan Fernandez, and were brought home with him when taken off the island by Capt. Wooder Rogers. They were used by Selkirk while he lived in Largo after his return to his native place. The chest contained his clothes, &c., and when he went off from Largo was left with his descendants, with whom it and the cup remained till the death of one of them a few years ago, when they were sold to a gentleman in London. The chest is made of a species of mahogany, and had Selkirk's initials and titles rudely carved on it, and what seems to have been his number in the ship. The cup was carved by Selkirk while on the island, and was mounted in silver at one time; but having been carried off by a pedlar, for some mouths no trace of it could be got, till it was returned from Perth without its silver stem, for which a wooden one has been substituted. Only three other relics of Selkirk are known to be in existence. His musket is in the possession of a gentleman in Fife, his brown cane is in Edinburg, and his walking-stick is in the museum at Coulter Main.—Scotsman.

LAND DRAINAGE.—An article in Coleman's Rural World, signed "R. H. A.," hits the nail on the head, when it says that thorough drainage of land is the only necessity the farmer has against loss by "too much rain, or want of it." Some deem it an absurdity to assert that draining the water from the soil can be beneficial to crops, during a protracted drought, yet such is the fact, as every one knows who has tested the matter on soils where the texture was such as to hold the water a foot or more below the surface. Such land, before draining, becomes baked and hard; no fertilizing influences come up to invigorate the roots and develop plant growth; but draw this water off, and a speedy change for the better will be seen in the character of the soil, and in the plants whose seeds were committed to it. As the country is more and more divested of forest coverings, the drier will be the fructifying season, and the greater the necessity of drainage to counteract the influence of drought. But the benefit of drainage does not stop here, for, in the event of a wet spring, seeding can be forwarded two or three weeks as a consequence of it, while vegetation will be aided during the entire season, whatever its character may be.

TERRIBLE DEATH.—John Miller, of Jefferson, aged 26 years, returning from Lancaster, Friday evening last, came to his death in a shocking manner. On his way home he stopped at the Waumbek, where it was observed that he was badly intoxicated. He was riding on a light skeleton gig, and about one mile from the hotel, on the road toward the meadow, the gig entered a mud hole, when Miller's legs slipped through the iron braces made as rests for the feet, and his body fell over the cross-bar, his head close to the horse's heels; with him in this helpless condition the horse ran about a mile, finally stopping at a house about one fourth of a mile from Miller's home. The poor unfortunate man had fallen over his head, or dropped off. His skull was badly fractured, and completely scalped where the horse's heels had hit it, and one hand which had dragged was lacerated. Miller lived about twenty-four hours, but was entirely senseless.—Coos Republican.

—There is a cafe in Paris to which many Americans resort, attracted by the home fare to be obtained there. The lady keeper has in her glass door the words "English spoken" [a little]." Her card announces "aux Americans, specialite de Pumpkin Pie," and within may be found apple, mince and pumpkin pies, gingerbread and doughnuts, like those of American manufacture.

—General N. B. Forest, once styled "Butcher," who is now superintending the construction of the Selma, Marion, and Memphis Railroad, of which he is President, has become so reconciled to the "Yanks" that he is now trying to induce a Yankee colony to settle on 10,000 acres of land on both sides of the Buttahatchie, not far from Grenda, Mississippi, on the line of his railroad.

—A negro dancer in an Omaha theatre, seeing a champagne glass standing on the box rail of a well-known female resident of the city, displayed his agility by tipping over the glass with his toe. For the next five minutes he was obliged to continue the display in dodging bottles, tumblers, and similar missiles which the enraged beauty threw at his head.

—When Sir William Hamilton announced to Royal Academy his discovery of the central sun (the star on which the orb of day and its planetary attendants revolve,) a waggish member exclaimed: "What! our sun's sun! Why, that must be a grand sun!"

—The losses by fire throughout the United States during the month of August, just passed, amount to $6,438,000. The loss is nearly double that of August, 1868. The value of property destroyed by fire since January 1, 1869, already amounts to 27,100,000.

—A Georgia negro has been lynched for attempting to steal a pair of socks.

RURAL ITEMS.—The potato is a great absorber of potash; therefore wood ashes are a good manure for it.

To make timber last take boiled oil, thicken it with pulverized charcoal, and cover the timber with it.

If fowls are infested with lice, damp the skin under the feathers with water, then sprinkle a little sulphur on the skin. Let the bird be covered with insects or parasites, they will all disappear in 12 hours.

The best way to prevent cows from holding up their milk is, to milk the forward teats perfectly dry, then change to the two hind teats and milk very fast, and the desired result will most likely be obtained.

An old stable keeper in England says he has never had a bad foot on his horses since he commenced the practice of bedding on a thick layer of sawdust. Pine sawdust he finds the best, oak the worst.

The Utica Herald gives three rules for renovating old pastures: 1. In winter, lime them in wet places. 2. In summer, mow them where bushy. 3. Keep sheep on them and feed the sheep with beans and oil cake.

To destroy wasps, saturate a piece of lint with a strong solution of cyanide of potassium, and place it at the outlet of the nest. The inhalation of the cyanide destroys the insects very rapidly, and a nest full is thus quickly put out of the way.

—If we will but make an effort, how easy it is to restrain our emotion! A lady was present one evening at the performance of Voltaire's "Merope," and to the surprise of every one did not shed a tear. Perceiving which, she said—"I could indeed have wept, but I am going out to-night to supper."

—A lady had a Sunday School class in one of the churches. Two brothers attend it alternately. One Sunday a lady asked one of the boys if he would be there on the following Sabbath! "Oh! no," says he, "I can't; it's my turn to saw wood!"

—The London Spectator commenting on the abuse of the diplomatic service, says: "The contingent expenses of an embassy are as bad as a plumber's bill, which nobody can understand or tolerate, or help paying."

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

CATAWBA, PORT, GRAPE and F. J. Sherry.

The above Wines are made by Mr. Speer, whose reputation as a wine grower stands pre-eminent. They are well established, and long known by the Medical Profession as the most reliable and valuable wines to be had.

Every family at this season should use

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,

celebrated in Spain and Portugal for its beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and Hospitals and by the first families in Europe and America.

Excellent for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm, improving the appetite and benefitting the ladies and children.

AS A DIURETIC

it imparts a healthy action to the Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic affections. Also,

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE

is pure juice of the Oporto Grape, recommended by Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to California or Imported Wines.

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!

THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!

BENJAMIN NORTON,

Having been appointed Selling Agent for this City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of

THE BEST PAINT!

ever offered in this city.

It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,

Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON, Agent for Chemical Paint Company.

Also for sale, at the same place, the Best Quality of

The Chronicle.

THE COMING WOMAN.—The Boston Herald gives the following account of a young lady's prowess at a jumping match at Dorchester, which is something new in the sporting world. It is not one man in ten thousand that can jump 10 feet from a standstill, and very few can go clean 9; and we believe the best jumpers in the circus ring find 11 1-2 hard to beat. We used to read in the National Reader at school, that "nothing great or glorious was ever achieved in which woman did not either act in, advise or consent to"—and now we believe it more than ever.

Several weeks ago a number of the young people who reside in the neighborhood of Savin Hill, in Dorchester, came together and on the spur of the moment improvised a jumping match for a small purse between Mike Flynn, and a young man named Murphy. In this match Murphy was badly worsted, whereupon his sister Kate, a bright, strong and sprightly girl of about twenty summers, became very indignant, and gave out to her companions that she could out-jump Mike Flynn, if her brother could not. Katie became very earnest in her asseverations, and to satisfy her a match was made for a purse of $75, and greatly to the surprise of her friends when the match came off she won it.

This greatly shamed the Flynn jumpist and his friends, so Miss Kate was challenged to another contest, for $200 a side, which came off at Savin Hill Tuesday afternoon. The affair attracted quite a crowd to witness the sport, not less than 400 people being present.

Kate made her appearance dressed in flowing red flannel drawers, a la bloomer, with white merino shirt, and a pair of pretty gaiters tightly laced to her feet. Mr. Flynn was dressed nearly in the same manner.

The arrangements being all completed, the exercises began, Flynn leading off with a leap of 10 feet and 3 inches. Katie then took her position, cheered on by her friends, and made the leap, clearing a distance of 10 feet 4 1-2 inches. This created great excitement in the crowd and nerved up Katie for something still better. The second leap was called for, when Flynn came up to the scratch and cleared 10 feet 7 inches. This was a very long jump, and the Flynn party felt greatly encouraged. But Katie was again introduced, her friends cheering and feeling confident that she would beat. Carefully she placed her little gaiter boots on the line, and straining every muscle in her well knit frame made the leap, clearing 10 feet 9 3-4 inches.

This was too much for her competitor, and amid the plaudits of the whole company Katie retired with her purse of 400. As this affair has created great excitement in the neighborhood, it is possible that Katie may be started for another match.

JUSTICE IN NEW YORK.—Judge Dowling of New York loves a practical joke. The other day a man was before him, charged with whipping his wife. "How came he to beat you?" asked Judge Dowling.

"Underneath where we live, at No. 470 Grand street, there is a dance house," explained the wife. "I was t[illegible] my husband was there, and I took [illegible] woman with me and we went and looked in,"

"Was your husband there?" pursued the Judge.

"Yes, sir."

"Dancing?"

"Yes, sir."

Did you go inside?

"No sir; but my husband saw me, and soon came up to our room, when he beat me and smashed the furniture.

"It was not a proper place for her to go," spoke up the husband.

"It was a proper place for you, I suppose?"

"Any place is proper for men."

"Do you really think so?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, then, I'll send you to the Penitenciary for three months."

—Rev. H. H. Jessup, Missionary in Syria, gives an account in the Missionary Herald, of the effects of wine drinking in that country. Speaking of a certain place, he says: "The great besetting sin of the village is wine drinking. In every house there are several huge earthern jars filled with wine, and they drink it daily. Several of the villagers have become drunkards." When Mr. Jessup expostulated with them on their drinking habits, the women were delighted. They had suffered so much from the drunkenness of men, that they were ready for a reform. The chief importance of this testimony of Mr. Jessup, however, is to show that men become drunkards on native wines in that country, as they did of old.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the Tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, constipation, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, restore the sensibility, rear up the surpass the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for
"Rocky Mountain Bitters."

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 11, 1869.

THE DISASTERS AND DAMAGES by the Gale of Wednesday, were so numerous, and spread over so large an extent of our seacoast, as to make even an enumeration of them too much for our narrow limits.

Chimneys, churches, and steeples, have suffered severely. It is observable, in regard to the latter, that comparatively new steeples have fallen, while the older, and heavier built, have generally stood.

The orthodox meeting house in Malden, Mass., with a steeple 140 feet high, was totally demolished; loss $20,000,—other buildings there, were destroyed.

The Catholic Church on the line of Medford and Malden, had been recently enlarged: — but the storm swept away the additions.

The Coliseum in Boston, is not all down:—and there is a talk of giving a concert in the part that stands.

The damage in New Bedford was very severe, among vessels, wharves, and buildings.

At Fairhaven, the spire of the Congregational church went by the board about 5 o'clock. The spire struck the roof making a hole almost twenty feet square. A portion of the spire landed in the rear of the church, and another portion fell to the west, demolishing the roof of a new barn. A meeting was to have been held on Sunday to consider the propriety of taking down the spire.

At Marblehead, and at Nantasket Beach, buildings were destroyed, and at Marblehead, one life was lost.

The gale was very heavy on the coast of Rhode Island, — perhaps more so than elsewhere.

Providence felt the gale severely, and its citizens go back to 1815 to find a parallel to its fury. A great deal of damage was done by the forcing in of the tide over the wharves and into the cellars of the seaboard side of the city. All the perishable goods in the basements of warehouses in a large area were ruined. Many buildings also were blown down. The brick freight depot of the Hartford, Providence & Fishkill Railroad was demolished, and the watchman badly injured. The roof of the Home for Aged Women was taken off while the Hutchinson Family were singing to the inmates. A young girl of fourteen was killed by being thrown down by the wind. A boy was killed by a fence being blown down upon him. The spire of a Methodist Church was carried off.

The Universalist church, in Pawtucket, and the Congregational church in Central Falls, lost their steeples. One new house in Pawtucket was carried fifteen feet and severely strained, without going to pieces.

At Oak Hill, in Newton, over a hundred pine trees, varying from fifty to seventy-five feet in heighth, and at least two feet in diameter at the butt, were uprooted.

At Mansfield, the car-house, 200 feet long, was blown over, and a portion of it was thrown into a pond close by. A car-house about 200 feet long is reported to be blown down.

At Rock Station, in Middleborough, the steeple of the church was blown back upon the roof, and lies along the ridge.

The Baptist Church at Maplewood, just erected was blown down.

At Randolph the Catholic church was blown down and much other damage was done.

Gen. Sherman has been appointed Secretary of War, de facto.

A Philadelphia dispatch says that a statement of George S. Twitchell, made to Rev. Mr. Bingham, is published, in which he declares that on the night of murder he was roused from sleep by his wife coming to him and stating that she had killed her mother in a quarrel. They both went to the room where she lay and together threw her body out of window.

New York merchants fear a financial crisis.

D. E. Saunders, Jr., paying teller of the North National Bank of Boston, is a defaulter to the amount of $20,000 to $130,000.

STRATFORD FAIR.—The Third Annual Fair of the Strafford County Agricultural and Mechanical Society is to be held at Great Falls next week, commencing on Tuesday and continuing three days. The officers of the Society, as well as the citizens of Great Falls and the County generally, have made unusual exertions to have the Fair an attractive one, as it has been at the two preceding exhibitions in this county.

—The learned Jewish Rabbis in Germany and Austria have resolved to prepare an encyclopedia of the Talmud in order to facilitate the study of that work.

The News.

Judge Lewis Dent has been nominated as the Conservative Republican candidate for Governor of Mississippi.

Three Republicans and six Conservatives are elected to Congress from Virginia, vide official returns.

The funeral services of Gen. Rawlins, late Secretary of War, at Washington, on Thursday, were very impressive. Business was suspended.

Several thousand dollars have been contributed in New York for the sufferers at the Avondale mine disaster. One hundred and eight dead bodies have been recovered. The widows are 50 and the orphans in this country are 109. A number of the men had children living in the old country. The three and a half months' strike has reduced all the families to the verge of starvation, the men not having been at work long enough to receive any pay.

The Warrensburg coal mines at Carbon, Pa., took fire on Monday, while 15 men were at work. Four of them ascended by clinging to the rope of the car, but were badly burned. The others remained below till the fire was distinguished. They were injured quite seriously.

The reported mutiny on the U. S. S. Sabine, at Cherbourg, France, which was contradicted, is now said to be true, minus the hanging of seven sailors. The Sabine is ordered home and an examination into the affair will be made.

The revenue collector of San Francisco has seized three thousand barrels of liquor and alcohol for being stamped wrong or altogether unstamped. The value of the liquor approaches a quarter of a million of dollars.

The Cuban expedition which left Worcester on Wednesday evening met with reverse of fortune. Their vessel was driven ashore by the gale and the leader has been arrested.

At the late election in Kentucky the Democratic ticket received 82,669 votes and the republicans polled 25,210; Democratic majority, 57,549, Seymour's majority for President was 76,313.

Cuba letters state that the Spaniards had abandoned Puerto Principe, fleeing to Muricans. Seven hundred Spanish troops were defeated on a sortie from Principe prior to its evacuation. Valmaseda had attacked Quesada at Los Summons with 4000 men, and was badly defeated. The Cubans now occupy the entire Cinco Villa district and the whole eastern department. Seven hundred Spanish troops sent against the patriots at Puerto la Grande deserted to the Cuban flag in a body after the first fire, leaving their officers, who were captured by General Jordan.

☞ The New England Fair at Portland continued on Thursday, when 75,000 people were present. The big tent, filled with Agricultural Tools and Machinery, &c., and some of the cattle pens, were blown down Wednesday night, but no great harm was done.

—Chief Justice Chase writes to the Hon. James A. Briggs, and says he is "not at all satisfied that if in a higher place, he could do any better than those now exercising executive functions do." He adds: "I want nothing whatever of a politicial character, and desire that my name may be disassociated hereafter in men's minds with all political action. If this is too much to expect, let me hope, at least, that no friend of mine will lend any countenance to such absurb nonsense as that to which I have referred.

THE FAIRS.—The News Letter says "the Exeter Agricultural and Horticultural Society have voted to postpone the holding of a Fair the present season and will unite with the Rockingham County Ag'l., Society in getting up a splendid show at the Town Hall." This is right, and it is to be hoped the Portsmouth Horticultural Society will do the same, and unite in the Piscataqua Fair.

The News Letter also "hears of several towns who are to visit the Exeter Fair on Thursday next with town teams."

COAL MINE CATASTROPHES. — The most terrible coal mine disaster which ever occurred in this country, previous to that at Avondale, whose horrible details are yet to be made public, was that in the Carbondale mines in 1850. On that occasion about one hundred men were at work in the pit when the collapse took place. A few of those entombed worked their way out through all the dangers of fire damps and foul air, but the most of them perished by starvation or fell a prey to the rats, which in coal mines are said to grow to an enormous size. One man was said to be seven days in digging his way to the surface. Abroad several such accidents have been reported the present season, as at St. Helens, near Liverpool, on the 22d of July, which resulted in the death of fifty-three men; at the Funandale colliery in South Wales, in June, where the same number of men perished; and near Dresden, Saxony, on the 2d of August, causing the death of 321 persons.

☞ Mr. Charles F. Durfee was ordained Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Newburyport, on Wednesday, Sept. 8. Sermon by Rev. R. G. Vermilye, of Hartford. Other exercises by Presbyterian and Congregational Ministers. The forenoon was consumed in a sharp debate as to the Status of the Congregationalists in the Council. After a good dinner, the candidate was thoroughly examined as to his orthodoxy, which was unanimously voted to be satisfactory, and the ordination services proceeded at 3 o'clock, and were interesting to a large assembly.

Working Oxen—There have been more Working Oxen in market for the last two weeks than for some time previous, for which there has been a fair demand. We quote sales at $230, $255, $230 $225, $200, $190, $195, $185, $235, $250, $230, @ $220 ₱ pair.

Sheep and Lambs—Most of the Sheep and Lambs this week came from the North. Those from the West were taken direct to the slaughter houses. The trade for good lots were very fair. We quote extra at $3.75 @ $4.50 ₱ head; ordinary $2, $2.50, $3, 3.50 ₱ head, or from 3¾ @ 6c ₱ lb Swine—Store Pigs, wholesale 10 @ 12c ₱ lb; retail 11 @ 15c ₱ lb. Spring Pigs 13 @ 14c ₱ lb. Fat Hogs—1000 at market; prices 10¾ @ 11c ₱ lb.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BE BEAUTIFUL. If you desire beauty you should use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It gives a soft, refined, satin-like texture to the Complexion, removes Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Tan, &c., and adds a tinge of Pearly Bloom to the plainest features. It brings the Bloom of Youth to the fading cheek and changes the rustic Country Girl into a Fashionable City Belle.

In the use of the Magnolia Balm lies the true secret of Female Loveliness. No need some of her Complexion who will invest 75 cents in this delightful article.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY lies in the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm for the Complexion. Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Freckles and Tan disappear where it is applied, and a beautiful Complexion of pure, satin-like texture is obtained. The plainest features are made to glow with Healthful Bloom and Youthful Beauty.

Remember Hagan's Magnolia Balm is the thing that produces these effects, and any Lady can secure it for 75 cents at any of our stores.

The Fever and Ague Season.

When the leaves begin to change, remittent and intermittent fevers make their appearance. From the surface of the earth, bathed nightly in heavy dews, from marches and swamps surcharged with moisture, from the dying foliage of the woods, from festering pools and sluggish streams, the sun of September evolves clouds of miasmatic vapor perilous to health and life. The body, weakened by the burning temperature of July and August of much of its vigor and elasticity is not in a proper plight to resist malaria; and hence the diseases that are produced by a depraved condition of the atmosphere are particularly prevalent in the Fall.

There is no reason why the health of thousands of people should be thus sacrificed. A preparatory course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is a certain protection against the epidemic influence and endemic which Autumn brings in its train. Let all dwellers in unhealthy localities, liable to such visitations, give heed to the warning and advice conveyed in this advertisement, and they may bid defiance to the foul exhalations which are now rising night and day, from the soil around them. No farm should be allowed to be without this invaluable exhilarant and invigorant at any period of the year, but especially in the Fall. It is not safe to go forth in the chill misty atmosphere of a September morning or evening with the stomach unfortified by a tonic, and of all the tonics which medical chemistry has given to the world, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are a limited to be the purest, the most wholesome and most beneficial.

Let all who desire to escape the bilious attacks, bowel complaints and malarious fevers, take the BITTERS at least twice a day throughout the present season. It is as a wholesome as it is infallible. Look to the trade-mark, "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," engraved on the label and embossed on the bottle, and their revenue stamp, covering the cork, as counterfeits and imitations abound. s8

CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS for Diseases of the Liver, or to act as a gentle Purgative.

All of these three medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These medicines are conscientiously offered to the public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedies for Pulmonary Consumption, and for all those morbid conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most careful attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been through a period of more than thirty-five years, in all of which time its reputation has constantly increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases which admit of a cure.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of the medicine has saved the life of the patient, and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck himself was cured in precisely such circumstances, and many others have been equally fortunate by judiciously making a timely use of Dr. Schenck's remedies.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts, that when patients have the most alarming symptoms, such as a violent cough, creeping chills, night sweats, and general debility, even to such a degree that they are obliged to lie in bed, and when they are given up by their physicians, they may still be cured. No medical treatment can create new lungs, but when the lungs are very badly diseased, and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicines.

Of all the scrofulous diseases Consumption are equally efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been nearly covered with running sores, and now all healthy. This shows its purifying properties, which must be done to heal cavities in the lungs.

In the treatment of Consumption, it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone in the system. Hence it is necessary to strengthen the appetite of the patient, and improve the digestion. Proper nourishment is required, together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most suitable for the diet of consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's Almanac, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most nutritious articles are to be preferred; but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This result is met by the Sea Weed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designed.

When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect; the system of the patient is invigorated, and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing powers of the Pulmonic Syrup will complete the cure.

Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Liver Complaint. Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel or "blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral substance. Combining as they do the most obstinate costiveness, sick headache, piles, billious affections, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the liver, a box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption, the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable auxiliary medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient and assist the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, where the lungs were almost entirely destroyed, and all symptoms, according to the judgement of physicians, indicated speedy death. Lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.

DR. SCHENCK'S Almanac, containing a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to take his medicines can be had gratis of or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, each, $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen; Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggist and dealers.

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited troubled with pain in the side, headache, and a constant feeling of weariness. The immediate and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all others proceeding from biliousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Of all anti-billous medicines they are safest, surest and best. THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than one thousand testimonials from persons who were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the fairer sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hampton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 192 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of those valuable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

TO OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocuous; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them in your worst case, and never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philip P. Rush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

THE TRIP OF THE DEARBORNS.—A correspondent with Steam Fire Engine Co. No. 1, informs us that they were received at the Lynn depot by the Chief Engineer and Board of Engineers, together with the Foreman and a committee from each of the Engine Companies of the city;—they were at once conducted to the City Hall, where the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council were assembled.

The Chief Engineer introduced the Company, and they were welcomed by the Mayor to the hospitalities of the city and its freedom extended them. He said the latch-strings of the city were on the outside, and trusted that the company would avail themselves of its hospitalities. Thos. B. Gammon, President of the Common Council, responded, assuring the city Government that the welcome so unexpected was appreciated, and that the boys would avail themselves of their kindness.

The Chief Engineer thanked the Mayor for the reception, and expressed the pleasure of the company at the attention received. The Mayor invited the party to his residence, and introduced them to the different members of the city government, and the Mayors of Cambridge, Salem and Boston. After a collation, carriages were in attendance, and the party started for Nahant, as guests of the city of Lynn.

The streets presented a lively appearance. All did their best to make the visit one long to be remembered. The hospitality of the citizens was unbounded, and was a complete surprise to the Dearborns.

At Nahant the company took dinner with the City Government at Hood Cottage. Among the guests were Hon. Oliver Warner, Sec'y of State, Hon. R. G. Usher of the Governor's Council, Mayors of Cambridge and Salem, and other distinguished persons. Speeches were made and a general good time was enjoyed. The city government and fire department were assiduous in their attentions. A grand ball came off at night in honor of the company. The boys returned to Lynn in carriages from the beach, to their headquarters at the Sagamore House. A committee from Salem arrived to conduct the party to that city in the morning.

The Dearborns had a cordial reception at Salem on Friday, and returned home in the evening, greatly pleased with their two days' trip.

THE GALE AT THE SHOALS.—The storm of Wednesday evening was terrific on these Islands. The houses generally were flooded with rain. Some of them were deemed unsafe, especially such as had no man at home, and their inmates removed to other houses at great discomfort and difficulty. Mr. Brennan's old barn and boathouse was completely demolished and Mr. William Robinson's new boat and fish house was badly removed from its foundations. The pillars of Mr. Caswell's Hotel were removed and many houses, especially the parsonage and others of more than one story, were fearfully shaken. Mr. Josiah Randall's vessel was driven a complete wreck on Appledore S. W. point of rocks. We understand she was not insured. Mr. Randall's loss is several thousand dollars. His crew came ashore in the same boat with much difficulty. But the greatest anxiety among us was for Mr. Brooks who was drifted away in his boat and but little expectation that he could have been saved, till the steamer brings the man safe and sound. He was drifted off Cape Neddick, (his native place) where he landed, called at his father's, took a team to Portsmouth, and the steamer to his many and anxious friend on Star Island, but he bears marks of the fearful ordeal he has passed through. W.

MRS. BARRY'S CONCERT, Friday evening, was one of best entertainments of this or any season; and a good audience listened delightedly to the music of the fine quartet, and not less fine soloists. We were gratified also personally, in meeting the accomplished gentlemen and ladies composing the party—including the well-known artist in crayon, Mr. C. A. Barry. We have no time or room for any criticism of the performance, this morning.

A FEAT AS IS A FEAT,—being blown, by a fierce south cast gale, from a north west quarter towards the south east. But ladies are (sometimes) contrary, you know!

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

KITTERY, ME., Sept. 10.

A Concert was given at Armory Hall on Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Ladies' Social Circle of the M. E. Church. The vocal part of the concert was under the direction of Profs. James of Kittery and Skinner of Boston, and the instrumental portion under the management of Prof. Scott, of Boston.

Messrs. Scott and Skinner, who are both well known in the musical world, each sang several comic songs, in a style which to be appreciated should be heard. Prof. Lovell of Portland also rendered essential service, and Prof. Neally, one of the best Bassos in Kittery, took part in several quartets with fine effect. Mrs. Trefethen, from Boston, kindly sang several pieces, to the delight of the audience; four young ladies, daughters of Mr. Pettigrew, sang very sweetly and were loudly applauded; Mrs. Graves gave the Song of the Old Folks with fine effect, and Miss Jenny Ford presided at the piano in her usual happy manner. It was a good time; the Hall was fairly filled; and we hope the managers will have a repetition of the concert next week, with a change of some of the pieces.

Yours. H. C*.

NEW PISCATAQUA BRIDGE.—It will be a source of much gratification to the travelling public to learn that the leading citizens of Dover and Portsmouth are earnestly discussing the project of a new bridge across the Piscataqua river. A well attended meeting to consider the subject was had one day last week at John P. Hanson's snug cottage "by the sea" at Dover Point, and prominent men—representing this city and old "Strawberry Bank,"—generally agreed that if the P. & D. R. R. is not to be built, public necessity demands the building at once of a bridge across the river either on the old site or at Dover Point, which is to be done by the two cities above named.

The whole matter will come before the legal voters of both places at the coming November city elections, previous to which, plans will be drawn and estimates made of the proposed work. Boston is reached with less difficulty to-day than Portsmouth; and as the railroad between us and Portsmouth is a "dead cock in the pit," our earnest sympathies are for building the bridge, which would once open up an easy and pleasant communication with our neighbors on the seaboard.—Dover Gazette.

☞ That "it's an ill wind that blows no one good," is illustrated by the fact that the late gale drove in thousands of cords of seaweed, which farmers are daily collecting all along the coast to be spread on their land to aid nature in producing future crops. Sea-weed, you know, is the silver lining of the cloud which a south east storm casts o'er the land.

☞ It is not exactly safe,—"sitting beneath the droppings of the sanctuary," in such gales as that of Wednesday. There's many a crack in the tall steeples of some churches, if not in their theology.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ BOSTON & MAINE RAILROAD.—At the annual stockholders meeting held at Lawrence on Wednesday, a resolution was adopted authorizing the directors, if they deem it expedient, to give consent to the issuing of new stock by the directors of the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad Company, in the manner provided by the vote adopted by the above-named corporation; and futhermore, that the directors of their corporation be invested with full power to aid in the premises.

The following name gentlemen were elected directors for the ensuing years; Francis Cogswell, Andover; Peter T. Homer, Boston; Nathaniel T. White, Lawrence; E. M. J. Hale, Haverhill; Geo. C. Lord, Boston; Amos Paul, So. New Market; and John E. Bickford, Dover.

COAL FOR NEW ENGLAND.—It is reported that the Hudson and Delaware Coal Company have completed arrangements to deliver 3000 tons of coal at Fishkill, N. Y., daily; and the Pennsylvania Coal Company have increased their delivery at Newburg, N. Y., to 1,200,000 tons per year to meet the wants of the New England trade, and to anticipate the opening of the Boston, Hartford and Erie Railroad.

☞ Squobbs thinks the current from the south east on Wednesday was sent to herald the approach of the Harvards after their "current and milk" campaign.

DENTAL NOTICE.

69 Congress Street, Portsmouth.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of Inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.

He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.

He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.

He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 30 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a specialty, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentures,) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.

All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.

Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY, For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT. Thirty Year Gold Loan, Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 227 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the Value of the Company's property, covered by this Issue, at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" " London....37 s. 10. "
" " Frankfort..87 fir. 30 krtrs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT, in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at 96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency, the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

☞ We are indebted to the courtesy of Mr. N. D. Miller for a copy of The Weekly Message, issued at Port Townsend, Washington Territory. The contents of the paper indicate a thriving state of affairs in that part of our country;—long lists of arrivals and departures of vessels, and advertisements of nearly all articles of necessity or luxury to be found in Portsmouth, including sewing machines, billiards, quack medicines, and "pure wines and liquors,"—and one article certainly not to be found at present in this city, a "first class hotel conducted on strict temperance principles,"—a notice of the "arrival of the first of the fishing fleet," and another of a grand concert by a band of Ethiopian delineators,—attest the commercial activity of the extreme West. We are permitted to publish the following letter, which needs no explanation. It is from the pen of our old friend Mr. Oliver F. Gerrish, whom we are glad to hear is flourishing so well.

PORT TOWNSEND, WASH. TER'Y.

Puget's Sound, on which I am situated, is one vast inland sea, extending back 140 miles, navigable its entire length for vessels of any class, and dotted all along its shore with villages, each of which has its sawmill, giving employment to large numbers of men in the mills and logging in the immense forests.

The future of this Sound is bound to be great, and the attention of capitalists is already turned towards it. A company has been formed in San Francisco, with Ben Halliday at the head, to build a railroad from Portland, Oregon, to the Sound, so as to control the China trade, as all vessels bound to San Francisco from China have to come into the latitude of the Sound, and a saving of from six to ten days will be effected by their coming here.

I have located some 2000 acres of land at different points on the Sound, which (if it does not amount to anything as the terminus of the Northern Pacific Railroad—which will be commenced at this end this fall,) will always be worth the government price—$1.25 per acre—for the timber alone, as the value of timber is only a question of time,—three million feet of lumber having been shipped from the Sound the past year.

I bought one tract of land for $250 in currency, and sold the timber on it for $500 in coin, and have the land and all the small wood left. More business is now being done at the land office in Washington Territory than in any other land office in the United States.

O. F. G——.

☞ A letter to Mr. Joseph F. Dennett from an old mining companion, has been obligingly handed to us for publication. From the extracts made below, it will be seen that gold-hunting in New Mexico is much the same as it has been in other places—good "finds" for the few and hard times for the many,—and that the Indians give the miners some trouble.

PINOS ALTOS, NEW MEXICO.

* * I will give you a few notes about this place. A man named Teeman amalgamated at the Pinos Altos mill for one month and three days, and took out $38,000 in gold; and then shut down to get new machinery, as the old did not save all the metal. He says he can save $15 more per ton of quartz with new than with the old appliances. Riverson mill is running on "custom" quartz-crushing for the people here.

* The Indians are very bad now, and have been ever since they killed Virgil Marston, between here and the fort. They have killed a number of Mexicans about here since that time, but no Americans,—though they have captured three of our mails lately while going to Turon, and killed three Mexicans. One man escaped from them and got in to the "membris" with only his shirt on. Three of our Pinos Altos boys, McNulty, a man named Jimmy and another, had a fight with the redskins. McNulty was killed,—the other two escaped, but have not got back here yet.

There has been much excitement here for the last month about gold. Melby and John Backus struck a pocket in a lead and took out quartz that was all full of gold, pounding it out in a hand mortar. I saw what they had got out, one day, and should think there was $200; but I could not tell positively, the gold was flattened out so in the mortar. Hart's party struck another pocket,—Hart said there were chunks as big as my fist, nearly all gold; they will not tell how much they make, as they are afraid of the income tax. I found a lead that I could see gold in all through, but it was rather narrow. All these leads are in the vicinity of Gold Mountain. * *

A number of farmers have settled about ten miles from Pinos Altos. The times are very hard now,—the worst I have seen since I got here. G. H. D.

DIFFERENCE IN THE BUTTER QUALITY OF COWS.—Some cows will make fine yellow butter; others will yield equally much or more, but it will be of a chalky, soft quality, and in summer frothy. This is in the cow, and we presume inherited. You cannot change it, however you may feed or treat the animal. The tenderest, sweetest grasses and white clover, and the greatest cleanliness and care, will have little or no effect: the butter will be white and soft and unfit for use, and can be passed off only when put (the milk or cream) with that of other or better cows.

This is our experience thoroughly. A brother of ours had two cows, one an excellent one, giving, early in the season, before pasture, twelve pounds a week of very superior butter. The cow, a three-years-old, having her second calf, was the daughter of a cow that used to make in June fifteen pounds of butter per week, and in quality unsurpassed. The daughter favored the mother in appearance also. Here was true hereditary descent of good qualities. But the other cow was of a different cast. She had the look somewhat of a Jersey, very quiet and pleasant, and a great yielder of milk. We used to call her the little Alderney. She supassed the other cow in the quantity of her milk, and richness also, it was thought. So a test was instituted. It was found, to the surprise of all, that the "little Alderney" made the very kind of butter we spoke of, white almost as the milk from which it was made, and so soft it could not be packed. That of the other cow now showed its perfect quality, solid, yellow, aromatic. It was this butter that saved the other and made it ordinarily good, but not superior, as was usual with cows kept on the premises. There are doubtless many such cows yielding bad butter, but apparently good milk, and it may be good for cheese. We have had them in our herds, first and last, quite a sprinkling of them. It is the business of every keeper of cows to see that these individuals are weeded out, or at least not bred from. In this way alone can the difficulty be got rid of. Avoid a male that has any suspicion of such blood in him, and dispose of the cow to the butcher.—Country Gentleman.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

CATAWBA, PORT, GRAPE and P. J. Sherry.

The above Wines are made by Mr. Speer, whose reputation as a wine grower stands pre-eminent. They are well established, and long known by the Medical Profession as the most reliable and valuable wines to be had.

Every family at this season should use

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,

celebrated in Spain and Portugal for its beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals and by the first families in Europe and America.

Excellent for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm, improving the appetite and benefitting the ladies and children.

AS A DIURETIC

It imparts a healthy action to the Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic affections. Also,

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE

is pure juice of the Oporto Grape, recommended by Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to California or Imported Wines.

SPEER'S STANDARD WINE BITTERS

The Best and Most Reliable Tonic and Bitters in the market, which is always the CHEAPEST.

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!

THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!

BENJAMIN NORTON,

Having been appointed Selling Agent for this City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of

THE BEST PAINT!

ever offered in this city.

It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,
Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON, Agent for Chemical Paint Company.

Also for sale, at the same place, the Best Quality of

MEATS AND GROCERIES!

AS LOW AS CAN BE BOUGHT IN THE CITY.

The Chronicle.

LOCKJAW CURED BY TOBACCO.—A writer in the Scientific American gives an instance of the cure of tetanus or lockjaw by an application of tobacco on the pit of the stomach. A soldier had been wounded in the foot, and having taking cold in it, tetanus ensued. The Major of the Tenth Indiana cavalry, of whose regiment the soldier was a member, casually learned his condition, and as it was a case of life or death anyhow (or rather certain death,) resolved to try an experiment and save him if possible. The man had the lockjaw more than forty hours; they had no medicines along (useless if they had); and the Major's only resource was a plug of navy tobacco. He cut off a square of it (about three inches square)' put it in a mess pan with boiling water until it was hot through and saturated with the water, taking it out allowing it to cool, so as not to blister, then flattening it out, he placed it on the pit of the man's stomach. In about five minutes the patient turned white around the lips, which also began to twitch—the man was getting very sick—and in nine or ten minutes his jaws fell open. Indeed, it seemed as if the patient would fall apart and go to pieces, so utterly was his muscular system relaxed. The tobacco was immediately removed and some whiskey gruel given to stimulate him. Next day the man was taken along in an ambulance, and in a few days mounted his horse all right, as bold a "soger boy" as any. So much for a dead man.

It seems necessary in this disease to produce nausea, or sickness of the stomach, to cause the rigid muscles to relax. It is very difficult or almost impossible to administer internal medicines, and some external application becomes necessary to produce nausea, and this is furnished by the tobacco. The Major found afterwards that damp tobacco applied to any part of the body would produce sickness, but much more quickly, of course, when applied to the stomach.

The editor of the Scientific American, in commenting on the above case, remarks that the remedy proposed is one of great power, and would need to be used with extreme caution, to avoid fatally nicotizing the patient.

MARRIAGE CEREMONY.—The following curious custom of the Nestorian Christians is commended to the attention of the young gentlemen and young ladies of our country who propose to commit matrimony. After the marriage ceremony is performed, the wedding party is taken in wagons from the church to the house of the bridegroom's father. When the second wagon, in which the bride is seated alone, reaches the gate opening into the yard in which the house is situated, it is halted, and the bridegroom's mother comes to meet it, with a baby and three suits of baby clothes in her arms.

She throws the child and the clothes into the arms of the bride, who is required to dress and undress the baby three times in the presence of her mother-in-law, who watches every movement as only a mother-in-law can watch a daughter-in-law. If the newly-made bride does not perform the operation to the satisfaction of her severe judge, she is considered unfit for her new position, the wagon turned around and she is taken back home for further instruction, and the poor bridegroom is compelled to live in single blessedness until his wife is educated up to the proper standard.

HOGS WANT SULPHUR.—Whether hogs require sulphur as an essential to their health, or whether it is sought by them as a condiment, may not be known for certainty. But one thing is sure, they devour it with greed whenever it is to be found. It is for this purpose, probably, that they eat large quantities of soft coal, which contains a large amount of sulphur. Perhaps this is the most economical method of supplying hogs with sulphur during the winter, when they require a good deal of carbon. But in the summer, it is better to feed it to them in substances which contain less carbon, on account of their producing less heat. Mustard is one of the best things for his purpose, and on that account some of it should be sown in every pasture into which hogs are turned. If hogs are kept up, or are in small yards, it is well to supply them with the wild mustard that grows in the fields or highways, or to cultivate some of the better varieties for them. They will eat its leaves, flowers, seeds, and stalks.—Prairie Farmer.

—The Hartford Evening Post says a kind word in behalf of prohibitory law, and refers to a dreadful tragedy at Port Jervis, N. Y., to show that moral suasion is not all that we want. A prominent merchant of that place, while about his business, was disturbed by the entrance of a neighbor who was drunk. This man when sober, was kindhearted and genial, but now he was drunk, and the merchant trying to have him leave the store, was suddenly shot dead by the enraged and thoughtless inebriate. The son of the merchant, seeing what had happened, flew at the drunkard with an axe and killed him. Here were two murders, by men who had never thought of murder before, all brought on, as in a moment, by the effects of strong drink.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES as cause the VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet restores to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

The News.

Maine election, to-day.

The great gale of Wednesday evening was very destructive to the shipping along the Atlantic coast north of Cape Cod. A great many lives have been lost. In one instance only two men of a crew of eighteen were saved.

President Grant and family are in New York.

Chavez, Republican, is elected delegate to Congress from New Mexico.

One of the Montana stage robbers has been killed and another wounded. One of their pursuers was also killed.

Napoleon is out again.

The Pope is endeavoring to have the negroes in America converted to Catholicism.

The expenditures of the government for the fiscal year just ended were less than $385,000,000, against $1,070,000,000 for the year before, and nearly as low as in 1862.

The commissioners for the settlement of the claims of the Hudson's Bay and Puget Sound companies have made their awards to those companies, which surrender all their possessory rights to the United States in Oregon and Washington Territory.

Advices from Cuba are favorable to the insurgents. The ranks of the Spanish are becoming decimated by losses in battle, disease and desertions.

The New-York subscriptions to the fund for the family of the late General Rawlins amount to $37,511.

The Boston Coliseum is to be repaired.

The gale on Wednesday extended to New Brunswick.

Special dispatches from Scranton state that it is believed there that the fire in the Avondale mine was of incendiary origin. It was set in the middle of the partition in the shaft. It is said that threats have lately been freely made by the Irish against the Welsh miners because the latter would not actively join the recent strikes. Of those killed over a hundred were Welsh.

Hon. John Bell of Tennessee, who headed the Bell & Everett ticket in 1860, and went with the rebels in 1861, died at Cumberland, Tenn., on Friday, aged 72 years.

CUBA.—Letters from Cuba give the following account of the battle near Los Tunas on the 16th ult:—A reconnoitering party was sent out by General Quesada numbering 300 men. On the afternoon of the same day this force was attacked by a largely superior force, but succeeded, with a loss of 55 in killed, wounded and missing, in regaining the main body. The commanding general immediately prepared for an attack, which did not take place until the 18th. In the morning of that day General Valmazeda was reported as approaching with a large force of cavalry, artillery and infantry, and preparations were immediately made to receive him. Shortly after sunrise the Spanish forces made their appearance, and immediately commenced the fight with artillery. The artillery made but little impression upon the Cuban army, when the infantry were brought up and a charge upon the Cuban position ordered. The Cubans reserved their fire until the Spaniards came within range, when the order to fire was given, and it was so effective that the Spanish line was thrown into disorder and compelled to fall back under protection of artillery.

After some three hours, the attack was renewed by Valmazeda's entire force, numbering as was reported by deserters, over 4000 effective men, more than one-half regular troops. The Cuban force was about 6000, of whom 4000 were well armed. The contest lasted five hours, when Valmazeda was forced to give way and fell back on his fortifications at Los Tunas. The loss of Cubans was, killed 72, among them several officers whose names are not given: wounded severely, 107; slightly wounded, 150; missing 47. The loss of the Spaniards is reported, in killed and wounded, at over 600. Two hundred of their dead and wounded were left on the field. There were nearly 400 deserters and 270 prisoners captured. The deserters report that General Valmazeda had all his available force in this engagement and had 82 pieces of artillery of the most approved character, six of which were 24-pounder rifled Parrott guns, with two regiments of cavalry and six brigades of infantry. The Cubans had only 13 pieces artillery of small calibre, with no effectively-equipped cavalry. The result of this battle, which has been the first of importance since the commencement of the revolution, causes great rejoicing in the Cuban army and among those on the island who sympathize with their movement.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

BOSTON Sept., 9.

Until last night, the movement of real estate which has attracted most attention in Boston was the movement of the large Hotel Pelham, to widen Tremont street. Not only was the immense structure moved without a crack, but the very sidewalk was moved with it, to the great astonishment of the crowd of overseers who daily gathered to witness the operation.

Last evening real estate was rather more active in its movements. At 6 o'clock the storm was perfectly magnificent, and a passage through the streets a somewhat arduous as well as risky undertaking. The rain, driven in great sheets, blinded the wayfarer; his umbrella, unless closed, was quickly used up; while the clatter of falling bricks, slates, signs, &c., warned him that inanimate objects felt the fury of the storm, and led him to hug closely to the buildings, lest he might get a "brick in his hat" despite the efficiency of Major Jones in enforcing the Prohibitory law. The Coliseum, where we had the great blow for peace in June, went down into an almost shapeless mass before a bigger blow in the war of elements. The roof and a portion of the walls, at each end, are destroyed, but the main walls are strong as ever.

For two hours or so the air was filled with flying debris of all kinds, then the storm died away and quiet reigned where Boreas had rioted and Pluvius had rained. Of the damage to beautiful trees, fine orchards, churches, houses and ships; of the loss of life and property, the papers have given you a surfeit.

The return of wanderers, from seaside and mountain, has once more given the city a look of life, and the renewed energy they bring with them should make itself felt in business before long. M.

☞ At the Portland (New England) Fair, Friday, the attendance was estimated at 18,000, including lots of the fair sex. Dr. Loring delivered the Address.—a homily on Protection to home industries. There were three or four trots, but only one of general interest—that open to all horses for a purse of $1000, the first horse to receive $700 and the second $300, and all the four horses entered came forward when called on. These were India Rubber Ben, McClellan, Troublesome and Topsey (Empress)—all Boston horses except Troublesome of Westbrook, Me. There was not much speculation on the result, McClellan being the favorite against the field at evens; but India Rubber Ben won in 2:36, 2:37, 2:36 1-4, Troublesome taking the first heat in 2:37 1-4, and so getting second money, though Empress came in second on three heats.

On Stallions for general use, the first premium was given to John S. Poor of Somerville, Mass., for "Draco Prince," second to Thomas S. Lang of Vassalboro', Me., for Gen. Knox. Mr. Lang remarked to Mr. Poor when the award was made, that he considered Draco Prince the finest stock horse in New England, but we think Fearnaught Prince needs not to fear him a bit.

The Portland Press states the total receipts at $20,000 to $25,000, leaving a handsome balance over expenses.

Among the notable animals we saw, was a large black and white Dutch cow from Mr. Cheney's herd,—her daily yield being stated at 57 quarts.

AN IMMENSE GRAPEVINE.—The Santa Barbara (Cal.) Press correspondent says:—

I have seen the big grapevine. The owner says it is forty-two years old. The trunk is nearly circular, and at ten inches from the ground is thirty-nine inches in circumference; at three feet from the ground, the smallest place, it measures thirty-six inches; and at five feet it measures forty-six inches in circumference; immediately above measurement it swells out much larger and parts into branches. It is supported by a framework six to seven feet high, containing sixty-six posts from three to eight inches in diameter, and covers about 4,320 square feet of ground. Several of the limbs are nine feet in circumference at thirty feet from the trunk, and one of the branches at forty-eight feet from the trunk, is seven and three eighths inches in circumference. It now has over 5,000 clusters of grapes on it growing finely. The owner, and others familiar with it tell me that the clusters will average, when ripe, about two and a half pounds each; but call them two pounds each, and it makes over five tons of fruit from one vine in one year. Several persons made estimates on it last year, when the fruit was ripening, by counting the clusters on ten feet square, and weighing some average clusters. Their estimates varied from four to six tons. This is probably the largest grape vine in the world.

VOICES OF THE NIGHT!—A melancholy genius thus muses and amuses:

"If a cat doth meet a cat upon the garden wall, and if a cat doth greet a cat, oh! need they both to squall? Every Tommy hath got his Tabby, waiting on the wall, and yet she welcomes his approach by one unearthly yawl. If a kit doth wish to court a rock upon the wall, why don't he sweetly sit and smile, and not stand up and bawl; and lift his precious back up high, and show his teeth and moan; as if 'twere colic more than love that made the 'fellar' groan. Among the train there is a swain: his voice is known full well; but what's his name or where's his 'hame,' the deuce alone can tell. He is sweet upon the other sex, his amorous passions rise, he can't resist the tender glance of their seductive eyes; and so, with groans and horrid threats, he rends the evening air, and makes these midnight 'rendezvous' impossible to bear.

—The tide forced its way through an old sewer into the excavation for the foundation of the new post-office building during Sunday night, and work was somewhat delayed next morning in consequence. A typo employed on a morning paper explored the place in the darkness and mistook the smooth surface of some water, which filled a hole about eight feet deep and six feet square, for a dry place. A companion who was with him heard a splash, but could see nothing, for the typo went to bottom like a stone. He was drawn out safely though very much astonished.—Boston Adv.

GENERAL ORDER.—In accordance with a petition from the several yard employees, Secretary Robeson has ordered that payments be made semi-monthly, and dues will hereafter be paid the workmen on the 10th and 25th of each ensuing month. This will prove a great and long needed convenience to the men employed, and necessitate, too, an increase of labor for the time clerks, in making out promptly the semi-monthly payrolls of each Department.

THE GETTYSBURG.—The many and severe cases of sickness which have prevailed on board this vessel have entirely disappeared under the faithful management of the Doctor in charge. Only two cases of yellow fever, and these of a light form, are now under treatment at the hospital on Wood Island. The Gettysburg will probably be released from quarantine the coming week.

THE PORTSMOUTH BAPTIST ASSOCIATION, comprising delegates from the fifteen Calvin Baptist Churches in this section of the State, convenes its forty-first annual session at Strafham on Wednesday and Thursday.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The dark veil again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

☞ We have lately tried Speer's wine, at his place at Passaic, N. J. It is a pure article from the juice, cultivated, prepared and fermented, without the addition of any spirits, and especially good for those who object on principle to stimulants, as it has all the properties of warmth and energy which occasionally render a resort to them absolutely medicinal. Each vintage must lay four years before put in market. His success is remarkable, as it is being ordered by families, merchants, and druggists, from all parts of the country, from South America, England, and even from the wine districts of France.—*Frank Leslie's Illust. The Fever and Ague Season.

When the leaves begin to change, remittent and intermittent fevers make their appearance. From the surface of the earth, bathed nightly in heavy dews, from marches and swamps surcharged with moisture, from the dying foliage of the woods, from festering pools and sluggish streams, the malarious poison, borne on white clouds in the vapor portions to health and life. The body, deprived by the burning temperature of July and August of much of its vigor and elasticity is not in a proper plight to resist miasma; and hence the diseases that are produced by a depraved condition of the atmosphere are particularly prevalent in the Fall.

There is no reason why the health of thousands of people should be thus sacrificed. A preparatory course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is a certain protection against the epidemics and endemics which Autumn brings in its train. Let all dwellers in unhealthy localities, who are about visitations give heed to the warning and advice conveyed in this advertisement, and they may bid defiance to the foul exhalations which are now rising night and day, from the earth around them. No family or house in the land should be without this invaluable exhilarant and invigorant at any period of the year, but especially in the Fall. It is not safe to go forth into the chill misty atmosphere of a September morning or evening with the stomach unfortified by a tonic, and of all the tonics which medical chemistry has yet given to the world, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are a limited to be the purest, the most wholesome and most beneficial.

Let all who desire to escape the bilious attacks, bowel complaints and malarious fevers, take the BITTERS at least twice a day throughout the prevalence of the season as a preventive as infallible. Look to the trade-mark, "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," engraved on the label and embossed on the bottle, and their revenue stamp, covering the cork, as counterfeits and imitations abound. s8

CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS for Diseases of the Liver, or to act as a gentle Purgative.

All of these three medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and by giving the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These medicines are conscientiously offered to the public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedies for Pulmonary Consumption, and for all those diseases of the stomach and body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and are usually many manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been through a period of more than thirty-five years, in all of which time its reputation has constantly increased, and the most inveterate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases in which admit of a cure.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of the medicine has saved the life of the patient, and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck himself was cured in precisely such circumstances, and many others have been equally fortunate by judiciously making a timely use of Dr. Schenck's remedies.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts, that obeying the following simple and plain sanitary rules, such as a violent cough, creeping chills, night sweats, and general debility, even to such a degree that they are obliged to lie in bed, and when they are able to sit up by their physicians, they are still be cured. No medical treatment can create new lungs, but when the lungs are very badly diseased, and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicines.

Also in Scrofulous diseases these medicines are eminently efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been nearly covered with running sores, and now all healed up. This shows its purifying properties, which must be done to heal cavities in the lungs.

In the treatment of Consumption, it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone in the system. Hence it is necessary to strengthen the appetite of the patient and improve the digestion. A healthy nourishment is required, together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most suitable for this object of common use are fully explained in Dr. Schenck's Almanac, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most nutritious articles are to be preferred; but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This requirement is met by the Sea Weed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designed.

When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect, the system of the patient has improved, and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing powers of the Pulmonic Syrup will commence its work.

Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel or "blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral poison. These pills cure the most obstinate costiveness, sick headache, piles, bilious affections, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the liver. One box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption, the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable auxiliary medicines. They have the effect of relieving the patient and assist the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, where the lungs were almost entirely destroyed, and all symptoms, according to the judgement of physicians, indicated speedy death. Lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.

DR. SCHENCK'S Almanac, containing a full treatise on the various diseases of the lungs, and the mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicine, can be had gratis or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, each, $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen; Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggist and dealers.

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited troubled with pain in the side, head-ache, and a constant feeling of weariness. The immediate and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all others proceeding from biliousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Of all anti-bilious medicines they are safest, prompt and best. THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medicine.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand cures and testimonials

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds now administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Wholesale agent, John F. HENRY, No. 8 College Place, New York City.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was as well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, O. J. FAY, P. M."

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1869.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I became a citizen in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with more success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with the whole success in the cases during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. OSAS. HARDING, Shelapore, India." an20

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to persons requiring a safe and certain tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States and in all the British Provinces and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patent, to persons requiring a safe and certain dispatch. Researches made into American and foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE CREEK CESSPOOL.—We wonder how long before our citizens can sing,

"Believing, we rejoice
To see the curse removed?"

THEATRE.—Mr. E. M. Leslie's company, with Miss Kate Reignolds, will appear at the Temple, next Thursday evening, in "Kathleen Mavourneen" and a farce.

☞ The Post Office Department has acceded to the request of Postmaster Peirce to detail a clerk from the office in this city to assort the morning mail from Boston on the cars, by which ten or fifteen minutes of valuable time is saved. This affords ample opportunity to answer letters received by the 10 o'clock train in season for the mail which closes at 11 o'clock, A. M. The new arrangement went into effect on Saturday, Mr. Win. Ayers being detailed for the special duty.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Thursday evening, (the Mayor and Ald. Spinney absent,—Ald. Miller in chair,) Com. on School Houses reported $500 estimated cost of fitting chamber over new State St. Ward Room, with new furniture for Primary and Intermediate scholars now entombed (according to Ald. Nowell's idea) beneath the Court House. After some discussion, it was unanimously voted to give said Com. the power to act in the matter.

Ald. Miller having informed the Board that Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, executor of the will of Mrs. Cutts, desired at some time to confer with the Board relative to the improvement of Richards Avenue,—it was voted that the City Clerk be authorized to invite Mr. H. to attend the next meeting for that purpose.

The Creek Cess-pool was stirred up again by Ald. Nowell, and the Com. on Streets given another week to report the amount they can raise from owners and neighbors to abate the nuisance—to "out the d—d spot." Ald. Slater reported that this sink of iniquity belongs to Messrs. H. Eldredge and Geo. Bilbrook, and that he had not seen Capt. Eldredge, but Mr. Bilbrook appeared very willing to help remove the crying evil.

Ald. Slater said the Com. called on Mr. Jarvis, the nearest neighbor, who refused to do anything towards improving matters—stating that the City is bound to furnish him with a drain for his premises, and that he will continue to empty his waste water into the common sewer, as Mr. Swindell did before him, and if stopped therefrom, will enter suit against the city.

Ald. Slater questioned Mr. Jarvis' right to do this, but had no doubt but the vile stench of the infernal pit under discussion, was caused by the breweries. And he thought there were two more similar stinking drains brewing, too,—those from Messrs. Fisher & Eldredge's establishment, on the opposite side of the railroads, at the Creek,—which, by the way, is really no Creek at all now, and has not been for some years. He stated that these other drains were fast filling up with the same sediment that causes the trouble in the big ditch. He thought the brewers ought to be obliged to carry their drains under ground to low water mark.

Ald. Slater said that Mr. Bilbrook asked what the City would do about the culvert running under the railroads, and he replied that without doubt the City would put it in order.

Ald. Miller stated that he had seen Capt. Eldredge, and he was not prepared to say whether he would take any action in the matter or not—but he felt that the breweries were unjustly blamed in this connection, as the one with which he was connected did not drain a drop into the pool; and it was the Railroads that caused all the trouble, by filling in earth under their bridges, and they were the parties that should redress the evil—and he thought they would do so, if properly applied to.

Geo. F. Hough's bill for damages to land and trees in laying out Freeman's Point highway, (in addition to $1 awarded each of the abuttors,) was referred to Com. on Claims. Amt. $75.

Bill of W. J. Small and C. S. B. Mayo, of $15, for picking up and handling a body in the water off Rye, which was recognized as that of Michael Johnson,—was returned to petitioners, it being stated that they had already received $25 from Government for the service.

John Sullivan Rand, for Constable and Police Officer, and Samuel M. Joy for Supernumerary, both receiving all the votes cast, were elected.

On motion of Ald. Nowell, the joker of the Board, it was unanimously voted that when they adjourn, it be to meet immediately at Tilletts', at the expense of the Chairman for the evening. Adjourned for one week.

THE GRAND CLAM BAKE so long looked forward to, comes off next Thursday at Hanson's Hotel, Dover Point. Admiral Butler commands the hosts and has arranged the trips of the Appledore to be made from this city to the Point at 9 and 11 o'clock, A. M., returning at 3 and 5 o'clock, P. M. Tickets for the excursion and as many clams as you can eat, $1. Let's all go.

☞ Sch. N. P. Reed, of Newcastle, Capt. White, safely rode out the gale off Portland, Wednesday evening. The Reed is of 30 tons measurement. Capt. White declares this the heaviest gale he has experienced at sea for 30 years, and thinks his little vessel would not have held together much longer. As it was he lost his sails and was obliged to stave his bulwarks to let out the water shipped. The vessel was loaded with fish.

DENTAL NOTICE.

69 Congress Street. Portsmouth.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short; it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.

He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.

He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.

He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 10 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a specialty, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentures,) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.

All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.

Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $33 (gold) each half year.
" London....£7 8s. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 fr. 30 krtzs. "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

New Hampshire Items.

The Patriot says that John C. Clough, of Concord, when a boy and living in Dunbarton, laid twenty-two and a half rods of good stone wall in a day, without assistance. While on this job, he laid twenty rods a day for several days in succession. The same paper states, apparently without compunction, that in one day he pitched on, drove to the barn and unloaded twenty-one loads of hay, estimated to average a ton each, between 10 o'clock A. M., and 7 P. M.

At what is called the Neck, at Marblehead, Mass., where people from Nashua, have built up a small summer village, called "Nashua Village," the wind made havoc, on Wednesday night. Nearly all of the houses were injured, and one was completely blown down, killed a man named Frank Barrett, who had only came down from Nashua, Tuesday evening. He was about 30 years old and leaves a wife and three children living in Nashua. The distress of the inhabitants of the houses was very great and no one knew what to do. To remain in the houses seemed almost certain injury or death, and the chances were not much better outside.

Horace Sessions of Fisherville, has a dwarf pear tree, of the Duchess d'Angouleme species, that has leaved and blossomed twice this season. The first time was at the usual time in the spring. About the middle of August the first leaves turned yellow, and one afternoon they all dropped off within an hour. Since then new leaves have come out and the tree is now in blossom.

The annual Second Advent camp meeting at Alton Bay commenced on Sunday, the 5th inst., with an unusually large attendance. There are now nearly one hundred wooden buildings on the grounds, more than twenty-five of which were erected the present year, and about two hundred canvas tents.

Abbott Lovejoy, of Baltimore, Md., was arrested in Milford on the 4th inst., charged with illegal vending of Kentucky lottery tickets. He was arrested and taken back to Baltimore by U. S. Marshal Patterson.

A Centennial Celebration came off at Brookline, on Wednesday, Sept., 8;—it was well attended, but the heavy rain in the afternoon, shortened the exercises, and sent the people home. There was a drenching rain in that vicinity on Tuesday night.

In the interior of our State, there was more rain on Wednesday, (day and evening) than we had on the coast.—but the wind was not so violent.

THE AVONDALE MINING TRAGEDY.—The New York Journal of Commerce, in an article on the subject of the responsibility for the sad accident which happened at the Avondale coal mine, says:

"It fills the heart with anguish to think of two hundred souls, full of life and hope, suddenly confronted with the great destroyer and burned or stifled to death, far beyond the aid of human arm, and dying with their miseries unsoothed by the tender ministrations of families and friends. For the sorrowing wives and children of the unhappy men of Avondale the keenest pity will be widely felt, and sweet charity will do all it can to relieve the distress in which they are plunged. Commiseration will also be felt for the owners of the mine, who, by this sudden blow, may have lost a large part of their property.

And yet it is our plain duty, for the protection of other mines and other miners, to impress upon the public the one obvious moral of the dreadful story, and to reaffirm that the responsibility for such occurrences chiefly rests upon employers and employed together. Had the men in the Avondale mine not been on an idle strike for over three months, resuming work only last Thursday; had the mine not been neglected during that long period; had the strikers devoted a quarter of the attention to the condition of the mine and the prevention of accidents that they did to forcing an increase of wages; had the mine owners been anything like as solicitous for the safety of their property and the miners as they were of getting higher prices for their coal, the Avondale horror might never have affrighted the world, and the poor miners would be today peacefuly pursuing their useful avocation in the full enjoyment of health. It is a painful duty to say, in the face of such misery, that it was brought upon the sufferers by their own thoughtlessness, but a solemn concern for the interests of the living compels its utterance.

—Princeton College has reopened with an accession of over one hundred new students, and with a total on the rolls of three hundred and four; the largest number in the history of the institution at the commencement of the college year.

—The coal fields of Alabama are 1000 square miles in area, and are tapped, fifty miles north of Selma, by the Rome, Selma, and Dalton railroad. Very little, comparatively had been done yet to develop the immense deposits.

—The jealous man is always hunting for something he don't expect to find, and after he has found it, he is mad but cause he has. He is always happy just in proportion as he is miserable.

—When Dr. Woods of Andover—then plain Mister— was ordained at Newbury, he read an unusually long Confession of Faith; whereat Rev. Dr. Osgood of Medford, exclaimed—"Ah! you believe ten times as much now, as you will when you are as old as I am." Dr. Osgood was then 51, and Mr. Woods 24. Apropos of Dr. Osgood. He once had a young candidate to preach in his pulpit, who, he thought, needed "taking down." He did it in this way. "I observed," he said "that you committed your discourse to memory. I sometimes do that myself—but never unless I think the sermon is worth committing!"—Congregationalist.

—Dr. Azel Backus of Somers, Conn., having spoken freely against Mr. Jefferson at one time, was prosecuted for a libel. In going to court at Hartford, he rode a remarkably fleet horse, so that the marshal in whose charge he was, had great difficulty in keeping up with him, until, — out of all patience—he spurred his own animal up as near as he could, and cried out; "what makes you in such a hurry, Mr. Backus; you ride as if the devil was after you?" "Just so, just so," was all the answer Mr. B. vouchsafed, as he kept on at the same swinging pace.—Congregationalist.

—It was lately stated that a part of St. Paul, Minnesota, is built on a quicksand. In clearing away the debris of a blast at a bluff, the workmen were astonished to see the entire mass slip away and disappear beneath the surface. It fell into a deep basin of water, which even after the deposit of rock, was from seven to ten feet deep. The basin is supposed to be of considerable extent.

—Rev. William Robinson of Southington, Conn., well illustrated the old New England notion of the relative position of minister and people when he said as a fellow tutor at Yale remarked, before his ordination, "So you are to be settled over the people at Southington, I hear,"—"yes, if I am settled at Southington, it will be over the people there and not under them."

—Western hens are still laying eggs with pictures of the eclipse on the shell.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

CATAWBA, PORT, GRAPE and P. J. Sherry.

The above Wines are made by Mr. Speer, whose reputation as a wine grower stands pre-eminent. They are well established, and long known by the Medical Profession as the most reliable and valuable wines to be had.

Every family at this season should use

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,

celebrated in Spain and Portugal for its beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals and by the first families in Europe and America.

Excellent for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm, improving the appetite and benefitting the ladies and children.

AS A DIURETIC

it imparts a healthy action to the Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic affections. Also,

SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE

is pure juice of the Oporto Grape, recommended by Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to California or Imported Wines.

SPEER'S STANDARD WINE BITTERS

The Best and Most Reliable Tonic and Bitters in the market, which is always the CHEAPEST.

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!

THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!

BENJAMIN NORTON,

Having been appointed Selling Agent for this City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of

THE BEST PAINT!

ever offered in this city.

It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given: but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,

Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON, Agent for Chemical Paint Company.

Also for sale, at the same place, the Best Quality of

The Chronicle.

My Cross.

It is not heavy, agonizing woe,
Bearing me down with hopeless, crushing weight,
No ray of comfort in the gathering gloom,
A heart bereaved—a household desolate.

It is not sickness, with her withering hand,
Keeping me low upon a couch of pain;
Longing each morning for the weary night—
At night for the weary day to come again.

Is not slander, with her evil tongue,
'Tis no presumptuous sin against my God,
Not reputation lost, nor friends betrayed,—
That such is not my cross I thank my God.

Mine is a daily cross of petty cares,
Of little duties pressing on my heart,
Of little troubles hard to reconcile,
Of inward struggles—overcome in part,

My feet are weary in their daily round,
My heart is weary of its daily care,
My sinful nature often doth rebel;
I pray for grace my daily cross to bear.

It is not heavy, Lord, yet oft I pine;
It is not heavy, but 'tis everywhere,
By day and night each hour my cross I bear;
I dare not lay it down—Thou keep'st it there.

I dare not lay it down. I only ask
That, taking up my daily cross, I may Follow my Master humbly, step by step,
Through clouds and darkness, unto perfect day.

TEN HOURS, OR ELEVEN.—The Suncook Valley Times has the following remark, under the head of "An Injudicious Move."

The decision to demand eleven hours of the workmen on the Railroad, was, we think, a bad one. No corporation or private individual ever had more faithful and determined workers than were at work on this end of the road; they numbered some of our very best men, who, by their own spirit and energy could infuse energy into any body around them and the work was progressive as no such enterprise ever did before.

They did all that men ought to do in a day, and many of them and their teams had some distance to go, and to be on the spot in season, had to be up early and late, and when another hour was demanded of them, they felt it was too much, and at once laid down the shovel and the hoe, and the work for the time is almost to a stand still.

Men can probably be found to work eleven or even twelve hours, but we doubt if any set of hands will do as much in a day by a good deal, as was being done under the ten hour system.

A NOVEL IDEA.—Now that the government is likely to discharge a liberal amount of its debt, and our national finances are not in the fog and mists of Andy Johnson's creation, there are those who begin to question the morality of the government in discounting its own paper! Secretary Boutwell is doing just what any bank president will do for the stockholders of a bank. The strict morality of many transactions has never yet been seen—as the jew said, business is business, but the banking business that is governed by any christian code of morals has not yet been developed.

When government was selling bonds at a great loss, no man objected to buying them as cheaply as he could. Just now, government having plenty of spare capital is buying back its bonds at a marked discount. Capitalists, in want of this spare money, do not object to selling, and the interests of the government and the business of the country is well served thereby.—Amesbury Villager.

POULTICE FOR DRY HARD HOOFS—DRAFT FOR FEET AND LUNGS OF CHILDREN.—A subscriber in East Taunton wants to know what to do for his horse's feet. I should not use cow manure—think it will create more fever, but would make a poultice of corn meal and soft soap, bind a quantity while warm all around the hoof, top and bottom. Let this be on over night or longer; it will soften the foot the best of anything I know of. If the heels are contracted, there is a patent shoe, made like any shoe except a small lip or spur turned up on the inside near the heel (each side) and the shoe made weak a little back of the toe cork on each side. The shoe is now nailed on and then spread with a pair of tongs a little; do this while the hoof is soft; and in a few days a little more. Don't spread too much at a time. After you get the hoof soft, keep it so by keeping him off the hard floor.

And I may as well say here that a poultice made of soft soap and corn meal with a little water, and in severe cases a little mustard, is one best drafts for the feet or lungs of children. Mothers, try it on your little ones when they have a good deal of fever and cough, so you "can't sleep of nights." Put the drafts on feet and breast. Don't put in but little mustard, so they can keep it on all night. It is well to oil the bottom of the feet and across the lungs first with hen's oil, or lard is very good. —N. E. Farmer.

—A curiosity was lately found in a coal bank near Knoxville, Tenn. It is a kettle, probably of iron or some other hard substance, but from long rusting has become like stone. It was encased in a bed of slate stone, just above the coal bed, twenty-six feet beneath the surface.

A WORK descriptive of the VIRTUES, and the VICES, the MYSTERIES, MISERIES and CRIMES of NEW YORK CITY.
If you wish to know how fortunes are made and lost in a day; how Shrewd Men are ruined in Wall St.; how Strangers are humbugged by Sharpers; how Ministers and Merchants are blackmailed; how Dance Halls and Concert Saloons are managed; how Gambling Houses and Lotteries are conducted, how Stock and Oil Companies originate, how the Bubbles Burst, read this work. It contains 35 fine engravings, and all about the Mysteries and Crimes of New York, and is the Spiciest and Cheapest work published.
Only $2.50 Per Copy.
Agents are meeting with unprecedented success. One in Marlborough, Mass., reports 36 subscribers in a day. One in Marlden, Ch., 69 in two days. Send for Circulars and Specimen pages of the work. Address JONES BROTHERS & CO., 135 Washington St. Boston, Mass. 4wau23

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a sure Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thorough
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet restores to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Giving stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 14, 1869.

THE MAINE ELECTION took place on Monday. The Republican candidate for Governor was the present incumbent of that office, Gen. Joshua L. Chamberlain; the Democratic candidate was Gen. Franklin Smith; and there was a Temperance candidate, Hon. N. G. Hichborn, who did not get many votes.

From scattering returns it is evident that Chamberlain is elected by nearly as large a majority as last year. York County has chosen the Republican ticket by 500 majority.

The legislature is largely Republican and will therefore elect a Republican U. S. Senator to fill the vacancy made by the death of Hon. W. P. Fessenden.

We append the votes of adjoining towns, for which we are indebted to the lady operator of the International Telegraph Company, and C. E. Shedd & Co.

VOTE OF KITTERY, MONDAY.

For Governor.

Chamberlain 415	Smith 101	Hichborn 3

Senator.

Hanson 419	Eastman 103	scat 2
Neallcy 416	Spinney 103
Roberts 419	Bragdon 103

Duncan 416	Williams 102

Last year, Kittery gave Chamberlain 291 votes, Pillsbury, 196. Republican majority on Monday, was 312, a Republican gain of 217. Well done, Kittery!

Eliot, Chamberlain 218, Smith 192. Republican gain, 67.

York, Chamberlain 235, Smith 161. Republican gain, 101.

Portland, C. 1799, S. 829, H. 140.

Biddeford, C. 499, S. 656, H. 41.

John A. Dennett, Dem., of So. Berwick, is elected Representative to the legislature for Eliot and So. Berwick, by 16 majority.

Saco, 261 Republican majority.

Biddeford, Sept. 13.—We have carried York County by a large majority; half of the county heard from. Berwick and North Berwick elect a Republican Representative. We gain 26 in this city. Hichborn's vote in the county is estimated at less than 150.

There is a horse chestnut tree in Nashua that early in the spring leaved out as usual. When the dry weather came on, the leaves turned yellow, rolled together and fell off. After the rain a few days ago, the tree began to re-leaf, and now it has leaves about three inches long hanging from it.

The Police of Concord seized 19 casks of brandy, whiskey, rum and gin, as the property of one McDermott, who keeps a Saloon. The liquors are said to be worth $3,000. A lawsuit will show how the law touches the case.

PUT YOURSELVES IN THEIR PLACES.—The Avondale calamity, by which more than a hundred miners lost their lives, has furnished another opportunity for the display of that high privilege of fault finding which people of all grades indulge in thoughtlessly and inconsistently. The growlers in any community are generally the majority, and when anything occurs which gives them a chance to show their superior wisdom, they do not hesitate to open their mouths with swift denunciation.

Is the price of coal increased a dollar per ton, there is straightway a howl from one end of the land to the other, and the coal companies and miners are instantly condemned—found guilty without a trial. To raise the price of coal is almost committing a sin unpardonable. The sufferings of the poor are dwelt upon, the peculiar wickedness of the miners in ceasing work and the companies in not securing new employees in place of the old, is enlarged upon until half the writers and talkers convince the other half that they are suffering extortion from the greed of the miners and companies.

It is well known that a miner's occupation is a dangerous one, even at the best. Their work, hundreds of feet beneath the surface of the earth, is laborious and tends to shorten life. That they should demand extra wages is reasonable; that they should cease work, at times, for their own health and for the sake of compelling their employers to raise their pay, is natural. Human nature is much the same, the world over. The growlers, if they were miners, would do as the miners do. They would realize that the extra hazard deserves extra compensation.

Now a new aspect presents itself and the growlers against extortionate rates forget the poor they have condoled with and declare that the miners should be protected from such horrible catastrophes as that at Avondale, by sinking two shafts instead of one in all mines. This is well enough, but it would double the first cost of the coal at the mines and add several dollars to the price of each ton delivered in our cities and towns. Then wouldn't the growlers be in their element! "If there is loss of life, there should be proper protection for the future," they growl; and should proper protection be afforded and the prices enhanced in consequence, then they will growl to their hearts' content. Acting on the old saying that corporations have no souls and that they will make all the money they can, it is not to be supposed that the mining companies will voluntarily adopt the suggestions for increasing the first cost of coal while there is much competition. The late disaster will soon be forgotten, the growling corps will still find it easier to find fault than to accomplish, and as they are in a majority they will have it very much their own way until another burning mine will distract their attention from the poor and themselves, for a time, and their uncharitable propensities be heartily indulged in on another track. What would people do if they couldn't growl?

☞ Boston is spending millions of money in making her crooked paths straight and her narrow ones wider,—improving old highways and laying out new ones,—as becomes all ancient cities that have life enough left to move in a new direction. And as usual, the Committee on Streets is doing much of the work of the City Government there, as elsewhere,—and remarking on this, the Transcript speaks in the highest terms of commendation, of the active and intelligent exertions of Alderman Talbot, (of the American Union newspaper, &c.,) chairman of said Committee, to promote this and all other city improvements.

—Bismark has twenty-four orders, beating Beust by five.—Exchange.

Almost any American naval officer can boast of more orders than Bismark or Beust. The difficulty is that they have so many that it's difficult to remember or reconcile them. G. Welles gave them all they could digest easily some years ago.

☞ The new choir at King's Chapel, Boston, will consist of Miss Barton, at $1500 per year, Mrs. D. C. Hall, at $1300, Mr. Prescott, (who sung with Mrs. Barry, Friday evening,) tenor, and Dr. Guillemete bass. Some churches believe in hiring music—and paying for it, too.

BASE BALL.—The Tri-Mountains have beaten the Excelsiors of Boston (Juniors), 48 to 23.

The Lowells have won a game with the Anderson Club of Lynn. Score, 102 to 8.

☞ Gov. Claflin's residence at Newtonville, Mass., is pronounced one of the finest in Massachusetts. And his private hospitality equals his public liberality.

CAUSES OF DRUNKENNESS.—In the Probe, a paper published at the Sanitarium for Inebriates, Media, Pa., some new facts with regard to the causes of inebriety are noted. One-third of the whole number of patients in the institution acquired a taste for strong drink in the social circle; the other two-thirds became drunkards from constitutional tendencies, inducing insanity in some and reckless disregard of moral obligations in others. Of the first class, 22 were cured; of the second, only eight. Two-thirds of the whole had the benefits of Christian and temperance training, while only 23 had been neglected. From this it would seem that the temperance question requires to be considered in a variety of aspects.

Exactly so:—And the most important aspect of the whole, is, that total abstinence from all intoxicating drinks is the only safe course, for individuals or families,—for ourselves as well as for our posterity, whose constitutions will probably be influenced, for weal or wo, by our habits of living.

☞ A great deal is said—and not too much either—about the cheating in horse-racing. But all the cheating is not by the horse-jockies, after all. We have an idea that the pedestrians sometimes walk a little crooked or Spanish,—not to mention backwards; and; the rowers of boats, are forever getting into rows on the water. So much so, that the friends of Coulter and Hamill in arranging a match between these redoutable knights of the oar, stipulated that an eight-oared boat, steered by the referee, should be rowed between the two contestants. A fine commentary upon these representatives of a grand sport, that they must be separated from each other, on a wide, open course, in a race for the championship.

☞ The P. S & P. Railroad, under its present efficient management, is prospering. The Company carried more passengers last week, during the New England Fair at Portland, than ever before for the same period of time. Not an accident occurred, and the trains were on time, although there were some trains carrying 19 car loads of passengers. With Ex-Gov. Goodwin as President and Francis Chase as Superintendent, the public are well accommodated, while the increasing value of the stock tells the story of successful management.

NAVAL.—Capt. Donald McN. Fairfax has been ordered to this Naval Station and will relieve Capt. John Guest.

Minute guns were fired from the Vandalia on Monday, at noon, in memory of the late Senator Fessenden.

Chief Engr. W. W. Dungan is detached from this Navy Yard and ordered to Washington. Orders were received at the Yard on Monday to send the Gettysburg to New York, immediately.

QUICK MUFFINS.—Two cups of thick milk, one teaspoonful of soda, a little salt. Stir stiff and bake in rings.

QUICKER MUFFINS.—Amateur base ballists.

☞ The Chicago Advance has a strong article in favor of Mrs. Stowe, defending her against the numerous assaults of the press, on her article about Lord and Lady Byron.

☞ All lovers of the bright Fall Flowers should visit the Gardens of Mr. John Rogers, at Kittery. His show of gladioli, just now, is extensive and superb.

☞ Howard A. Cleveland, convicted of the murder of Warren A. George, was sentenced, Thursday, at Bangor, by Judge Cutting, to be hanged.

☞ Francis Cogswell Esq., has been re-elected President of the Boston & Maine Railroad.

☞ The attendance at the N. E. Fair on Thursday was estimated at 15,000,—not 75,000 as printed.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

☞ We have lately tried Speer's wine, at his place at Passaic, N. J. It is a pure article from the juice, cultivated, prepared and fermented, without the addition of any spirits, and especially good for those who object on principle to stimulants, as it has all the properties of warmth and energy which occasionally render a resort to them absolutely medicinal. Each vintage must lay four years before put in market. His success is remarkable, as it is being ordered by families, merchants, and druggists, from all parts of the country, from South America, England, and even from the wine districts of France.—*Frank Leslie's Illust. The Fever and Ague Season.

When the leaves begin to change, remittent and intermittent fevers make their appearance. From the surface of the earth, bathed nightly in heavy dews, from marches and swamps surcharged with moisture, from the dying foliage of the woods, from festering pools and sluggish streams, the sun of September evolves clouds of malarious vapor prejudicial to health and life. The body, deprived by the burning temperature of July and August of much of its vigor and elasticity is not in a proper plight to resist malaria; and hence all diseases that are produced by a depraved condition of the atmosphere are particularly prevalent in the Fall.

There is no reason why the health of thousands of people should be thus sacrificed. A preparatory course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is a certain protection against the epidemics and endemics which Autumn brings in its train. Let all dwellers in unhealthy localities, liable to such visitations, give heed to the warning and advice conveyed in this advertisement, and they may bid defiance to the foul exhalations which are now rising night and day, from the soil around them. No farm house in the land should be without this invaluable exhilarant and invigorant at any period of the year, but especially in the Fall. It is not safe to go forth into the chilly atmosphere of a September morning or evening with the stomach unfortified by a tonic, and of all the tonics which medical chemistry has given to the world, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are a limited to be the purest, the most wholesome and most beneficial.

Let all who desire to escape the bilious attacks, bowel complaints and malarious fevers, take the BITTERS at least twice a day throughout the present season. It is as a wholesome as it is a faithful. Look to the trade-mark, "HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS," engraved on the label and embossed on the bottle, and their revenue stamp, covering the cork, as counterfeits and imitations abound. s8

CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS for Diseases of the Liver, or to act as a gentle Purgative.

All of these three medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These medicines are conscientiously offered to the public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedies for Pulmonary Consumption, and for all the morbid conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been tested through a period of more than thirty-five years, in all of which time its reputation has constantly increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases which admit of a cure.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of the medicine has saved the life of the patient, and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck himself was cured in precisely such circumstances, and many others have been equally fortunate by judiciously making a timely use of Dr. Schenck's remedies.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of his medicine, but he emphatically asserts, that often when patients have the most alarming symptoms, such as a violent cough keeping child, night and sweats, and general debility, even to such a degree that they are obliged to lie in bed, and when they are given up by their physicians and friends, still he cures. No medical treatment can create new lungs, but when the lungs are very badly diseased, and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicines.

Also in Scrofulous diseases these medicines are equally efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been entirely cured with running sores, and now all healed up. This shows its purifying properties, which must be done to heal extensive ulcers in the lungs.

In the treatment of Consumption, it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone to the system. It is vain to cure the cough, if strengthen the appetite of the patient and improve the digestion. Proper nourishment is required, together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most suitable for the diet of consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's little work, which is distributed gratuitously. In general, the most nutritious articles are to be preferred; but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This requirement is met by the Sea Weed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designed.

When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect, the system of the patient is invigorated, and the lungs begin to throw off the diseased functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing powers of the Pulmonic Syrup will complete the cure.

Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel or "blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of mercury or any other poison. These pills cure the most obstinate costiveness, sick headache, piles, bilious affections and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the liver. One box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption, the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable auxiliary medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient and so aid the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, where the lungs were almost entirely destroyed, as all symptoms, according to the judgement of physicians, indicated speedy death. Lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.

DR. SCHENCK'S Almanac, containing a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicine, can be had gratis or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, each, $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen; Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggist and dealers.

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited troubled with pain in the side, head-ache, and a constant feeling of weariness. The immediate and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all others proceeding from biliousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Of all anti-bilious medicines they are safest, surest and best. Sold by all Druggists. s6

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and Alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in time, to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible nauseating compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoeia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Wholesale agent, John F. HENRY, No. 8 College Place, New York City.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly pilgrimage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:— * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me in my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and will testify that it was kindly received by my medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India." au20

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, as they impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

Prepared by Wm. Ellis, Chemist. For sale in Portsmouth by WILLIAM E. PRESTON; by Weeks & Potter, Wholesale Agents, 170 Washington Street, Boston; and by Druggists and Grocers generally. mh22eod

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. o25

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER, as an internal remedy has no equal. In cases of Cholera, Summer Complaint, Dyspepsia, dysentery, Asthma, it cures in one night, by taking internally, and bathing with it freely. It is the best liniment in America. Its action is like magic, when externally applied to bad sores, burns, scalds and sprains. For the sick headache and tooth ache, don't fail to try it. In short, it is a Pain Killer. 4ws7

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished for ten cents, one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early grant, and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is pending. Such success is proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

To Put Your Nose Out of Joint—Visit the Creek cess-pool five minutes.

☞ Messrs. Betton & Co. sold Mr. S. W. Webber's little sorrel trotting mare at auction on Saturday, to Mr. H. R. Stoddard, for $200.

"Pakeha" has invested some shoe leather on inspection duty, and will discourse on cess-pools in general and the Creek cess-pool in particular, to-morrow.

☞ The proprietors of the Steamer Appledore have decided to continue running that vessel to the Shoals until October 15th. The Messrs. Laighton had 60 visitors on Sunday.

☞ We learn that Messrs. Main & Winchester, with their families, started on Monday, per railroad, from San Francisco, for this city — where their numerous friends will be pleased to greet them.

☞ Mrs. John Fagan, a washerwoman living on Charles Street, reports that she was accosted by a young man near her residence after ten o'clock, last Wednesday night, and was knocked down and robbed of $8 or $4 which she had on her person. The assailant is unknown.

☞ The Procession and Exhibition of Town Ox-Teams, &c., at the Piscataqua Fair, next week, will take place on the second day, Wednesday, and not on the first day, as is customary. The brief addresses from prominent gentlemen, will also be delivered about noon of Wednesday.

Personal.—Hon. Thos. L. Tullock, appointment Clerk in the Treasury Department and Collector of Internal Revenue for the Washington District, has been in town for a few days. We wish that others in authority had his pluck and discernment in abolishing disloyal government employees and remembering friends.

☞ It is expected that considerable Stock (and other articles) will be exhibited at the Piscataqua Fair next week, at the request of the officers,—the owners of which decline to compete for premiums. The Durhams of Col. Peirce, almost a cattle Fair of themselves, will probably be thus shown; and the best informed stock men decide that they were not equalled by any collection at the New England Fair.

☞ The Veterans from Salem, with the Germania Band, (full, this time, as it was not on their late appearance here) will visit Portsmouth for a two days stay at the Sagamore House,—arriving on Wednesday morning, and marching through Vaughan, Congress and State Streets to Middle, where they will take carriages. During these campaigns at the Sagamore House, many of our citizens drive down of evenings to enjoy the Concerts by the splendid Bands; but they often go too late. From about 6 to 8 o'clock each evening, the Germanians will perform on this occasion.

☞ Mr. Daniel H. Spinney of this city, is one of the most successful Fruit growers in this region. His crop of Pears and Apples, as they hung on the trees before the late gale, was a beautiful display of Nature's bount The wind did him considerable damage. The yield is mainly Bartlett and Seckle Pears, and the Nonsuch Apple, this year; and he will probably harvest fully 400 barrels of apples, and 200 or 300 bushels of pears. Eighteen years ago he began to set his trees and learn the business, on a new and rather rough place. He has now 600 pear trees, and the yield sold from his farm last year brought nearly $1800.

☞ At the Stone Works of Messrs Treat & Donovan, on Green Street, may now be seen several very creditable specimens of sculpture, from the designs and chisel of Mr. John S. Treat. And these are in addition to the large amount of grave-stone and building work being done there. We mentioned some time ago, a pair of Dogs cut in stone by Mr. Treat for Mayor Jones; and he now has a brace of Lions couchant nearly completed, which are to keep guard at the door of the rural mansion of the same gentleman. There is also a Dog, likewise in a recumbent position, for Capt. H. Eldredge's grounds at Chatham, Mass.,—being the third canine specimen for his Cape residence. The material used is the fine dark gray French kain-stone. The old farmer in New York, in looking at the statuary in the Crystal Palace, didn't think much of stone gals, but there be many people who prefer stone dogs and lions to the real live article—and for such, Mr. John S. is pretty well qualified to Treat on the subject. If this be a tough pun, it is because the material worked on is hard as Cain.

A Sign of The Times.—Mr. James Partridge's, on Market Street.

Cricket.—The United Club of this city won a game of cricket at Lawrence, on Saturday, with the Union Club of that city, by 40 runs.

☞ Somebody borrowed the Band stand from Haymarket Square and hid it under a bushel. Therefore there was no concert, Monday evening.

☞ We infer from a playful yet plaintive article in the Advance, that Rev. Lyman Whiting, formerly of this city, has removed from Dubuque to Janesville.

☞ Our thanks to Mrs. John E. Amazeen, for a beautiful bouquet of dahlias, asters and sweet peas, arranged with the usual good taste of that lady in floral matters.

☞ Mr. Ellis W. Marden, while riding across York Beach, a day or two since, discovered a human hand which had been washed ashore. He was unable to secure it, owing to the surf.

☞ Mr. Wm. H. Thompson, Agent of the Kearsarge Mills in this city, caught two halibut weighing 230 and 260 lbs; also 200 lbs. cod and 150 lbs. hake, one day last week, cruising from the Sagamore House.

Postponement.—Admirable J. C. Butler's clam-bake is postponed until Friday next. Steamer Appledore will make but one trip up and back, leaving Pier Wharf at 10 o'clock, A. M., and returning at 5 o'clock, P. M. Fare for the trip, 75 cents. Dinner tickets for clam or other refreshments, $1.

☞ Persons whose eyes have become accustomed to the beautiful scenes on our river, and now looking at the ash grove belonging to Mr. Andrew J. Penhallow on the Kittery shore, may inquire if he has been there with his axe. Not so—but the late gale prostrated six of the large, and several of the small trees.

☞ The Portsmouth Philharmonic Society announce the Cantata of Esther for a benefit performance for their funds, at the Temple on Wednesday Evening, Sept. 22d, with the same cast of parts as last season, except that Miss Gilford of Lynn, a fine singer, personates the Queen, and Mr. E. P. Davis will be reader. Miss Lizzie Ham's health is not equal to the exertion necessary to the part she filled so exceedingly well last year.

☞ Wm. P. Jones, Esq., is fitting his residence on Court Street into one of the most elegant houses in this or any other city. The roof has been raised, and a heavy, handsome coping added, supported by brackets; ornamental window caps inserted in all three stories, each tier being of a different pattern, as they should be; a beautiful piazza, with Corinthian columns, added all along the western side of the house, and the clapboarding removed and the entire house now finished in heavy blockwork, painted white.

The whole is very ornate, but all in keeping and thorough good taste, and the effect will be fine. So beautiful and costly a house ought not to have another house shoved up against it, as in this case at the eastern end; and our next desire would be, if we were lucky enough to have so much money as some folks, to remove the old block at the corner. It is well known that Mr. Jones desired to purchase and improve with costly new buildings, the finest lot on Middle Street, instead of refitting his present location; and it is unfortunate for the city that this could not have been consummated. Mr. Sargent of Newburyport, we believe, is the architect; and the work is all done in the most thorough manner, of course, under Mr. Jones' personal inspection.

DENTAL NOTICE.
69 Congress Street, Portsmouth.
DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.
He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.
He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.
He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 30 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a speciality, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentures) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.
All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.
Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY
GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.
We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the
KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
For the sale of its
NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.
This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.
First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,
secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,
And in successful operation for 437 miles west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the
GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,
extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.
The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of
Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,
and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the
Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.
The Bonds have
THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,
from May 1, 1869, and will pay
Seven per cent. Interest in Gold, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.
The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be Payable in Frankfort, London or N. York at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:
On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....$7 sc. 10. "
" Frankfort. $7 fir. 30 krtzs. "
The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a
FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT, in every respect perfectly sure, and in some especial ever
Better than Government Securities.
The Bonds will be sold for the present at
96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,
the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.
The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.
Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Henry E. Drake of Suncook caught a woodchuck last week that weighed nine pounds, nine ounces, and furnished a quart of oil.

A match game of Base Ball was played in East Rochester, on Saturday, between the Granite State of E. Rochester, and the Valleys of Sanford. Resulting in a victory for the Valleys by a score of 40 for the Valleys, against 31 for the Granite State.

C. W. Freland, has been elected Treasurer of the Great Falls and Dwight Manufacturing Companies, in place of the late D. N. Spooner.

At the Centennial Celebration at Brookline, Sept. 8th, the premature discharge of a cannon, two men were blown up; one will not probably survive.

A case was tried at Exeter before John J. Bell, Esq., on Monday last, which is an out-growth of a prejudice and ill-feeling of long standing between parties interested directly or indirectly. It appears that James Swain, who drives a coach for A. P. Blake of the Squamscott House, was charged with assaulting Charles D. Towle, livery stable keeper, at about 5 o'clock P. M., on Friday last, at the Depot, (Mr. Towle also runs a coach to the Depot.) The difficulty arose from an extreme zeal and anxiety to get passengers for their respective coaches. It was shown by several witnesses that Swain struck Towle; but Swain did not testify so Justice Bell was of the opinion there was an assault made and as there were no reasonable grounds therefor he fined Mr. Swain $5. and costs, in all amounting to about $20 or $26. Mr. Swain appealed. Warren Towle for plff, Wood for Dft.

Mr. H. S. P. Rollins, of the firm of Lane & Rollins of Exeter, died on Tuesday morning last, at the age of 37. Mr. Rollins was well known there having been a member of the police for a number of years. A post mortem examination made by Dr. Carroll of Exeter and Dr. Odell of Stratham, proved the disease to be consumption of the stomach brought on at the South, he having been in the naval service during the rebellion. Mr. Rollins leaves to his widow and children an insurance upon his life of $2000. He was buried with Masonic honors.

Thomas Leavitt, Esq., Register of Probate, has opened an agency at Exeter for the sale of real estate. Mr. Leavitt's extensive acquaintance thro'out the Country gives him superior facilities for transacting business of this kind, and both buyer and seller can rely upon his candor and honesty.

—Grafting potatoes is the latest agricultural item. It is done by changing eyes. It puts a different face on them and causes them to look up sooner.

—An Irishman, hearing of a friend who had a stone coffin made for himself exclaimed: "That's a good idea. Sure an' a stone coffin 'ud last a man a lifetime.'

—The former proprietor of an Irish journal, a member of the board of poor Law Guardians and a Town Commissioner, on Saturday last applied to the foreman of the laborers digging at the new post-office site in the park, New York, for work. A pick was given to him, and he at once commenced his rough manual labor to earn a livelihood for himself and dependent family.

—California pears, weighing each three quarters of a pound, have been sold in New York at one dollar a piece. A man will have to ap pear pretty well on the Internal Revenue Assessor's books, to stand that sort of outlay a great while.

—Two former French schoolmates met after a lapse of years. "So you are married, Victorine?" "Yes." "Happy?" "Oh! yes, perfectly happy." "You have children, of course?" "No; you know our lodgings are so small!"

—De Stansberg, who is now the Prussian railway king, owning nearly half the railway lines in the kingdom, and being worth at least fifty million thalers, it is said lived in a London garret seven or eight years ago, penniless.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE.

CATAWBA, PORT, GRAPE and P. J. Sherry.
The above Wines are made by Mr. Speer, whose reputation as a wine grower stands pre-eminent. They are well established, and long known by the Medical Profession as the most reliable and valuable wines to be had.
Every family at this season should use
SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,
celebrated in Spain and Portugal for its beneficial qualities, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals and by the first families in Europe and America.
Excellent for weak and debilitated persons, the aged and infirm, improving the appetite and benefitting the ladies and children.
AS A DIURETIC
it imparts a healthy action to the Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic affections. Also,
SPEER'S PORT GRAPE WINE
is pure juice of the Oporto Grape, recommended by Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to California or Imported Wines.
SPEER'S STANDARD WINE BITTERS
The Best and Most Reliable Tonic and Bitters in the market, which is always the CHEAPEST.
☞ None genuine unless the signature o "ALFRED SPEER, Passaic, N. J.," is over the cork of each bottle.
For sale by Druggists and Town Agents, who also sell Speer's Standard Wine Bitters.

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT!

THE RIGHT THING AT LAST!
BENJAMIN NORTON,
Having been appointed Selling Agent for this City and surrounding towns, of the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT COMPANY, is now prepared to sell any quantity, from one pound upward, of
THE BEST PAINT!
ever offered in this city.
It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.
This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.
It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.
It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.
Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the
GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,
Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,
which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.
In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.
These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON,
Agent for Chemical Paint Company.
Also for sale, at the same place, the Best Quality of
MEATS AND GROCERIES!
AS LOW AS CAN BE BOUGHT IN THE CITY.

New Hampshire Items.

It now appears that Mrs. John D. Sparhawk, of Walpole, was shot accidentally, by her grandson, and not purposely, as was stated. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of accidental death.

Mrs. Mahala Gilman of Albany, who died a few months ago at Moultonboro,' was supposed to be poisoned; but Dr. Jackson of Boston, who analyzed her stomach, found no poison.

The estate of Dr. Lyman Lomoard, has had a verdict rendered against it in the Court at Lancaster, of $1515, and 66 2-3 cents, for malpractice, in not setting the ankle of Nehemiah Flanders, in 1861.

The Manufacturer & Builder, for September, has, as usual, a great variety of useful and curious information. One article commends Iron Truss Roofs for churches and public buildings of limited span, as preferable to wood.

—The following conversation was overheard in Norwich the other day:—"C c-can that p-p pup-parrot t-ter talk?" asked a stuttering fellow of a German. "Suppose he no can talk so moche better as that what you talk, I chop he dam head off," was the reply.

—General Sherman's commission as Secretary of War appoints him until the end of the next session of Congress. The law does not prevent him from holding the two offices as General and Secretary of War but he must elect which salary he will accept.

—Not long ago a family of Norwegians, husband, wife, and boy of sixteen, passed through Dubuque. The aggregate weight of the three was eight hundred and seventy-five pounds. The baby weighed two hundred.

—A correspondent writes to say that a still smaller man than Knee-high-miah is mentioned in the Bible: Bill Dadd of Shoe Height (Job 18:1).

—A writer, trying to be severe upon Boston, is only funny when he says the city is called the "hub" because a fellow gets tired going about it.

—The last letter of Thomas Hood was written to Sir Robert Peel, and in it his last joke was made: "Death stops my pen, but not my pension."

A NEW ENTERTAINMENT.—In view of the prospect of the great Chinese influx, a Massachusetts patriot is going into the buisness of raising rats.

—Putting up stove-pipes is called a sooting occupation.

—Gen. Sheridan denies that he is engaged to be married.

—Australia is going into sugar culture.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FAMILY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Vanilla Bitters," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. Persons can take them according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet resolves to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly drawn at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, or belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, square bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 15, 1869.

The News.

Daniel Burke attempted to murder Amos P. Woods, an officer in the Massachusetts State Prison, by stabbing him with a jack knife, Monday evening. He would have succeeded had not Warden Haines appeared in season to "drop" Burke with a loaded cane.

All of the treasure stolen from Wells, Fargo & Co., in the late robbery on the Montana stage road, has been recovered.

Fay and Loring of the Harvards arrived in New York on Tuesday. The remainder of the crew are in Paris.

It is reported that Napoleon is to abdicate the throne of France in favor of his son.

There were heavy shocks of earthquake in portions of California, on Monday.

A Cuban expedition of 100 men has sailed from New Bedford, it is reported.

MAINE ELECTION.—The general result seems to be, that Gov. Chamberlain is elected by 8,000 majority, or about half as much as last year, in a vote about half as large. The same thing is true of the State Ticket, where the Republicans have about the same majority. The Temperance Ticket, so called, seems to have found but little favor with the temperance men of the State, and has had but little effect; it has, in several cases, been the means of electing democratic representatives who will vote against the prohibitory law at every step. A plurality elects Representatives; and so a few votes change the balance of power. It is possible that they may have elected a very few Representatives, but we have seen no mention of them.

The Senate will stand 28 Republicans, 3 Democrats. House, 115 Republicans, 36 Democrats.

VOTE OF YORK, ON MONDAY.—Chamberlain 235, Smith 154, Hichborn 3.

It is said this is the first time York ever voted a republican majority in a State election. Prof. Gardner, the Soap man, was present, and his speeches probably aided in the achievement of a Republican victory.

Lewiston gave Chamberlain 681, Smith 274, Hichborn 77.

New Publications.

The Church Union, newspaper, of New York, has been sold, by Rev. Crammond Kennedy, to J. B. Ford & Co; and it is said Henry Ward Beecher is to edit it.

GOSSIP.—The young ladies of Dover, Ohio, have formed a society for the redemption of young men whose habits do not suit them—pledging themselves not to receive the attention of any young man who swears, smokes, chews, loafs on the street corners, or drinks. The amount of "sluing up with the girls" done in that region since the society went into operation is "nothing worth speaking of," and a suspension of the rules two nights in the week is talked of.

If half this be true, the young men of that region must be a pack of drunken swabs, unfit for almost any thing except to be ploughed under the sod for dressing.

☞ The Republic is a new, neat and very readable evening paper just started in New York city. It is sold for 2 cents and will become very popular. W. H. Hallock is the Publisher and St. Clair McKelway is the editor. The Republic is an independent paper, and it is evidently the design of the publisher to make it a pattern of propriety and accuracy.

☞ At the recent election in Kentucky, not a single candidate who had been in the confederate army was defeated. And yet, their success is called a Democratic Victory, and a Radical Defeat, and is rejoiced in by the so-called democratic papers of the North. Birds of a feather flock together.

☞ Rev. Dr. Cumming, the Advent Preacher of the Scotch Church, wishes to go to the Pope's Grand Council,—if he can have liberty of speech there, and has applied to the Pope for it; but he is not likely to get it.

☞ Rev. Miss Ruth A. Damon, for the past two years pastor of the Universalist Church at Cavendish, Vermont, has resigned her place, to marry a brother minister from Illinois. So says the N. Y. Tribune.

—Not long since a premium was offered by an agricultural society for the best mode of irrigation, and the latter word, by a mistake of the printer, having been changed to "irritation," a farmer sent his wife to get the prize.

—A fashionable woman may possess twenty or more dresses, and yet have nothing to wear—over her shoulders.

—What is the difference between a barber and a mother? One has razors to shave and the other shavers to raise.

MEAN AND BASE.—We think that we have a faint recollection, says Uncle Toby, of one Mr. Dana, a very genteel and scholarly man, who used to live in Massachusetts, and who ran against Ben Butler, so hard as to run himself off the track. Another Dana, as is well known, runs the New York Sun against Gen. Grant, determined to run him off the track if possible. A short article from the Sun, now lies before us, in one of the bitterest copperhead papers of New England,—not a very sunny article, however, blaming the President severely, for not being at the bedside of his friend and Secretary Rawlins, who longed (when he found he must die,) to see him, and winding up with the following base insinuation.

But Gen. Grant came not. He had lingered too long in the lap of pleasure to receive the last blessing of his expiring comrade. Yet Rawlins was never missing when Grant wanted him. And it is probably safe to say to-day—with all the solemnity of history—that had there never been a Rawlins there never would have been a Grant.

It happens to be known, however, that the dispatches from Washington, to Gen. Grant, in relation to Gen. Rawlins, were all hopeful, except the last, on receipt of which he hastened with unsuccessful speed, to reach him. And therefore we pronounce the insinuation to be base, cowardly, and cruel; fit to be applauded in copperhead sheets, but to be condemned by all honorable or even decent men.

WHAT FOR.— It is estimated at the Quartermaster-General's office that by the time the work is done, there will be buried in the various government cemeteries not less than 305,000 Union Soldiers. What did these men die for? asks the N. Y. World.

A fair question; and the answer is, They died in the successful but costly effort to put down the Rebellion against the United States, which rebellion was got up by the Slave Power at the South, aided by the Copperheads of the North, —both of whom agreed that each State was Sovereign, but the Union a mere rope of sand, and the Constitution good for nothing if it did not sustain Slavery.

There have been some suggestions lately, in copperhead papers, that the war should be forgotten, as fast as possible—but it cannot be forgotten in this generation: the widows, orphans, and wounded, are too numerous for that.

And the copperhead treason through the war, and sympathy with the rebel spirit since the war, are too fresh in memory to be disregarded or forgotten.

THE N. H. MILITIA.—Genl. Hdqrs. State of New Hampshire, Adjutant General's Office, Concord, August 27, 1869. The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the officers of the Volunteer Militia, who met in convention at this office on the 26th inst., and hereby promulgated for the information of such as were not present.

Whereas, The act passed by the last Legislature of this State regarding Volunteer Militia, and cutting off what has hitherto been considered a penurious compensation, thus depreciating our services, has not tended to demoralize and discourage our commands, which were never in so good and healthy condition before, that it becomes necessary for us to make some expression of feeling, and take some definite action in the premises; therefore,

Resolved, That, while we are in favor of using at all times, and in all places of public trust, the strictest economy, and endorse any and all measures to lighten the burden of taxation, and the retrenchment of all unnecessary and useless expenditures, we regard the well organized system of militia as indispensable to the preservation of public liberty, and sincerely believe that a small militia force maintained by the State is, in the end, a source of revenue rather than of expense.

Resolved, That the expense and burden of the militia is felt by none so severely as by those composing it, and that the amount heretofore paid by the State falls far short of our expenses, yet we are willing to make a still greater sacrifice and bear it all.

Resolved, That it is the spirit of the measure and not the dollars and cents involved to which we object; but, notwithstanding the action taken by the Legislature, we will still continue to do our duty to the best of our ability, and use our utmost endeavors to sustain the organizations which we have the honor to represent, and make them a credit to the State.

Resolved, That we hereby tender to Adjutant General Natt Head our most sincere thanks and gratitude for the uniform kindness he has ever shown us, and for his earnest endeavors in our behalf.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be tendered the several papers printed in this State for publication.

It was decided by the convention that company meetings should be called immediately to take action upon the expediency of holding an encampment for the purpose of competing for the champion banner; and the result of such meetings be forwarded promptly to this office, that the field officers might meet to make the necessary arrangements as to time, place, &c. It is hoped that each company, represented and unrepresented at the convention, will act promptly, in order that some definite course of action may be taken, so that if an encampment is to be holden it may be at as early a day as possible.

NATT HEAD, Chairman.
JOHN M. HAINES, Secretary.

New Hampshire Items.

Since the middle of June, J. W. Johnson of Enfield has bought of the farmers of Enfield, Lebanon, Hanover and vicinity, over 300,000 pounds of wool, which was delivered at his storehouse at East Lebanon depot. He recently sold 110,000 lbs. of it to Taylor & Co. of Franklin and 120,000 lbs. to parties in Boston, both lots on private terms.

Sturtevant & Co. of Lebanon are building a new four story storehouse, 97x30. It is to be covered with sheet iron and the roof with tin.

On the 9th a terrible accident happened at Brookline. Samuel Gilson and his son Charles were firing a cannon to finish up the Centennial celebration, when a premature discharge of the piece took place. Young Gilson was standing in front of the cannon. His right arm was blown off, and the hand of the left arm badly burnt. His clothing was set fire, and his body so badly burned that he is not expected to recover. Mr. Gilson was thumbing the piece at the moment of the discharge, and his right hand was so badly mangled that amputation was necessary. The young man can not possibly recover and the sad affair is a mournful conclusion to the exercises of the joyful Centennial day.

Gen. Bradbury Bartlett, who died in Nottingham Sept. 1, had command of all the troops which assembled in Concord, June, 1825, to perform escort duty to Gen. Lafayette, on his visit to the Legislature of New Hampshire.

James Myers of Manchester, committed to the State Prison in May, 1867, for murder in the third degree, for a term of seven years, escaped between 6 and 7 P. M. on Sunday. He went to feed the pigs, and has not since returned. We do not learn whether the pigs went hungry or not. He is aged twenty-two years.

Henry Graves, of South Keene, son of Joshua Graves, hung himself on the 9th, about noon, in the barn at his father's place. He was about 33 years of age, unmarried, and a steady, industrious man. No cause assigned.

Phineas S. Fiske, a well known eminent expressman, died in Boston Saturday evening. He was a native of Hanover.

Stephen Allard, one of the first settlers of Albany, died Sept. 4, aged 99.

☞ The sporting paper Turf, Field and Farm demands as a right that Agricultural Fairs shall not ignore trials of speed, because they believe with Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, that God would never have put speed into the horse if it were not designed that it should be developed; and the development of it exalts his condition. The race horse is the highest and purest type of the equine creation. They also make the demand on a commercial score, as speed so vastly increases his value. If respective interests receive attention according to their importance, then the horse must be recognized as a leading feature; and, to recognize him as such, we cannot deny him a theatre for the display of action, the track.

☞ At Manchester, during the State Fair, the cotton and other Mills are to be shut down for the whole week, the stores will close on one day, and the entire population will no doubt make a general holiday occasion of it. It has been usual in Portsmouth to close the schools and stores for a day or afternoon, during the Fair, and we presume it may be done this year—perhaps on Wednesday, the second day.

☞ The Exeter Fair opens on Thursday of this week, and continues three days. We hope they will have a good one, and that the owners of the premium teams, stock and articles will also bring them to the Portsmouth Fair next week, and see if we can beat them.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

☞ We have lately tried Speer's wine, at his place at Passaic, N. J. It is a pure article from the juice, cultivated, prepared and fermented, without the addition of any spirits, and especially good for those who object on principle to stimulants, as it has all the properties of warmth and energy which occasionally render a resort to them absolutely medicinal. Each vintage must lay four years before put in market. His success is remarkable, as it is being ordered by families, merchants, and druggists, from all parts of the country, from South America, England, and even from the wine districts of France.—*Frank Leslie's Illust. A Defensive Medicine.

"In time of peace prepare for war," is a sound military maxim. "Let not the sickly season find you unprepared." It is an equally good rule in medical jurisprudence. The man must be made of iron who finds himself at the close of summer as strong as at its commencement. Such a phenomenon is rare, even during the most robust of the human family. Muscular and constitutional vigor ooze out of us in the broiling weather of July and August, and few of us, at the opening of the Fall, are in the best possible condition to defy the unhealthy influences of the season.

Fever and ague and bilious remittent fevers, together with a variety of complaints that affect the digestive organs, the liver and the bowels, form a portion of the Autumnal programme. Here in mind that exhaustion invites these disorders, and that staminal vigor enables the system to repel them. "To be weak is to be miserable," says Satan to his detected legions, in "Paradise Lost," and the axiom is correct, though it comes from an evil source.

Not then, ye weak and feeble, fortify yourselves against the invisible enemy that pervades the Autumnal air. The best defence against miasma is a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This rare vegetable tonic will improve your appetite, stimulate your digestion, give firmness to your nerves, invigorate your muscular fibre, regulate your secretions, cheer your spirits and put your entire physique in perfect working order. It is easily done. The manifold influences which will cooperate and build you up is not "bad to take," but, on the contrary, a pleasant medicine.

See, however, that you have the genuine article. There are imitations and counterfeits in the market, and they are all worthless or deleterious. Bear in mind that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold only in glass, (never by the gallon or cask,) and that each bottle bears a label surmounted by a vignette of St. George and the Dragon, and our revenue stamp over the cork.

CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS for Diseases of the Liver, or to act as a gentle Purgative.

All of those three medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These medicines are conscientiously offered to the public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedies for Pulmonary Consumption, and all those morbid conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been through a period of more than thirty-five years, in all of which time its reputation has constantly increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases in which a cure is possible.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will generally be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of the medicine has saved the life of the patient, and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck himself was cured in precisely such circumstances, and many others have been equally fortunate by judiciously making a timely use of Dr. Schenck's remedies.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts, that often when patients have the most alarming symptoms, such as a violent cough, creeping chills, night sweats, and general debility, even to such a degree that they are obliged to lie in bed, and that they are given up by their physicians, they may still be cured. No medical treatment can create new lungs, but when the lungs are very much diseased, and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicines.

The Pulmonic Syrup and Mandrake Pills are equally efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been nearly covered with running sores, and now are all healthy. The Pills are purifying properties, which must be done to heal cavities in the lungs.

In the treatment of Consumption, it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone in the system. Hence it is necessary to strengthen the appetite of the patient and improve the digestion. Proper nourishment is required, together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most available for the diet of consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's Almanac, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most nutritious articles are to be preferred; but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This requirement is met by the Sea Weed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designed.

When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect; the system is nourished, the patient is invigorated, and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing properties of the Pulmonic Syrup will complete the cure.

Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel or "blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral poison. These pills cure the the most obstinate cases of costiveness, bilious attacks, bilious fevers, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the liver. One box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption, the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are intended to auxiliary medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient and assist the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, where the lungs were almost entirely destroyed, and all symptoms, according to the judgement of physicians, indicated speedy death. In such cases, they were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.

DR. SCHENCK'S Almanac, containing a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicine, can be had gratis of the agents, or by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, each, $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen; Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggist and dealers.

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited troubled with pain in the side, head-ache, and a constant feeling of weariness. The immediate and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all others proceeding from biliousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Of all anti-bilious medicines they are safest, surest and best. THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the mineral properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous constituent is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found prompt and more efficient than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoeia.

It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or drugged or pill.

A course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have scarcely been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

They are perfectly safe and innocent; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of 1 Jerome Place, Jerome Park, Bronx, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years he has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON.

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it in my hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in time, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India." au20

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—

Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which the bearer has had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER, as an internal remedy has no equal. In cases of Cholera, Summer Complaint, Dyspepsia, dysentery, Asthma, it cures in one night, by taking internally, and bathing with it freely. It is the best liniment in America. Its action is like magic, when externally applied to bad sores, burns, scalds and sprains. For the sick headache and tooth ache, don't fail to try it. In short, it is a Pain Killer. 4w27

Rev. Mr. Kelsey, A. F. Craig, J. C. Carr, Rev. L. L. Harmon, Rev. Mr. Smith, Executive Committee.

It was voted to request the President and Vice President to secure a course of lectures, during the Winter Season.

THEATRE.—Our citizens are again to be favored with a drama entertainment worthy of patronage by Miss Kate Reignolds, assisted by the first class troupe which gave such acceptable entertainments here a few weeks ago. They present a very attractive programme for Thursday evening, which will be their only performance, as the Temple will be occupied on Friday evening by Billy Pastor's Burlesque Combination. Mr. Leslie had his posters printed for two evenings, owing to a misunderstanding regarding the Hall.

A HARD ROAD TO TRAVEL. — The Board of Aldermen some time ago voted their Committee on Streets authority to build the extension of Summer Street from Lincoln Avenue to Middle St., appropriating $1000 therefor. Accordingly they contracted with Mr. J. R. Holmes for the job; but the price being $2350, on Mr. Holmes commencing the work on Tuesday, Mayor Jones laid an injunction on him, on the ground of lack of funds appropriated, — he to answer before Judge Nesmith at Dover in December.

Mr. Holmes now turns round and sues the city. (through the Com. on Streets which employed him,) for damages in the interruption of his work, &c. This is an addition to the suit which the Rundlett heirs have now in Court, asking for greater land damages from the City,—which is fixed for October Court.

The Mayor's action is all for effect and buncombe, although he has technical reason in the City Charter. The appropriation of $1000 at least might as well be expended, and meantime the joint Council could appropriate further, or some unexpended balance be transferred.

Law business costs much more even than new streets through ledges, and after all the streets have to be made. The Town of North Hampton a few years ago spent $500 in fighting a highway, which they afterwards built for $150. His Honor the Mayor may own Portsmouth, but we don't believe it; and some folks think it fully as illegal to defile a whole Ward with slums from a Brewery, or to run drains into a City Reservoir (built at $1000 cost for his especial benefit,) without paying for it, as to exceed or alter an appropriation. Meantime, Summer Street waits a little.

HORSE TALK,—Some folks think that horses occupy too much space in the newspapers and in public attention. But such are probably not aware of the commercial value of the horse. Take a single prominent State, for instance. In Illinois, the value of horses is $32,575,223, which is greater than the aggregate values of neat cattle, sheep, hogs, manufactured articles, and the capital stock of banks, which is given by the Assessors as $32,387,788; and what is true of Illinois is true of other States.

THE ELIOT REPUBLICANS worked well on Monday, and redeemed the old town handsomely, making a gain of 67. Their efforts to do so were strongly opposed by a Navy Yard Writer, appointed to his present position by Vice Admiral Porter. This man succeeded in bringing to the polls men who did not care to vote, but under his urging voted the Democratic ticket. Of course he is not to blame for voting as his prejudices lead him, but it is a curious Republican administration which can openly uphold and encourage such men to the exclusion of its friends and supporters. We think if Admiral Porter was correctly posted in the matter that there would soon be a vacant Writership at the Navy Yard.

☞ Rev. Edward S. Huntress, of this city, was ordained to the Congregational ministry at Wareham, Mass., Sept. 3d. Sermon by Rev. E. A. Mr. Johnson of Sandwich extended the right hand of fellowship to his new ministerial neighbor. The Church and Society being in deep sympathy with Mr. Huntress, he enters upon his field of labor with flattering prospects of usefulness.

☞ We hear great stories of a large yearling colt, a stallion, (sired by Fearnaught, we believe,) belonging to Mr. D. D. Perkins of New Market. Mr. Perkins is one of the best horse men in this vicinity, and the public will have considerable curiosity to see his fine colt at the Piscataqua Fair

DENTAL NOTICE.

69 Congress Street, Portsmouth.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.

He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.

He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.

He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 30 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a speciality, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentures,) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.

All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.

Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 287 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 30th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as a SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage, at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

Ox $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....67 sh. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 fir. 30 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential ways

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Morning Chronicle.

THE GREAT MUDDLE.—The readers of the Chronicle may have become aware, from several hints contained in its columns lately, that there is within the city boundaries an unsavory spot commonly called the Creek Cess-Pool; persons living on and to the westward of Anthony Street (and much farther away from it,) have long since been made painfully aware of its existence through the medium of their olfactory nerves. Several people having spoken on the matter, I now propose to stir it up a little myself — figuratively — I should be very sorry to have to do it literally—nor do I think it necessary.

In the first place, the filthy mess did not originally grow there—it has been made. Many years ago, when I trod the road past that spot night and morning, the innocent shepherd of three red cows, whose owner used to have to go for them himself about three evenings each week; or trampled down the grass in the adjacent field, looking for absent strawberries with one eye and for "a man coming" with the other, the mill-pond at the Creek was not a nuisance. So the Cess-Pool is not a natural abomination, but a work of art.

Next, how can it be abated? Easily enough—fill the Pool up with earth, above high water mark at spring tide. All is plain enough so far; but who is to pay for the filling? Echo answers, (no one else seems able to answer anything.) "who!" It would seem plain that whoever has caused the trouble should remedy it. This may not be law, but it is justice and reason; and if the law is opposed to both of these, then the law had better be out to some decent person.

I find in the City Charter that the City Council is empowered to make all needful by-laws to "abate and remove nuisances." If the nuisance was on land, the city authorities could compel the owner to get rid of it, somehow, at once. But the fact is, that the Pool is situated in "navigable waters!" over which the State exercises authority by right of eminent domain. The city of Portsmouth has no power to authorize any one to fill up or bridge over the pond, and of course no authority to order any one to fill it up, or any part of it. I find in Ordinance No. 4, sec. 16, the following: "no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy-vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of" the mill-ponds. If those who passed that Ordinance did not exceed their powers, (of which I am in doubt,) where are the brewery drains to empty? for if a brewery is not an "unwholesome and offensive place," a brewery drain is, — here and everywhere, one of the most abominably "offensive places" imaginable. The drains do empty into the millpond; and the city probably gave assent, expressed or implied, to their construction.

Do the breweries cause the Cess-Pool? They certainly do not. [I wish it understood that I am not a champion of either breweries or beer; and that I should not be sorry to see the beer prohibited entirely, and the manufactories employed in some business that would benefit rather than injure mankind.] The particular nuisance complained of is, that a body of water and filth is confined in a small place to stagnate and not smell good. But the brewery drains do not pen up this ill-flavored mass; that from one of them does not empty into it at all; while that from the other leads through a costly and lasting conduit, that will take all its waste out beyond the railroads, whenever it becomes an underground drain,—what it was intended for. At present, the waste from the brewery all—or nearly all—runs out into the Pool; and vast quantities of hops lie there, rotting and festering in the sun and filthy water, poisoning the air for a great distance, and standing by to lend a hand to almost anything in the shape of a pestilence.

Neither does the dye-house confine the stagnant mass to the Pool; nor, in spite of the opinions of some, is it possible for even the most immoral sewer from a woolen-mill or dye-works, to pour forth such a horribly fetid refuse as must come from every brewery. Mr. Jarvis says the city is bound to furnish him with a drain; and that if they stop up the outlet of his, by filling in the Pool without providing for his drainage, he will sue for damages. I fancy that Mr. Jarvis' present drain is a city sewer; I am almost certain that it was there when I used to drive the cows to pasture, years before there was a brewery in the city. However this may be, and whether or no it would interfere with Mr. Jarvis' claim for compensation if it was stopped up, does not matter in this connection. The slop from the brewery mill certainly does not stop the free ebb and flow of the tide, and therefore does not cause the Cess Pool,—very small doses of which will satiate persons who live near it, and so I cease for awhile, though I'm not through yet.

THE BOY MAGICIAN; OR,
THE SECRETS OF THE SEA.

CHAPTER I.

THE PRISONER OF MID-OCEAN.

Late one summer afternoon, a dozen years ago, a solitary white man stood before an idolatrous temple on an island in the South Pacific.

He was of middle age, tall, thin, and gaunt, with rugged features and sorrowful eyes, and with every sign of goodness and intelligence.

Beside him was a grim stone idol, in grotesque human form, more than twice as tall as himself, which he had just finished, as was indicated by the mallet and chisel in his hands.

"It is done," he muttered. "And these heathen little suspect that I have cut my name and story into the base of this idol."

He ran his eye rapidly over the inscription in question. It was as follows:

"The 5th of May, 1852, I, David Lester, of firm of Lester & Nichols, of Norfolk, Virginia, sailed as a passenger from Charleston for Hong Kong, via Cape Horn, in the ship "Hecla." A cyclone struck us in mid-ocean, the ship foundered and we took to the boats, which all filled, with the exception of the one I was in. After drifting several days, during which my companions perished, I reached this island. The idolatrous inhabitants made me a slave in their temple, and for more than four years I have been doing menial offices and carving images. I have been chained every night, and watched continually by day, but I have nevertheless made three attempts at escape, and shall soon make another—doubtless my last, as I am resolved to succeed or die, preferring death to a longer captivity. I therefore write these words upon this idol, praying any one who may see them to report my fate, if possible, to my family, in Norfolk, Va. Finished this inscription this 7th day of July, 1857."

For several minutes the prisoner contemplated these lines in silence, and then aroused himself, looking warily around.

"Three times I have tried to escape in a canoe," he muttered, "and every time I was caught, and visited with tortures. To be caught again in such an attempt will be certain death. Yet I will risk all the first opportunity that offers. This longing for freedom and my family is becoming a positive madness. Oh, my God! what is that?"

He gazed in perfect stupefaction to the eastward, far out upon the ocean.

There miles and leagues away, was a ship, her white sails gleaming as she lay becalmed upon the waters!

"A ship! a ship!" cried Lester, sobbingly. "At last, oh Heaven! At last my prayer is answered!"

THE PRISONER'S HOME.

On the east bank of the Elizabeth river, just out of Norfolk, and overlooking Hampton Roads, stood a beautiful cottage, the home of the wife and daughter of David Lester, the prisoner of the lone island in the far Pacific.

Near the close of a lovely afternoon in May, Mrs. Lester and her daughter sat together upon their front verandah.

The mother was a lovely, sweet-faced, sad-eyed woman of two and thirty years.

The daughter, Amy Lester, not yet fifteen, was a strange compound of child and woman.

"You are thinking of father, dear mother?" murmured the maiden, as she marked the lady's longing gaze.

"Yes, child. Your father, my husband: where is he! Somewhere under the sea waves, wrecked on a desert island, or languishing on a hostile shore! It is five years since he left us on that fatal voyage to China. My reason assures me that he is dead; yet, Amy, I can only think of him as living."

"It is so with me, mother," said Amy, with a tremulous quiver of her lips. "I dream often that he is living—that he is coming home!"

"We need him in a hundred ways," said Mrs. Lester, sighing. "If anything were to happen to me, Amy, I shudder to think what would become of you. You have been brought up in luxury, and would feel keenly any change to poverty."

Are we not rich, then, mother?" asked Amy in surprise.

"I supposed so, dear, until three years ago," replied the mother sadly. "Your father was a merchant and ship-owner, a partner of Colonel Nichols. But two years ago Colonel Nichols informed me that the outstanding debts of the firm more than balanced the assets; in short, Amy, that he was on the verge of bankruptcy, his fortune and ours alike wrecked!"

"I don't like Colonel Nichols!" said Amy, thoughtfully. "If he lost all his money with ours, how does he live in such grand style? To whom do his ships and great house belong?"

"To his nephew, Ally Bell. Colonel Nichols is Ally's guardian. The Colonel has nothing of his own, excepting a farm or two up country which were not risked in the business.

Amy contracted her little brows reflectively, and was about to reply, when the garden gate swung on its hinges, and a boyish figure came lightly up the walk.

"It's Ally, mother—it's Ally Bell!" exclaimed Amy, all smiles and blushes. "I'll bring him to you."

The young girl ran lightly down the verandah steps and met the new-comer, linking her arm in his, and drawing him gently towards the house.

He was a lad of seventeen, an orphan, the nephew and ward of Colonel Nichols. Bright and gay and handsome, Allen Bell was also impetuous, ardent, and intelligent—one of those noble, manly boys who mature early into grand and noble men. Boy as he was, he loved Amy Lester with a pure and chivalrous love, which bade fair to deepen in time into the great love of his life.

He was the bearer of a letter from his uncle to Mrs. Lester, and having delivered it, he strolled with Amy down the wide garden walks into the cool shadows of a grove at the bottom of the garden.

"I've been expecting you this good while, Ally," said Amy with charming frankness. "I thought you would be down here to try those scientific experiments to-day!"

We'll try them to-night, Amy," replied Ally. "The blue lights show better at night. I'm getting along finely in my chemistry, Amy. I like it best of all my studies,"

"I am sure you do," said Amy, earnestly. "You are the nicest boy I ever saw!"

Ally Bell laughed aloud. Amy's childlike simplicity and outspoken truthfulness were her greatest charm in his eyes.

"The sight of that brig yonder, said Ally, reminds me that I promised to meet Colonel Nichols on board of it directly after I delivered that letter to your mother. I must go now but you may expect me as soon as it is dark.

He clasped her in his arms and kissed her.

For a minute the youthful lovers stood at the garden gate, towards which they had slowly walked, and here they parted soberly, Ally to go down to the brig where he had engaged to meet his uncle, and Amy to return to her mother.

She found Mrs. Lester, the open letter in her lap, silent and motionless as a statue, her attitude that of profound despair.

What is it, mother! cried Amy in wild alarm, springing to her side.

Mrs. Lester looked at her daughter with a woe-stricken face.

O, Amy! she cried, turning to that brave childish heart for strength and comfort. Colonel Nichols writes me that we are beggars! He reminds me that he has asked me three several times to marry him. And, Amy, he says he knows your father to be dead, and he offers himself to me for the last time. He reminds me of my ill-health, of your youth and helplessness. And he says, and Mrs. Lester's voice broke down in a tempest of sobs, that on the one hand he offers me wealth, comfort, happiness, on the other poverty and sorrow. If I refuse him, he swears to turn us out of our home to morrow!

Oh, mother! exclaimed Amy, with a sharp cry, as she hid her face in her mother's bosom.

CHAPTER II.

A DESPERATE STRUGGLE FOR LIBERTY.

Before Ally Bell reached the brig lying at the wharf, his uncle, Colonel Nichols, had been there and arranged with the Captain, who was the owner of the vessel, to carry Ally off to China, for which service the Colonel promised to give the Captain the brig and ten thousand dollars, in case the boy never came back.—Hiley was a murderer, whose real name was Sprouls, and Colonel Nichols knew it. And Colonel Nichols had robbed Mrs. Lester, and now wanted to rob his nephew and have him murdered, and Hiley knew that, and resolved that Ally Bell should never see Norfolk again.

"Where is the lad!" he asked as he and Colonel Nichols finished drinking success to their cefarious schemes, to which the Colonel replied:

"He should be here at this very moment. Ah, I hear his step on deck now! Here he comes!"

Even as he spoke Ally Bell came hurrying into the cabin, his face flushed with pleasurable excitement.

"I'm just in time to see you off, Captain Hiley," he said, not noticing the guilty looks of the conspirators. "The wind is fair, and the crew anxious. A good voyage to you, Captain. Bring me some rare shells when you return. They are for a little girl's cabinet, and must be pretty!"

"Aye, aye, Mr. Allen," responded the Captain, heartily. "Didn't you see my collection of shells in yonder state-room? No! You are welcome to your choice of them all, sir."

He advanced, and flung open the state-room door.

Ally bent forward and looked in.

With a quick thrust, Hiley pushed him into the little room, and hurriedly locked the door.

With an exultant smile Colonel Nichols said adieu, and went ashore.

The next minute the hurried trampling of feet was blended with the songs of the stout seamen, as the brig moved slowly from the wharf towards the sea.

Ally's first thought, on finding himself shut up in Captain Hiley's state-room, was that the two men were joking —merely intending to scare him a little, and then let him out; but he soon discovered that the Quickstep—the brig was so named—had left her wharf, and was standing down the Elizabeth river towards the ocean.

The truth flashed upon him!

"It is all he cried, leaping to his feet. Hiley is taking me to sea with him! Captain Hiley! he shouted, pounding on the wall, open the door, this minute! Let me out, or it will be bad for you!

No reply was made to him—no attention paid to his cries.

He saw that he was fast.

For a moment he was stunned by the knowledge of his situation.

Then he drew up his slight, boyish figure proudly, his eyes flashing defiance.

The thing for me to do, he mused, is to help myself. A boy who can't fight his own way will never be a man!

Drawing from his pocket a match, of which he usually carried a supply, he lighted the candle in its box at one end of the state-room.

I see, he mentally commented, looking around, in the light thus furnished. Here's a whole dray load of boxes and bundles. And here's a cannon too, added Ally—a small one, which is expected, no doubt, to bring a big price from those simple natives in the South sea.

I can use this thing, thought the boy, with kindling eyes. I have plenty of powder in my pocket!

He had bought this powder just before he came on board the brig, for the experiments he had promised to show Amy that very evening. Without more ado, Ally set at work loading and firing the little cannon as rapidly as possible, smashing the door, and calling out for everybody to keep out of the way. The captain and crew were frantic with fear, as there was a large quantity of powder in the state-room and the prospect was that the ship would be blown to atoms. Having filled the state-room and cabin with smoke, Ally siezed one of the captains revolvers, burst open the shattered door, rushed upon deck, and leaped into the river.

Thunder and lightening! cried Hiley, startled beyond expression. After that boy, all of you! Satan himself is in him! A hundred dollars to the man who first puts his hand upon him!

With a yell, as of blood-hounds, half a dozen Hiley's men splashed into the river, incited by the promise of money, and sprang to the pursuit, while Hiley, hastily lowering a boat, rowed after his men, whom he soon overtook, one after another, and ordered into the boat. They then pulled on after Ally, who had distanced the men while they were in the water, but who could not 'compete with the boat. Arriving at an old sunken schooner, a long way from the shore, the boy climbed upon the topmast, and looked back at Hiley, who was rapidly approaching. The captain felt sure of his prey, and was telling his men how to seize the boy, when Ally suddenly fell from the topmast, as if shot, and immediately sunk from sight.

"Thunder and lightning!" cried Hiley, "he's gone!"

"Gone!" echoed all the men in chorus.

"Yes, gone!" and Hiley sprang to his feet, bending forward. "I saw him go! He feel back into the water, and went down like a bullet, without the least cry! Pull for your lives!"

The men obeyed. The boat was quickly beside the topmast. But no trace of the boy could be found!

"I'll take my Bible oath," said Hiley, "that the young salamander has not gone towards the nearest shore—or any other. A cramp or a shark has took him!"

The eyes of the scheming villain lit up strangely, almost savagely.

"And such being the fact, men," added he, "we may as well give up the search."

The men resumed their oars, the Captain the tiller, and the boat returned in silence to the brig, with Ally clinging quietly to the stern—his head just far enough out of the water to enable him to breathe—and there he continued to stay until the boat returned to the brig.

And then, the boat being left in the water, at the stern of the brig, it occurred to Ally to unfasten the boat from its painter, let it drift down stream some distance, then climb into it, and row away for Norfolk, which he at once did.

For a minute or two the boat continued to speed away in the darkness.

And then Ally climbed out of the water into it, with a long sigh of relief, and seized a pair of oars resolutely.

Crouching out of sight in the bottom of the boat, he began rowing shorewards—but softly, for he was still near the brig, and the night was so calm he feared his enemies would hear him.

There was only too much occasion, as it proved, for this caution.

The boat had not been gone two minutes from the brig, when Captain Hiley, wishing to go ashore to see Colonel Nichols, made his way aft, and discovering its disappearance at once sent a couple of men after it in another boat.

Ally seeing that he must again take to the water, took the oars along with him, and went drifting seaward, with nothing but a pair of oars to support him.

The night had now fall set in and the tide ran fast. Cramped and chilled by his long continuance in the water, the boy was whirled along, growing weaker every moment; but just as hope was its ebb, he suddenly beheld a sail behind him, rapidly approaching, under the force of a freshening breeze.

"A brig, certain!" he groaned, after a long look at the nearing cloud of canvas. "It must be old Hiley's! The wind having come again he is off for the Pacific Ocean!"

He regarded the brig, as it came nearer, asking himself if he should hail her.

"Let her be what she may," he muttered, "friend or foe, I must hail her! My strength is used up! I shall soon slip off from these oars and drown! Fortunately the brig is coming straight towards me. I will hail her!"

He waited till the brig was near him, and then carried his resolve into execution. His feeble call was heard and answered, the brig hove to, a boat was lowered, and he was taken aboard the stranger. The boy had only strength enough to learn that the brig was not Hiley's, and then he fainted.

CHAPTER III.

MORE VILLAINY.

Captain Hiley, vastly believing that Ally was drowned, went ashore to inform Col. Nichols of the fact. He found the Colonel just coming from Mrs. Lester's cottage, where he had gone an hour before, and stunned Amy by informing her that Ally Bell, her lover and hero, was being carried off to sea in the Quickstep, and that she would never see him again.

The Colonel heard Hiley's story about Ally's disappearance with breathless interest, as they walked along the beach; after which the two villains congratulated themselves upon the boy's being thus completely taken out of their path.

While discussing the matter, they heard the sound of oars, and soon saw a boat approaching the shore opposite a cottage belonging to a retired old sailor named Nicholas Collins, which was situated at the foot of Mrs. Lester's garden. In the boat was a man, and along with him was a female, sobbing convulsively. Col. Nichols, with surprise and alarm, recognized the voice of the weeper as that of Amy Lester. She and her companion left the boat and entered the cottage from the windows of which a light soon shone. Col. Nichols and Captain Hiley crept beneath a window, to spy and listen. They soon learned that Collins had rowed Amy off the brig in search of Ally, and that she had there heard of his attempt to escape and his consequent death by drowning.

Amy was vehement in her denunciations of Colonel Nichols, and declared that if Ally was really dead, she would raise the whole country against his uncle who had compassed his death.

On attempting to rise to go home, Amy found she was too weak to walk, and sent Colins for her mother to come to her. As soon as the old sailor left the cottage, Col. Nichols proposed to Hiley that he should carry Amy off instead of Ally, and leave her on a plantation of his on the coast, down by Cape Henry, so as to silence her dangerous tongue, and also to give him a hold on her mother. The captain agreed to this, and they entered the cottage, coming upon Amy so suddenly that, in her weak state, she was so completely overcome that she fainted away.

"So much the better!" said Nichols, stooping and gathering her in his arms. "Now lead the way to your boat, Hiley. On our way, you must overset Collin's boat, to make him think she did it herself in a wild mood."

He hurried out of the cottage bearing his frail burden. Hiley followed hastily, and the two made their way to the spot where Collins' boat lay. It was but the work of a moment for Hiley to push off the little craft and upset it.

"There, they'll think the girl got wild with grief and was drowned in an attempt to hunt for Ally again!" said the Colonel exultantly, tossing Amy's white apron upon the beach. "That apron will fix the matter beyond a doubt. The wind is rising, Hiley. You had better take advantage of it."

The two hurried to the waiting boat. Hiley laid the unconscious Amy in the bottom of the boat, and then seized the oars and pulled rapidly towards the brig.

Nichols, full of exultation, looked after the boat until it was lost to view.

"A first plan was successful," he muttered. "Ally is dead, and I am a rich man! And my second plan promises a like success! When Margaret Lester's heart is nearly broken at Amy's loss, I will offer to restore her child on condition that she will marry me! The day of my full triumph is near!"

He looked with glistening eyes, seaward, exulting in his evil success, until at last, nearly an hour later, the sails of the Quickstep filled, and the brig moved swiftly towards the sea, taking with her Margaret Lester's only comfort—the distant father's star of hope!

CHAPTER IV.

LESTER ESCAPES AND HEARS FROM HOME.

We left David Lester on his lonely island, planning his escape, with a ship in sight from the elevated point where he was at work. He waited till night, and until a priest of the idolatrous temple came to chain him in his dungeon, where they nightly confined him; and then suddenly leaping upon the priest, he bore him to the floor, chained and gagged him, disguised himself in his priestly robes, stained his face brown with dirt, went to the shore where the canoes were lying, entered one of them, and paddled out to sea in the direction where he had seen the ship.

He paddled for hours with all his strength, and had gone so far that the lights of the island could not be seen, and yet no ship had been found; and now the wind was rising and a storm was threatening.

"Oh, God! Am I forsaken?" he cried, in awful anguish, (seized with a fear that the wind would take the ship from him. "Must I perish here!"

At that moment when hope was dying, he beheld a sight that turned all his wild woe into yet wilder ecstasy.

There, to the northward, was the ship, standing directly towards him, with all sails set to catch the rising breeze, and not half a mile away.

"Yes, there she is," he shouted. "She is coming this way. I am saved—saved!"

He raised his arms to heaven in a mute thanksgiving and sobbed aloud, the glad tears streaming down his worn and haggard cheeks.

The ship came nearer and nearer.

He redoubled his wild shouts; his heart and soul in his voice.

An answering cry came suddenly from the ship's deck, and she drew steadily nearer—swerved from her course slightly, and a rope was thrown from her deck, falling into his canoe.

He seized the rope in desperate eagerness, and a group of sailors leaning over the ship's side drew him aboard.

In an instant more the ship had resumed her course, and was moving in stately fashion before the breeze;

"Safe at last!" murmured Lester, leaning against the bulwarks, weak and nerveless as an infant. "Oh, the gladness of this hour!"

Poor man! He did not dream at that moment that his adverse fate was even then relentlessly closing around him; that he was on one of his own ships—the Cyclone; that that ship was commanded by a bitter foe in league with Colonel Nichols, who, on recognizing him, would without remorse consign him again to the mercies of the Pacific in his Indian canoe.

On inquiry, Lester learned that the vessel was the Cyclone, and in the light of the cabin lamp recognized her Captain. Tearing off his priestly robe, and wiping the stain from his face with its coarse folds, he exclaimed:

"Captain Sales, don't you know me?"

"David Lester!" cried the Captain, turning ashy pale, and grasping his stationary seat as though he had received a shock.

Lester wiped his brows and sat down, the Captain taking a seat opposite him.

He had so much to ask, that his emotions choked his utterance, and prevented him from observing the look of deadly hatred with which the Captain regarded him. But he finally piled his questions fast, and learned that his wife yet lived, that his daughter Amy had grown into a lovely girl, and that both wife and daughter had long mourned him as dead. He also learned of his wife's poverty.

"Colonel Nichols settled up the firm affairs," said the Captain, reservedly, "and there was nothing left for Mrs. Lester. She has been living on his bounty these two or three years! When your interest in this ship was sold, I bought it. The Colonel owns the other half!"

"But this is a base fraud!" exclaimed Lester

"The Colonel has been untrue to the trust I reposed in him! I have had suspicions of his integrity during my long exile, but I have never dared to entertain them. I'll make matters straight on my return. I can prove my claims and bring him to justice—the dastardly villain! My poor Margaret!" and he groaned.

Lester's threat concerning Nichols seemed to stir up all the malice of the Captain's nature. He beheld his interest in the Ship fraudulently acquired, threatened, and he had still more the lawful owner whose right in the Cyclone he had usurped.

"If report speaks truly," he said, "Mrs. Lester need not be called 'poor!' Colonel Nichols has long been paying her attentions, and when I left port, five months ago, the story was that they were engaged! The Colonel told me himself that he loved her, and meant to marry her. No doubt by this time they are married!"

This cruel thrust struck home to the poor husband's heart, and uttering a great cry, he fell forward with his face upon the table, while the Captain regarded him with a look of mingled hatred and exultation. The Chronicle.

A HISTORY OF ROCKINGHAM COUNTY.—Mr. F. B. Sanborn, a native of Hampton Falls, who is literary editor of the Springfield Republican, in a criticism or notice of a new edition of Whittier's ballads, alludes as follows to our county and our honored citizen, Charles H. Bell. He says:

If we had not been so often disappointed in illustrated books, we should expect great things from the new edition of Whittier's ballads which is to be published by Fields, Osgood & Co., in the autumn. The landscape illustrations have been drawn from the scenery of the different poems, sketched for the purpose, and Whittier himself praises the designs which accompany "Cobbler Keezar's Vision," "The Wreck of Rivermouth," and some other poems the scenery of which is about the Merrimac and Hampton rivers. If the artist has caught the true spirit of the Hampton landscape, with its broad meadows, winding river, mossy rocks, and houses, and vast gray beach, washed by long waves of the open sea, his sketches must needs be good. The story of the "Wreck of Rivermouth" deals with some incidents of the early settlement of Hampton familiar in that locality, but little known elsewhere. If Joseph Dow, who had been writing for many years a history of the old town, and its outlying parishes, now separate towns, could receive encouragement enough to publish his manuscripts, we should get a local chronicle of much value. A law passed a few years since in New Hampshire at the instance of Mr. Charles H. Bell of Exeter, permits towns to raise money by taxation to pay for the publication of town histories, but few towns have yet availed themselves of the privilege, and Hampton has declined to do so.

It is much to be desired that Mr. Bell, above mentioned, who is qualified to do it, should write a history of Rockingham county, the south-eastern part of New Hampshire, in which are the old towns of Portsmouth, Exeter, Hampton, Chester, Epping, Derry, etc. It is a region abounding in local history and family tradition, and has been very little molested by historians or antiquaries. Much of it was included in the disputed territory granted to Georges and Mason, and the titles were not definitely settled till a hundred years after it was colonized. A part of it, too, is covered by John Wheelright's alleged bargain with the Indians, about the authenticity of which antiquaries are still wrangling. Here flourished the families of Gilman, Langdon, Cutts, Pepperell, Vaughan, Jaffrey, Atkinson, Weare, Sullivan, Plummer, Bell, Abbott, Toppan, Dudley, Thayer, and many more of which the record is interesting, and here lived all the early governors of the province and the state. The judicial history of New Hampshire is already written by the late Judge S. D. Bell, and will probably be published before many years. It will have much to do with the Rockingham county courts, where sixty years ago, Webster, Bartlett, Mason, Sullivan, and Smith, were leaders of the bar.

BARBARA FRIETCHIE.—The efforts of a correspondent of the Boston Courier to deny the fact of the existence of old Barbara Frietchie, and the incidents so beautifully woven into poetry by Whittier, have come to nought. The truth of the incidents is well established. On Saturday last a near relative of the old lady, a merchant doing business in Baltimore, visited Amesbury, bringing with him a cane made from a portion of the old house torn away by the spiteful Marylanders.

It now appears that nothwithstanding the brave loyalty of the old heroine, nearly all her immediate family relatives were rebels. So strong was her fidelity to the Union and the flag of the Union that she, on one occasion, drove three rebel soldiers from her door with a cane with which she supported herself in walking about the house.

The Courier says that Whittier was imposed upon by a nephew of his, a lieutenant in the army. Unfortunately for the truth of this story, the poet had no nephew in the army serving as a lieutenant. Old Barbara Frietchie lives in undying verse—a real substantial heroine, and no rebel tongue or semi-rebel pen can transfer the incident from one of fact to fiction.—Amesbury Vil.

—The seekers after piratical treasures supposed to be buried on the Cocos Islands in the Pacific have expended $28,000 in money and ten months time in their fruitless search. They were sent out by parties in San Francisco.

—The opening of the Pacific Railroad has greatly injured business on the Isthmus of Panama. The rejection of the treaty with the United States for a ship canal across the Isthmus has also had a bad effect.

—In New Orleans is a large oak tree around which has been built a dwelling, so that the trunk of the tree is nicely housed, while its top completely covers the work of the eccentric builder.

—The will of the late Henry Keep, the New York railroad king, leaves all his property to his wife and daughter and immediate relatives of the family. The estate is valued at $4,000,000.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Invigorators," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. Persons can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by injurious mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimple, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1868, I secured my copyright, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for
"Rocky Mountain Bitters."

The News.

The centennial anniversary of the birth of Humboldt was celebrated in Boston and elsewhere, on Tuesday.

The New Bedford fillibuster party have been overtaken and brought back by United States officers.

The Harvards had a reception at New York and are to have one at Boston.

The Sabine mutiny is again declared a "hum," but a Paris paper re-iterates its truth.

Quebec had an annexation meeting on Sunday.

New Hampshire Items.

Ex-Gov. Harriman begins his labor in Ohio, Sept. 17th. He is to speak at many of the most important places in the State, and his rare eloquence as a stump speaker cannot fail to stimulate the Republicans who may hear him to earnest work. The Governor is also to make a speech at Pittsburg, Pa.

It is stated that ex-Governor Frederick Smyth has accepted an invitation to deliver the annual address before the North Wrentham Farmers' Club, on Wednesday, October 6.

At Nashua on Saturday, Jonathan Jones, a Nashua and Lowell Railroad employe for sixteen years, was badly hurt while trying to stop a car load of sawed wood switched on a side track, in his customary manner, by throwing a car-stake through the spoke wheel, the stake flying out and striking his left leg with such force as to dislocate the knee joint, make him turn a complete somerset, and knock him senseless. The injury, which is much worse than a broken limb, will disable Mr. J. for at least a month.

J. F. Ferrin's paper mill, in Warner, was destroyed by fire about twelve o'clock Tuesday night. Loss $14,000; insured for $10,000. H. C. Carter of Lebanon, loses in stock, $900; insurance $500. M. A. Davis & Co's saw, shingle and clapboard mill, near by, was also burned; loss, $4000; insurance $2000. The fire caught by a spark from a chimney.

THE END OF A NEW YORK POLITICIAN. "Burleigh" sketches this as follows—in the Boston Journal:

F. L. A. Boole died in the Lunatic Asylum at Utica last week. During the McClellan campaign he was the prominent political leader of the city. He was nominated for Mayor by Tammany. One of the lampoons represented him as a huge bull in the centre of a large ring, indicating that he was the head of the political ring of the city. He was overthrown in the contest by Gunther. The Legislature abolished his office, which was very lucrative, and turned him adrift. Excessive disappointment and excessive drink drove him to the Lunatic Asylum, where he was confined for a length of time and where he expired.

Mr. Boole, in his career and end, is a type of a New York politician. Flush one day and penniless the next, swaying with a despot's hand the party one month, and hooted by the rabble the next; dictating rules to the national Democracy one season, and begging money for drinks the next. During the fifteen years that I have conducted the New York correspondence of the Journal, I have seen a long line of New York politicians follow one another in a steady march down the downward road. They usually come up from the lowest strata of society. Fierce drinking and liberal treating are indispensable to success. With large incomes for a season, they have less money than one would suppose.

With the incomes of their office the politicians have to run the party, support an army of retainers and vagabonds, and pay all the assessments levied by the general committees. A gentleman who held the office of Counsel to the Corporation, told me that it cost him $30,000 to secure his election. These constant and heavy assessments make the New York politicians poor. High living, late suppers and excessive drinking undermine their health and make their lives dissipated. If they are not run under, as they are quite likely to be, they break down in mature life and pass from sight. Out of the great number of politicians who were young men or in middle life ten years ago, scarcely one remains on the surface. Broken-down, seedy men, dilapidated and shunned, with nothing to live on, who were once shinning lights in the city, can be seen everywhere. Better be a carman or a stevedore than a New York politician.

—Govenor Senter is showing his adhesion to the republican party by designating democratic papers to receive the Tennessee State patronage. The mortality of republican papers is consequently large. The Memphis Evening Post, one of the best and calmest newspapers of the South, is an easy victim. Only one of the republican papers has yet sold itself to the democracy, so as to retain the government advertising.

—Thirty thousand children were excluded from the public schools of New York last year because the school buildings could not accommodate them. The jails and prisons will have to be enlarged one day, in consequence.

THE GREAT MUDDLE.—SOME MORE. In a previous article on this subject I made out, very much to my own satisfaction, that neither brewers nor hostlers are to be abused for the creation of the stagnant Cess Pool. Well! what does confine the water and refuse matter, and so make the whole western portion of the city almost uninhabitable? Where is the culprit who has transformed the once limpid waters of the lovely Creek Cove, where the little dirty-faced boys used to go in wading under the bridge, and the smelts came up to get caught by gentlemen and ladies, (who now pass the spot with eye—and proboscis—turned away from the scene of former pleasures,) into a seething, slimy abomination which would make an eel sick at the stomach were he hardy enough to venture there, and would give a "sculpin" the colic? "Sweet Echo," pointing the finger of scorn at the Railroad embankments, sternly answers, "Them!"

One look will satisfy any one that the embankments are the primary, and indeed the only cause, of the settlement of the filth in this one spot, and the stagnation of the water. Before the embankments were made the tide had free ebb and flow in that place, which it has not had since. Hence the Great Creek Cess Pool.

Very good. Let the Railroads fill up the hole, then, and all will be right. But perhaps the Railroads won't fill it up. They may say, "Our embankments caused no trouble until foul substances were poured from your drains into the cove, which should not have been allowed; so the blame rests with you." But if the way had been clear, the drainage would have been diffused more widely, and would not have yet made such a big nuisance; the time for growling would have been postponed. I am not the City Solicitor, and shall not venture to recommend that the city do what is perhaps impossible,—force the railroads, by legal process, to fill up the hole; but I may suggest that if a cartload of the quintessence of the Pool was hauled down to the railroad stations every night, and half of it dumped down in each depot, that it might result in bringing the Corporations to terms. If this moral suasion should fail, and legal proceedings have no ground to stand on, what then? The citizens living by the Creek should not be expected to pay for removing a nuisance they did not create, and which is a public annoyance and disgrace.

Should the city do it, then. Not if the city can help it. When the hole is filled up, the land will not belong to the city—it will be private property, and its owners the only ones to reap pecuniary benefit from the very considerable outlay required; and the city did not authorize the construction of the embankment which has dammed the Cess Pool. The city could neither grant nor refuse legal permission for such construction; so the city did not create the nuisance, and the citizens' money should not be spent in removing it. I don't want any of my money spent for that purpose; to be sure, I hav'n't paid my $3.86 yet, but it does the Collector almost as much good to see me wearing a new hat (that I bought with the money) every day, as it would if I paid my tax—I am in hope he won't ask me for it any more.

Who did authorize the building of the embankments? The State. But the State gave no one permission to poison half the inhabitants of Portsmouth; and I doubt the right of the State to give such permission, though I am a red-hot State Rights man, believing that any State has a right to enforce any law standing upon its statute books, even though it may be a prohibitory liquor law, the enforcement of which would grieve every drunkard in the community, and possibly make some of the rum-sellers earn an honest living. Perhaps the State can be shown to be the real culprit,—but I can't show it.

Having now become a little confused, and not feeling at the present moment quite sure as to whose side I am on, or indeed of anything else except that I would like to see the Cess Pool filled at some one else's expense, I think it wise to abstain for a short time from the study of this momentobs question.

PAKEHA.

—The Bangor Democrat's plan for throwing the Maine election into the Legislature, and thus choosing the Democratic candidate for Governor, was so good that we re-copy its estimate of the returns as follows:

Smith	50,072
Chamberlain	48,554
Hichborn	8,002

This hits Chamberlain's vote very well, but over-shoots Smith's by about 15,000, which is a material item in a small aggregate vote.

—An immense land slide from a mountain in the Adirondack region is said to have completely divided the waters of Avalanche Lake, extending from shore to shore, and forming a causeway across.

CHEAP WISDOM.—What can be easier or cheaper, than a mere homily on intemperance, with a plea for moderate drinking, and a tirade against a prohibitory law. Such stuff flows very freely from the pen of a man who soaks a little himself, but despises a drunkard!

And then the wisdom of their advice is wonderful, past finding out. Here is a specimen:—

Make getting drunk a punishable offence, and it would also make it so degrading that every person with the least spark of pride in their breasts would avoid intoxication. Place the stigma upon the drunkard that now rests upon the seller, and let every person frown down upon every excess, and good may be accomplished.]

The laws have punished drunkenness as a crime, for centuries; yet many proud persons, and some very proud, have been drunken! But when every person should frown down every excess they would be a temperance millenn, and no laws would be necessary on that subject. We do not see that day yet, however;—it exists only in the dream of a writer who dosn't know what he is talking about.

DON'T LIKE CORN.—A New Yorker at Mt. Desert says the Sunday Indian pudding there "is like a mixture of oats and molasses. It is well adapted for boarding-house purposes, for no human being in his senses would ask to be helped a second time."

It may be that this fellow does not know enough to discriminate between a good Indian pudding and a poor one. And it may be as he says that the pudding served him was like a "mixture of oatsand molasses." The very best of cooks will sometimes serve up very poor dishes but these are the exceptions.

One fact is clearly brought to notice, viz: that persons who live well at home, persons who know how to live, possess a keen appreciation of good cookery, and are conversant with the pains taking of a well ordered kitchen, are not those who usually are foremost and most prominent in fault-finding at hotels and in steamboats, and take apparent delight in scolding and tormenting the waiters.

A waiter once asked a "scolder," "How do you live, sir, when you are at home?" It was saucy of the waiter, but it was a keen hint nevertheless.—Machias Union.

We have often noticed the same thing, that persons who have barely the necessities of life at home, are among the first to find fault with their fare, and show their ill-breeding when abroad, and among folks accustomed to good living and good society.

—Proceedings on writ of habeas corpus in the New York Supreme Court, developed the fact that the robbers of the express car on the New York Central Railroad, on the 11th of August, obtained $800,000.

☞—Contributions for the relief of the Avondale sufferers are being forwarded very liberally. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Coal companies have given twenty thousand dollars and Adams Express Company a thousand.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh: wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES.—Thinking it due your labors in behalf of easing woman's work, I hereby testify that in 1854, I purchased one of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machines, being at that day most fully informed of their excellence over all others. This machine has been in almost uninterrupted use ever since (a period of nearly fifteen years), on many totally different materials, such as my own boots, my boy's clothing, needle-books, beside the usual heavy and light goods worn by ladies and children. It has never been repaired, and does not need it yet. I have blessed the day on which I first entered your fin establishment as a purchaser.

MRS. J. W. D. PATTEN.

Washington, D. C.

The most astonishing cure of Chronic Diarrhœa we ever heard of is that of Wm. Clark, Frankfort mills, Waldo Co, Maine; the facts are attested by Ezra Trest, Upton Trest, and M. A. Merrill, either of whom might be addressed for particulars. Mr. Clark was cured by "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment."

☞ We have lately tried Speer's wine, at his place at Passaic, N. J. It is a pure article from the juice, cultivated, prepared and fermented, without the addition of any spirits, and especially good for those who object on principle to stimulants, as it has all the properties of warmth and energy which occasionally render a resort to them absolutely medicinal. Each vintage must lay four years before put in market. His success is remarkable, as it is being ordered by families, merchants, and druggists, from all parts of the country, from South America, England, and even from the wine districts of France.—*Frank Leslie's Illust. Renne's Pain-Killing Magic Oil is just the article to keep in the house to relieve any kind of pain, to cure a cold, or croup, or sore throat, or cholic pains, cramps, and lameness of any kind. Try it, reader, and you won't be without it to use in your family.

A Defensive Medicine.

"In time of peace prepare for war," is a sound military maxim. "Let not the sickly season find you unprepared." It is an equally good rule in medical jurisprudence. The man must be made of iron who finds himself at the close of summer as strong as at its commencement. Such a phenomenon is rare, even among the most robust of the human family. Muscular and constitutional vigor ooze out of us in the broiling weather of July and August, and few of us, at the opening of the Fall, are in the best possible condition to defy the unhealthy influences of the season.

Fever and ague and billious remittent fevers, together with a variety of complaints that affect the digestive organs, the liver and the bowels, form a portion of the Autumn programme. Bear in mind that exhaustion invites these disorders, and that stamina or energy in the system is their bane. "To be weak is to be miserable," says Satan to his defeated legions, in "Paradise Lost," and the axiom is correct, though it comes from an evil source.

Ho! then, ye weak and feeble, fortify yourselves against the invisible enemy that pervades the Autumn air. The best defence against malaria is a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This rare vegetable tonic will improve your appetite, stimulate your digestive organs, impart tone to your nerves, invigorate your muscular fibre, regulate your secretions, cheer your spirits and fill your entire physique in perfect working order. It is easily done. The standard tonic and alterative which will recuperate and build you up is not "hard to take," but, on the contrary, a pleasant medicine.

See, however, that you have the genuine article. There are imitations and counterfeits in the market, and they are all worthless or deleterious. Bear in mind that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold only in glass, (never by the gallon or cask,) and that each bottle bears a label, surmounted by a vignette of St. George and the Dragon, and our revenue stamp over the cork.

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited troubled with pain in the side, head-ache, and a constant feeling of weariness. The immediate and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all others proceeding from biliousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Of all anti-bilious medicines they are safest, surest and best. CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS for Diseases of the Liver, or to act as a gentle Purgative.

All of these three medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These medicines are conscientiously offered to the public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedies for Pulmonary Consumption, and for those morbid conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been through a period of more than thirty-two years, in all of which time its reputation has constantly increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases which admit of a cure.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany the medicine, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of the medicine has saved the life of the patient, and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck himself was cured in precisely such circumstances, and many others have been equally fortunate by judiciously making a timely use of Dr. Schenck's remedies.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts, that in other when patients have the most alarming symptoms, such as a violent cough, creeping chills, night sweats, and general debility, given to understand by eminent physicians that they are obliged to lie in bed, and when they are given up by their physicians, they may still be cured. No medical treatment can create new lungs, but when the lungs are very badly diseased, and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicines.

Also in Scrofulous diseases these medicines are equally efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been nearly covered with running sores and who are all healed up. This shows its purifying properties, which must be done to heal cavities in the lungs.

In the treatment of Pulmonary Consumption, it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone in the system. Hence it is necessary to strengthen the appetite of the patient and improve the digestion. Proper nourishment is required, together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most suitable for the diet of consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's Almanacs, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most nutritious articles are the preferable; but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This requirement is met by Dr. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designed.

When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect; the system of the patient is invigorated, and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing powers of the Pulmonic Syrup will complete the cure.

Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel or "blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral poison. These pills cure the most obstinate costiveness, sick headache, piles, billious affections, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the liver. One box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption, the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable auxiliary medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient and assist the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, when the lungs were almost entirely destroyed, and all symptoms, according to the judgement of physicians, indicated speedy death. Lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.

DR. SCHENCK'S Almanac, containing a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicines, can be had gratis or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, each, $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen; Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obtained. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this element form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and gentle aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopœia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1836 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself suspected that my early voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a gallery, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON.

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me in my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good effect.

J. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ We are informed that Mrs. John Foley, reported robbed one night last week, was not robbed but got tired and went to sleep out of doors. At daylight the money was found where she had reposed.

☞ Dr. Parsons, Chief Marshal at the Piscataqua Fair, has appointed as Assistants, Messrs. James D. Butler of Portsmouth, Wm. B. Blake of Raymond and John H. Cilley of Nottingham; and there probably will be others named hereafter.

LARGEST CATCH YET.—Mr. Charles H. Wallace of this city, we think, is "high line" champion of the world. He caught, one night last week, while alone in a 20-foot-keel boat, so we are informed, 3500 lbs. of fish, the cash proceeds of the same being rising $46.

☞ In printing the list of Premiums for the Piscataqua Fair, the following was accidentally omitted from the list as made out by the Board—but it will be included in the Fair, and is open for entries. For best show of horses by one man or firm, $10; second best, $5.

☞ Miss Kate Reignolds and her Dramatic Company at the Temple this evening; Kate was always a bright particular reigning star for us in the theatrical firmament. Long may she reign. The company is among the best now travelling. This is their only performance here. Give them a hearty welcome.

☞ The famous Two-Headed Girl, (who is not only double-headed but double-footed,) a much more wonderful freak of nature than the Siamese Twins, is to be exhibited at the Temple on Monday afternoon and evening next. She is (or they are) colored, and is in no respect a monstrous or unpleasant curiosity.

☞ The Granite Engine Company No. 3 of Newmarket, with the Newmarket Band, visited this city on Wednesday; and were received by Granite State Company of Portsmouth, with whom they made an excursion to the Shoals in the steamer Appledore returning in the afternoon. The Firemen and Band made a creditable appearance.

☞ Respecting the arrest of Watchman Page at the Navy Yard, we are desired to state that he took about 4 lbs. only of paint, (and not 25 lbs. as reported,) and that he reported it himself to the Captain of the Watch, as he was about to leave for the day,—who not only very properly refused to allow its removal from the Yard, but also procured his arrest, — unfairly and needlessly, as Page and his friends allege.

☞ The Salem Veterans, Gen. Sutton, Commander, with full ranks, and accompanied by the Germania Band, arrived in a special train about noon of Wednesday, and proceeded to the Sagamore House, where they will remain until Friday. In the fourth rank, we noticed the fine face and figure of Dr. Geo. B. Loring of Salem — one of the most popular, promising and rising men of Massachusetts; and there are many other distinguished gentlemen. The campaign of the Veterans forms quite a gala occasion for our citizens—with the delightful music of the Germanian's, these bright moonlight evenings.

☞ The Lyceum Committee are in active correspondence with some of the most celebrated lecturers, readers, actors and singers in the country, from which to select a course of entertainments at the Temple the coming season, if sufficient encouragement be given by the citizens. It is proposed that the list include such celebrities as Olive Logan, Kate Field, Stephen Massett, Geo. Vandenhoff, Mark Twain, &c.; and when the list shall be made up, a subscription paper will be circulated, to ascertain whether tickets enough at $2 each for eight such first-class entertainments, with music, can be sold to warrant the heavy outlay necessary to secure them.

☞ In the injunction to stop building Summer Street, one count is that the cuts as drafted in the plan are too deep, and the fillings needlessly high; but the grade was fixed by Messrs. A. M. Hoyt, City Surveyor; E. Haines, Street Commissioner; and Aldermen Spinney and Slater, Committee on Streets,—whose combined wisdom, after mature deliberation, and approval of the Board, it would seem might be regarded as equal to that of Mayor Jones in the matter.

Squibbs wants to know why the Mayor did not put an injunction on the recent Gravel purchase—for which $200 was appropriated and $1000 spent? And whether it was because the Board voted to add him to the Gravel Committee, but refused to do so in the present case?

☞ Messrs. H. M. Clark, W. R. Preston, M. Bufford, J. H. Foster, L. G. Davis, R. K. Oxford, and other prominent members of the Portsmouth Horticultural Society, have kindly consented to lend their efficient aid in the arrangement of the Hall Show of the Piscataqua Fair, as they did last year.

☞ Our sincere thanks to our friends at Great Falls, for their cordial and tempting invitation to attend the Fair there, and we hope to be able to do so to-day, and witness the close, at least, of their success.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

☞ The Salisbury Beach gathering comes off to-day. It is expected that thirty thousand people will be present.

☞ The Fair at Great Falls closes, and that at Exeter opens to-day.

—Senator Wilson says the result of the Tennessee election has been brought about by that want of principle, violence and treachery so characteristic of Tennessee politicians.

—In Austria, when a mother wishes to give her daughter the last polish in the art of high cookery, she sends her into the kitchen of a bishop, or to a rich cloister, where she can learn the preparation of the finest dainties.

DENTAL NOTICE.
69 Congress Street. Portsmouth.
DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.
He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.
He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.
He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 10 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a specialty, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in advertising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentures,) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.
All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.
Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY
GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.
We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the
KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
For the sale of its
NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.
This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.
First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,
secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,
And in successful operation for 437 miles
west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the
GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,
extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as
A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.
The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of
Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,
and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the
Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.
The Bonds have
THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,
from May 1, 1869, and will pay
SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.
The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be
PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK
at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:
On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....£7 e5. 10. "
" Frankfort..$7 fir. 30 krtzs., "
The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a
FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,
in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even
Better than Government Securities.
The Bonds will be sold for the present at 96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,
the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.
The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.
Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

SYBIL'S LOVERS.

The ruby shine of a well-filled grate diffused an atmosphere of summer heat and softness through Mrs. Nair's snug sitting room, where a glad little canary warbled in the sunshine over a stand of flowers, in whose midst rose up a large Easter lily, with a blossom like a scroll of white velvet, and a golden torch burning within. While on the centre-table, a crystal globe of ferns waxed softly, a souvenir of summer coaxed to grow in defiance of the record of the out-of-doors' thermometer; and Mrs. Stephen Nair herself, a plump, dimpled young matron something after the dumpling order of womanhood, completed the picture of home-comfort very prettily, as she sat embroidering a pair of slippers in a blue Cashmere morning wrapper, and the tiniest of coiffures of blue ribbon and lace bouillonnee. Mrs. Nair liked to wear caps—probably because her brown hair was so bright and thick, and because there wasn't the least necessity in life for it. If she had been forty-five and bald on top of her head, she would have gone by the "rule of contraries," and left off caps. Women are women, and you can not always account for their caprices.

Sybil Rexley sat opposite, a tall, lovely girl, not unlike the stately Easter lily in her style, with lustrous golden hair and snow pure complexion, whose blonde beauty was well relieved by her crimson walking dress; as she sat there, she was unconsciously busying herself by tying and untying her pocket handkerchief in a series of Gordian knots, while the tears slowly welled from her blue eyes, hanging like pearls an instant on their long lashes, and then splashing down upon the satin trimming of her sleeves. Poor Sybil! she was past caring whether the costly material would "spot" or not.

"Oh, Clara," she said piteously, "I am so very, very unhappy! for you know I never shall really love any one but Harley Winter as a woman ought to love a man whom she calls husband!"

"I am sure," said Mrs. Nair, a little shortly, "the question is plain enough. If you feel toward Harley Winter as you say you do, it would be downright treachery to throw him over in favor of this other man. I don't see how you can hesitate between the two for an instant—but you never had a mind of your own, poor little Sybil!"

"Clara, do you think I am doing very wrong?" faltered the fair blonde.

"Sybil," said Mrs. Nair, dropping her slipper with the central rosebud half worked, "you never would be such an unmitigated goose as to marry Mr. Bunker if you don't love him!"

Pretty Sybil flushed and then grew pale.

"Clara, I'm not as firm as you, and papa and mama are determined about it; they like Mr. Bunker, and—"

"Then let them marry him!" interrupted Mrs. Nair. "Mr. Bunker, indeed! A fat, spectacled old tortoise—old enough to be your father, Sybil! I've no patience with you."

"Clara?"

"Well, I haven't! A woman ought to have will and energy enough of her own to resist forty old wooers with forty pots of money to back them. What if Winter is poor? Isn't he in a fair way to be rich one of these days? What was Herodotus Bunker, I'd like to know, but a two-penny store-keeper when he was of Harley Winter's age! I don't care if he is my husbands's consin—he's a pompous old donkey, for all that; and if you do marry him, Sybil, why you'll deserve to be unhappy. That's all I've got to say."

Clara Nair spoke with emphasis. She was too differently constituted to comprehend the shrinking weakness of her sister's nature. As well might the straight young poplar understand the clinging fragility of the ivy vine!

"But, Clara, they have promised—"

"They! How could you let them, Sybil?"

"I—I could not help it, Clara. And so next April—"

"Oh, Sybil!" said Clara, despairingly. "And poor Harley Winter—the noblest fellow that ever drew breath of life!"

Sybil began to cry, piteously and passionately.

"Clara, you are too bad. As if I were not miserable enough already, you too load me with reproaches!"

"Sybil, you yourself confess that you do not love this man."

"Mr. Bunker? No, certainly I do not!"

"And you love Harley?"

"As tru'y and earnestly as ever woman loved man."

"Then I'd run away to the Andes of Ecuador before I'd sacrifice myself to the plots and plans of those who este em wealth the highest of earthly possessions!"

Still Sybil wept and shrunk. Poor child! To her Mrs. Nair's revolutionary doctrines appeared perfectly impracticable. It was her nature to be led and guided, nor dared she to rebel.

"I declare," said Mrs. Clara, pacing up and down the room like an infuriated little wild animal, "it's outrageous! it's atrocious."

Sybil emerged from behind the eclipse of her pocket-handkerchief and listened. Clara could do almost anything—that brave, ready-witted, resolute sister of hers; it was not absolutely impossible that she might find a way for her, Sybil Rexley, out of this Slough of Despond, deep and trackless though it seemed.

"Clara?" she faltered; "oh, Clara—if you could help me?"

"Hold your silly little tongue!" quickly interrupted Clara, contradicting her brusque words by a kiss. "Go home; I wouldn't trust you with my plans any more than I would trust my canary bird with the cat's dinner!"

"But you'll tell me a little of—"

"No, I won't! I shall not tell you a single word! Go home I say!"

So Mrs. Nair resolutely dismissed her tall, pretty, helpless sister.

"I don't like those grown up children," soliloquized Mrs. Nair. "I hope to goodness Harry will remodel her when he is married to her. Unless he likes a milk and water diet better than I do, he probably will."

Mr. Herodotus Bunker, a stout elderly gentleman of respectable mein, was sitting in his office, toasting his feet on the fender that evening at dusk, as Mr. Nair entered.

"Hallo, Nair, is that you?" cried Mr. Bunker with a welcoming beam in his fishy eyes. "Glad to see you. Take a chair. Is there anything I can do for you? Because you know," he added with a chuckle, "we're going to be relations—or at least connections—and I believe in what the canny Scots call clanship."

"Thank you," said Mr. Nair, a handsome, frank-looking fellow of some two or three and thirty summers. 'I was just going to ask a favor of you.'

"The money market is pretty tight just now," muttered Bunker, "but—"

"Oh, it hasn't anything to do with the money market," interrupted Nair. Mr. Bunker brightened perceptibly, like a fat cabinet-glass head after a shower. "Only I'm obliged to go to Detroit for a week on business, and I feel a little nervous about leaving Clara and the children; so, if you'd just take up your quarters there, and see that things are all right during my absence—"

"With a good deal of pleasure," interrupted Mr. Bunker, for, like John Gilpin of old, "he had a thrifty mind," and thought of the board bill which would thereby be saved his purse. "Stay away as long as you like, my dear fellow. I'll keep an eye to your interests."

"You see I wouldn't trouble you, only Clara is nervous and timid, like our little Sybil. (Mr. Bunker's countenance here became rippled with a little smirk.) They are wonderfully alike, sir, those two sisters."

"Alike, are they?" said Mr. Bunker, mentally thinking that here would be an excellent opportunity to study something of his sweetheart's character. second hand.

"As two peas. And so you see, Mr. Bunker," added Mr. Nair, jocosely, "it will be a nice chance for you to get your hand in at housekeeping. Of course you and Sybil intend to have a home of your own."

"Oh, certainly, certainly! I've had quite enough of hotel life; and, besides, you have no idea how horribly expensive it is. Why, a man can't get decent board short of eight dollars a week, and there is washing—another dollar! Nine dollars a week, sir—why, it's positively outrageous! And I've always heard that two could live cheaper than one, for—"

"Oh, there's no kind of doubt about it," put in Nair, coughing violently behind a pocket handkerchief. "And you will come early to-morrow morning? I leave on the seven o'clock train.

"You'll find my check book in the secretary. Clara will give you the keys."

"All right, sir," quoth Mr. Bunker.

Concluded to-morrow.

Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers for drawing Patents, prepared on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

A RESESPON TO MY SERENADES.

BY DANIEL A. DROWN.

Once more your soothing strains I heard
Within my darkened room,
Where music comes like sunny gleams
To cheer the silent gloom.
Sweet memories will ever bless
These weary hours of pain,
And gratefully for each kind deed
My heart responds again.

True sympathy on angel wings
Performs a heavenly part,
And breathes those pitying words of love
Which soon makes grief depart.
By thoughtful and unselfish deeds
It seeks another's peace,
And while it blesses, yet returns
With sheaves of rich increase.

When in my quiet hours I muse
On pleasures I have known,
Whose fragrance lingering sweetly charms
Like roses newly blown,
My Serenades I shall recount
With many a fresh encore,
And thank again those stranger friends
Who came to Sagamore.

Rye, N. H., 1869.

THE HANGING OF GORDON, THE SLAVE-TRADER.

BY EDWARD EVERETT HALE.

New York was the great centre where the slavetraders of the world bought their vessels. Havana was the great centre where they laid their plans, Boston, New Bedford, New London, Cadiz, Barcelona, the Western Islands, and I know not where else, were the minor places in the operation. The voyages were arranged at Havana, the ships were partly fitted in New York, thence they slipped to sea, picked up the rest of their equipment and the right papers elsewhere, if New York would not answer, and brought up on the Western Coast.

I have seen the record which Mr. Archibald, the English Consul and Commissioner in New York, kept of one hundred and seventy-one of these vessels in three years' time. His secret agents boarded them in New York harbor, and described them for him in detail, even down to the brand of cigars which the captain had in his cabin. Mr. Archibald sent the description to the Admiralty, and they to the Coast.

"Let me go below," said an English officer, on board a slaver in one of the African rivers. "You go at your peril," said the captain, brave in the perfectly regular papers he had, in the Stars and Stripes over his head, in the new coat of paint he had taken at the Western Islands, and in the fact, perhaps, that, though he sailed a bark, he was now a brig.

"You go below at your peril."

"I will take the risk," said the Englishman; went below, and found all the slavefittings, casks, cooking-stove, hand-cuffs and the rest, and of course, seized the vessel.

The outwitted captain, white with rage, swore between his clenched teeth, "You would not have known me but for your bloody English Consul in New York." Almost every man of the projectors was known to the English government through this steady secret service. But they all ran riot till Mr. Lincoln came in, and then one fine day Gordon was arrested for slave-trading, another day he was tried, and another he was hanged!

Yes, my friend, he was hanged. I know about what is called the sacredness of human life. For my part, I believe a man's life is as sacred as his liberty, and no more so. And I believe when his country require either his life or his liberty, she may use it, if she takes the responsibility. In this case, I am very glad my country took this responsibility. Whatever Gordon's life may have been worth to him or to his friends, I think this country put to a very good use when she hanged him.

A storm of protest was made against his death. Twenty-five thousand people petitioned Abraham Lincoln to spare that man's life, and Abraham Lincoln refused. Gordon was hanged. And all through the little ports and big ports of the United States it was known that a slave-trader had been hanged. And when that was known the American slave-trade ended. All up and down little African rivers that you never heard the names of, it was known that an American slave-trader had been hanged; and cowardly pirates trembled, and brave seamen cheered, when they heard it. Mothers of children thanked such gods as they knew how to thank; and slaves shut up in barracoons, waiting for the voyage, got signal that something had happened which was to give them their freedom. That something was, that Gordon was hanged. So far that little candle threw its beams.

I am told, and I believe, that when that poor wretch was under sentence of death, his "friends" kept him in liquor to the moment of his death,—so anxious were they lest he should complicate some of them by a confession. And when he was dead they celebrated his death in the last great orgy of the slave-trade,—in one drunken feast they held together,—so rejoiced were they that they had escaped his testimony. Such is honor among thieves!—Atlantic Monthly.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES as are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties, odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dulness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, constations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1863, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

THE AVONDALE DISASTER.—The Jury has returned the following verdict; That the said Palmer, Steele and others came to their deaths in the Avondale mines; that the cause of their death was the exhaustion of atmospheric air or a prevalence of sulphuric and carbonic acid gases in the said Avondale mine [caused by the burning of the head house and breaker at said mine, on the 6th day of September, thereby destroying the air courses leading from the mine through the shaft. That the fire originated from the furnace in the mines, taking effect on the wooden rattice in the up cast air course leading from the bottom of the shaft to the head house. The Jury regard the present system of mining in a large number of mines now working by shafts, as insecure and unsafe to the miners and would strongly recommend in all cases where practicable two places for ingress and egress, and a more perfect ventilation, thereby rendering greater security to the lives of the miners under any similar accident.

☞ The Salisbury Beach gathering, on Thursday, was an immense affair, for which Bro. G. J. L. Colby of the Newburyport Herald is directly responsible. More carriages are reported to have been present than there were last year, when 30,000 people were there. There was an inundation of people on Thursday, coming from all directions and in every conceivable style of vehicle, while the trampers struggled thro' the sand with rare courage. The influx lasted from twilight of Wednesday to twilight on Thursday.

☞ After extended inquiry and many fruitless endeavors to gain the desired information, it has been ascertained that Bessom, the backward walker, was not blown to Canada by the recent gale, but reached Lynn on his second day out from Portsmouth. He went no farther, as his opponents paid $100 forfeit at Newburyport.

CURE FOR FOUNDER. — Benjamin Wood, in the Southern Cultivator, says that any case of founder not over a day old can be cured. Clean out the horse's feet, and hold each up horizontally and pour on what spirits of turpentine each will hold. Then set fire to it, and hold till the turpentine burns up. Bandages should be put about the hair and upper part of hoof to keep the fire from burning them. He says he has cured a horse that way that has been foundered twenty-four hours, so that he could drive him on a journey as well as if nothing had happened. We give the statement for what it is worth.

THE EXETER FAIR opened well on Thursday and will continue to-day and to-morrow.

☞ The editors and publishers of Massachusetts have formed a State Association.

New Hampshire Items.

Saturday morning Mr. Abner Woods unconsciously lost part of three finger s on the left hand while tightening a nut on the Nashua Iron Co.'s big shears, weighing sixteen or seventeen tons, the mammoth knife clipping off his little finger close to the nail-roots and the next two nearly down to the first joint. Mr. Woods did not know but what the missing members were in their "normal position" until after commencing to wash the blood from a supposed trifling scratch.

The funeral of Mr. Charles F. Barrett, who was fatally injured Wednesday by the blowing over of a house at "Nashua Village," on Marblehead Neck, was very largely attended Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church at Nashua by the community generally, and three bodies of Odd Fellows.

☞ At the Strafford Fair at Great Falls the Fire Deparment of that town headed the procession.

Barrington Town Team was composed of 11 yokes of oxen and a beautiful French roof cottage, ornamented with flowers, fruit and evergreen. This establishment attracted much attention, and was admired by all.

Dover Town Team, 10 yokes of oxen.

Somersworth Town Team, 11 yokes of oxen, and cart haudsomely ornamented with evergreen, corn, vegetables, &c.

Rollinsford Town Team, 10 yokes of oxen.

The procession made a fine appearance, as it marched from Main Street to the Fair Ground, under the direction of the efficient Marshal, Capt. Wallingford, with Capt. Moses of Great Falls, Dr. Cilley of Durham, H. B. Davis of Great Falls, Wm. H. Vickery of Dover, A. D. Whitehouse of Rochester, and E. J. Locke of Barrington, as Assistants.

In the Fruit Department, 14 varieties of apples by Henry Paul, 46 varieties of apples by Judge Roberts, 12 varieties of apples and 12 of pears by C. W. Rollins, 14 varieties of grapes by R. Eastman, 42 varieties of pears by S. H. Wentworth; all fine specimens for the season. The largest apples were entered by M. C. Burleigh of Great Falls.

In the Vegetable Department were some extra Rose potatoes by A. Rollins; remarkable beets by W. W. Wiggin; melons, corn, squashes, &c., by Joseph Ham, 3d.

Among the curiosities, 999 odd buttons, collected by one person; a pair of shoes made by John Meserve of Rochester, 84 years old, of a style worn 70 years ago.

On the afternoon of Tuesday, the sport upon the track resulted as follows:

In the race of colts of four years old, George Chesley's grey mare beat Charles Davis' black horse in three straight heats. Time, — 3.35, 3.23, 3.58 1-2.

In the running race, Elisha Locke's sorrel mare beat W. P. Moses' chestnut horse in two straight heats. Time,—2.03, 2.15.

In the walking match four horses were entered. John Drew's grey horse won, distance 1-2 mile, time 5,47.

The stallion race was won by G. Leighton's black stallion, beating G. Hall's Gen. Hancock in three straight heats.—Time,—2.59, 2.59 1-2, 3.01.

In the velocipede race only one entered.—Franklin Shaw. Distance 1-2 mile,—time 3.55.

The foot race was won by Downs of Dover. Time, 3.55.

☞ The Messrs. Becker, of Newcastle, while fishing from their schooner boat, the Hattie F. Weeks, at anchor about ten miles outside the Shoals, on Wednesday morning,—were run down and nearly sunk, by schooner Alice P. Higgins of Wellfleet. Our informant blames the Capt. of the Alice very much, stating that the Beckers saw their danger, and hallowed and shouted, but no one was on the deck of the Higgins except a boy who could not alter the wheel; but just as the boat was struck, the bow stove in, her head gear carried away, and the unfortunate men on the point of leaping overboard, the Higgins crew got the alarm, and sheered off and saved the Weeks.

To add to the terror, a shark twelve feet long had just been seen by those in the boat. It is said the Wellfleet skipper did not seem to care much for the damage done—which we are told will amount to several hundred dollars, including about 1000 lbs of fish—for all which we are informed the Higgins owners will be called upon for damages. The Messrs. Becker brought their disabled boat home to Newcastle.

☞ At Konigsburg during the festival in honor of the visit of the King of Prussia, the railings of a bridge overcrowded with spectators, burst, and many were precipitated into the river. Twenty-two bodies have been recovered.

FAIR PLAY.—We like trotting, but not cheating. There is no more necessity or excuse for fraud on the turf, than on the bench; and a man who would cheat in one position, we would not trust in the other case. And after all said and done, and notwithstanding the erroneous opinion of many people, we are sure that even the veriest horse-jockies are not more dishonest than speculators or pettifoggers. But when cheating is attempted on the track, it is not so easy to conceal it or cover the tracks as in some other places; and hence many folks have come to believe that there is no such thing as honest horse-racing. But if there cannot be fair play and no favor, then the sooner the trotting Parks shall be ploughed up and planted, the better.

But if the fair-minded lovers of the sport so determine, we certainly can have exhibitions of speed without the evils associated with hippodroming. If proper rules are framed and enforced, racing can be conducted without deception, and without danger to the morals of religious communities. Racing, in itself, is not sinful, the evils growing out of it, when loosely conducted, alone are to be feared. But under proper management, we insist, these evils can be suppressed.

TO GO THROUGH. — The Concord Patriot says—

The Suncook Valley Times has just begun to appreciate the fact that we have been preaching all along—that the Concord and Rochester Railroad is to go through to Rochester. We didn't believe that Pittsfield would kick so much against its own interests as to fight a through road.

Exactly so: and it is highly probable, to say the least, that it is to go through because the law says it must, it it is to go at all.

—A man is as old as he feels; a woman as old as she looks.

—The whaling barque Thomas Winslow of New Bedford was foundered at sea during a hurricane, September 8.

—Twenty-two counties of Indiana have lately held elections on the question of voting aid to railroads and not one of them refused.

—One who went from New York to Shanghai in 1861, consuming two hundred and forty days in the journey, has just returned in thirty-one days and twelve hours running time.

—Noticing the fact that General Rosecrans is going to build a railroad, the Detroit Tribune thinks that Pendleton will do well to follow his example and make tracks too.

—Senator Brownlow publishes a card stating that he has disposed of his interest in the Knoxville Whig, but that the paper will continue to support the republican cause. He says so many of the Union men of Tennessee have gone astray that he would advise his northern friends to accept Tennessee republicans only for what they are worth.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

FACTS FOR THE LADIES. — Thinking it due your labors in behalf of easing woman's work, I herein state that in the year 1854, I purchased one of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing-Machines, being at that day most fully informed of their excellence over all others. This machine has been in almost uninterrupted use ever since (a period of nearly fifteen years), on many totally different materials, such as my own boots, my boy's clothing, needle-books, beside the usual heavy and light goods worn by ladies and children. It has never been repaired, and does not need it yet. I have blessed the day on which I first entered your fin establishment as a purchaser.

The most astonishing cure of Chronic Diarrhœa we ever heard of is that of Wm. Clark, Frankfort mills, Waldo Co, Maine; the facts are attested by Ezra Trest, Upton Trest, and M. A. Merrill, either of whom might be addressed for particulars. Mr. Clark was cured by "Johnson's Anodyne Liniment."

☞ We have lately tried Speer's wine, at his place at Passaic, N. J. It is a pure article from the juice, cultivated, prepared and fermented, without the addition of any spirits, and especially good for those who object on principle to stimulants, as it has all the properties of warmth and energy which occasionally render a resort to them absolutely medicinal. Each vintage must lay four years before put in market. His success is remarkable, as it is being ordered by families, merchants, and druggists, from all parts of the country, from South America, England, and even from the wine districts of France.—*Frank Leslie's Illust. —Two circuses are running in opposition to each other in Indiana, to the great advantage of the local prints. One started with a two column advertisement, the other followed with four columns, and then number one took a whole page of the paper to convince the people that it was the best show.

A Defensive Medicine.

"In time of peace prepare for war," is a sound military maxim. "Let not the sickly season find you unprepared." It is an equally good rule in medical jurisprudence. The man must be made of iron who finds himself at the close of summer as strong as at its commencement. Such a phenomenon is rare, even among the most robust of the human family. Muscular and constitutional vigor goes out of us in the boiling weather of July and August, and few of us, at the opening of the Fall, are in the best possible condition to withstand the unhealthy influences of the season.

Fever and ague and billious remittent fevers, together with a variety of complaints that affect the digestive organs, the liver and the bowels, form a portion of the Autumn programme. Debility from that exhaustion invites these disorders, and that staminal vigor enables the system to repel them. "To be weak is to be miserable," says Satan to the defeated legions, in "Paradise Lost," and the adage is correct, though it comes from an evil source.

Do! then, ye weak and feeble, fortify yourselves against the invisible enemy that pervades the Autumnal air. The best defence against miasma is a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This rare vegetable tonic will improve your appetite, stimulate your digestion, give firmness to your nerves, invigorate your muscular fibre, regulate your secretions, cheer your spirits and put your entire physique in perfect working order. It is easily done. The standard tonic and alterative which will recuperate and build you up is not "bad to take," but, on the contrary, a pleasant medicine.

See, however, that you have the genuine article. There are imitations and counterfeits in the market, and they are all worthless or deleterious. Bear in mind that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold only in glass, (never by the gallon or cask,) and that each bottle bears a label protected by a vignette of St. George and the Dragon, and our revenue stamp over the cork.

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited troubled with pain in the side, head-ache, and a constant feeling of weariness. The immediate and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all others proceeding from biliousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Of all antibilious medicines they are safest, surest and best. CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS for Diseases of the Liver, or to act as a gentle Purgative.

All of these three medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Bowels, while the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These medicines are conscientiously offered to the public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedies for Pulmonary Consumption, and for those morbid conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been through a period of more than thirty-five years, in all of which time its reputation has constantly increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases to which admit of a cure.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of the medicine has saved the life of the patient, and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck himself was cured in precisely such circumstances, and many others have been equally fortunate by judiciously making a timely use of Dr. Schenck's remedies.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts, that often when the patient has the most alarming symptoms such as a violent cough, creeping chills, night sweats, and general debility, even to such a degree that they are obliged to lie in bed, and when they are given up by their physicians, they may still be cured. No medical treatment can create new lungs, but when the lungs are very badly diseased, and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicines.

Also in Scrofulous diseases these medicines are eminently efficient. Dr. Schenck has prepared of a number of persons who have been nearly covered with running sores, and now all healed up. This shows the purifying power which must be done to heal cavities in the lungs.

In the treatment of Consumption, it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone in the system. Hence it is necessary to strengthen the appetite of the patient and improve the digestion. Proper nourishment is required, together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most suitable for the diet of consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's Almanacs, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most nutritious articles are to be preferred; but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This requirement is met by the Sea Weed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designed.

When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect, the system of the patient is invigorated, and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing powers of the Pulmonic Syrup will complete the cure.

Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel or blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral poison. These pills cure the the most obstinate costiveness, sick headache, piles, billious affections, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the liver. One box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption, the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable auxiliary medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient, and assist the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, when the lungs were almost entirely destroyed, and all symptoms, according to the judgement of physicians, indicated speedy death. Lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.

DR. SCHENCK'S Almanac, containing a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicine, can be had gratis or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, each, $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen; Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggist and dealers.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede it and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than One thousand Experiments were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

Wholesale agent, John F. HENRY, No. 8 College Place, New York City.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.
Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 121 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered with my family, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

Sold by all Druggists. Observe my name in white letters in the government stamp.

TO OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocent; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated Trotting Horse of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. Over 1,000 other references can be seen at the Depot.

Sold by Druggists and Saddlers. Price 25 cents per box. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. au19

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1868.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen: — * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me in my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with beneficial results in many other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed badly in this vicinity of late. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add in the Pain Killer some quantity from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally relied upon in checking the disease."

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Shelbyville, India."

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

Prepared by Wm. Ellis, Chemist. For sale in Portsmouth by WILLIAM H. PRESTON; by Weeks & Potter, Wholesale Agents, 170 Washington Street, Boston; and by Druggists and Grocers generally. mh29sn6md

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

10-20 Bonds—Tanner & Co.
Piscataqua Fair—C. & P. Railroad.

☞Responsible for Much Profanity—the Creek cess-pool.

☞ Don't forget Billy Pastors' Great Concert to-night. See advertisement.

☞ J. C. Butler's Clam-bake, to-day. The Appledore leaves Pier Wharf at 10 o'clock, A. M., and returns at 5, P. M.

☞ One of the most attractive departments in any Fair, is the Ladies' work—and entries in this and the Fruit, &c.,are especially solicited by the Com. of Arr.

☞ The side-shows at the Piscataqua Fair next week will be very attractive. Chief among them will be the two-headed girl, a beautiful steam buggy, and the bull that gives milk.

THAT BAND STAND was found in the Court House Yard, where it was placed by Street Commissioner Haines. The eleventh Band Concert will be given this (Friday)evening,on Market Square weather permitting.

COURT-MARTIALED.—Lieut. Comdr. H. B. Seeley, late of the U. S. S. Pawnee, has been ordered for trial next week by court martial at Boston, for cruelty to seamen during the voyage of the Pawnee from Havana to this port.

☞The annual Pic Nic of Miss Isabella Ham's School came off at the beautiful residence of Dr. Stevens in Greenland on Thursday—and was as usual a very pleasant and enjoyable occasion, well improved by the juveniles and their parents and numerous friends.

☞ E. C. Page, the Navy Yard Watchman, has been taken to Portland for trial. We hear that other and more valuable things than paint have been missed lately at the Navy Yard, but the authorities have not been able to find whether Page has companions in the "taking" business or not.

THE PHILHARMONIC CONCERT next Thursday evening will be a fine one. The Cantata of Esther is strongly cast as before. Miss Gilford of Lynn, who has been engaged to take the part of Esther, is said to be a superior vocalist by those who have heard her. The costumes used on this occasion will be furnished from Boston.

☞ The neat little impromptu poem from our old friend, Mr. Drown, the true sage of Sagamore, will be read with sad pleasure by many, at home and abroad. Music hath charms for him, truly; and the sweet vocal and instrumental concerts which various visitors from Salem, Lawrence, &c., have given him, as they pass his door, are the source of great delight. This will be apparent to distant friends, when we tell them that for more than twenty years he has been immurred in a darkened room, on account of inflammation of the eyes.

☞ The present Board of Aldermen are determined that the Mayor's stink-pot at the Creek shall be abated. The city expenditure for the big drain there, exceeded the appropriation by about $75. We wonder why he didn't put an injunction on that, and on numerous other things for which the cost is more than the estimates?

Some things turn out the other way, and leave a balance unexpended, as for instance, the recent repairs on Engine House No. 2 cost only $350, thus saving $150 of the $500 appropriated. And why not use for other purposes, the $3500 appropriated for laying the new water mains into the city for fire use?

☞ The Salem Veterans are composed of members from various cities in Massachusetts. Prominent among them are Gen. Wm. Sutton, (who commands the battalion,) and Dr. Loring, of Salem; C. C. Dame, of Newburyport; Dr. Winslow Lewis of Boston, et al. Making a call on the party at the Sagamore House, Wednesday evening, we found there gentlemen of old acquaintance, and Br. Palfrey of the Salem Register—all whom we were sorry not to be at home to at our counting-room next morning. The party at the Sagamore House numbers considerably over one hundred, and had weather made on purpose for their benefit. The Veterans break camp to-day, and will return home in a special train this afternoon. P.

Gen. B. F. Butler arrived in a yacht, Thursday evening, and will return with the Veterans, this afternoon.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

NAVY YARD MATTERS. — Our correspondent writes that Capt. John Guest, who has been detached and placed on waiting orders, has left many strong friends in this vicinity who regret that he has gone and would welcome him back to this station at the first opportunity with joy. [We presume nearly every officer who has been on duty there has strong friends—and as strong enemies.]

Capt. D. McN. Fairfax has reported for duty,and 'tis said by those acquainted with him that he is a gentlemen of very polished manners, and that he will give as good satisfaction here as any officer in the service. So mote it be.

It is understood Capt. Fairfax has retained Mr. John S. Stodder as his clerk.

The California has been coppered and went into the Dock on Thursday.

The Ferry Boat Emerald is hauled up on the ways, to be repaired, painted green. The Portfire is running to Portsmouth instead.

The Wyoming is being housed over.

The Portland M. E. District Association, which has been holding its session with the 2nd M. E. Church of Kittery during the week closing Wednesday evening, has been well attended. Some very able essays have been listened to and the discussions have been interesting. Rev. Mr. Colby, Presiding Elder, gave a very interesting discourse on the personality of the Devil. Fine subject.

The clergy had an excursion to York Beach on Thursday.

☞ Our Portland correspondent writes that the York County Teachers' Institute will be held at Biddeford,Sept. 27th,continuing through the week, programme soon to be announced.

MARRIAGES.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY
GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.
We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the
KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
For the sale of its
NEW SEVEN PER CENT.
Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.
This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.
First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,
secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,
And in successful operation for 437 miles
west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the
GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,
extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 129 in U. S. Bonds, as
A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.
The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of
Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,
and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the
Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.
The Bonds have
THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,
from May 1, 1869, and will pay
SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.
The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be
PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK
at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:
On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....£7 $5. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 fr. 50 krtrs., "
The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road,and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a
FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,
in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even
Better than Government Securities.
The Bonds will be sold for the present at 96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,
the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.
The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.
Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Morning Chronicle.

SYBIL'S LOVERS.

Concluded from Yesterday.

Early as it was when he arrived next morning, he found Mrs. Nair impatiently awaiting his coming.

"I'm so glad to see you, Mr. Bunker, for—"

"Call me Herodotus," he blandly interposed, "I shall soon be your brother."

"Herodotus, then," said Clara, with an involuntary twist of her cherry lips, "because Stephen forgot to give me the money for the week's housekeeping bills."

"How much is it?"

"Seventy dollars."

Mr. Bunker started as though he had been shot, and regarded Clara impressively through his spectacles.

"Mrs. Nair, do I hear you aright? Did you say seventy dollars or seven?"

"Seven-ty! It's what I always have."

"Does it cost seventy dollars a week to keep house?"

"Well, yes, generally. Some weeks I have managed with sixty, but seventy is our general average. I like to have things nice;" added Mrs. Nair, demurely; "and dear Sybil is just like me. And while you are about it, Mr. Bunker—Herodotus, I mean — you may as well give me ten dollars. Sybil and I are going shopping to-day, and we must have a carriage."

"Wouldn't it be more healthy to walk?"

"Oh, Sybil could never stand the fatigue!"

"Omnibus fare is—"

Mrs. Nair frowned.

"Do you imagine I would expose Sybil to the crush and inconvenience of a common omnibus?"

Mr. Bunker handed over the ten dollars extra without a word.

"Is there anything else?" he asked, in a tone of voice intended to be satirical, but the satire was lost on Mrs. Nair.

"Oh, yes, Herodotus; I want you to stop as you go down and take a private box at the opera —Prosecenium I would prefer. Sybil will go with us—dear Sybil, she does so dote on music. Of course you'll take a box by the season when you are married; it's so much more economical."

"Economical!" gasped Mr. Bunker, growing very red in the face. "To my mind the opera is always a ridiculous piece of extravagance!"

Clara Nair laughed.

"Oh, I know you're a little old-fashioned about such things, but Sybil will make you over."

When Mr. Bunker returned to dinner, Sybil was there, smiling and lovely as a Peri, to serve as sauce for the roast fowls and gumbo soup. Mr. Bunker's melancholy reflections vanished, his grim face lighted up. Clara watched him intently.

The dose wasn't quite powerful enough, she thought. "I wish Sybil wouldn't look so provokingly pretty."

So after dinner she brought the slippers smilingly to her brother-in-law elect, and lighted his cigar with her own fair hands.

"Sybil won't be jealous of me," she said, archly. "By the way, Herodotus, cook wants her month's wages."

Mr. Bunker dived down into the capacious depths of his pocket.

"How much is it?"

"Twenty dollars."

"Mrs. Nair! Is it possible that you pay your cook that ex-trav-a-gant sum of money? Why don't you do your own cooking?"

"Do you hear him, Sybil," appealed the matron to her brother-in-law elect, "How little he knows about the women of the day. How you'll have to teach him, my dear."

"But why don't you?" persisted Mr. Bunker. "My mother always cooked for her family."

"O, Sybil and I were never brought up to work. Sybil don't even know where the kitchen is at home."

Sybil was just opening her lips to contradict this boldly hazarded assertion, when Mrs. Nair trod energetically upon the toe of her gaiter, and checked the rising words.

"Thank you, Herodotus," she said, as the discomfitted bachelor silently disgorged the required sum of money.

"And now, if Sybil will excuse us for ten minutes, I'll show you something pretty."

Mr. Bunker, secretly apprehensive that he was about to be conducted to see all the babies asleep, a sight dear to the maternal heart, but obnoxious to all bachelors, followed Mrs. Nair meek as any lamb to the slaughter. But instead of turning to the nursery, Clara kept straight on to the sitting room beyond, where a prim seamstress sat, the center of a malestrom of silks, satins and draperies, while on the sofa lay piles on piles of garments.

"Look," triumphantly nodded Mrs. Nair, "Sybil's trousseau!"

Mr. Bunker stared silently.

"Cashmere shawl, five hundred dollars; black thread, three hundred; white lama, seventy-five; thread lace parasol, forty; the dress, white silk, two fifty; opera hat, from Madame D'Etoile, sixty; ermine furs, fifty; mink set, one hundred and twenty. Not a bad beginning, eh?"

"But," gasped Mr. Bunker, "I—I thought Mr. Rexley was poor."

"So he is; but, dear me, as I tell Sybil, she'll never be married but once, and as she's going to have a rich husband, it's just as well to begin as she means to go on. Dear little Sybil, she has such a taste for elegant dress,—but where are you going, Herodotus?"

For Mr. Bunker, unable to disguise his terrors and apprehensions, had bolted. Clara laughed to herself.

"Not a bad idea, borrowing all the nice shawls, furs and laces on the street, say nothing of Miss Millionaire's wedding dress," thought the shrewd matron. "Oh, Sybil, my dear, if you'd only known how to manage, you would have been Mrs. Harley Winter long ago."

The next day Mr. Nair confidentially showed "her dear Herodotus" a little memorandum of the things which "Sybil couldn't possibly get along without in her new house."

Mr. Bunker made no reply; he simply opened his mouth and shut it mutely, like a fish in the agonies of a deficient respiration.

Next day but one the sly matron hinted that Sybil was delicate, and that a month in Washington every winter, and a month in Saratoga in summer, was just what she needed to build her up.

"I'm so glad on that account that she is going to marry rich;" sighed Clara, with a gold mounted cassolette at her nose.

And not until Mr. Nair's return from Detroit did the systematic series of persecutions cease.

"Glad to see you again, Bunker," cried the paterfamilias, with a squeeze of the hand. "I hope you've learned a thing or two in your week's experience in housekeeping."

"I most assured y have," solemnly returned Herodotus, with an emphasis on the words, which spoke volumes.

But he did not divulge the exact nature of the various inferences he had made until that evening, when Mr. Rexley dropped in to smoke a social cigar with his son-in-law in esse and his son in-law in futuro.

"A cosy place you have got of it here, Stephen," he said, looking approvingly around. "I suppose you'll have just such another smoking-room in your establishment, Bunker, eh?"

Mr. Bunker turned green and white, and moved uneasily in his chair.

"I—I don't know about that," he hesitated. "To tell you the truth, Mr. Rexley, I've been thinking the matter deliberately over, and I've—ahem—about concluded that I'm too old to change my condition,—and — and in fact that Miss Sybil ought to have a younger and smarter husband, and—"

"Hey!" ejaculated Mr. Rexley, dropping his cigar on the sofa pillow, where it burned a hole through the nose of a worsted-work dog.

"And," added Bunker, restlessly,—"in short, I'll be hanged before I will get married. There, now you have it. You may sue me for breach of promise, if you like, or you may let me alone. It will make no sort of difference to me. I know I've been a fool, but if I allowed matters to go a step further, I should be a lunatic."

And he rose up with folded arms and stalked doggedly out of the room, muttering, as he went, "not going to be ruined by any woman's extravagance at this time of life."

That was the last that the Rexley family saw of Mr. Herodotus Bunker in the character of aspiring lover; and Sybil—happy Sybil—freed from her jewelled fetters, returned unopposed to her bright dreams of "love in a cottage." Unopposed, for Mrs. Rexley declared that "after all that had been said about a wedding, a wedding there should be, if Sybil married no better match than Harley Winter."

But when Mr. Bunker received the cards of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Winter, he promptly responded with a set of gold coffee spoons.

"And I've got off cheaply at that," was his internal comment.

While Sybil, the prettiest bride that ever wove orange blossoms into a coronal of golden hair, folded her sister close to her breast and whispered,

"Oh, Clara, Clara, I owe all this to you."

"My dear, there's nothing a woman can't do if she sets herself about it."

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made into Patents American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office, RESIDENCE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

SUMMER STREET. — In answer to a petition numerously signed by many of our first citizens, most active business men and heavy tax-payers, last year's Board of Aldermen laid out a new road to connect the old Summer Street with the new South Summer — which action is evidently to the detriment of nobody, but the benefit of all, including the public travel. And the leading petitioner, be it known, before asking the City to open the Street, had repeatedly offered to purchase the land at the owners' value, and grade and fence the road at his own expense! But the owners of the land positively refused even such trifling accommodation to their neighbors and the public, although these unprecedented liberal terms were offered, and it would evidently be much more for their own benefit than anybody's else.

The present Board confirmed the action of their predecessors, by voting, (we believe 6 to 2, every Republican in favor,) to authorize their Committee on Streets to build the road, for which a contract, the lowest returned to them in answer to advertisements, has been made; but Mayor Jones has for reasons or causes best known to himself, seen fit to put an injunction on the work, (perhaps from personal pique against the petitioner he deems most interested in the road—perhaps because the Board voted down Ald. Cotton's stereotyped motion that the copperhead "Mayor be added" to this as to all Republican Committees.)

At any rate, action has at once been taken by the Board to dissolve the injunction on their Committee, and to pay contractor Holmes' bill for damages, and thus stop his lawsuit. Here then is the first fruit of the Mayor's economy in kicking against the pricks; and while it is altogether improbable that the road can be delayed much, the cost to the City must be considerably increased.

We need not say that the Chronicle is decidedly in favor of this road, as of all other public improvements; nor have we any desire to express further at this time, our pity and contempt for the narrow and short-sighted policy which would induce or permit public or private opposition to the extensive improvements begun by private enterprises in that vicinity.

Communication.

A BUSY PLACE.—If you wish to subscribe for the Daily Chronicle or Weekly N. H. Gazette, get your Job Printing done, your Pension paid, purchase Musical Instruments or a good Sewing Machine, or get your Watch repaired—call at the Chronicle Building. If there can be shown a more busy block of its size in this city than the above, we would like to see it. A VISITOR.

☞ The Dover Enquirer says "one of the greatest events that Strafford has seen for a long time came off on Thursday, Sept. 9,—the marriage of Hon. Benning W. Jenness of Cleveland, Ohio, formerly of Strafford, to Miss Elmira A. Woodman, daughter of Joshua Woodman, Esq., of Strafford. Judge Jenness is a firm-looking, successful business man, who has accumulated by industry and luck a fortune of $300,000. His bride is young, handsome and accomplished."

FASHION.—It is said, the most genteel and fashionable dresses for ladies, are now to be perfectly plain, as free from tucks and trimming, as possible. And this is said to be sensible;—but why? Must those who have trimmed or embroidered clothes, lay them by, or throw them away, because fashion says so?

Some fashions, for men, as well as women, are more convenient and elegant then others. But sensible people will not feel bound to copy them in a servile way. U. T.

—Mr. Spurgeon has taken the velocipede into the pulpit. In a recent sermon he said that "these new inventions which the lads were riding down our streets would not keep up unless they were kept going; the moment they stopped they fell down, and in this way were exceedingly like the Christian Church, which would fall unless it was constantly moving on."

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters?
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics" or "Appetizers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Recuperator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR THE INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, and KIDNEYS, WILLOW-DER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your health will follow. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof." Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thorough
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet resolves to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

NOW OPEN, DAY AND EVENING.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 18, 1869.

The News.

Gen. Sherman has extended the time of the election in Texas to four days, in order that all may vote—one day being insufficient.

Freshets in Washington County, Kansas, have done immense damage. Mills, farmhouses and crops have been washed away.

Republican gains are reported in the late Colorado elections.

Indians are murdering women and children in New Mexico.

The investigation of the charges o fraud against Mr. Sheridan Shook in New York has resulted in his honorable discharge.

Jas. Armstrong of North Bridewater, Mass., got drunk and shot his wife dead, Thursday night. He wounded a man named Welch and escaped to the woods.

MAINE ELECTION. — The Biddeford Journalhas returns of the Governor vote in all but two (Republican) towns in York County. Chamberlain has 5159, Smith 4406, and Hichborn 263. Republican majority over all, 490. The Hichborn men generally voted the Republican county ticket, and the three Republican nominees for the Senate are chosen by nearly 1100 majority. Nine Republican representatives are chosen, and six Democrats. Well done old York!

Returns from 331 cities and towns give a total vote of 76,358. Chamberlain has 41,671; Smith, 30,708; Hichborn, 3979; Chamberlain's majority over both, 6984. Hichborn's vote will not exceed 45,000, and Chamberlain's majority will be 7500. The falling off on the total vote of last year will be 41,000.

The constitutional amendment giving towns the right to divide into wards is passed, although the vote is very small. The Senate will stand 27 republicans, 3 democrats and one doubtful.

The House will probably stand 126 republicans to 25 democrats. The Hichborn party has not elected a single member of either branch of the legislature.

☞ At Concord on Thursday, a horse with wagon belonging to C. M. Heath ran away from the depot up Main street and smashed up the vehicle at the corner of School street. The street was crowded, but no one was hurt. The runaway team came in contact with a wagon of Rev. Mr. Beebe of Chichester in which his wife was sitting holding an infant. Her horse turned suddenly and ran across the street, but the lady with great presence of mind held him up and escaped injury.

☞ The fishing schooner Willie S. Swett, of Wellfleet, was discovered off the coast of Maine bottom up, having probably been capsized in the gale of the 8th. She was towed into Cape Porpoise on the 13th. Nothing is known as to the fate of the crew, but it is supposed they perished when the vessel went over. She was a first-class schooner of about 100 tons and carried a crew of eighteen men.

☞ Miss Kate Murphy, the champion jumper of Boston, leaped 11 feet 2 1-2 inches on Thursday; and as none of the men can beat her, another girl is to try her. The match was for $300, and a gentleman who made $400 on the result, gallantly presented Katie with $50. A man used to the sporting arena, says that women generally are better at jumping (to a conclusion) than men.

☞ M. B. V. Edgerly, Esq., of Manchester, Marshal of the State Fair, recently shot sixty birds on Hampton Beach. A supper, of which twelve gentlemen from the interior partook, followed, to the great delight of host Dumas of the Boar's Head Hotel.

☞ The Merrimack Fair at Concord last week, was not very largely attended. The Strafford Fair at Great Falls, had an immense gathering.

☞ At the Prospect Park, New York, in the double team race, Jessie Wales and Honest Allen won in 2:31 1-4, 2:35 1-2, 2:55.

—One of the Baptist preachers in Newport used to eke out his scanty subsistence by following the trade of a cooper in the palmy days of the East India trade; but scandalized by the reckless use of rum in the town, he refused to make casks—the most lucrative branch of his vocation—and confined his manual toil to milk and water buckets. His discourses, however, were no "milk-and water mixtures."

—Railroads are like laundresses, they have ironed the whole country, and occasionally do a little mangling.

New Hampshire Items.

The Fall Term of Austin Academy at Strafford, is in successful operation with about fifty students.

Capt. Hanscom, a brother of one of the publishers of the Manchester Union, has received from the French government "a gold medal of the first class," for saving the lives of five French sailors. Capt. Hanscom commands the British steamship Neera.

Wm. N. Kinney, who was tried at Newport, for the murder of his uncle, Geo. Woodell, was found not guilty, by reason of insanity. He is to go to the State Prison for the present.

Aaron Gage, Esq. a respectable, industrious bachelor, aged 93 years, 5 months, died at Merrimack, Sept. 14. He was a farmer, and lived and died in the house where he was born. He had been a representative, and held town offices.

Central Building, in Nashua, was damaged by fire and water, on the evening of the 15th, to the extent of $1500. The Telegraph printing office suffered some, but the paper is issued as usual.

Mrs. Linda M. Crapo died at North Rochester Saturday, aged 101 years and 21 days. Five of her children survive.

NAVAL.—Chief Engineer Richard M. Bartleman has been ordered to duty at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Lt. Comd'r T. H. Eastman, now on duty at this Station on the staff of Admiral Thatcher, is ordered to the command of the Nyack. The order takes effect Oct. 1st.

The general court-martial ordered to convene on September 23d at the navy yard at Boston, for the trial of Lieutenant Commander Henry B. Seely, late of the Pawnee, on charges of maltreatment of seamen under his command, is to be composed of the following named officers:—Rear Admiral H. K. Thatcher, President; Captain E. G. Parrott, R. N. Stemble, Foxhall A. Parker, Com. W. F. Spicer, Lieut. Commanders George H. Perkins and Albert Lautz, members; Commander W. G. Temple, and John W. Bell, Esq., Judge Advocates.

Barnum's New Book.—J. B. Burr & Co., Hartford, Conn., have in press and will soon issue, a handsome volume of near 800 pages, a new work, entitled Struggles and Triumphs; or forty years' recollections of T. P. Barnum, with numerous illustrations.

The work forms a complete and authentic Autobiography of P. T. Barnum, embracing the whole period of his busy life, and sheds much light upon many important subjects connected with the author which have never been understood by the public.

To us and to thousands, the book will possess a high personal interest; and to tens of thousands more, it will afford amusement, such as Barnum alone can furnish. The typography and engraving of the advance streets are excellent.

The work will be sold by subscription only, and Agents are wanted in every County and Town to canvass for it. For full particulars and terms, address the publishers, J. B. Burr & Co., 18 Asylum St., Hartford, Conn.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

NARROW ESCAPE.—On Thursday, Aug. 26, the roof and all of the new factory at Newmarket had just been finished with its stone covering at the top, and Mr. Jeremiah M. Teague of Greenland, was standing on the staging by it, about sixty feet from the ground, making a final survey of the work, when he suddenly observed that the covering of one half the roof, weighing about six tons, was falling towards and directly upon him. He had just time to crowd himself close to the wall of the building when the mass of stone fell, striking upon the staging where he stood and carrying it down with the stone. It struck the stage in such a manner that Mr. T. was thrown up five or six feet, but in falling he struck upon his back on a piece of oist which he at once grasped. The joist slid with the rest of the staging, but providentially the lower end struck and rested upon one of the stage poles and did not fall on the ground. A rope was thrown through one of the windows to Mr. T. and he was drawn in from his fearfully perilous position. About two minutes before the fall the master carpenter and another workman were standing with Mr. Teague, but left before the accident. The falling stone struck upon the four-inch plank that covered the canal, cutting them short off and burying the stone in the canal. The cause of the accident is said to be the miscutting of the stones for the work, which were in some cases several inches shorter than designated by the specification. Another singular feature of the accident was the shutting of the flood gate of Mill No. 2, by one of the stones falling upon the shaft that closes it, and thereby preventing the broken timbers from passing into the new turbine wheel, which would have resulted in a great amount of damage.

A LARGE YIELD.—Mr. J. B. Green of Seabrook has this year raised from half a bushel of spring rye fifteen bushels and four quarts of grain. If any farmer in this locality has done better we should like to know of it.

BOARD OF ALDERMAN. — Thursday Evening. — The Mayor absent — Ald. Nowell in the Chair.

Petition of John W. Grant and other residents of the vicinity, to have the tank for preparing water to sprinkle the streets, removed from the foot of Brewster Street, as a nuisance and annoyance to the neighborhood—was referred to the Com. on Streets, to report.

George Hough's bill of $75, for damage to trees, &c., in laying out the Freeman's Point Road—laid on table.

The Com. on Streets reported that the Mayor had served an injunction on them and their contractor, to stop the building of Summer Street. After considerable discussion, the Com. were empowered by the Board to institute proceedings to dissolve the injunction.

Ald. Spinney regarded the injunction as a manifestation of petty spite, because the Mayor was not added to the Com. on that job. Else why did not he stop the Freeman's Point road, past his own land, for which there is not one cent appropriated? He also referred to several other instances, wherein the same informality of exceeding the appropriation is allowed. As to the grade, it should not be altered, if a decent street is desired.

Ald. Cotton wished to go according to the City Charter, and appropriate money before spending it. The Common Council also should vote on all grades of streets, and this was not understood until recently. Aldermen Clark and Pendexter were desirous to act lawfully and correctly in all matters. Ald. Nowell thought it useless to build Summer Street, as it was well known the Rundlett heirs will not sell the land for house lots.

Ald. Spinney said he should like to save the expense of the road for the City, but it could not be done—and all the opposition would only add to the cost, as in the case of the useless new Newington road and others.

Ald. Miller had no doubt the Common Council would concur in the action of the Aldermen, when they meet. Ald. Slater thought there was no good cause for an injunction—the Com. had done just as the Board ordered, and all was well enough, he thought.

The same Com. also reported that Mr. J. R. Holmes had given legal notice that he will claim damages for the interruption of his contract by the injunction; and the Com. were authorized to confer with Mr. Holmes, and report.

Petition of Rev. Mr. Harmon, of the Sch. Com. that the two Grammar Schools at Christian Shore be combined into one—was referred to Com. on School Houses.

On motion of Ald. Pender, the Com. of conference with Aqueduct Co., was desired also to endeavor to procure larger supply pipes to the public reservoirs.

Ald. Spinney stated that an old distillery drain into the Dock near the Eastern Depot, would make a good reservoir—and the Com. on Fire Dept. were directed to inquire into the matter.

Com. on Streets were authorized to repair the covered stone drain at the Creek, not to exceed $150 expense.

Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett appeared before the Board, as executor of the will of Mrs. Cutts, and Ald. Miller and Nowell were appointed a Com. to confer with him relative to the improvements on Richards Avenue.

The Board adjourned for two weeks —after an informal extra session at Freeman's oyster house, at expense of chairman.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

SMALL POX IN PORTSMOUTH.—There has for two months past been considerable excitement in some localities in Portsmouth on account of the prevalence of this disease, to some extent. The occasion for alarm, we are happy to announce, has, in the opinion of good judges, passed away. There have been in all eight cases, confined to the locality of Daniel and Mulberry streets. Several of the cases have been of a severe type and a number merely varioloid. The only case now is that of a child on Mulberry st. whose sickness is past its crises, and who with proper care will soon be well. The city physician, Dr. Dearborn, has been given charge of all the cases, devoted to them the best of personal care and attendance and brought them to a successful issue. The Doctor has been eminently fortunate in his practice in Portsmouth, and is fast gaining reputation both as a physician and surgeon.

Messrs. Came at their carriage manufactory are now making a number of sleighs of a very light and elegant pattern, the patent of S. B. Bailey of Bath, and are turning out a large quantity of new work. They have a reputation of good workmanship. We notice theres very handsome little buggy built for the pony team of Mr. Peirce of the Sagmore House. These vehicles are completely finished, paint and all, under the roof of their manufactory.

☞ Everything appears to be in fair trim for the Fair next week—if only we can have Fair weather.

☞ The New Hampshire Gazette for this week, is now ready for delivery at the Chronicle office. Price 5 cts. per copy—$2. per year. Contains all the Local and other reading from the Daily Chronicle.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Defensive Medicine.

"In time of peace prepare for war," is a sound military maxim. "Let not the sickly season find you unprepared." It is as equally good rule in medical jurisprudence. The man must be made of iron who finds himself at the close of summer as strong as at its commencement. Such a phenomenon is rare, even among the most robust of the hardy—the athletic. Muscular and constitutional vigor oozes out of us in the broiling weather of July and August, and few of us, at the opening of Fall, are in the best possible condition to defy the unhealthy influences of the season.

Fever and ague and bilious remittent fevers, together with a variety of complaints that affect the digestive organs, the liver and the bowels, form a portion of the Autumn programme. Bear in mind that exhaustion invites these disorders, and that stamina vigor enables the system to repel them. Fall, and we are as helpless as Darius, when his defeated legions, in "Paradise Lost," and the author is correct, though it comes from an evil source.

Ho! then, ye weak and feeble, fortify yourselves against the invisible enemy that parvades the Autumnal air. The best defence against miasma is a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This rare vegetable tonic will improve your appetite, stimulate your digestion, give firmness to your nerves, invigorate your muscular fibre, regulate your secretions, cheer your spirits and put your entire physique in perfect working order. It is easily done. The standard tonic and alterative which will recuperate and build you up is not "bad to take," but, on the contrary, a pleasant medicine.

See, however, that you have the genuine article. There are imitations and counterfeits in the market, and they are all worthless or deleterious. Bear in mind that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold only in glass, (never by the gallon or cask,) and that each bottle bears a label surmounted by a vignette of St. George and the Dragon, and our revenue stamp over the cork.

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited troubled with pain in the side, head-ache, and a constant feeling of weariness. The immediate and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all others proceeding from biliousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Of all anti-bilious medicines they are safest, surest and best. CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS for Diseases of the Liver, or to act as a gentle Purgative.

All of these three medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These medicines are conscientiously offered to the public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedies for Consumption. The Pulmonary Syrup is those morbid conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been through a period of more than thirty-five years, in all of which time its reputation has constantly increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases in which admit of a cure.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, we have in many instances saved the life of the patient, and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck himself was cured in precisely such circumstances, and many others have been equally fortunate by judiciously making a timely use of Dr. Schenck's remedies.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts that even when patients have the most alarming symptoms, such as a violent cough, creeping chills, night sweats, and general debility, even to such a degree that they are obliged to lie in bed, and when they are given up by their physicians, they may still be cured. No medical treatment can cure new lungs, but when the lungs are very badly diseased, and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicines.

Also in Scrofulous diseases of the Neck, these medicines are equally efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been nearly covered with running sores, and who have been cured. This shows its purifying properties, which must be done to heal cavities in the lungs.

In the treatment of Consumption, it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone in the system. Hence it is necessary to strengthen the appetite of the patient and improve the digestion. Proper nourishment is required, together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most suitable for the diet of consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's Almanacs, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most nutritious articles are the most digestible, but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This requirement is met by the Sea Weed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designed.

When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect, the system of the patient is invigorated, and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing powers of the Pulmonic Syrup will complete the cure.

Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel or "blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral poison. These pills cure the the most obstinate costiveness, sick headache, piles, biliousness, jaundice, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the liver. One box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption, the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable auxiliary medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient and assist the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, when the lungs were almost entirely destroyed, and all symptoms, according to the judgement of physicians, indicated speedy death. Lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.

DR. SCHENCK'S Almanac, containing a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicine, can be had gratis or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, each, $1.50 per bottle, or $8.50 the half dozen; Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggist and dealers.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous extract is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the feebler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried Dr. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered twelve more, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

TO OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Hard Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocent; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer and trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen: — * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I first came to Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally efficacious in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Shoalspore, India." au20

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is every where in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in the pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. 025

THE GREAT MUDDLE,—APPENDIX.—When I got through with my last dissertation on the Cess Pool and its authors, I found myself in a pitiable state of distraction; but having since then recreated myself by digging a well,—what I always do when I want any fun—I now feel myself able to stir up the Pool a little, once more.

To retrace a bit. I started with the assumption that there was a Cess Pool, and that it was unpleasant. Then I demonstrated, I fancy, beyond a cavil, that the Pool did not grow on its own hook, but through human agency; and I finished by trying to trace the authors, and find out who should fill up the big hole. So far, my efforts have only satisfied me that the further anybody gets into Cess Pool, the harder he'll have to see his way out clearly; my investigation having resulted,—not in finding out who should fill up the Pool, but that every one has an excellent reason why he in particular should not do it.

I believe I forgot the owners of the property,—they have the best reason of all for not bothering themselves about it. They did not make the railroad dams, nor pour into the Pool the slops and rubbish. They may not be ready just now to go to the expense of filling it up, and cannot be blamed if they refuse to lay out a large sum to abate a nuisance they had no hand in making; and—best reason of all—if they don't fill the Pool up, somebody else must, and the new land will be theirs as much as though they had made it themselves.

But will filling up the hole abolish the Cess Pool nuisance? It will abolish the Cess Pool, but will only postpone the nuisance till another time. So long as the breweries are allowed to wash their exhausted hops into any part of the millpond, so long will the trouble increase, year by year; and the longer it is in arriving at the dignity of a nuisance, the worse it will be when that time does come, and the more difficult and costly a job some one will have, to remove it. Not an atom of solid matter that is poured into the pond at the upper end ever goes out through the floodgates at the mill dam; and when the decaying vegetable matter has filled the shallows so much as to be exposed at low tide to the sun,—and some now living may hope to see that day, if Ordinance No. 4 is to remain a dead letter,—then there will be another Great Creek Cess Pool like the present, only very much more so. I have now about done with this fragrant subject. I have almost found out who should abate the nuisance, and for convenient reference for those who cannot spare time to study the subject as I have, I have compiled the following:

SUMMARY of people and corporation who should not be obliged to do it, and the reasons therefore. The City should not be forced to do it, because the City did not authorize the building of the railroad embankments which dam the Pool; the Mayor should not be asked to do it, because the big drain would carry the rubbish from his brewery out beyond the Pool if the Pool was filled up, as it ought to be,—and he has as much right to drain his brewery into any part of the pond as any one else has; the State should not be expected to do it, because, though the State gave permission for the Cove to be dammed, the State did not give permission for the dam to be filled with hops, — and, but for them, the Creek Cess Pool would not have been one whit more slimy, filthy, rotten and disgusting, than the other Cess Pool formed by the railroads near the Kearsarge Mills; and the Pool-holders should not be asked to do it, because they had nothing at all to do with its manufacture. I am undecided as to who should do it, but of one thing I am assured; whoever does have to will be shamefully wronged. Meantime, I am certain that my taxes will not be in any manner misappropriated by anybody. The end. PAKEHA.

GRAND CAVALCADE.—A pleasant feature of the Piscataqua Fair next week, will be the Cavalcade of about 40 gentlemen from North Hampton and Hampton, which is being organized for the Procession of Wednesday by Messrs. Hobbs and Smith. Gentlemen in this city and elsewhere, are invited to join.

The schools, stores and citizens generally ought to have general holiday on Wednesday.

The question is, will Rye send a Town Team to the Fair. She certainly ought to.

☞ The Steamboat—Clam-bake—Dover Point Excursion, was adjourned from Friday to Monday next on account of the unpromising state of the weather Friday. J. C. is the Butler for the occasion. We have been shown a large specimen of clams who are to suffer on that great occasion. It is as large as three common clams and boasts of Wells, Me., as its native place. —In reply to the inquiry why he didn't go off to the mountains or somewhere, a comfort-loving citizen replied: "I don't like to leave my own bathing-room and the good, quiet breakfasts that I can enjoy in a loose jacket." He has the advantage of those cribbed and confined in rooms eight feet square, to breath the air of the hills or the ocean.

—A young man of limited intelligence, who was recovering from a long fit of sickness, being informed by his physician that he "might venture now upon a little animal food," exclaimed, "No you don't, doctor, I've suffered enough on your gruel and stuff, and hang me if I touch any of your hay and oats."

—Rev. Dr. Stowe, husband of Mrs. H. B. Stowe, being in Canada, was introduced to an English gentleman, who expressed himself very glad to see him, and added. "I should be much more pleased to see your wife." "Yes," said Dr. Stowe, "so should I."

—A great many persons wish to live their lives over again, because they see where they might have sinned—and didn't.

Do not say that you cannot get any relief until you have tried his Medicines, which will remove all Humors such as Cancers, White Swelling Affections, Erysipelas Salt Rheum, Inflammatory Chronic, Mercurial, and Syphilitic Rheumatism, Fever Sores, old and stubborn Ulcers and Sores of all kinds cured, whatever may be the cause that produced them.

Dr. C. will give examinations free on all diseases. Invalids of both sexes are respectfully invited to call and consult the Doctor. a16

SINGING SCHOOL

FOR THE YOUNG FOLKS.

Mr. E. A. JOY will resume his Juvenile Class in Singing at MERCANTILE HALL, as soon as 50 courses of tickets shall be sold, and continue for a term of 12 Lessons.

Tickets to the course $1, for sale at Mr. JOY'S Music Store. About 25 courses of tickets have already been sold, and it is hoped that the balance will be taken without delay, that the school may commence, after which, no more scholars will be allowed to join the school till next term.

The scholars will be thoroughly taught to sing by note.

As an extra inducement, a copy of the Singing Book to be used in this school will be presented to each scholar when the tickets are purchased.

No admittance without a ticket.

All having books belonging to Mr. Joy and not intending to come to school this winter are requested to return them immediately and get the money for their tickets, if they have any.

DENTAL NOTICE.

69 Congress Street. Portsmouth.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.

He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.

He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber sets, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.

He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 30 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a speciality, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentures,) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.

All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.

Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

PICNIC BASKETS,
For sale by E. A. STEVENS.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan, Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 537 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas.

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $23 (gold) each half year.
" London....67 sh. 10.
" Frankfort..87 fr. 30 kritzs.,"

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

☞ The following singular advertisement is from an English paper, dated 16th Sept. 1738:

'Spanker,' the property of O.D. Saturday the 16th of September next, will be sold or set up for sale at skebbendeen.

"A strong, staunch, steady, sound, stout, safe, sinewey, serviceable, strapping, supple, swift, smart, sightly, spirited, sturdy, shining, sure-footed, sleek, smooth, spunky, well skinned, sized and shaped, sorrel steed, of superlative symmetry, styled Spanker, with small star and snip, square-sided, slender-shouldered, sharp-sighted, and steps singularly stately; free from strain, sprain, spavin, spasms, stringhalt, sciatica, staggers, strangles, seeling, sellander, surfeit, seams, stramous-swellings, sorrances, scratches, splint, squint, scurf, sores, scattering, shuffling, shambling gait, or symptoms of sickness of any sort. He is neither stiff mouthed, shabby coated, sinew shrunk, spur-galled, saddle-backed, shell-tooth, slim-gutted, surbated, skin-scabbed, short-winded, splayfooted, or shoulder slipped; and is sound in the sword-point and stiff-joint. Has neither sick spleen, sleeping evil, set fast, snaggle teeth, sand crack, subcutaneous sores, or shattered hoofs, nor is he sour, sulkey, surly, stubborn, or sullen in temper; neither shy nor skittish, slow, sluggish, or stupid.

He never slips, strips, strays, stalks, starts, stops, shakes, snivels, snuffles, snorts, stumbles, or stalks, in his stall or stable, and scarcely or seldom sweats. Has a showy, stylish, switch-tail or stern and a safe set of shoes on; can feed on stubble, rainfoin, sheaf oats, straw, sedge, or Scotch grass: carries sixteen stone with surpassing speed in his stroke over a six foot sod or stone wall. His sire was the sly sobersides, on a sister of Spindleshanks by Sampson, a sporting son of Sparker, who won the sweepstakes and subscription plate last session at Sligo.

His selling price sixty-seven pounds sixteen shillings and sixpence sterling.

Rev. Dr. Osgood writes that "Everywhere it was very clear to me that religion is not dying out before the new science and arts. Of course the Roman Catholic churches are open everywhere for daily services, as I expected, but I was not prepared for such signs of zeal in the Church of England; and not only in the Episcopal cathedrals, but in many of the parish churches, there was daily service, as in the old church of George Herbert, at Bemerton, and in the charming new parish church at Hursley, that holds the precious dust of John Keble. The dissenting chapels are also evidently alive, and I was led to think that the Methodists and various orders of Independents were holding their own, if not enlarging it. The tone of the English favors institutional rather than merely speculative religion; and the most pronounced speculative liberalism that I encountered makes no secret of its desire to embody its liberal spirit in substantial add edifying church institutions. The time of capticus controversy is evidently over, and the time of practical co operation and charity is coming. Liberal Christian.

—A party, vouched for as reliable, writes to the San Francisco Bulletin from San Buenaventura, stating that a document was found on the beach of that place, August 30th, much mutilated. It requested the finder to forward it to Secretary of Admiralty at London or to a British Consul at the nearest port. The request is printed in six commercial languages. In the margin every vacant portion is filled with writing relative to Sir John Franklin and party. The document was evidently cast into the water in latitude 69 deg. 57 min. 42 sec., longitude 98 deg. 4 min. 5 sec. It gives the desertion of the ships Erebus and Terror. The party numbered 105, and at the time of desertion were under the command of F. R. M. Crozier. They had succeeded in reaching the above latitude and longitude, where they found relics of the late Sir John Ross. It states that the party wintered at Beechy Island in 1846 and 1847. The document contains many interesting incidents connected with the expedition.

—Rev. T. K. Beecher has not much faith in prayer as a cure for the use of tobacco. He thinks that, as a general rule, prayer is profitable. But, still, a strong will, reinforced by fresh air, cold baths and a temporary use of gentian root, will prove of much greater service in quitting the use of tobacco. We have no doubt of this, but do not quite like the way our eccentric brother puts the matter in connection with prayer. It reminds us of the man who denounced vacation as a humbug, because, after being vaccinated, his boy fell down stairs and broke his arm.—Liberal Christian.

☞ Wife was undressing little four-year-old Charlie the other evening. He silently felt of his chubby arms a little while and then, looking up into his mother's face, he said:

"Mamma, who made me?"

"The good man up in the sky," answered mamma.

Charley turned a steady, sober, searching look through the tree-tops up into the clear, beautiful, star-lit sky for a moment, and then innocently capped the climax with the important question:

"But, mamma, who took me down?"

—A Clergyman once asked Bishop Wilson to preach against the Wesleyan doctrine "that the Christian can preach perfection." The Bishop looked earnestly at the rector and asked, "Are we in much danger of reaching that?"

—Bishop Cox, of Buffalo, has a father, Samuel Hanson Cox, D. D., a scholarly man, a genius, and a Presbyterian well known to fame. It happened once that this revered father visited his son, the bishop, and the following dialogue ensued on Sunday morning:—Bishop—"Father, you know that I would like to have you preach for me, but, then, you know our Church does not recognize your ordination, and I must keep to the order." Dr. Cox—"May God forgive me for being the father of a fool."—Liberal Christian.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

No. 78 State St., opposite Kilby St., Boston,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign records to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching Patents. Copies of the specification of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

MAKING MATCHES.—A match factory in Western New York is noted for the curious machinery used in its manufacture. 720,000 feet of pine of the best quality are used annually for the matches, and 400,000 feet of basswood for cases. The sulphur used annually for the matches is 400 bbls. and the phosphorus is 9,600 pounds. The machines run night and day, and 300 hands are employed at the works, 500 pounds of paper per day are used to make the light small boxes for holding the matches, and four tons of pasteboard per week for the larger boxes. Sixty pounds of flour per day are used for paste, and the penny stamps required by government on the boxes amount to $1,440 per day. There are four machines in use for cutting, dipping, and delivering the matches. The two inch pine plank is sawed up the length of the match, which is 2 1-4 inches. These go into the machine for cutting, where at every stroke twelve matches are cut and by the succeeding stroke pushed into slats arranged on a double chain 250 feet long, which carries them to the sulphur vat, and from thence to the phosphorus vat, and thus across the room and back, returning them to a point just in front of the cutting machine, and where they are delivered in their natural order, and are gathered up by a boy into trays and sent to the packing room. Thus 1,000 gross of 144,000 small boxes of matches are made per day The machines for making the small, thin paper, are as wonderful and ingenuously contrived as those that make the matches. A long coil of paper, as wide as the box is long, revolves on a wheel, through rollers, where the printing is done; from thence to the paste boxes, where the side and ends only are pasted; from thence to the folder and the whole box is pasted together and dropped into a basket. A similar machine is at work at the covers, and thus 144,000 boxes of matches are manufactured per day.

A GOOD JOKE is sometimes made by a stupid man at his own expense. We have rarely seen a better specimen of this kind than has recently been furnish'by a late subscriber to the N. Y. Independent, viz., a Mr. White, of Newark, N. J., orders his paper discontined, and writes as follows:

"Farewell, INDEPENDENT! I have often feasted upon thy contents when thou wast comparatively small in size. But now thou art become 'a great sheet,' like the one which Peter in vison saw, 'wherein were all manner of four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things.' But Peter did not relish such a mixture. Farewell!"

The Independent turns the tables thus:—

It is a pity that our discontented friend who writes the above had not gone a little farther into the Scriptures, for he would have then discovered that, though Peter did not relish certain things which he saw in "the great sheet," yet the Lord knew that that very sheet and its contents were just what his narrow-minded servant needed to teach him how to live and be a useful man.

—In view of the terrific gale of the previous Wednesday, the verse commencing, "And the rains descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew" was a favorite text in this region last Sunday. In one instance there was considerable smiling in the afternoon when a stranger announced this text, the pastor having preached from it in the same church in the morning.—Recorder.

—"It is a standing rule in my church," said one clergyman to another, "for the sexton to wake up any man he sees asleep." "I think," replied the other "that it would be better for t he sextonto wake you up whenever a man goes to sleep under your preaching."

THE PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY RAWLINS.—The democratic papers in this quarter are giving currency to a scandalous charge from the correspondent of the New York Sun, to the effect "that President Grant was attending a ball at Saratoga while his tried friend Rawlins was struggling with death," intending to convey the impression that the President was wholly indifferent to his fate. The Washington Star thus disposes of the charge:

The Sun, in its bitter hostility to President Grant, overshoots the mark a good deal in its attacks, and notably so in this instance. There is not a word of truth in the Sun's statement quoted above. The dispatch referred to did not reach the President the day it was sent; consequently the story that he "replied it was impossible for him to come until the next day" is manufactured out of whole cloth. The dispatch reached him the day after it was sent; but in a few minutes after it was received he got another dispatch that the Secretary had recovered from the attack of asphyxia, and the physician gave it as his opinion that the attack would not weaken him. From that time until late Saturday night all the dispatches received by the President gave assurance of his rapid improvement. President Grant started for Washington on the first train after learning of his sinking condition.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed, the vital organs or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
O. H. INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, OR INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores: cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Eugenie Sint Sine Merte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet restores to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties other, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, constipation, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

NOW OPEN, DAY AND EVENING.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, SEPT. 20, 1869.

The News.

The India mail steamer Carnatic has been wrecked off the island of Shednan, in the Red Sea. Some of the passengers and crew are missing, and the ship, cargo, mails and treasure are a total loss.

At a fire in Toronto, Friday, two children were burned to death, and one fireman killed and another fatally injured by the fall of a chimney.

Preparations continue for the coming international sculling match between Walter Brown of Portland, Maine, and Joseph Sadler of Treddington, England, appointed for October 7th on the Thames, from Putney to Mortlake.

The Republicans of Colorado have carried the legislature by a large majority—making gains in the popular vote over last year.

The N. Y. Herald has a dispatch from Madrid which says that Spain is in an intense state of excitement, blazing and boiling over, it may be said, on account of the reports from Cuba, the news from Washington and Paris, and the adherence of Minister Sickles in Madrid to the policy of "sell or, perhaps, lose."

THE LARGE AND HANDSOME GAINS.—A coppery exchange of several days ago, observed that though the Democratic Party had not absolutely carried Maine, yet they had gained handsomely in Representatives and in the popular vote.

The Dover Gazette of Sept. 18, says: Last year the Democrats carried only one of the sixteen counties; this year they have probably carried five — Lincoln, Knox, York, Washington and Aroostook. The Democrats also gain largely in both branches of the Legislature.

The Portland Weekly Argus of Thursday, however, only claims three counties, and York, one of the three, certainly has gone Republican. Then, let us look at the great gain in the Legislature. Last year there were 30 democrats in the House; this year it said there will be 26.

And then, as to the gain in the popular vote,—the same Argus says, that the whole vote fell off 40 per cent., the Republican vote fell about 50 per cent., and the democratic vote 40 per cent. No matter if these Argus figures are slightly inconsistent with each other; they are near enough right to show that the claims of any gain are slightly of the humbug order.

NOT A VERY LOUD CROW.—The Saco Democrat says, in speaking of the Maine election:

We have a large reserve that were not brought into action on the 13th; but which—if they can be galvanized into life—will take their turn at the next conflict, when it is expected there will be a decisive battle, and our victory will be complete.

This is quite safe: If the dead can be galvanized into life,—then all the rest is easy.

☞ The house of U. O. Brackett, Berwick, was entered on Wednesday morning last, about 2 o'clock by burglars. Some silver plated spoons in a closet were bent, to test their quality, but alarm being given, the thieves fled. They then entered the house of A. B. Spencer, and took a vest from under the pillow where Mr. Alvin Ford was sleeping, which contained $143, which the thieves took, with a silver watch, and absconded.

☞ The Freewill Baptist Meeting House in Bath, Maine, was demolished by the late gale, on Wednesday; and on the following Sunday, the Universalist Society there, at the suggestion of their pastor, raised a purse of $300 as a donation to the F. W. B., and offered them the use of their House, till they could rebuild.

CO-OPERATION.—A co-operative tailoring establishment was organized last June in New York, with a capital of $2500, in shares of $10 each, contributed by one hundred tailors and one hundred and fifty friends of the enterprise. At first the Society did job work for the stores, but in a month's time private orders began to come in, and the business is now very extensive. The workmen earn full wages, with a prospect of a handsome dividend at the close of the year, and the customers obtain clothing at a low price, the charges being ten per cent above the cost of labor and materials. The men earn on an average $24 per week, and women $10 to $12. They work 12 hours per day, and their customers are chiefly mechanics.

—The following appears in a daily paper:—"Wanted, Girls for Cooking." Have we a cannibal among us?

—Josie Orton is lecturing at Cape May, on "Fashionable Life at the watering-places."

—Ole Bull has gone to Norway.

New Hampshire Items.

The News Letter states that Mr. Oliver Brown of North Hampton, had over 300 bushels of apples shaken from his trees by the gale of Sept. 8; and had two fine apple trees blown down.

Rev. E. D. Chapman, pastor of the Congregational Church in Raymond, died in that town, Thursday, of dysentery, after a short illness. He was about fifty-five years of age and leaves a widow and several children.

A series of religious meetings are being held on Market Square, in Great Falls, on Sunday evenings, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. The meetings are attended by a large portion of the citizens, and the exercises are attentively listened to.

A fire at Manchester, Friday morning, destroyed part of a tenement block on Spruce Street, owned by the Manchester Corporation. Fifteen families were turned out of doors. Loss, $3,000.

On Monday, Mr. Hanson Meader, who lives near Meaderboro' Corner, Rochester, was found dead in a piece of woods about a mile from his house. It is supposed that he went out to salt some sheep, and being missed, search was made about noon for him, and he was found dead. The case is supposed to have been disease of the heart. Mr. Meader was 61 years of age.

S. J. COURT AT DOVER.—The Grand Jury found ten bills of indictment, all for assault and battery except two against Luther F. Spofford, one of which was for adultery and the other for bigamy, to both of which he plead guilty.

State v. Timothy Leary,—for assault upon Moses Cook, at Milton Three Ponds in March. Verdict, simple assault.—Fine $30, costs $30. "Rum did it."

State v. Henry B. Glidden for aggravated assault upon Alexander Stone in New Durham, plea nolo contendere. Sentenced to jail for 90 days. Rum at the bottom.

State v. Henry Willey of Farmington for maliciously throwing down the fence of John Barker. Plea, nolo contendere. And sentenced to jail for 60 days.

State v. Eustace Mellen and James Flynn for an assault upon Thomas McCrillis at East Rochester, June 9th.—"Drunk, or I shouldn't have done it." Verdict, guilty. Mellen sentenced to jail for 90 days,—Flynn fined $30 and cost.

State v. Orrin Kimball of Dover for an assault upon Police officers. Plea nolo contendere. Sentenced to 30 days in jail.

State v. Gilbert Drew of Dover for an aggravated assault upon Barnard Murphy, 19th March. Verdict, guilty. Sentenced to pay a fine of $75 and costs, and stand committed until paid. Judge Nesmith, in charging the Jury in this case, stated that the facts and circumstances elicited on the trial was a good temperance lecture, and presented an alarming state of morals in the community.

STONING CARS.—Friday morning seven roughs took the cars at Manchester over the Portsmouth Road. When Conductor Gale passed through the cars for tickets, they refused to pay their fare. Soon after he returned to the baggage car in which they were, with assistance, and gave them two minutes to pay in. One of them made an attempt to assault the Conductor, when one of the road employees seized the fellow by the throat and gave him a se were choking. The train was stopped and all seven were put off near Massabesic. As the train started, they commenced stoning it, and smashed one window in the passenger car, and threw a large stone into the baggage car. The up train took the same party on board, and when it arrived at Manchester, police officers were summoned and five of the seven were lodged in jail. Served them right.—Monitor.

APPRECIATION OF ART.—The Portland Press, says that during the New England Fair last week, an old lady from the country, with her husband, stopped before De Haas' great painting of Admiral Faragut passing the rebel forts, and gazed upon the thrilling representation intently. Finally, drawing a long breath she turned to the old man and said, seeing the $6000 marked on the painting, "Only think, husband, they ask sixty dollars for that picture." "Well," said her husband, "I suppose it must be worth it for it's a mighty big picture and there's lots of work in it."

The old people's blunder was laughable, but not unpardonable. They had been used to seeing $60 foolishly printed in the papers with two useless cyphers, (00) in this manner: $60 00, or $60.00. Why, any writer should ever tack on these cyphers, (except in a table,) no one can tell.

STRAFFORD FAIR. — Among the articles exhibited at this Fair, was a sheet of slate stone, by James B. Shapleigh & Co., of Great Falls. It was an excellent specimen, from the slate works in that town.

The Teams were a great attraction in the procession. There were many fine oxen, but towering above all, were the fat and beautifully matched oxen belonging to Mr. Jacob Horn of Great Falls. They are 8 feet in girth, and as handsome as dolls. They will probably be at the State Fair.

TROTTING.—The principal attraction at the Strafford Fair, Great Falls, on Thursday, was the trot between Nellie Locke of Portsmouth and Topsey, (Empress) of Haverhill, Mass. Won by Nellie handsomely in 2:44, 2:37 1-4, 2:37.

At Haverhill, Mass., the closing event of the meeting was a trot for a purse of $500, open to all horses, and the contestants were Black Harry, Topsey and Nellie Locke. The buckskin McClellan was also entered, but did not contend. Topsey won the first heat, Black Harry the second, and Nellie Locke then captured third, fourth and fifth heats, securing the race and first money, in 2:35 1-2; 2:36 1-2; 2:37.

At the Exeter Fair, Saturday, for purse $150, open to all horses,—$75 to first, $50 to second, $25 to third,—entries, Wm. Robinson, Exeter, g. g. Prince John; John G. Cutler, Exeter, b. g. Stranger; I. Copp, Haverhill, b. m. Topsey; S. R. Perkins, Boston, blk. g. Black Harry; W. Locke, Portsmouth, g. m. Nellie Locke. Topsey won the 1st and 3d, and Nellie won the 2d, 4th and 5th.

For the Stallion trot for $30, entries, E. P. Downing, So. Hampton, b. s. Jimmy; Geo. F. Walker, Newmarket, b. s. Cœur de Leon; Henry H. Smith, Newmarket, g. s. Greenland; Daniel P. Harvey, Nottingham, b. s. Flying Cloud.

Purse $55, Open to all Mares and Geldings owned in the County that never trotted for money. Entries were Henry P. Wingate, Stratham, g. m. Cora Bell; D. D. Perkins, Newmarket, g. m. Independence; Chas. E. Smith, South Newmarket, g. g Harry Gray.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BE BEAUTIFUL. If you desire beauty you should use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It gives a soft, refined, satin-like texture to the Complexion, removes Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Tan, &c., and adds a tinge of Pearly Bloom to the plainest features. It brings the Bloom of Youth to the fading cheek and changes the rustic Country Girl into a Fashionable City Belle.

In the use of the Magnolia Balm lies the true secret of Beauty. No Lady need complain of her Complexion who will invest 75 cents in this delightful article.

Lyon's Kathairon is the best Hair Dressing in use. 1mau21

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wise does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY lies in the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm for the Complexion. Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Freckles and Tan disappear where it is applied, and a beautiful Complexion of pure, satin-like texture is obtained. The plainest features are made to glow with Healthful Bloom and Youthful Beauty.

Remember Hagan's Magnolia Balm is the thing that produces these effects, and any Lady can secure it for 75 cents at any of our stores.

To preserve and dress the Hair use Lyon's Kathairon. 1ma21

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Defensive Medicine.

"In time of peace prepare for war," is a sound military maxim. "Let not the sickly season find you unprepared." It is an equally good rule in medical jurisprudence. The man must be made of iron who finds himself at the close of summer as strong as at its commencement. Such a phenomenon is rare, even among the most robust of the human family. Muscular and constitutional vigor ooze out of us in the debilitating heats of July, August, and few of us, at the opening of the Fall, are in the best possible condition to defy the unhealthy influences of the season.

Fever and ague and bilious remittent fevers, together with a variety of complaints that affect the digestive organs, the liver and the bowels, form a portion of the Autumn programme. Bear in mind that exhaustion invites these diseases, and that a stimulant vigor enables the system to repel them. "To be weak is to be miserable," says Satan to his wicked legions, in "Paradise Lost," and the axiom is correct, though it comes from an evil source.

Be, then, ye weak and feeble, fortify yourselves against the invisible enemy that pervades the Autumnal air. The best defence against miasma is a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This rare vegetable tonic will improve your appetite, stimulate your digestion, give firmness to your nerves, invigorate your muscular fibre, regulate your secretions, cheer your spirits and put your entire physique in perfect working order. It is easily done. The standard tonic and alterative which will recuperate and invigorate you is not "bad to take," but, on the contrary, a pleasant medicine.

See, however, that you have the genuine article. There are imitations and counterfeits in the market, and they are all worthless or deleterious. Bear in mind that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold only in glass, (never by the gallon or cask,) and that each bottle bears a label surmounted by a vignette of St. George and the Dragon, and our revenue stamp over the cork.

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited troubled with pain in the side, head-ache, and a constant feeling of weariness. The mildest and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all others proceeding from biliousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Of all anti-bilious medicines they are safest, surest and best. CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC, for the Liver and Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS for Diseases of the Liver, or to act as a gentle Purgative.

All of these three medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest the food which gives the patient strength, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These medicines are conscientiously offered to the public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedies for Pulmonary Consumption, and for all those morbid conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been through a period of more than thirty-five years, in all of which time its reputation has constantly increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can not longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases which admit of a cure.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of the medicine has saved the life of the patient, and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck himself was cured in precisely such circumstances, and many others have been equally fortunate by judiciously making a timely use of Dr. Schenck's remedies.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are benefited by his medicine, but he emphatically asserts, that often when patients have the most alarming symptoms, and when their friends and themselves have given up all hope

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

☞ Something for visitors to the Fair to remember;—the Cess-pool. All can have a free sniff.

☞ The two-headed girl will be on exhibition this evening, at the Temple. Give her a full house.

☞ The Coliseum erected on Market Square, Saturday, for a travelling show, is not owned by Prof. Agassiz, nor has P. S. Gilmore any interest in it.

☞ A fine Store Wagon is that recently turned into the street for J. Rider & Son, from the Carriage Manufactory of Came Brothers in this city.

☞ A Cricket match, single wicket, between Sladen and Flynn for $5 a side, came off at the Plains, Saturday afternoon. Sladen won by a score of 21 to 20.

☞ Mr. Hiram C. Locke at his confectionery store on Market Street, displays a luscious bunch of Black Hamburg grapes, weighing a pound and three quarters.

☞ Dougherty, Wild, Barney and Mac's Minstrels will give one of their popular entertainments at the Temple to-morrow evening. The company is one of the best traveling.

☞ Verily, Mr. Plaisted has had to labor under difficulties, in getting water for his sprinklers—which have done such good service this season, wherever citizens were liberal enough to pay for them, the trifle asked.

☞ Entries of Ladies' Work, Fruit, &c. for the Hall Show at the Piscataqua Fair, may be left at the store of Mr. H. M. Clark; or at the grounds, Monday or Tuesday. Messrs. Preston and J. H. Foster will also receive articles.

An Immense Race.—It is proposed to offer a purse at the Fair, for all saddle horses—in which the leaders of the Cavalcade say most of their members will join. What fun fifty, or even twenty horses would make, running round the track, wouldn't they?

☞ Should a general holiday be declared for Wednesday, the schools, with their teachers, &c., with large wagons, will be invited to join in procession in the afternoon, and with the Cornet Band, and the Cavalcade for escort, march to the Fair, at 2 o'clock.

☞ Besides the managing Board of the Fair, — the regular officers of the Piscataqua Agricultural Society, — Messrs. Frank Jones, President; M. Eldredge, H. R. Stoddard, and J. H. Fergusou, Trustees,—are doing all in their power to render the fair a success.

☞ The arrangements for the Piscataqua Fair, which open in this city on Tuesday morning, are believed to be so complete, as to present a very creditable and satisfactory Show, in a manner to be enjoyed by all the live people. The Railroad arrangements, for this city and all the surrounding region, are very favorable, and a very little trouble and exertion on the part of all concerned or who should feel interested in all such public matters in making contributions, &c., will secure the best Fair ever held here. Remember this is the last day for the work, and let all do their duty.

Clams will be discussed to-day at Dover Point, should the weather prove sufficiently favorable for J. C. Butler's excursion in Steamer Appledore. Squobbs declares his intention to go and picnic for himself, as he is disinclined to become intimately acquainted with clams, they are so shellfish. He therefore purchases a ticket for the trip, which costs 75 cents, and "finds" himself. The majority, however, will invest a dollar each in clams after they get there. We hear that the Philharmonics are going, and of course there'll be music. Foot ball is also alluded to, in which Dover and Portsmouth can indulge, to settle the clams. He (or she) who goes to Dover Point to-day will be as happy as a clam at high water.

The Cavalcade is expected to be a grand feature of the Piscataqua Fair. Messrs. J. W. F. Hobbs and other prominent gentlemen of North Hampton, are organizing the movement; and a large Company will doubtless turn out, from all the towns in the vicinity.

The troop, (it is reported to the number of forty or more,) will march into this city early on Wednesday morning, with the Portsmouth Cornet Band, mounted, (on a wagon) for music; and escort the Procession of Town Teams, citizens in carriages, &c., to the Fair Grounds at half past 9 o'clock.

Gentlemen wishing to join the Cavalcade, will please make known their intention to the Chief Marshal as early as possible, and report for duty on Market Square, at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning.

☞ The Fairs last week all had good weather. Let us hope as much for this week.

☞ The News Letter don't like it, that the Chronicle calls a Fair held in Exeter, the Exeter Fair.

Sudden Death.—Asa A. Hill of Eliot dropped dead on the Navy Yard bridge, Saturday morning; supposed to be from heart disease.

☞ The price of tickets at the Fair is 25 cts for each person or carriage with one horse—each additional horse 25 cts. Season tickets $1. Children under ten years, 15 cts.; or in Schools, 10 cts. each.

Acquitted.—E. C. Page, the Watchman charged with attempting to take paint from the Navy Yard, appeared before the U. S. Commissioner at Portland, on Saturday, and after a full investigation was discharged from custody.

☞ Will the schools and stores be closed on Wednesday, so all can attend the Fair? Half fare trains are to run on all the Railroads, from Newburyport, Manchester, Portland and Union Village; the Fair will be one of the best ever held in this vicinity, and if good weather, there will be some people to see it.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

Gold Loan $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan,
Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides PAYING THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first morigage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including some 20 miles of timber. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD,

semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....67 sh. 10. "
" Frankfort..87 fir. 30 kritzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Perry Davis' Pain Killer, as an internal remedy has no equal. In cases of Cholera, Summer Complaint, Dyspepsia, Dysentery, Asthma, it cures in one night, by taking internally, and bathing with it freely. It is the best liniment in America. Its action is like magic, when externally applied to bad sores, burns, scalds and sprains. For the sick headache and tooth ache, don't fail to try it. In short, it is a Pain Killer. 4ws7

Morning Chronicle.

GOOD FOR THE RURAL DISTRICT OF DOVER.—The Dover Gazette mentions a Meeting of the Stockholders of the Cocheco Manufacturing Company, "which was well attended by a fine, hearty looking delegation from the city and suburbs."

The Gazette mentions further, that they dined at the New Hampshire Hotel in Dover "on all luxuries of the market that could please the eye and tempt the palate, with one exception, that of wine, which to please the temperance women of this city, they omitted for one day only. What will be the great moral effect of thus depriving our Boston friends of a glass of wine for the stomach's sake at one of their private dinners, we are at great loss to imagine. They must have come to the conclusion that they were in the "rural districts," when ladies go so far out of the routine of daily practice as to dictate what distinguished strangers from abroad should drink. It may be all right, but we think it squints a long way towards straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel.—De gustibus non est disputandem.

One moral effect of this hard-hearted procedure of the Dover women, must be, to show the gentlemen who dined, that they could, for once in the way, at least, enjoy a good dinner without wine. Another effect is, to show that the Dover ladies have some influence, either on the hotel-keeper, or on the gentlemen who ordered the dinner. And thirdly, it seems to have had some unpleasant effect on the Dover Gazette. But on the whole, (says Uncle Toby,) there was not much damage done. And if any of the distinguished strangers were given to too much wine, the ladies did them and their families a kindness.

THE NEXT CENSUS.—Taking the vote of last Fall as a basis, the St. Louis Democrat has been making a calculation as to the population that will be shown by the census of next year, estimating it altogether at 39,563,506. It concludes that the New England States will be found to have increased very little; the Southern very little if any; the South-western very little; New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania very rapidly; and the Northwest most rapidly of all. The Eastern States are expected to 18,353,693 population, and the Western 26,859,815. The representation of the Eastern in 1860 was 120, against 107 for next year; the Western in 1860 had 115, and in 1870 it is calculated will have 126. The Democrat's calculation seems to be well founded and it probably does not exaggerate much, if any the extent to which the preponderance of population and political power has shifted westward during the last decade.

FENCES, OR NO FENCES.—Rev. T. L. Cuyler, who has been in Nebraska, writes a letter, in which he mentions, as a defect, we presume, that there are "no fences built."

To this, Rev. Mr. Heaton, who had lived for 13 years at Fremont, Nebraska, replies:—

Our custom differs. We deem it a great improvement. We wish no fences. We find it far cheaper to take care of the cattle. Few farms in Massachusetts, including the house, would sell for the cost of the fence. Suppose a tax were equitably levied, sufficient to pay our national debt, the most ultra disciple of Pendleton among our farmers could more easily pay it than he could fence his farm.

FARMERS' GIRLS.—In all the essential elements of a happy life, a farmer's daughter has the advantage of the city girl. She is usually stronger and more robust, and has a greater degree of physical beauty. Her education ought to be less artificial—more solid and practical. If she unites to fair intellectual capacity a good degree of sound common sense, she will make the most of her position, and acquire the graces which are the ornament of the sex.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

—Our venerable friend, Rev. Thomas Williams, says that the story we told of him about Jonah's praying in the whale's belly, belongs to somebody else and not to him. He thinks, too, that we lost the point of the story. It should not be, "who held the candle when Jonah prayed?" but "who held the candle when Jonah read his prayers in the whale's belly?"—Recorder.

—Hot milk has been very successfully tried in Bengal as a remedy for diarrhœa. A letter from a resident says that a pint every four hours will check the most violent diarrhœa, stomach-ache, incipient cholera, or dysentery. It is perfectly soothing to the whole alimentary canal. Half a pint every meal generally reduces gradually and pleasantly any ordinary diarrhœa.

—Prof. Huxley, in replying to some attacks make on him by doctors of divinity at the meeting of the British Association, spoke of the bitterness with which some clergyman assailed science and its teachers, and declared that he was sometimes inclined to suspect that the first D. D. was Cain and the first scientific man Abel.

—Here is a peculiarly Frenchy remark in a Paris feuilliton:—"Two women are necessary to make the life of a man complete: the woman he loves and the woman who loves him."

—Maggie Mitchell will soon play an engagement in Boston.

—A Hindoo widow has ventured on the monstrous innovation of a second marriage, in Calcutta, and the native population are in much excitement about it. Stopping the suttee business was bad enough; but only think of widows marrying again! Well, the Hindoo widow clearly thought it better to marry than burn.

—The first chapter in a Western novel has the following: "All of a sudden the fair girl continued to sit on the sand, gazing upon the briny deep whose heaving bosom the tall ships went merrily by, freighted—ah! who can tell with how much joy and sorrow, and pine lumber and emigrants, and hopes and salt fish."

—A lady asked a pupil at a public examination of the Sunday school, "What was the sin of the Pharisees?" "Eating camels, marm," quickly replied the child. She has read that the Pharisees "strained at gnats and swallowed camels."

DENTAL NOTICE.
69 Congress Street, Portsmouth.
DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in RIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.
He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.
He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will save only one hour to the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.
He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 30 teeth at one visit, without a SINGLE FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a speciality, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentures,) all work done at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.
All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.
Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching Patent Properties of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him in the process of their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

The Chronicle.

VARIUM.—Mr. John W. Moore of Manchester prints what he calls the Little Live Daily newspaper—which is lively enough, at any rate, and full of music and temperance—on which last topic, many "Temperance but no Maine Law" people will think him intemperate. Here is what the editor says in response to our item about the (Baptist, not Methodist) Church there with a rum-shop under it.

There it comes again! the eternal disgrace! and who is blamable? There is, there must be a demand for these educational institutions, and somebody must patronize and sustain them. Who does it? It is not a valid excuse "that the church does not own the building." It is not more wicked to sell rum under a church than to sell it under any other respectable building. The selling of rum is not so bad as the drinking of it.

The rum-sellers, as a class, in this city, are good citizens—and so soon as they make their piles, one by one they retire and become our great men, our state officers, our legislators and church pillars. No man so soon becomes a fashionable old cud among the cod fishes of society as the one who has, rocket-like, gone up rapidly, by selling rum, while the drinkers has as suddenly gone down from perhaps a higher station to the gutter or the grave:

"See saw, Margary Daw
Sold her bed and slept on the straw;
Who sold the rum was never hurt—
He got Fame—the drinker, dirt!"

THE PHILOSOPHY OF FALSEHOOD.—I beg leave to suggest that, if ever there is another great book produced in this world, it should be a treatise upon the Natural History of Lies. Any one almost, who has occasion to handle the materials of which history or biography is made, will soon begin to suspect that there are laws which govern the generation, dissemination and extinction of lies, just as there laws which control the production and dissemination of thistles and weeds.

An observing farmer knows very well what trees will spring up in an abandoned field, and what trees will take the place of a forest destroyed by fire or laid low with the axe. He knows where to look for mushrooms and where for mullein-stalks, and in what circumstances clover may be expected. Science has in some degree explained these things so that we now understand why, when a wood is cut down, the trees that spring up upon the vacant soil are of a different kind from those that stood there before; why the rich loam of the old farm-yard bubbles up into mushrooms, and hot sands of the roadside produce mullein; and why watery melons thrive best in dry places, and dry grain in a soil that retains moisture.

After twenty years spent in trying to extract truth from the tangle of falsehood that usually surrounds it, I have the strong impression that lies do not start into being by chance, and that the laws governing their production could be, by a lifetime of well-directed study, ascertained. It would also be possible, perhaps, to show why one honest man is so credulous of evil that he believes readily, and repeats with alacrity and with exaggeration, every tale that blackens a human character; and why another honest man, no better than the other, should be so incredulous of evil that he shuts his mind against every accusation until irresistible testimony compels him to open it.

In the absence of any Philosophy of Falsehood, I will venture to assert that there is a general tendency in human nature to believe the worst. It is human to people the unknown with horrors. It belongs to the childhood of our race to think that there are things of terror hidden in the depths of the Druids' forest, and that mortals fall dead upon the shores of enchanted islands. The more ignorant a sect, the more horrible is its hell, and the more use it makes of it. It is said that peasants generally think that profound wickedness is committed in castles and mansions, and many of us know how the mansion sometimes misconceives and undervalues the cottage: at the Bowery Theatre they often have plays in which what is called high life is misrepresented. Invariably the villian of the piece, the crafty seducer of innocence, is a person living in great splendor in a fashionable street, and the virtuous hero who delivers the damsel from his clutches is a working man in a checked or a red shirt. The bowery knows something about human nature in the Bowery, and believes it virtuous,—as it is; but it is ignorant of human nature in Fifth Avenue, and thinks it wicked,—which it is not.—James Parton in Atlantic Monthly.

—A little three-year old son of Charles H. Little, of Meriden, on Monday started a fire in his father's woodhouse, a building twenty feet long, containing wood, coal, etc., and after seeing it well under headway, went to his mother and said: "Mamma, I's dot a nice fire out dare," Mrs. Little hastened to the scene, but too late to save the building. With great exertion and the help of neighbors the house and other outbuildings were saved.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the drinker on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all noxious matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to the directions and remain long unwell. Elder will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these Bitters have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for
"Rocky Mountain Bitters."

NOW OPEN, DAY AND EVENING.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 21, 1869.

MISSISSIPPI.—Letters from Mississippi show that the despatches representing great enthusiasm at the Dent Convention were very highly colored. The large number of delegates was chiefly owing to the fact that three of the counties adjoining the place of meeting sent as many delegates as twenty-six other of the largest counties.

New Publications.

Godey's Lady's Book for October, has a fine family picture, Playing with Pussy, other illustrations, and a good table of contents.

New York Illustrated.—We have just received from D. Appleton & Co., of New York, a very elegant volume, with the above title, containing forty-eight illustrations of scenes in and about New York, including all the principle public buildings, street scenes, Central Park, Jerome Park, and other surbuban places.

These illustrations are of the finest character, and are handsomely printed on tinted paper.

The descriptive matter is very graphic and entertaining, and the work affords a spirited panorama of the great metropolis. The price is only fifty cents, which, remitted to the publishers, will secure a copy, mailed, postage paid. It is the most elegant memento of the great city we have seen.

The Galaxy for October appeared on Saturday. Besides its three serials it has several notable articles by specialists on their specialties, such as "Shakespearian Mares'-nests," by Richard Grant White; "The Real Louis Napoleon," by Justin McCarthy; "A Journey in Northern China," by Raphael Pumpelly; "Why Thieves Prosper," by Edward Crapsey of the New York press; and "Ten Years in a Public Library. Mrs. Julia Ward Howe has a poem, and there is one complete story, "In a Box," a brisk, spirited sketch of a college adventure by the writer, who hides behind the mask of "Samuel Blotter."

The October number of the "Riverside," brings its readers back to the city. In the September number we had Lambdin's picture of "Town and Country." Now we have Nast's amusing frontispiece, illustrating "Sweet Music," —a band of German musicians, with various capacities of wind and wind instruments. The number, which has eighteen separate articles, ends with enigmas, charades, and a page of "Mother Goose" music. By Hurd and Houghton, New York.

The Phrenological Journal for October is full of entertaining reading. Among its contents are George W. Childs the Philadelphia publisher; Philip Phillips, the well-known Singer; The Chinese Question; Shall we have "Celestial" Laborers? etc., with portraits and other illustrations. S. R. Wells, publisher, Broadway, N. Y.

COLORED SCHOOLS.—General Runkle, in charge of the Freedmen's Bureau in Kentucky, has just returned from New York and New England, where he has obtained generous assistance in caring for the colored schools of the State for the coming year. There are at present about 200 schools, and all but 15 under charge of the Government will be free the coming year. The mission of the Baptist Society of New York will support 50, and the American Baptist Home Mission Society and Protestant Episcopal Home Mission Society will each take quite a number of these schools.

The state of Kentucky, it is well known, is "great Democratic strong hold" of the ancient pattern: and this circumstance renders it needful, for the friends of learning among the working people, to come to New York and New England for aid.

DO FIGURES LIE?—Johnny Pepper sold 30 apples at the rate of 3 for a cent, realizing 10 cents from his sales.

Charlie Snow sold 30 apples at the rate of 2 for a cent, realizing 15 cents from his sales.

The two had sold 60 apples for 25 cents.

Then they went into partnership and sold 60 apples at the rate of five for 2 cents, realizing but 24 cents, although in both cases they had sold the first 5 apples for 2 cents.

Where did they lose the odd cent?

We leave the juveniles to investigate until Saturday.

☞ Two Tailors of Exeter filled an entire page of the News-Letter with their advertisements of clothing, last week—three columns for each establishment. This is what we call patching up pretty well.

—An irreverent fellow took his velocipede to the Sing Sing camp meeting to have it converted into a two-wheeled chaise.

New Hampshire Items.

People in Belknap County have $268,214 in the Laconia Savings Bank. The Democrat mentions as a singular fact that not a dollar of this comes from Barnstead, the people of which well-to-do town are believed to have their full share on deposit somewhere. [Perhaps they hold U. S. Bonds,—as Barnstead is a very democratic town; for as their papers keep harping on the bloated bondholders, they must believe them to be the best stock in the market, if they really believe their papers tell the truth.]

Mr. John Plumer, a respected citizen of Manchester, died at the Insane Asylum in Somerville, Mass., last week, aged 48:—leaves a widow and daughter:—life insured, in three offices, for $9000 in the whole.

Six roughs, named John Hays, James Ryan, John Lee, Martin Egur, Edward McCann, and Thomas Tully, were before the Police Court at Manchester, Saturday morning, for throwing clubs and stones at the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad Cars. They professed to be going to Waterville, Me., where they were to be employed; and some of them plead that they were drunk when they made the assaults, were not aware they were committing a crime,—and asked the Court for mercy. The judge held them to bail in $200 each, to appear at the higher Court; and they went to jail.

The funeral of Rev. C. D. Chapman took place on Sunday afternoon in the Congregational Meeting House at Raymond, where he was pastor. Rev. Dr. Wallace of Manchester preached the funeral sermon, and a great concourse of people assembled, paying their last tribute of respect to an estimable man.

LAY NOT this flattering unction to your souls.—We have before us a coppery sheet, which says, speaking of the Maine election:

The Democrats went into the fight against a majority of 26,000, which they have probably reducted to 8000, and would have rubbed out, but for two reasons: 1st, Gov. Chamberlain is exceedingly and deservedly popular; and 2nd, for this reason, and on account of the temperance dodge, many Democrats voted for him. Indeed, it is so secret that some of them wanted to nominate him, at the start, to emphasize the judgment of the State against prohibition.

It is supposed the vote of the State will be about 88,000, against 131,000 last year. Of these. 48,000 are assigned to Chamberlain, 35,000 to Smith, and 5,000 to Hichborn, the latter figures representing the temperance men of Maine.

The 5000 votes for Mr. Hichborn, no doubt represent temperance men; but they do not represent all of them, nor half of them! Nor is it true that the vote for Gov. Chamberlain emphasizes the judgment of the State against Prohibition. So far from this, the Convention that nominated him expressly endorsed it. The 5000 votes, or less, for Hichborn, were votes in favor of a State Constabulary, and mostly from real Republicans; they helped reduce Chamberlain's majority, and of course helped the very feeble crow of the Democratic birds that can hardly be called roosters, this time.

☞ We learn that a man named Mullen, attempting to get from the Boston & Maine Train which was in motion, on Monday morning, fell, and the train passed over him, cutting him in two, killing him instantly.

—A man in Pennsylvania in preparing rhubarb stalks for the market, threw the leaves to his pigs. The next morning five ont of nine were dead, three appeared convalescent, and one looked doubtful. They exhibited every symptom of poison.

—The editor of the Springfield, Mo., Leader has been advertising for a boy, for several weeks, to learn the printing trade, and on Thursday his wife filled the order for him, which shows that advertising pays.

— There are probably not less than one hundred colored men now in Rome preparing for the Catholic priesthood. The majority of them will become teachers of the freemen of the South.

— On Saturday morning a notorious highwayman, named Wildeck, was taken from the jail in Portage city, Wisconsin, by a band of men and hanged.

—There is a difference springing up among the members of the democratic party in Philadelphia. The nomination of a municipal ticket is the cause.

—An illiterate correspondment, who is given to sporting, wants to know when the "Anglo Saxon race," so much talked about, is to come off.

—By a Cable dispatch, it appears that Rev. Henry Phillpots, D. D., Bishop of Exeter, England, died on Sunday, aged 91 years.

—Value the friend who stands by you in the storm; swarms of insects will surround you in sunshine.

—Jefferson Davis promises never to return from Europe.

For the Chronicle.

MR. MAY'S NEW BOOKS.—Mr. Editor: Allow me to call the attention of your readers to the book just published by Rev. S. J. May, entitled "some Recollections of our Antislavery Conflict."

If any man has a right to speak on this subject, it is one, who, like Mr. May, was found faithful among the faithless; who through persecution, obloquy, hard labor and personal sacrifice has stood by the cause of the poor and oppressed, from his first entrance upon manhood till now, when in a green old age he sees the brightness of the day, which in his youth he hardly expected to live to greet.

Our people know far too little of the early labors, sacrifices and persecutions of the Anti Slavery Society. The present generation entered upon the field when its roughest features had been cleared away by the efforts of just the men who are here brought before us. How many of us remember Miss Crandall and the black law of Connecticut? How many know how and where the Anti Slavery Society was formed, what were its objects, who were its leaders? Who remembers the reign of terror, when, throughout the country scarcely a church or a hall could be obtained for an anti slavery meeting, and if one was obtained it was almost sure to be assaulted, the windows broken, the meeting dissolved and perhaps severe personal injury inflicted? Which of us can tell the particulars of the gaglaw controversy in Massachusetts, or the more exciting struggle in Congress for the right of petition? How many personally remember the Alton tragedy, when young Lovejoy met a martyr's death? Or who among us understands wholly the working of that wonderful institution, the Underground Railroad, for so many years the sole hope of thousands of oppressed sufferers?

On all these and many other subjects Mr. May is qualified to speak, and does speak in a most interesting manner. And to all he says attaches the weight of personal recollection. To all who have any interest in the "irrepressible conflict," whether they recall it in its first beginnings, or are among those who reap where others have sown, we say, procure Mr. May's book. It is one of permanent value and interest; and although it does not claim to be a complete history of abolitionism, it contains facts and incidents which only such a man as he could give.

—Rev. H. D. Moore of the Vine St. church remained at his post during the heated term' which means something in Cincinnati, and during the weeks his church was repairing, showed his liberality by preaching for other denominations.

—It is estimated that 120 vessels were wrecked and several hundred seamen injured in the late gale.—On the European coasts, we suppose,—and there must have been some loss of life.

—A final decision has been rendered against the claims of the pension attorneys for transaction of claims business.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BE BEAUTIFUL. If you desire beauty you should use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It gives a soft, refined, satin-like texture to the Complexion, removes Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Tan, &c., and adds a tinge of Pearly Bloom to the plainest features. It brings the Bloom of Youth to the fading cheek and changes the rustic Country Girl into a Fashionable City Belle.

In the use of the Magnolia Balm lies the true secret of Beauty. No Lady need complain of her Complexion who will invest 75 cents in this delightful article.

Lyon's Kathairon is the best Hair Dressing in use. 1man21

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh; wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY lies in the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm for the Complexion. Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Freckles and Tan disappear where it is applied, and a beautiful Complexion of pure, satin-like texture is obtained. The plainest features are made to glow with Healthful Bloom and Youthful Beauty.

A Defensive Medicine.

"In time of peace prepare for war," is a sound military maxim. "Let not the sickly season find you unprepared." It is an equally good rule in medical jurisprudence. The man must be made of iron who finds himself at the close of summer as strong as at its commencement. Such a phenomenon is rare, even among the most robust of the human family. Muscular and constitutional vigor ooze out of us in the broiling weather of July and August, and few of us, at the opening of the Fall, are in the best possible condition to defy the unhealthy influences of the season.

Fever and ague and billious remittent fevers, together with a variety of complaints that affect the digestive organs, the liver and the bowels, form a portion of the Autumn programme. Bear in mind that exhaustion invites these disorders, and that nothing so effective than any of the proven tonics. "To be weak is to be miserable," says Satan to his defeated legions, in "Paradise Lost," and the axiom is correct, though it comes from an evil source.

Ho! then, ye weak and feeble, fortify yourselves against the invisible enemy that pervades the Autumnal air. The best defensive medicine is a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This rare vegetable tonic will improve your appetite, stimulate your digestive organs, tone up your nerves, invigorate your muscular fibre, regulate your secretions, cheer your spirits and put your entire physique in perfect working order. It is easily done. The standard tonic and alterative which will recuperate and build you up is not "bad to take," but, on the contrary, a pleasant medicine.

See, however, that you have the genuine article. There are imitations and counterfeits in the market, and they are all worthless or deleterious. Bear in mind that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold only in glass, (never by the gallon or cask,) and that each bottle bears a label surmounted by a vignette of St. George and the Dragon, and our revenue stamp over the cork.

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited troubled with pain in the side, head-ache, and a constant feeling of weariness. The immediate and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all others proceeding from biliousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Of all anti-bilious medicines they are safest, surest and best. CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS for Diseases of the Liver, or to act as a gentle Purgative.

All of these three medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and enter through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These medicines are conscientiously offered to the public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedies for Pulmonary Consumption, and for all the various conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been through a period of more than thirty five years, in all of which time its reputation has constantly increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases which admit of a cure.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of the medicine has saved the life of the patient, and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck himself was cured in precisely such circumstances, and many others have been equally fortunate by judiciously making a timely use of Dr. Schenck's remedies.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts, that often when patients have the most alarming symptoms, such as a violent cough, raising of blood, night sweats, and general debility, even to such a degree that they are obliged to lie in bed, and when they are given up by their physicians, they may still be cured. No medical treatment can create new lungs, but when the lungs are very badly diseased, and to some extent healed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicines.

Also in Scrofulous diseases these medicines are equally efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been nearly cured with running sores, and now all healed up. This shows its purifying properties, which must be done to heal cavities in the lungs.

In the treatment of Consumption, it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone to the system. Hence it is necessary to strengthen the appetite of the patient and improve the digestion. Proper nourishment is required, together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The artificial food suitable for the diet of consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's Almanac, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most nutritious articles are to be preferred; but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine available. This requirement is met by the Sea Weed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designed.

When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect, the system of the patient is invigorated, and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing powers of the Pulmonic Syrup will complete the cure.

Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel or "blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral poison. These pills cure the most obstinate costiveness, sick headache, piles, billious affections, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the liver. One box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption, the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable auxiliary medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient and assist the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, where the lungs were almost entirely destroyed, and all symptoms, according to the judgement of physicians, indicated speedy death. Lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.

DR. SCHENCK'S Almanac, containing a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicine, can be had gratis or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, each, $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen; Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggist and dealers.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY
In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the medicinal properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than

One thousand experiments

were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the female sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the nauseous and disgusting compounds usually administered in such cases. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.
Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1836 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly sojourn age would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, at, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

TO OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocent; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his care, and has used them for years. He used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. Over 1,000 testimonials can be seen at the Depot.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have used it in my family ever since I been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. 625

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

At the Temple—Minstrels.
A Pressman Wanted—J. E. Ham & Co.
New Fall Styles—Boston Cheap Store.

THE FAIR opens this morning, and the indications are of a fine Show in the various departments. The Concord Road will run extra trains to accommodate all, as advertised; and the Band will go out in that at quarter past 10.

Entries for general premiums may be made at the Grounds this forenoon; and entries of trotting horses will be received at any time till the race is called.

Procession of Teams, &c. with Cavalcade escort, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. All gentlemen horseback are invited to join on Market Square, promptly. Dr. J. W. Parsons is Chief Marshal.

Thursday will be sale day.

The Portsmouth Cornet Band will furnish music through the Fair.

MINSTRELS.—This evening the lovers of music will have an opportunity to listen to Dougherty, Wild, Barney and Mac's Minstrels. This company is celebrated for new things, not for those which have been popular, but are so no longer. The gentleman named have an excellent reputation, and alone would give a charming entertainment; but they are only a small part of their company. They have provided an excellent programme. An old showman, who knows all the companies in the country, says there is none better travelling than these Minstrels. We refer our readers to their advertisement for particulars.

THE CLAM-BAKE at Dover Point, on Monday, was attended by about a hundred and fifty people, who had a lively time. They amused themselves s by bowling, kicking football, dancing and playing croquet, before and after the clams were served. The return trip by moonlight was very enjoyable and they arrived at Pier Wharf shortly after 7 o'clock, unanimously of the opinion that they had enjoyed their trip to their hearts' content and that J. C. Butler's excursions couldn't but be popular.

CLOSE UP.—We hear that there will be a general closing [up of stores, tomorrow, and business will be generally suspended. We hear also that the Mills will stop work for that day. This is right, let everybody attend the Fair, which is bound to be a great success.

☞ The Independent Base Ball Club of Newburyport have accepted the invitation of the Granite State Club of this city, and will play on the Piscataqua Fair Grounds, Wednesday afternoon. It will be a fine game.

☞ Among the curiosities at the Piscataqua Fair, is a Potato vine, on which, more than a foot from the ground, grew four potatoes as large as hen's eggs, clustering around the stalk.

☞ The price of tickets at the Fair is 25 cts for each person, or carriage with one horse—each additional horse 25 cts. Season tickets $1. Children under ten years, 15 cts.; or in Schools, 10 cts.

☞ At a meeting of the Universalist Society in this city, on Sunday Evening, it was voted to invite Rev. G. W. Bicknell of Bath, Me. to be their pastor.

☞ Louisa W. Miner, who was charged with poisoning the family of Dr. Jenness, was discharged on Monday, by the Police Court of Lowell.

☞ The beautiful Steam Buggy, the famous Two-Headed Girl, and the Bull that gives milk, may be seen at the Piscataqua Fair.

☞ Among all the other things don't forget the Philharmonic Concert—Queen Esther's reception—for Wednesday evening.

SUNDAY THIEVES, AND A SUNDAY POLICE. — A gentleman who owns some land near the Railroads, and who would like to save what little fruit the thieves have left for him, informs us that he kept watch there himself, last Sunday, and no depredators came upon his premises, so far as he knows.

But hearing a dog bark smartly, he stepped out and saw four men and three women fleeing towards the city from the dog, and also from a man who kept watch on the Cutter or Rogers Farm. Each of these seven thieves carried a ball basket, apparently full and heavy, undoubtedly stolen goods of some sort.

Our informant, and others who suffer the same, ask if there cannot or ought not to be a Sunday Police who should watch and detect the plunderers, as they approach the city with their booty.

Our answer is, that it could be done; but then it would cost money, and besides, it would not agree with Mayor Jones' police policy, as announced in his Message nearly two years ago,—which was to cut down the Police to one Marshal, with occasional assistants, the whole to be paid only by fines and costs, without expense to the city.

That is, to make the Police neither preventive nor detective, but merely executive!—The Mayor probably keeps a watchman or dog, to take care of his fruit:—but however that may be, the Sunday Thieves are a great nuisance, and the best remedy does not appear very plain to us; though it may be the Sunday police.

THE BEST PAINT!

ever offered in this city.

It is Durable, Beautiful, Water Proof, Elastic and Economical.

This Paint is all Ready for Immediate Application, and requires no oil, thinning or drying.

It is prepared in pure White and one hundred Different Shades, and is unsurpassed in all respects.

It dries with a hard, rich, glossy surface; does not run from seams or nail holes; will not chalk, crack or peel off; covers more surface with the same body, and is cheaper, more lasting, and better in every respect than any other Paint.

Many testimonials from those who have used it in other places of its superiority over other Paints might be given; but I will only invite those of this city and surrounding towns who intend using Paints, to call at the

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE,

Nos. 16 & 18 Cabot Street,

which is the ONLY PLACE in the City where it has been used, and examine the Paint where it has been applied in ten or twelve different shades, and where they can choose any color they desire for use, outside or in, and buy from one pound upwards.

In using the Chemical Paint, there is no difficulty in matching any color at any time, as all the shades are numbered, and the same number will always match.

These Paints are manufactured in New York, and Newburgh, Ohio. BENJ. NORTON, Agent for Chemical Paint Company.

Also for sale, at the same place, the Best Quality of

PICNIC BASKETS,

For sale by E. A. STEVENS.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan,

Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 237 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST upon its NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS,

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $43,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London....27 sc. 10. "
" Frankfort..57 fr. 50 krtzs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

THE BALDWIN APPLE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE—ITS FIRST DISCOVERY.—According to tradition, the first scions of the Baldwin apple ever brought into New Hampshire were grafted into an apple tree on the farm of Mr. Eleazer Jackson, in the town of Cornish. The scions were cut from a tree in Billerica, Mass., in or about the year 1800, at which time they were successfully grafted into the tree as above stated, and which is still in a remarkably vigorous state. Last year the limbs of this tree were fairly bent to the ground with their great burden of fruit. When the tree first began to bear its new fruit, the fame of the hardy, remarkable apple spread throughout the state, and immediately the farmers from far and near flocked to the tree for scions for their young orchards, and the number of tiny twigs which have thus been cut from the parent scion are counted by thousands.

An interesting fact in connection with this tree is, that the farm on which it stands is now owned by the oldest person in the town of Cornish, Judge Eleazer Jackson, the son of the original owner of the tree.

Tradition further has it, that the Baldwin apple was first brought to the notice of fruit growers by a man named Baldwin, from whom it takes its name, and who by chance found the fruit while hunting in Woburn, Mass. He carried some of the apples home and by keeping them some time, noticed their undecaying nature and their juicy and delicious qualities. In consequence of his he obtained some scions from the tree which bore the apples, and which was growing wild with forest trees, and engrafted them into his own orchard trees. This occured about ten years previous to the introduction of the apple into New Hampshire.—People.

TOLERATION.—Under this head, the Congregationalist has a very fair statement of our Constitution, in respect to religion, in which it says:—

We hold that by our fundamental law, we are as really bound to tolerate and protect the paganism of our pagan citizens—if we have, or are to have, any; as the Christianity of our Christian citizens — always provided that they keep their heathenism within the bounds prescribed by the needs of public virtue. A Hindu pagoda, with its filthy, licentious rites, could not be tolerated—not because it would be heathen, but because it would be corrupting to the morals of the community. * * * Nor do we think there need be any tears shed over this state of things. The easiest way to thaw an iceberg is to tow it under the equator. And if the heathen have a mind to drift their old spiritual ice-fields into our warmer latitude, we will nerve ourselves to the temporary chill, for the sake of the melting that must come to them... If a pagoda can stand through one generation with a free school-house on one side, and a free church on the other—let it stand.

We have an invincible faith in the magnificent might of the Gospel and the Republic. Give them a fair chance — a clear field and no favor—and there can be no doubting the result. We say then, hurry up your heathen. Let them come—Chinese, Japanese—all sorts, with all their paraphernalia. Let them come. They shall have a fair chance. The odds are all on our side. And it is cheaper to convert them here, than in their distant homes.

WHO CARES?—The women are moving, but it is like Mrs. Partington, trying to sweep the great flood out, with a broom, when the tide-waters had risen to her doors, and were flowing her kitchen floor; and Ike was boring holes through the boards to let the water out that way! The women, God bless them, are doing all they can to aid the cause of temperance, as they imagine—but the rum-sellers and rum-drinkers are not troubled—they are all hunk, and are admitted into the best parlors of fashionable society, lounge on costly sofas, stick their polished boots upon cushioned chairs, smoke and chat, roll on the costly carpets, take the girls out for a drive, go with them to or from church, meet them at fashionable parties and even accompany the mamas to the temperance meetings and profess to aid them in brooming the Atlantic tide of intemperance from the bedroom doors! Who cares!

Rum builds our railroads, founds our schools, elects our national and state rulers, controls our business, manages our courts, selects our county and town officers, makes our police, enslaves the big world. Politicians could not succeed without rum—doctors would starve—lawyers be tenants of the poor house—ministers without their usual summer vacations and increased salaries—saloon keepers common laborers—fashionable society a laughing stock, black-crook and nude women-shows unknown, and hypocrisy unheard of. Who cares?

Alcohol is King! The people worship him—politicians tumble down before his throne, ministers crawl around his palaces and accept his charity, fashionable society spreads a carpet of immense trailing garments for him to walk upon, and the church receives him and his victims to her warm embrace! Who cares? Does any man in Manchester care? Is there one who dares oppose this king?—Manchester Little Live Daily.

—A strike of journeyman tailors, in Boston, commenced on Monday morning. They are mostly those who work on Custom Work and a large proportion are said to be Irishmen. The employers say, they can't pay the prices, and state that the best workmen generally do not belong to the Union that orders the strike.

DENTAL NOTICE.

69 Congress Street, Portsmouth.

DR. GOODALL takes pleasure in announcing that he is meeting with great Success in HIS INVENTION of a SPRING PLATE for PARTIAL SETS OF TEETH. The Plate does not COVER THE ROOF OF THE MOUTH, is very small and light, has no clasps, in short, it does not impede speech or taste, and is altogether the most satisfactory method of inserting Partial Dentures. Scores of references in this city, and patients from Boston, New York and Philadelphia have given their unqualified approval of this useful invention.

He has purchased a patent right for LOADING lower sets of teeth, thereby making them much more serviceable and comfortable, and they will remain in place, even when the ridge of the lower jaw is very flat.

He is using the Pack Ridge in upper sets with the most satisfactory results. He has also a new way of repairing rubber work, just discovered, which will require only one hour in the majority of cases, and the work will be warranted strong and neat.

He is also administering ETHER, and preparing the mouth for artificial teeth, nearly every day, and often three times a day, extracting from 1 to 30 teeth at one visit, with entire FREEDOM FROM PAIN, and with happy results. He has made this department of dentistry more particularly a specialty, and is confident his large and continued success will warrant him in promising, (With his present facilities and improvements in mounting artificial dentures,) all work at the shortest notice, and in the Best and Most Approved Style of the Art.

All operations in Dentistry performed at the usual rates, and payment is considered due as soon as the operation is completed, all work being warranted.

Refers with pleasure to the leading Physicians of Portsmouth and citizens generally.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents executed on reasonable terms. Also, Research Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of patents, and inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

CUTE THIEVES.—A city missionary in London, Rev. A. Mursell, in his sketches of his labors, gives the following example of the dexterity of thieves.

"I sat down upon a small table near the centre of the room, with men and lads before, around, and behind me; and by way of starting conversation, after asking my old friend Tom if his ankles were any better after his rest from treadwheel exercise, I made a remark about the picking of pockets, which was the source of some amusement at my expense before I went away. 'I can't help thinking,' I said, 'that most of the men who get their pockets picked must be either drunk or very slow witted. I can understand a woman's pocket being picked without her knowing it, but not a man's.' 'When they aren't drunk, they's flats in a general way, sir,' said a bullet-headed lad, who strongly reminded me of Mr. Dickens's 'Noah Claypole,' the hero of the kitchen lay. 'So I should think; a thief should be welcome to everything expect a pocket handkerchief that he could get from me without my knowing it.' Then followed a long conversation, which I shall report hereafter. As I rose to go, one of the young lads who had been sitting near me advanced with a tray in his hand. 'I think you have forgotten something, sir.' Upon the tray were spread my watch; it been unfastened at the snap without damaging the chain, and the end of the chain reinserted in my waistcoat pocket; also a purse containing eight or nine shillings, a gold pencil case, a card case, a cigar case, and a pocket handkerchief."

TEMPERANCE FABLE.—The rats once assembled in a large cellar, to devise some method of safely getting the bait from a steel trap which lay near, having seen numbers of their friends and relatives snatched from them by its merciless jaws. After many long speeches, and the proposal of many elaborate but fruitless plans, a happy wit, standing erect, said:—"It is my opinion, that, if with one paw we can keep down the spring, we can safely take the food from the trap with the other." All the rats present loudly squeaked assent. Then they were startled by a faint voice, and a poor rat, with only three legs, limping into the ring, stood up to speak:

"My friends, I have tried the method you proposed, and you see the result. Now let me suggest a plan to escape the trap. Do not touch it.

—George Francis Train is getting discouraged by his lack of success, and says he is "dying" to be General Grant's successor and, moreover that he is going to the White House in spite of church or party, friend or kindred, society or club. Five things, he says, make a president: Locality, Availability, Organization, Money and Brains, and all of these de can command. He will soon take the stump in his own behalf and speak every night until 1827. He has done lecturing for charity, two years of that work earning for him nothing but the titles of Mountebank, Charlatan and Lunatic. He declares that there shall be no more softening of the brain, but a hardening of the heart, and he will show the individuality of the citizen has been destroyed, thereby "making the Fourth of July a sham, the Declaration of Independeece a farce, and the great American people a gigantic humbug.

—A union church composed of Unitarians, Congregationalists, etc., has existed harmoniously at Nahant for many years. They have just finished a fine stone edifice. On one Sunday last month, they had Robert Collyer in their pulpit, and on another Pres. Hopkins. The careful pilotage necessary in such a congregation, if one would be in earnest and yet not tread on some one's toes, is easily conceivable.—Advance.

We happen to know of a Congregation where the opinions on doctrines of two churches differ widely;—but no one recommends careful pilotage!—and doctrines are free and fully preached on both sides.

—Horatio Seymour delivered an agricultural address last Thursday, in which the main object was to present the superior attractions of country life over the great cities; and in closing Mr. Seymour said that he found that the days have come when we must seek enjoyment elsewhere than in the active pursuits of life, and that enjoyment can be found by him only in the country.—Exchange.

This is the same Seymour, we think, who declined and depreciated the nomination for president, and yet longed to be, and was a candidate. He is probably as sincere now, as he was then.

—There is a couple living in Lynn who in sixteen years of married life, have resided in no less than sixteen different towns and cities, and taken up their quarters in twenty-eight different houses. During this "moving" period the lady has become the mother of eleven children.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell. $100 will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The life of all the Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.
R. H. McDONALD, J. WALKER, & CO., Proprietors,
San Francisco and Sacramento, California, and 32 and 34 Commerce St. (Commerce, a short street running from Bleecker to Barrow), N. Y.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, eructations, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power, these Bitters will be found almost a specific; and as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION.—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for
"Rocky Mountain Bitters."

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 22, 1869.

NAVAL RETURNS.—The full strength of our navy actually on duty in ships and guns is as follows: North Atlantic Squadron, 10 ships, 68 guns; South Atlantic, 4 ships, 43 guns; European fleet, 5 ships, 66 guns; Pacific, 11 ships, 77 guns; Asiatic, 9 ships, 55 guns; on special duty, 3 ships, 36 guns. This force could be trebled at short notice.

The New York Board of Aldermen have called on the New York city congressmen to vote for the independence of Cuba at the next session of Congress.

The London Times characterizes the Humboldt celebration in Berlin as a very shabby affair.

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

LEWISTON, Sept. 20.

Messrs. Editors.—The election in this city last Monday was the quietest ever known. Something like seven tickets were presented on entering the Wardroom, all containing different candidates. There were splits among the Republicans on candidates for Representatives, the last year's member, J. S. P. Ham, not receiving the nomination at the Caucus. But the G. A. R.'s, considering the claims of Capt. Ham just, rallied, and with a few votes from the Democracy elected him. He is a staunch Republican. The Hichborn-Demo-ticket was below par.

The State Sabbath School Convention has been in session in this city for three days, during the past week. The subjects before the convention were varied, bringing in all the points requisite for a more successful and attractive Sabbath School throughout the State. Ex-Mayor Geo. H. Pilsbury, of this city, was chosen permanent President of the Convention. From this organization will emanate smaller organizations throughout the different counties of the State, and judging from the present animation displayed by religious denominations, the organization will prove very effective.

The death of Senator Fessenden leaves an opening for Gov. Chamberlain to appoint a successor, until the Legislature meets. The public are apprised of numerous candidates. No one is more worthy or better qualified for the high position than Ex-Senator Morrill. But the Governor will appoint one no doubt who is not particularly an aspirant for the office, while by so doing he will leave his own way clear in 1871. But while my choice would center upon the Ex-Senator, I should be pleased to see the efficient editor of the Biddeford Journal, John E. Butler, Esq., elevated to the position of Senator. I don't know as John would accept, but it is evident that he is deserving.

The Triumph Engine Co., No. 1, of Biddeford, has challenged the Lewiston Engine Co., No. 1, of this city, to a trial of Engines in Portland, at $1000 a side. The Lewistons will not accept the challenge with the provision, "To be played at Portland." n.

SMASH-UP.—On Monday evening, a two horse team belonging to Mr. John Ayers of Stratham, took fright while hitched near the Creek, and broke loose from their fastening and ran, soon clearing themselves from the wagon. One horse was caught very shortly, uninjured; but the other, a fine young animal, ran for a long while with a piece of the gear at his heels, and when finally stopped in the yard of Mr. Jones' brewery, was found to be too much hurt to be driven home, and was left in Mr. Jones' stable.

SOUND LOGIC:—The very pleasant and unexpected mention of West South End improvements, by the editor of the Journal—which for public and business reasons we copy on our 4th page this morning. All readers except those who desire but one road, and that to end in a graveyard, must agree with the writer, who has not hit the case strong enough in amount financially. The taxable property there will double or treble his estimate. The "Major" alluded to, won the title by service as Paymaster in the Horse Guards,—and the Journal exhibits still its old vein of humour.

PERSONAL.—Commodore Melancton Smith, Chief of the Bureau of Equipment and Recruiting, and Captain Augustus L. Case, Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, were in town on Tuesday on Naval inspection duty.

Cattle Market at Brighton.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING THURSDAY, SEPT. 16.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

At market for the current week—Cattle 3086; Sheep and Lambs 9721; Swine 4700; number of Western Cattle 1894; Eastern Cattle 307; Northern Cattle and Working Oxen 350. Cattle left over, 57.

Prices Best Cattle—Extra $13 00 @ $13 50; first quality $12 25 @ $12 75; second quality $11 75 @ $12 00; third quality $10 @ $11 50; poorest grade of Cows, Oxen, Bulls, &c., $8 00 @ $10 00 ℔ cwt, (the total weight of hides, tallow and dressed beef.)

Brighton Hides 9½ @ 10c ℔ lb; Country Hides 9 @ 9½ ℔ lb.

Brighton Tallow 8 @ 8½c per lb; Country Tallow 7 @ 7½c ℔ lb.

Lamb Skins 75c; sheared Sheep Skins 75c each, Calf Skins 20 @ 23c ℔ lb.

There were not so many Cattle in market this week as there was last. The quality of the Western Cattle was about the same. Prices remain unchanged. Many of the best lots of Beeves were taken at a commission. The trade for poor Cattle was not very active. There was a large supply of Texas Cattle among those from the West, which did not sell so readily as the home cattle. Most of the Maine Cattle were Working Oxen, for which there was a fair demand. The best Beeves sold at 12½ @ 13½ ℔ lb. at a light shrink.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $18 @ $28; two year olds $30 @ $45; three year olds $45 @ $65 ℔ head, or much according to their value for Beef. Most of the small Cattle are sold to slaughter.

Working Oxen—The supply for several weeks past has been good, but the trade has not been so active as the drovers would wish. We quote sales at $155, $189, $215, $220, $260, ℔ pair.

Milch Cows—Most of the Cows brought into market are of an ordinary grade, there being but a few of the fancy breeds offered for sale. Prices for Milch Cows range from $50 @ $115 ℔ head; Store Cows $35 @ $55 ℔ head.

Sheep and Lambs—Extra $5.75 @ $4.50 ℔ h'd; ordinary $2; @ $3.50 ℔ head, or from 3½ ℔ lb. Nearly all the Sheep that came from were owned by butchers or taken at a commission from the cars.

Swine—Store Pigs, wholesale 10 @ 12c ℔ lb; retail 11 @ 15c ℔ lb. Spring Pigs 13 @ 14c ℔ lb. Fat Hogs—1000 at market; prices 10½ @ 11c ℔ lb.

—A preacher in Chicago recently refused to say grace at a table, when asked, saying it was a mere formality, and "the best grace was to eat moderately, well digest your meal, and then go to work and earn another," for the same reason he refused to pronounce the benediction.

A Defensive Medicine.

"In time of peace prepare for war," is a sound military maxim. "Let not the sickly season find you unprepared!" It is an equally good rule in medical jurisprudence. The man must be made of iron who finds himself at the close of summer as strong as at its commencement. Such a phenomenon is rare, even among the most robust of the human family. Muscular and constitution alike wrung out of us in the broiling weather of July and August, and few of us, at the opening of the Fall, are in the best possible condition to defy the unhealthy influences of the season.

Fever and ague and bilious remittent fevers, together with a variety of complaints that affect the digestive organs, the liver and the bowels, form a portion of the Autumn programme. Hear in mind that exhaustion invites these disorders, and that staminal vigor enables the system to repel them. "To be weak is to be miserable," say the Scotch in their lapidary style in "Facetiæ Lost," and the axiom is correct, though it comes from an evil source.

Do! then, ye weak and feeble, fortify yourselves against the invisible enemy that pervades the Autumnal air. The best defence against miasma is a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This rare vegetable tonic will improve your appetite, stimulate your digestion, give firmness to your nerves, invigorate your muscular fibre, regulate your secretions, cheer your spirits and put your entire physique in perfect working order. It is easily done. The standard medicine alluded to which will reconstruct and build you up is not "bad to take," but, on the contrary, a pleasant medicine.

See, however, that you have the genuine article. There are imitations and counterfeits in the market, and they are all worthless or deleterious. Bear in mind that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold only in glass, (never by the gallon or cask,) and that each bottle bears a label surmounted by a vignette of St. George and the Dragon, and our revenue stamp over the cork.

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited troubled with pain in the side, head-ache, and a constant feeling of uneasiness. Immediate and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all others proceeding from biliousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. All anti-bilious medicines they are safest, surest and best. CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS for Diseases of the Liver, or to act as a gentle Purgative.

All of these three medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These medicines are conscientiously offered to the public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedies for Pulmonary Consumption, and for all those morbid conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long probation before the public. Its value has been through a period of more than thirty-five years, in all of which time its reputation has constantly increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases in which admit of a cure.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of the medicine has saved the life of the patient, and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck himself was cured in precisely such circumstances, and many others have been equally fortunate by judiciously making a timely use of Dr. Schenck's remedies.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts that when, when patients have the most alarming symptoms, such as a violent cough, creeping chills, night sweats, and general debility, even to such a degree that they are obliged to lie in bed, and when they are given up by their physicians, they may still be cured. No medical treatment can cure new lungs, but when the lungs are very badly diseased, and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicines.

Also in Scrofulous diseases these medicines are equally efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been nearly covered with running sores, who are now sound and well. This shows its purifying properties, which must be done to heal cavities in the lungs.

In the treatment of Consumption, it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone in the system. Hence it is necessary to strengthen the appetite of the patient and improve the digestion. Proper nourishment is required, together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most proper for the diet of consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's Almanacs, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most nutritious articles are to be preferred; but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This requirement is met by the Sea Weed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designed.

When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect, the system of the patient is invigorated, and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing powers of the Pulmonic Syrup will complete the cure.

Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel or "blue mass," and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral poison. These pills cure the "blue mass" obstinate costiveness, sick headache, piles, bilious affections, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the liver. One box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption, the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable auxiliary medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient and assist the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, where the lungs were almost entirely destroyed, and all symptoms, according to the judgement of physicians, indicated speedy death. Lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.

DR. SCHENCK'S Almanac, containing a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicine, can be had gratis or sent by mail, by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, each, $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen; Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggist and dealers.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as ordinary candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two concentrated extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient. More than a thousand experiments were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to its present state of perfection. The Lozenge is tasteless, inodorous, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative components has been extinguished by chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dysentery and the irregularities to which the feeler sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitely more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered as cathartics. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after taking one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 182 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

TO OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE.

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and invariable; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs, also increase the milk of cows, fat for beef and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Richard Peters of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years he has used no other powders. He has never yet permitted me to refer any one to him. Over 1,000 other references can be seen at the Depot.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON.

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it on hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me. In my practice I used it freely for the Asiatic Cholera in 1849, and with better success than any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good results.

A. HUNTING, M. D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I should add that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has proved with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India."

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents or where the medicine is for sale. 025

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE FAIR was somewhat interrupted by the storm, on Tuesday; but the programme was partly gone through with.

The Poultry is nice; and a Woodchuck (dug out a night or two ago, from the same hole with a skunk, by Messrs. Jones' farmer,) located near the coop, made a good deal of fun for the boys,—who felt obliged to keep chucking him, to make him snap and jump at them—but they had better keep a safe distance.

The largest Affghan we ever saw, is here, and a rich one it is; and a white and colored Quilt to match it in size—both big enough for family use.

The shows of Stallions, and Mares and Colts, were postponed — but the Trot for horses that never beat 3 minutes, was called on promptly, and an interesting race was had, — all in the rain. Five horses came up for the race; Geo. Nutter's bay Prince, driven by Isaac Copp; Frank Jones' Brown George, in the hands of S. H. Gates; H. R. Stoddard's sorrel mare Jane, driven by himself; J. H. Ferguson's black gelding Danville Boy; and H. P. Wingate's gray mare Cora Bell.

The gray Cora won the first two heats, in 3:00 1-2, 2:56 1-2; but she did not hold out, and Copp's horse took the last three heats in 2:52, 2:53 1-2, 2:52 1-2,—Brown George second, Cora third, Jane fourth, Danville Boy last. The race was well contested, but our reporter doubts, now it is all over, whether it paid for the rheumatism he got in watching it. The time made was very good for the heavy track.

If the weather be fair to-day, the following is the order of exercises. If stormy, the Fair will be postponed till the first fair day. The Cavalcade, from North Hampton and other towns, will come into the city in season to join the Procession.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 22.

7 o'clock—Gates and Building open for ENTRIES up to 2 o'clock.
9 o'clock—Procession of Town Teams, &c., with Band, proceed to Grounds.
10 1-2 o'clock—Exhibition of all Stock on the Track. ☞ Appointment of Judges and delivery of Books at the Judges' Stand.
11 o'clock—Show of Mares and Foals on Track. Also all Colts not Stallions.
Best display of Horses by one man or firm, $10. Second best, $5.
11 1-2 o'clock—Working Oxen and Steers on Grounds inside the Track.
12 o'clock—Brief Addresses from Stand by prominent gentlemen present.
Base Ball Match—Granite State Club of Portsmouth, and Independent Club of Newburyport.
2 o'clock—Matched Horses of all classes on the Track, with show of Speed of Trotters and Roadsters.
2 1-2 o'clock—TROT for 2:45 Horses, for Premium $100; $60 to 1st horse, $30 to 2nd, $10 to 3d.
3 o'clock—Gents' Driving Horses, to Road Wagons, owners to drive, with show of speed.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 23.

Gates open at 8 o'clock.
10 o'clock—Family Horses on Track, to Road Wagons, or other carriages, owners to drive.
10 1-2 o'clock—Trotting Stallions on Track, with show of stock and speed.
11 o'clock—Auction Sale of Live Stock, Fancy Goods, Fruit, Flowers, &c.
12 o'clock—Premiums announced from the Stand, and paid at the Secretary's Office.
2 o'clock—TROT for 2:30 Horses for Premium $175; $100 to 1st horse, $50 to 2nd, $25 to 3d.
2 1-2 o'clock—Running Horses, for Premium $15; Mile heats, 3 in 5 to saddle. $10 to 1st horse, $5 to 2nd.
3 o'clock—Fastest Walking Horse, 1 mile. Premium $5; $3 to 1st, $2 to 2nd horse.

☞ The Schools are to be closed today, and much of the business of the city suspended, (including the Chronicle,) if the weather should be Fair.

☞ If the weather be pleasant to-day, we shall issue no Chronicle on Thursday.

ESTHER, BEAUTIFUL QUEEN, will be the great attraction at the Temple, this evening, and the young lady whom the Philharmonic Society have been so fortunate to secure for their Queen, Miss Annie Gilford of Lynn, will be greeted with a large audience, judging by the sales of tickets already made, 500 having been disposed of on Tuesday.

Miss Gilford has a voice of rare compass, powerful yet sweet, and executes finely. She is a favorite among other singers, still wherever she has appeared. This is her first appearance here, and we trust she will meet with a pleasing reception.

The cantata will be put on the stage in fine style. The costumes have arrived and are richer than those used at the last entertainment of the Society.

We expect to see one of the largest audiences of the season at the Temple, this evening, should the weather prove favorable. No wonder the tickets are selling like hot cakes, for people are curious to see the beautiful Queen of the evening.

PISCATAQUA FAIR.

The third annual Cattle Show of the Piscataqua Agricultural Society opened at their Grounds near this city on Tuesday morning—but although a very creditable display was made, the long-deferred rain commencing soon after, rather disarranged things.

The forenoon was fully occupied in making the entries, a list of which we print this morning; but the fancy goods and ladies' work, and the Hall show generally were much lessened by the storm.

The display of Neat stock is excellent and the Horses also good, but these too of course, were decreased by the unfavorable weather. Col. J. W. Peirce, as a visitor remarked, has a Fair of his own, in his noble herd of the Durham stock. The Jerseys of Messrs. W. P. and A. L. Jones were very noticeable. Mr. F. Jones also had quite a drove of cattle. We shall refer to exhibitors generally hereafter.

The show in the building, is of good quality in various departments. Fancy work not so plenty as last year. Fruit very handsome, what there is of it.

Mrs. Daniel H. Spinney of this city, enters 36 varieties of Pears; very beautiful display. Of the Bartletts, 50 weigh 25 lbs. Mr. R. K. Oxford makes a very nice show of apples and pears; Mr. E. P. Davis, pears and black Hamburg grapes.

Prof. Woodman of Newcastle enters the largest onions we ever saw. C. Hayes & Son and A. K. Warren have large displays of vegetables.

Treat & Donovan nice show of marble work and sculpture; and master John S. Laws very creditable specimens of fret sawing; and a beautiful collection of butterflies.

Messrs. Mason & Seavey, of the Agricultural Store, make a large and good show; and the elegantly finished Wood Mowing Machine from the World's Fair, is there, and the noble pair of mules which draw it about the country.

We give below all the Entries yet made.

PICNIC BASKETS, For sale by E. A. STEVENS.

A PACIFIC RAILWAY

GOLD LOAN $6,500,000.

We beg leave to announce that we have accepted the agency of the

KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,

For the sale of its

NEW SEVEN PER CENT.

Thirty Year Gold Loan,

Free from Tax.

This Loan amounts to $6,500,000.

First Mortgage Land-Grant and Sinking Fund Bonds,

secured upon the extension of the Railway from near Sheridan, in Kansas, to Denver, Colorado, a distance of 287 miles of which 12 miles are completed, and the rest is under construction. It is also a Mortgage upon the Road, the Rolling Stock and Franchise of this first-class Railway, besides now running through the State of Kansas,

And in successful operation for 437 miles

west of the Missouri River, and earning already enough to meet all of its expenses and existing obligations, besides MORE THAN THE INTEREST UPON THIS NEW LOAN. In addition to this the Bonds are also secured by a first mortgage of the

GOVERNMENT LAND GRANT OF THREE MILLION ACRES,

extending in alternate sections on either side of the track, from the 394th mile post in Kansas to Denver. The proceeds of the sale of these lands are to be invested by the Trustees in the 7 per cent Bonds, themselves up to 120 in U. S. Bonds, as

A SINKING FUND FOR THE REDEMPTION OF THE BONDS.

The Lands embrace some of the finest portions of the magnificent Territory of Colorado, including a coal field and pinery. The company also holds as an asset another tract of

Three Millions of Acres in the State of Kansas,

and although not pledged as a security for this Loan, their possession adds largely to the Company's wealth and credit. We estimate the

Value of the Company's property, covered by this mortgage at $23,000,000 net, while the Loan is merely $6,500,000.

The Bonds have

THIRTY YEARS TO RUN,

from May 1, 1869, and will pay

SEVEN PER CENT. INTEREST IN GOLD, semi-annually, on May 1 and Nov. 1, and are FREE FROM GOVERNMENT TAXATION, the Company paying the tax.

The principal of the Loan is made payable in Gold, in the City of New York, but each coupon will be at option of the holder, with notice, at the following rates:

PAYABLE IN FRANKFORT, LONDON OR N. YORK

On $1,000 Bond in N. Y. $35 (gold) each half year.
" London... $7 st. 10. "
" Frankfort.. $7 fl. 30 krtzrs., "

The Agents of the Loan, before accepting the trust had the condition of the Road, and the country through which it runs, carefully examined. They are happy to give the Loan an emphatic endorsement as a

FIRST CLASS INVESTMENT,

in every respect perfectly sure, and in some essential even

Better than Government Securities.

The Bonds will be sold for the present at

96, and accrued Interest, both in Currency,

the Agents reserving the right to advance the rate.

The attention of investors is invited to these well-secured bonds, which we recommend as one of the most profitable investments in the market.

Gold and Government Securities taken in payment at their market value, without commission.

Pamphlets, with maps giving full information, sent on application.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER, as an internal remedy has no equal. In cases of Cholera, Summer Complaint, Dyspepsia, dysentery, Asthma, it cures in one night, by taking internally, and bathing with it freely. It is the best liniment in America. Its action is like magic, when externally applied to bad sores, burns, scalds and sprains. For the sick headache and tooth ache, don't fail to try it. In short, 'tis a Pain Killer. 4w27

Morning Chronicle.

Napoleon III. and Sultan of Turkey.

Mark Twain is his new book, "The Innocents Abroad," gives the following graphic pictures of Napoleon III. and Abdul Aziz:

But the two central figures claimed all my attention. Was ever such a contrast set up before a multitude until then? Napoleon, in military uniform—a long-bodied, short-legged man, fiercely moustached, old, wrinkled, with eyes half closed, and such a deep, scheming, crafty expression about them! Napoleon, bowing ever so gently to the loud plaudits, and watching every thing and every body with cat-eyes from under his depressed hat brim, as if to discover any sign that those cheers were not heartfelt and cordial.

Abul Aziz, absolute lord of the Ottoman Empire—clad in dark green European clothes, almost without ornament or insignia of rank; a red Turkish fez on his head— a short, stout, dark man, black-beared, black-eyed, stupid and unpropossessing—a man whose whole appearance somehow suggested that if he only had a cleaver in his hand and a white apron on, one would not be at all surprised to hear him say: A mutton roast to-day, or will you have a nice porter-house steak?"

Napoleon III., the representative of the highest modern civilization, progress and refinement; Abdul Aziz, the representative of a people by nature and training filthy, brutish, ignorant, unprogressive and superstitious—and a government whose three graces are Tyranny, Rapacity and Blood. Here in brilliant Paris, under the majestic Arch of Triumph, the First Century greets the Nineteenth!

Napoleon III., Emperor of France! Surrounded by shouting thousands, by military pomp, by the splendors of his capitol city, and companioned by kings and princes—this is the man that was sneered at and reviled, and called Bastard — yet who was dreaming of a crown and and empire all the while; who was driven into exile—but carried his dreams with him; who associated with the common herd in America, and ran foot races in America for wagers—but still sat upon a throne, in fancy; who braved every danger to go to his dying mother—and grieved that she could not be spared to see him; cast aside his plebian vestments for the purple of royalty; who kept his faithful watch and walked in weary beat a common policeman in London—but dreamed all the while of a coming night when when he should tread the long drawn corriders of the Tuileries; who made the miserable fiasco of Strasburg; saw his poor, shabby eagle, forgetful of its lesson, refuse to perch upon his shoulder; delivered his carefully prepared sententious bust of eloquence unto sympathetic ears; found himself a prisoner, the butt of small wits, a mark for the pitiless ridicule of all the world—yet went on dreaming of coronations and splendid pageants, as before; who lay a forgotten captive in the dungeons of Ham—and still schemed and planned pondered over future glory and future power; President of France at last, a coup d'etat, and surrounded by applauding armies, welcomed by the thunders of cannon, he mounts the throne, and waves before an astonished world the scoptre of a mighty empire! Who talks of the marvels of fiction? Who speaks of the wonder of romance? Who prates of the tame achievements of Aladdin and the Magii of Arabia?

CUT THIS OUT AND KEEP IT.—Franklin Dyre, a highly respectable and intelligent farmer of Galena, Kent county, Maryland, gives the following as a sure cure for the bite of a mad dog.—As will be seen, he has tested it with gratifying result:

"Elecampane is a plant well known to most persons, and it may be found in many of our gardens. Immediately after being bitten take one and a half ounces of the root of the plant—the green root is preferable, but the dried will answer, and it may be found in our drug stores, and was used by me—slice or bruise, put it into a pint of fresh milk, boil down to a half-pint, strain, and when cold drink, fasting at least six hours, afterwards. The next morning, fasting, repeat the dose, prepared as the last,—this will be sufficient. It is recommended that after each dose nothing be eaten for at least six hours.

I have a son who was bitten by a mad dog eighteen years ago, and four other children in the neighborhood were also bitten; they took the above dose, and are alive and well to this day. And I have known a number of others who were bitten and applied the same remedy. It is supposed that the root contains a principle which, being taken up by the blood in its circulation, counteracts or neutralizes the deadly effects of the virus of hydrophobia.

I feel so much confidence in this simple remedy that I am willing you should give my name in connection with this statement."

—Lamasco, a town in Indiana, was named on a singular principle. The first letters of the names of the three gentlemen who orignally owned the town site were joined together, each furnishing a syllable, so that what appears to be a pretty Indian name, is only an abbreviation of the names of Law, Macall, and Scott.

—The Bath Times says the only real fruit from the Hichborn movement in Lincoln, is the election of two Democrats for Representatives, who are anti-Prohibitionists, when but for their opposition, two undoubted temperance men could have been chosen.

—It is stated that a young blood of Logansport, Indiana, has sued a barber for spoiling his moustache in the attempt to color it. He lays his damages at $50.

From the Portsmouth Journal.

There are generally several standpoints from which to look decidedly upon the economy of the proceedings of a legislative body, as for instance our City Council's relative to a new road from Middle St. to South Road. Mr. A. closes one eye, looks with the other through a long tube that shuts off all bearing of the surroundings and at once declares that it is as plain as can be that the necessary outlay is wantonly spending the city's money for the improvement of the land of individuals, so that they may sell house-lots. Mr. B. stands by with both eyes open, takes a calm survey of the entire ground, and finally fixing his gaze on Lincoln Hill, says—

"Mr. A., what is that piece of property worth?"

"O, it cost the Major a fortune—he bought fifteen acres of pasture and ledge, deluged the land with improvements and finished his folly by building a house upon it. Perhaps $20,000; and now he is trying to draw the city into helping him out of a bad business by the construction of a road that will cost the city a nice little sum of money."

"Indeed! and how much has the alterations upon the land cost the city already?"

"I don't know that the city has ever invested at all in the undertaking—I hope not!"

"What is the object of the new road?"

"Just to help the Major sell house-lots."

"Why—will anybody buy lots at this distance from town?"

"Yes—if the road is made, the lots will sell well enough."

"And be built upon?"

"After awhile perhaps."

"There is considerable land unoccupied in Portsmouth, with more desirable lots than Lincoln Hill—how about the ownership of it?"

"O, much of it is held at a high price and the rich owners will not sell short of their figure."

"Does the Major hold his lots at unapproachable prices?"

"No, a man of moderate means can easily purchase."

And you think that without doubt in a dozen years ten or twelve houses will be built on this and surrounding lands?"

"Probably."

"And each house will be worth, with the lot, from fifteen hundred to three thousand dollars."

"Yes."

"That is to say, then, that besides the value of the lot occupied by the proprietor there will probably be $35,000 worth of taxable property added to the city in a dozen years, bringing a yearly tax of five hundred dollars through the Majors enterprise, and the amount of this tax will be continually increasing as the house lots are taken up. Mr. A, you must be very short sighted if you do not now perceive that if a man is disposed to be enterprising it is for the interest of the city to encourage him in every reasonable way."

Every acre of land that is improved for the benefit of an individual benefits the city; and every manufacturer who, though feebly at first, endeavors to build up a business here, is adding to the taxable value of real estate as well as to the number of polls of the city. The policy of fogyism to drag every enterprising man down to its own level, should be guarded against by our City Government and deprecated by every citizen. Most for our Board of Aldermen are right in this respect—and the action of the Mayor is somewhat surprising.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or drawings for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, promptly. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of inventions, and legal and scientific advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration of the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART.

The Chronicle.

PAYING OUR DEBTS.—Forty-nine and a half millions in six months, is the rate at which the public debt has been paid off since Grant came in, and there is every reason to hope for a continuance of this reduction. This is not much like the increase of one hundred and fifty millions yearly which was predicted by Democratic papers, and Horatio Seymour in particular. There is no end to the contemptible subterfuge by which some of these dirty sheets attempt to break the force of this irresistible proof that the goverment is being wisely and economically administered. The meanest of all these is that accusing Secretary Boutwell of so arranging the figures as to make them tell a falsehood and cheat the public, and we have noticed this in some papers which we had thought above such unfair dealing.

Is no man's reputation safe in the hands of these gentlemen? There is no purer minded statesman in this land than George S. Boutwell. He is a radical in politics, and believes most thoroughly in the exact equal rights of all men before the law. Were it not for this there is not one of his maligners who would think of questioning his integrity.

Is there no end to the vindictiveness of copperheadism, of which this is a genuine example. Are we to be told no man is honest who does not hate niggers? Have Democrats no interest in upholding the credit of the Government? Do they not know the inevitable effect abroad of this base attempt to throw discredit upon the official statements of the Treasury Department?—to injure our credit, and put still farther off the long and earnestly-desired return to the specie standard. Will this lamentable partizan malignity never cease? Why not honestly own what no well-posted business man doubts, that the income of the Government is sufficient to meet all its expenditures and leave a reasonable sum for the reduction of the debt.

Thank Heaven, we have every reason to believe that, despite these carpings, Gen. Grant's administration will go right on, reducing the expenditures, reducing the debt, and affording every possible help to the people of the country, both North and South, in recuperating the energies so deplorably wasted by civil war. If it does that, we had almost said we care very little what else it does. We are rapidly approaching the only possible solution of the reconstruction problem—universal amnesty and universal suffrage, and the sooner it is reached, without violence and in accordance with the forms of law, the better we shall be satisfied.

We expect of this administration the same steadiness of purpose in paying the debt that was manifested by Lincoln in quelling the rebellion, and have no fears that we shall be disappointed. Its record thus far is all we ever dared hope. The laws are the same as during the last year of Johnson. Not a tax has been added. Yet where Andrew Johnson barely paid his way, Grant has saved fifty millions to the country. What more could be asked?—Exchange

THE WIND BLOWS.—WHY?—Speaking of the late violent storm, a contemporary raises the following questions, the answers to which are not easy:

Who can tell us the causes of this sudden outbreak of wind? The world just now is full of wise men, who conjure with the material element, and talk much of nature and very little of God. Will they tell us, by what secret machinery, the world about us, for a few hours, was made to wear such a different aspect and to be such a different place, from what they have known it before for many years? With all their boasted science, when it comes to an explanation of any thing strange and unusual, like this, how far can they go beyond the simple words of Scripture: "The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh or whither it goeth?" That there is a law of storms as of all phenomena, is unquestionable; but behind these wonders and strange goings-on of nature, there is the throne of an invisible and personal God, and those who try to solve all facts, without his presence and agency, reach only weak and half-way conclusions.

—To guard against disaster by storm, it is in contemplation to take down the steeple of the Episcopal church in Bath, and replace it by a neat tower. The work will commence at once, says the Times.

—A middle-aged white party is charged with swindling Richmond negroes out of money by representing himself as the head centre of the Grand Guyascutus, and initiating them into an imaginary secret society.

—There are sixteen portraits of Mary Queen of Scotts in the British National Gallery in London, each of them unlike all the others in every detail of feature and complexion.

—Henry Smith, who sells papers in the cars on the Kentucky Central Railroad, has just had a fortune of $138,000 left him in Germany.

Who has not heard of the author? Who has not laughed over his quaint sayings and queer ideas, and fairly succumbed to his race stories?
THE INNOCENTS ABROAD
is the quintessence of himself, the condensation and concentration of all his power. Age cannot wither nor time can wrinkle its geniality and humor. It is the most readable, enjoyable, laughable, and popular book printed for years.

WHAT ARE
DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters.
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FUSCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits, and refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers" "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD-PURIFIER and LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, and will be given for an incurable case, providing the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, the vital organ wasted beyond the point of repair.
FOR INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND GOUT, DYSPEPSIA, or INDIGESTION, BILLIOUS, REMITTENT, and INTERMITTENT FEVERS, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, LIVER, KIDNEYS, and BLADDER, these BITTERS have been most successful. SUCH DISEASES are caused by VITIATED BLOOD, which is generally produced by derangement of the DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it sluggish or obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all will be well.
These Bitters are not a gilded pill, to delight the eye or please the fancy, but a medical preparation, composed of the best vegetable ingredients known.
They are Alterative, Tonic, Diuretic, Sedative, Diaphoretic, and Gentle Purgative.
"The Life of all Flesh is the Blood thereof."—Purify the blood and the health of the whole system will follow.

"Ingenio Stat Sine Morte Decus."
ROCKY MOUNTAIN BITTERS
IS a very superior Regulating Tonic, imparting vigor and strength to the constitution—a thoro'
PURIFIER OF THE BLOOD,
a regulator of nervous force, and a powerful sustainer of health against the encroachments of disease.
The invalid and convalescing seeking restoration, and yearning for the healing virtues of some magic balm, will find in these Bitters a hidden mysterious power, which QUIETLY RESTORES, yet refuses to reveal to the senses anything but taste and color.
It is a pleasant Bitter, free from all nauseous properties odor, entirely vegetable, being mainly grown at the base of the mountains from which they derive their name, and is particularly adapted to all forms of
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION,
manifesting themselves by the following symptoms: headache, nervousness, loss of memory, low spirits, giddiness, dimness of sight, dullness of hearing, and ringing noises in the ears, emotions, of belching of wind, tightness of breathing, weight and oppression of the chest, uneasy feeling about the heart, palpitation, &c.
Also for Liver Diseases, Disorders of the Kidneys, Restlessness and loss of Muscular Power these Bitters will be found almost a specific; & as a preventative of
FEVER AND AGUE,
or a restorer of the natural powers of the system, when broken down by continued ague attacks; it has no equal.
Being stimulating, (but not intoxicating), they refresh and invigorate both mind and body, heighten the sensibility, clear and sharpen the faculties, and bestow alacrity and cheerfulness of spirit.
CAUTION:—There have been, and still are several parties manufacturing and selling so-called "Langley's Bitters," many of which are worthless. As a guide against such, I would say that in 1866, I secured my copy-right, in the United States Court, a trade mark and name, "Rocky Mountain Bitters," and all Bitters of my manufacture are put up in dark, long neck, quart bottles with red label printed with gold; also, direction label, bearing my seal and directions printed in red, with a red cap and my seal printed in gold, over the cork. Beware of all others, and ask for "Rocky Mountain Bitters."

Correspondence of Chronicle and Gazette.

KITTERY, ME., Sept. 22.

About eight months ago, our Pot Saloon keepers were requested (if selling) to leave off the sale of intoxicating liquors, and it is said they did so for several months. But feeling a strong love of liberty—for what? to do as they pleased, make people poor, fill our neighborhoods with quarrels, make it almost impossible for ladies to walk our streets without being insulted, fill our courts with law-suits and our jails with criminals, and make sorrow and desolation generally,—they concluded not to obey law and good order any longer, and have for some time been furnishing their vile stuff to foolish men, sending them out to stagger along our streets and annoy decent people with their tainted breath, foul language and brutal actions.

Our Town Officers and Temperance Committee say this shall be stopped; and report says that about forty witnesses have been summoned before the Grand Jury now in session. Respectable people should not enter these "saloons" if they do not wish to be favored with invitations to give evidence:—and some of them feel bad at the position they are placed in. Those who kept out of the drinking-places have not been called upon to testify.

Perhaps the County will have the benefit of some fines, and it is quite possible that the services of the worthy keeper of our County Hotel may be required. Yours, GAY.

☞ The Belfast Journal says Capt. Rufus Harriman, of Stockton, with his son, and two other men, one named Frank Staples and the other Nickerson, were at Cranberry Isles, on a fishing excursion in a small vessel, during the late gale. A large vessel drifted foul of them, staving their craft in, so that she sunk. Capt. Harriman and Staples were drowned. His son and Nickerson got on board the vessel and saved their lives.

☞ "I told you so"—the Equinoxial storm always comes about the 20th. How was it with the Portland Fair, the 8th, and the Piscataqua Fair the 8th last year? Rain, oh!

☞ The easterly storm has driven a large fleet of vessels into our Lower Harbor—the number being reported at 400, which is probably an exaggeration.

☞ The story of the mutiny on board the United States frigate Sabine has at last received an authoritative denial from an officer of that vessel.

Rev. Loren Thayer, for more than twenty years pastor of the Presbyterian church in Windham, died on Sabbath evening, of consumption. He was a man of fine literary taste, and courteous bearing. He graduated at Dartmouth in the class of 1840, with Judge Sargent of the Supreme Judicial Court. He was about 54 years of age.

The Congregational church in West Concord was entirely consumed by fire, Tuesday morning. The church has been wholly repaired and was to have been occupied next Sunday. Loss on the church and tools about $10,000; insured for $3000. A man who gives Boston as his residence has been arrested on suspicion of being the incendiary.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE PISCATAQUA FAIR was on Wednesday postponed by the managers, on account of the wet condition of the roads and grounds, and the wet appearance of the weather. This disappointed many people, and vexed some; but those who did go to the Park, and got wet by the drenching rain in the afternoon, were doubtless ready to agree that the move to adjourn was the most discreet if not valorous.

The mill and the Schools were closed for the day, and there were many citizens and strangers from all quarters on the streets, and hundreds walked and rode to the grounds, notwithstanding the postponement was early telegraphed to all parts, and bills at once issued.

The cavalcade from North Hampton and vicinity, under command of A. D. Hobbs, rode over and returned — and will escort the Procession to-day or when it appears. The Town Teams from Portsmouth, Eliot and Newington—ten yoke of noble oxen each, also shew themselves on the streets, and excited a good deal of interest. The Portsmouth Cart was handsomely decorated with evergreen and flowers, pictures and wreaths; and that from Eliot was very appropriately embowered in pine, and labelled From the Pine Tree State. All regretted the trouble caused to the stockmen and others, but the weather can't very well be helped.

As the regular programme for the day was announced off, it was not expected many people would visit the Park, and the ticket office was not opened; but as quite a large number preferred to pay and enter, after knowing the state of the case, an outside sweepstakes race of six entries, $10 each, was made up, for the fun of the thing, (and good fun it was too) so that all should not be disappointed—for the following graphic report of which, we are indebted to a friend.

J. Mathes, El'ot, names g m Cora,
Wm. Robinson, Haverhill, ns g m Cora Belle,
Wood. Locke, Ports., ns r g Yankee Locke,
C. E. Smith, Sn. Newmarket, ns g h Harry Gray,
H. R. Stoddard, Portsmouth, ns s m Jane,
M. Eldredge, Portsmouth, ns br g Bill Kearney.

After scoring twice, they got away well together, and Cora Belle took first heat in 2:57, the other Cora coming in three lengths behind, and the horses in the rear coming in pretty much mixed up.

A few times scoring, and they got the word for the second heat, — everybody trying to get the best start, as usual. After passing the first quarter, Cora took the lead, and continued in front until the second half, when Woodbury Locke's colt went for the first position, and came under the wire in advance, winning the heat in 3:03, Cora and Cora Belle well up to him.

The 3d heat was declared dead. The 4th heat, the horses were sent away with Yankee Locke some way in the rear, and the heat was won by Cora, time 3:03. A slight shower occurring, all the horses were now withdrawn, excepting Cora and Cora Belle.

The 5th heat, well contested, was given to Cora Belle in 3:01. 6th, horses well off together, but Cora settled to work in good style, and won in 3:02. 7th and last heat, like unto the 6th, and with the race, was won in 3:03, Cora not making a skip.

THE BASE BALL MATCH between the Independents of Newburyport and the Granite States of this city, came off at the Plains instead of at the Fair Grounds, on Wednesday afternoon, on account of the postponement of the Fair. A telegram to Newburyport, notifying them of the postponement of the Fair, failed to reach them before they had started, and they arrived here by the 10 o'clock A. M. train.

Game was called shortly after 2 o'clock, P. M., the Independents won the toss and sent their opponents to the bat. The first inning resulted in a pair of zeros for both sides, on the second the Newburyport boys scored 3 to 1 for the Portsmouth, on the third the latter scored 3 to 2, on the fourth they made 4 to 2; and on the fifth got into a streak of batting the slow balls given by the Independent pitcher, and added 9 to their totals, while the Independents only scored one.

This finished the play, as the rain began to fall, and the umpire called the game, the score standing 17 for the Granites to 8 for the Independents.

THE PHILHARMONIC CONCERT, Monday evening, was attended by a large audience, notwithstanding the rain. Queen Esther was enthusiastically received. Miss Gilford's voice is a rich and pleasing one, and the audience soon discovered the fact. The little lady sang a song by particular request, between the acts, and was greeted with a storm of applause. We trust that this her first appearance here, will be but an introduction to future displays of her musical abilities. Miss Susie Ham as Zeresh, was perfect, and shared with Miss Gilford the honors of the evening.

All the characters in the Cantata were taken excellently well, and the only prominent faults were a tardiness on the part of the chorus in some passages, and the unceremonious haste with which the curtain fell.

☞ If pleasant weather, the Fair will be opened this morning, with the same attractive programme as announced for yesterday. And it is reported the schools and business will close, as was arranged for Wednesday.

☞ One of the most gratifying results of the rain, is the washing of the Cess-pool, by which a considerable decrease in the amount of odor there eliminated is noticed.

☞ One fellow wants to know why they didn't get the Piscat*aqua* Society to bring on their Fair six weeks ago, when the rain would have done some good.

MARRIAGES.

In this city by Rev. James DeNormandie, Mr. PERRY B. BURNHAM, and Miss MARGARET E. BEST, both of Portland Me.

DEATHS.

In this city, very suddenly, on Wednesday morning, Sept. 22, Mrs. ANNA SMITH, widow of Mr. Simon P. Smith. She was abroad in the city on Tuesday, apparently in usual health, and showing very few signs of advanced age. She had been a member of the North Congregational Church more than half a century, and was a woman of unusual energy and decision of character.

At the Insane Hospital, Augusta, Me., Sept. 21, Widow PHEBE E. DAME, aged 70 yrs. 9 mos.

☞ Funeral from the Christian Baptist Church at Kittery Foreside, Friday, at 3 o'clock, P. M. Friends and relatives are requested to attend.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

BE BEAUTIFUL. If you desire beauty you should use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It gives a soft, refined, satin-like texture to the Complexion, removes Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Tan, &c., and adds a tinge of Pearly Bloom to the plainest features. It brings the Bloom of Youth to the fading cheek and changes the rustic Country Girl into a Fashionable City Belle.

In the use of the Magnolia Balm lies the true secret of Beauty. No Lady need complain of her Complexion who will invest 75 cents in this delightful article.

Lyon's Kathairon is the best Hair Dressing in use. 1man21

WITH DYSPEPTICS everything is wrong. Food does not digest; sleep does not refresh: wine does not cheer; smiles do not gladden; music does not charm, nor can any other joy enter the breast of the miserable dyspeptic. You must get rid of it or it will become seated and confirmed, and life will be a burden and existence a curse. PLANTATION BITTERS will do away with all this. New life, strength and energy will take possession of you. The damask will again bloom upon your cheek, and the lustre in your eye will again be as bright as in your healthiest, happiest and most joyous days.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTY lies in the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm for the Complexion. Roughness, Redness, Blotches, Sunburn, Freckles and Tan disappear where it is applied, and a beautiful Complexion of pure, satin-like texture is obtained. The plainest features are made to glow with Health and Bloom and Youthful Beauty.

Remember Hagan's Magnolia Balm is the thing that produces these effects, and any Lady can secure it for 75 cents at any of our stores.

To preserve and dress the Hair use Lyon's Kathairon. 1ma21

—Probably the most popular music ever published in America were the songs, words, and music of Stephen C Foster. Of his song, "Old Folks at home," two hundred and fifty thousand copies were sold, and an almost equal number of "Nelly was a lady," "Beautiful Dreamer," and "Come where my Love lies Dreaming."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Keep the Body in Good Repair.

It is much easier to keep the system in good condition than restore it to that condition when shattered by disease. The "House of Life," like other houses, should be promptly propped up and sustained whenever it shows any sign of giving way. The first symptom of physical debility should be taken as a hint that a stimulant is required. The next question, "What shall the stimulant be?"

A wholesome vegetable tonic, the stimulating properties of which are modified by the juices and extracts of anti-febrile and laxative roots and herbs—something which will regulate, soothe and purify, as well as invigorate,—is the medicine required by the debilitated. There are many preparations which are claimed to be of this description, but HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the great vegetable preventive and restorative that has won by its way to the confidence of the public and the medical profession by a quarter of a century of unvarying success, stands pre-eminent among them all. To expatiate on its popularity would be to repeat a twice-told tale. It is only necessary to consult the records of the United States Revenue Department to learn that its consumption is greater than that of any other proprietary remedy of either native or foreign origin.

As a means of sustaining the health and strength under a fiery temperature, the BITTERS have paramount claim to consideration. It has the effect of fortifying and bracing the nervous and muscular systems against the ordinary consequences of sudden and violent changes of temperature, and is therefore peculiarly useful at this season, when hot sunshine by day, and ice-cold dews by night, alternately heat and chill the blood of those who are exposed to them.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are sold in bottles only. To avoid being deceived by counterfeits, see that the name of the article is on the label, and embossed on the glass of the bottle and our revenue stamp over the cork.

Batchelor's Hair Dye.

This splendid Hair Dye is the best in the world; the only true and perfect Dye; harmless, reliable instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints; remedies the ill effects of bad dyes; invigorates and leaves the Hair soft and beautifully Black or Brown. Sold by all Druggists and Perfumers, and properly applied at the Wig Factory 6 Bond Street, New York.

Ellis' Iron Bitters

Will enrich the blood and prevent it from becoming watery and weak, give a healthy complexion, restore the appetite, invigorate the system, and are very palatable. These Bitters are recommended to all persons requiring a safe and valuable tonic, to impart tone and strength to the system, not given by Bitters merely stimulant in their effects; which, although they may possess tonic vegetable properties, cannot give the strength to the blood which the Iron Bitters will give.

Prepared by Wm. Ellis, Chemist. For sale in Portsmouth by WILLIAM R. PRESCOTT; by Weeks & Potter, Wholesale Agents, 170 Washington Street, Boston; and by Druggists and Grocers generally. mh28m6md

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.

The best remedy for the cure of CONSUMPTION, and ALL DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It causes the phlegm and matter to rise without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs,) and without producing constipation of the bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops night sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

It contains no opium in any form. It is perfectly harmless for the most delicate child. It is everywhere in good demand and gives good satisfaction.

The result of its use is proof of its great value.—Its extraordinary healing properties are experienced by all who use it. Their testimony will be found in a pamphlet, which can be had of the agents where the medicine is for sale. d25

TO OWNERS OF HORSES AND CATTLE,

TOBIAS' DERBY CONDITION POWDERS are warranted superior to any others, or no pay, for the cure of Distemper, Worms, Bots, Coughs, Hide-bound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocent; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them and you will never be without them. The late Hiram Woodruff, celebrated trainer of trotting horses, used them for years. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed, since which he is never without them. He has ever twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicine for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. Over 1,000 other references can be seen at the Depot.

PAIN KILLER.

MANHATTAN, Kansas, April 17, 1866.

MESSRS. PERRY DAVIS & SON,

Gentlemen:— * * * I want to say a little more about the Pain Killer. I consider it a very valuable medicine, and always keep it at hand. I have traveled a good deal since I have been in Kansas, and never without taking it with me in my practice I used it freely for the Cholera in 1849, and with better success than with any other medicine. I also used it here for Cholera in 1855, with the same good effect.

A. HUNTING, M.D.

* * * "I regret to say that the Cholera has prevailed here of late to a fearful extent. For the last three weeks, from ten to fifty or sixty fatal cases each day have been reported. I also find that the Pain Killer sent recently from the Mission House, has been used with considerable success during this epidemic. If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease.

Rev. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India." au20

SPECIAL NOTICES.

CONSUMPTION.

DR. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP for the cure of Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC for the cure of Dyspepsia and all the Debilitated Conditions of the Stomach.

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS for Diseases of the Liver, or to act as a gentle Purgative.

All of these three medicines are often required in curing Consumption, though the Pulmonic Syrup alone has cured many desperate cases. The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills assist in regulating the Stomach and Liver, and help the Pulmonic Syrup to digest and search through the blood vessels, by which means a cure is soon effected.

These medicines are conscientiously offered to the public as the only safe, certain and reliable remedies for Pulmonary Consumption, and for all those morbid conditions of the body which lead to that fatal disease. Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia are often forerunners of Consumption, and when they manifest themselves they require the most prompt attention.

The Pulmonic Syrup is a medicine which has had a long population before the public. Its fame has been through a period of more than thirty-five years, in all of which time its reputation has constantly increased, and the most obstinate skepticism can no longer doubt that it is a remedy which may be used with confidence in all cases which admit of a cure.

If the patient will perseveringly follow the directions which accompany each bottle, he will certainly be cured, if his lungs are not too much wasted to make a cure possible. Even in cases supposed to be incurable, when friends and physicians have despaired, the use of the medicine has saved the life of the patient, and restored him to perfect health.

Dr. Schenck himself was cured in precisely such circumstances, and many others have been equally fortunate by judiciously making a timely use of Dr. Schenck's remedies.

Dr. Schenck does not say that all cases of Pulmonary Consumption are within the reach of medicine, but he emphatically asserts, that often when patients have the most alarming symptoms, such as a violent cough, night chills, night sweats, and general debility, even to such a degree that they are obliged to lie in bed, and when they are given up by their physicians, and may still be cured. No medical treatment can create new lungs, but when the lungs are very badly diseased, and to some extent destroyed, a cure may be effected by Dr. Schenck's medicines.

Also in Scrofulous diseases these medicines are equally efficient. Dr. Schenck has photographs of a number of persons who have been nearly covered with running sores, and now all healed up. This shows its purifying properties, which must be done to heal cavilies in the lungs.

In the treatment of Consumption, it is of the utmost importance to give vigor and a healthy tone in the system. Hence it is necessary to strengthen the appetite of the patient and improve the digestion. Proper nourishment is required, together with such means as will make the food easily digestible. The articles most suitable for the diet of consumptive patients are designated in Dr. Schenck's Almanace, which are distributed gratuitously. In general, the most nutritious articles are to be preferred; but the digestive organs must be strengthened in order to make either food or medicine serviceable. This requirement is met by the Sea Weed Tonic, and for this purpose it was designed.

When the digestive powers are put in good order, the food has its proper effect, the system or the patient is invigorated, and the lungs begin to exercise their functions in a normal and healthy manner. Then the healing powers of the Pulmonic Syrup will complete the cure.

Pulmonary Consumption is almost always complicated with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Schenck's Mandrake Pills are intended to remove obstructions from the liver and restore its healthy action. They have all the efficacy which is ascribed to calomel, and yet are harmless, and are warranted not to contain a particle of any mineral poison. These pills cure the the most obstinate costiveness, sick headache, bilious attacks, and all other diseases which arise from a torpid or obstructed condition of the liver. One box of these pills will prove the efficacy of the medicine.

In Consumption, the Sea Weed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are invaluable adjuvants to the medicines. They relieve the sufferings of the patient and assist the Pulmonic Syrup in effecting a cure. They have been found useful in advanced stages of Consumption, where the lungs were almost entirely destroyed, and all symptoms, according to the judgement of physicians, indicated speedy death. Lives of patients who were actually in a dying condition have been preserved for months by the use of Schenck's three great remedies.

DR. SCHENCK'S Almanac, containing a full treatise on the various forms of disease, his mode of treatment and general directions how to use his medicines, can be had gratis or sent by mail by addressing his Principal Office, No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, each, $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen; Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggist and dealers.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY

In Medication.

The great difficulty which physicians have been laboring for centuries to overcome, has at length been obviated. A vegetable Cathartic and alterative more efficient than any mineral preparation of the same class, and as agreeable to the taste as the confiture candy, is now offered to the sick in the form of a Lozenge.

DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S

is the most important medicinal novelty that modern chemistry has produced. It contains two botanical extracts, perfectly harmless in themselves, but embodying all the remedial properties of mercury, and destined in this pleasant form to supersede and banish from general use, the nauseous pills and portions of which that dangerous excitant is the main ingredient.

One thousand experiments were made by the inventor of this peerless remedy before it was brought to the present state of perfection. The Lozenge is harmless in its operation, and altogether the medicinal taste of its curative properties has been anticipated in the chemical art, their virtues remain as active and potent as ever.

In Dyspepsia, Biliousness Constipation, Sick or Nervous Headache, Piles, Dropsy, and the irregularities to which the female sex are subject, the Lozenge will be found infinitly more effective than any of the horrible and disgusting compounds usually administered by quack doctors. As an antibilious specific and general aperient, they have no equal either among advertised preparations or the prescriptions of the regular pharmacopoeia.

☞ It is guaranteed that no one who has once tried DR. ERASMUS WINSLOW'S Liver and Stomach Lozenge, will ever again take a purgative powder, or draught or pill.

PECULIAR ADAPTABILITY.

Brandreth's Pills.

Their peculiar adaptability to all constitutions as cleansers of the bowels and the blood has established their great merit. They restore the liver, the spleen and even the heart to healthy action when other remedies have been used without producing any benefit. They do not expose those who use them to any danger, being as safe as salutary.

Extract from Letter to Dr. Brandreth, from C. J. Fay, Esq., P. M., Hammonton, N. J.

"In 1838 I was in poor health, and my friends as well as myself supposed that my earthly voyage would soon terminate. But after using one box of Brandreth's Pills, I began to feel better. Well, sir, when I had used up twelve boxes I was a well, healthy man—my weight having gone from 131 pounds up to 152 pounds. I then ordered a supply, and between that time and the present I have retailed three thousand dollars' worth of these invaluable pills, and am quite sure that I have thereby been instrumental in saving thousands of lives.

Yours, truly, C. J. FAY, P. M."

Holloway's Pills.—More than two-thirds of the sickness which occurs in the summer proceeds from a disordered condition of the liver. Persons of a bilious habit suffer most in warm weather. They are languid, low spirited troubled with pain in the side, head-ache, and a constant feeling of weariness. The immediate and certain remedy for these symptoms, and all others proceeding from biliousness, is HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. Of all anti-bilious medicines they are safest, surest and best. SEVERE, OR HARD. — We have seen many paragraphs in the papers (and copied one or two) reflecting on Rev. Dr. Miner, for using the terms Devil, and Hell, in a speech on Intemperance. One such item from the Boston Herald, is here copied.

For a man who don't believe in Hell, Dr. Miner makes great use of that naughty place. He says "Hell rejoices every time certain Boston papers are published," and he calls first class hotels "breathing places of Hell," and at every opportunity he shows a familiarity with that wicked place which the doctrine of universal salvation leaves out in the cold. How does Dr. Miner know so much about Hell?

The Maine Gospel Banner explains, that it is a mistake to think that Universalists believe in no hell, and says that such items show "ignorance relative to the denomination." It then adds:—

Universalists believe in no less the four hells,—all indeed, that the Bible reveals; and not only in these hells but we believe in the "pains of hell," the "fires of hell" and "the sorrows of hell," for all these expressions are employed in the Bible. We believe that the "wicked are turned into hell," and that the guests of "the adulterous woman are in the depths of hell." Solomon says this. David said "the pains of hell got hold on me" and "I found sorrow and trouble." This was in a time of moral weakness and wickedness on the part of the king. "Great is thy mercy toward me, O Lord, for thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest hell," exclaimed this king. This was after he had resolved to repent his sins, turn to God and do works of righteousness.

Old Dr. Beecher said years ago, in a lecture on the moral delinquences of Boston, when pastor of a church in that city, "Could you behold all the horrors experienced in a single night in this city in consequence of drunkenness and profligacy, you would see hell enough." Dr. Miner believes in the hell indicated by this expression. But in no endless hell. He believes that all souls, like the soul of king David, shall ultimately be delivered, even from the lowest hell into which their sins have plunged them.

SCIENCE AND THEOLOGY.—Rev. Dr. Patterson, of Chicago, has published an article which appeared, among other papers, in the N. Y. Observer with the title, "The Revolution in Geology: Science and Infidelity backing down."

Prof. Orton, of Vassar College, has published an answer, also in the Observer.

I am not alone in saying that its publication is deeply regretted—first, because it conveys the impression to the majority of those who will read it that Geology is a chaos of "silly dreams and absurd theories," and is unworthy of the name of science; and secondly, because scientific men are prejudiced more than ever against Theology when they see its teachers, with a willful perversion of undeniable facts or in inexcusable ignorance of the real question, publish such illogical tirades.

Geology is not a completed science. Neither is Theology finished, judging from the opposite polarity of Drs. McCosh and Hopkins on fundamental truths. By the time theological teachers agree on "five points," geologists will undoubtedly be of one mind.

The Observer disapproved Orton's article, and goes on to say.

In connection with that article which we print to show the position which scientists are taking in respect to revelation, we refer to the remarks of the distinguished Agassiz last week, at Salem, Mass., on the plan of the Peabody Academy of Sciences. He said:

"I see in that plan something which will dispel the obscurity still remaining in the community concerning a thing about which we are all interested,—our future eternal life,—yet of which we do not dare to speak because that which we should have to say goes contrary to some of the long-cherished convictions with which the community is imbued, holding to them as sacred doctrine when we must know they are false."

What doctrine of the future life which is held by the community of Salem is "known" by Prof. Agassiz "to be false," we would like to know. His remark is an assumption that men of science "know to be false" the doctrines which Christians believe respecting a future life. Such assertions are arrogant and vain, and all the more so when made without proof, and thrown out in a public meeting of scientific men to be reported by all the newspapers and widely sown in the minds of the people. Prof. Agassiz ought to have said more or less. He has merely declared his own rejection of the popular doctrine of a future life, without a why or wherefore.

We also would like to know, (says Uncle Toby) what doctrine, or which doctrine of our future life, Prof. Agassiz condemns and knows to be false. We do not understand his words above, to mean that he believes in no future life;—but not in such a kind of life as he thinks to be a part of some popular system. Prof. A. can't say less, now: we hope he may speedily say more.

—When we take into consideration the fact that vegetation will neither grow upon a manure heap nor upon a pile of sand, but if the two are mixed the mixture forms a basis that vegetable life delights in, no farther argument is needed in favor of pulverizing manures and their through incorporation with the soil. The more completely this is done, the greater will be the immediate effect.

STRANGE CASE OF RELIGIOUS INSANITY.—In Concord, on the 16th, we learn from the Patriot, as a sober citizen was sedately passing through a public street, two women rushed excitedly from a house by the wayside and besought his aid, saying that they believed some one was dying or attempting to commit suicide in the attic of their woodshed. Hastening to the spot, he found, not a fellow creature in the last agonies, but a woman in the exact costume of Eve before she ate the apple. She was vigorously haranguing the empty air upon some biblical theme, and addressed her remarks to the aforesaid sober citizen upon his appearance. It was with great difficulty that she could be induced to dress in any other manner than what Artemas Ward called "the skandalous style of the Greek slave," but her clothes, lying near by, were finally placed upon her, and she was carried to the Asylum. Her case is evidently one of acute mania, arising from religious excitement. It is not known who she is or where she came from.

CONVENTION OF UNIVERSALISTS.—The United States Convention of Universalists met at Buffalo, Tuesday morning. Rev. J. Barthomea, of Auburn, was chosen president, and Rev. J. M. Pullman, of New York city, secretary. At the opening delegates were present from Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, District of Columbia, Alabama, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas and Nebraska. Capen, of Massachusetts, read a report on education, showing that the average number of pupils in Universalist schools for the past year was 1450, of which 33 are theological.

—Turning cattle upon the mowing lands is generally bad husbandry, but if a season like the present, when the long continued dry weather has used up the pastures, there is no alternative but to turn the stock into the fields, especially dairy cows, or feed them from the barn.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the United States Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers, or drawings for patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Models and drawings recorded in Washington.
No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.
During eight months the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made no three rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided IN HIS FAVOR by the Commissioner of Patents.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGHART."

HUNTING WITH THE LASSO.

The following amusing adventure is from Colonel Marcy's 'Thirty Years of Army Life on the Border.'

A naval officer, not many years ago, made the experiment of hunting with the lasso, but his success was by no means decisive. The officer had, it appeared, by constant practice upon the ship, while making the long and tiresome voyage round the Horn, acquired very considerable proficiency in the use of the lasso, and was able at twenty paces, to throw the noose over the negro cook at almost every cast.

So confident he had become in his skill, that, at his arrival upon the coast of Southern California, he employed a guide, and mounted upon a well trained horse, with his lasso properly coiled ready for use, he one morning set out for the mountains, with the firm resolve of bagging a few grizzlies before night.

He was not out a great while before he encountered one of the largest specimens of the mighty beast, whose terrible aspect amazed him not a little; but as he had come out with a firm determination to capture a grizzly, in direct opposition to the advice of his guide, he resolved to show him that he was equal to the occasion. Accordingly he seized his lasso, and riding up near the animal, gave it several rapid whirls above his head in the most artistic manner, and sent the noose around the bear's neck at the very first cast; but the animal, instead of taking to his heels and endeavoring to run away, as he anticipated, very deliberately sat up on his haunches, facing his adversary, and commenced making a very careful examination of the rope.

He turned his head from one side to the other in looking at it; he felt it with his paws, and scrutinized it very closely as if it were something he could not comprehend. In the meantime the officer had turned his horse in the opposite direction, and commenced applying the rowels to his side most vigorously, with the confident expectation that he was to choke the bear to death and drag him off in triumph; but, to his astonishment the horse, with his utmost efforts, did not seem to advance.

The great strain upon the lasso however, began to choke the bear so that he soon became enraged, and gave the rope several violent slaps, first with one paw and then the other, but finding that this did not relieve him, he seized the lasso with both paws and commenced pulling it hand over hand, or rather paw over paw, and bringing with it both horse and rider, that were attached to the opposite extremity. The officer redoubled the application of both whip and spur, but he had evidently 'caught a Tartar;' and in spite of all the efforts of his horse he recoiled rather than advanced.

At this intensely exciting and critical juncture, he cast a hasty glance to the rear, and to his horror found himself steadily backing toward the frightful monster, who sat with his eyes glaring like balls of fire, his huge mouth wide open and frothing with rage, and sending out the most terrible and deep toned roars. He now for the first time felt seriously alarmed, and cried out vociferously for his guide to come to his rescue. The latter responded, promptly to the call, and cut the lasso, and extracted the gentleman from his perilous position.

He was much rejoiced at his escape, and in reply to the inquiry of the guide as to whether he desired to continue the hunt, he said it was getting so late he believed he would capture no more grizzlies that day.

New Hampshire Items.

Mrs. Ruth Hemphill of Henniker died on Saturday night aged 100 years, 3 months and 13 days. She was the first female child born in that town and the first child baptized there. She desired her funeral to be held in the old Town House, which has not been used but for town meetings for over a quarter of a century.

John Baraugin, the Fisherville Frenchman charged with assaulting a school teacher named Emma Blanchard, has been acquitted. The case against him seemed to be a very clear one, but he produced half-a-dozen fellow countrymen and women who swore that he was elsewhere at the time of the assault.

☞ Uncle Toby is happy to announce that the gentleman who borrowed the Political Manual, has brought it back. He will also thank the other gentleman who borrowed the old 'Umberella' or in whose store it was left, if he will bring that back. It has an old fashioned strong frame, a faded cover with a few slits in it, and in a word, is more useful than ornamental.
